
CONTENTS

List of Figures and Tables vii

Preface xv

Acknowledgments xix

The Authors xxiii

PART ONE: FOUNDATIONS 1

- 1 Overview of Intervention Mapping 3
- 2 Core Processes: Using Evidence, Theory, and New Research 32
- 3 Behavior-Oriented Theories Used in Health Promotion 81
- 4 Environment-Oriented Theories 136

PART TWO: INTERVENTION MAPPING STEPS 191

- 5 Intervention Mapping Step 1: Needs Assessment 193
- 6 Intervention Mapping Step 2: Preparing Matrices of Change Objectives 251

- 7 Intervention Mapping Step 3: Selecting Theory-Informed Intervention Methods and Practical Strategies 318
- 8 Intervention Mapping Step 4: Producing Program Components and Materials 365
- 9 Intervention Mapping Step 5: Planning Program Adoption, Implementation, and Sustainability 443
- 10 Intervention Mapping Step 6: Planning for Evaluation 472

PART THREE: CASE STUDIES 509

- 11 A School HIV-Prevention Program in the Netherlands 511
Herman Schaalma and Gerjo Kok
- 12 Asthma Management for Inner-City Children 545
Christine Markham, Shellie Tyrrell, Ross Shegog,
María Fernández, and L. Kay Bartholomew
- 13 Theory and Context in Project PANDA: A Program
to Help Postpartum Women Stay Off Cigarettes 579
Patricia Dolan Mullen, Carlo C. DiClemente, and L. Kay Bartholomew
- 14 Cultivando la Salud 606
María Fernández, Alicia Gonzales, Guillermo Tortolero-Luna,
Sylvia Partida, and L. Kay Bartholomew
- References 647
- Name Index 731
- Subject Index 747