Contents

List of Contributors
    vii

Series Editors’ Preface
    x

1. Introduction: Locating Neoliberalism in East Asia
   Richard Child Hill, Bae-Gyoon Park, and Asato Saito
   1

2. Industry Clusters and Transnational Networks: Japan’s New Directions in Regional Policy
   Kuniko Fujita and Richard Child Hill
   27

3. State-Space Relations in Transition: Urban and Regional Policy in Japan
   Asato Saito
   59

4. Developmental Neoliberalism and Hybridity of the Urban Policy of South Korea
   Byung-Doo Choi
   86

5. Spatially Selective Liberalization in South Korea and Malaysia: Neoliberalization in Asian Developmental States
   Bae-Gyoon Park and Josh Lepawsky
   114

   Yong-Sook Lee
   148

7. Moving toward Neoliberalization? The Restructuring of the Developmental State and Spatial Planning in Taiwan
   Chia-Huang Wang
   167

8. Neoliberalism, the Developmental State, and Housing Policy in Taiwan
   Yi-Ling Chen and William Derhsing Li
   196
9 Reforming Health: Contrasting Trajectories of Neoliberal Restructuring in the City-States
Stephen W.K. Chiu, K.C. Ho, and Tai-lok Lui 225

10 “Detroit of the East”: A Multiscalar Case Study of Regional Development Policy in Thailand
Richard Child Hill and Kuniko Fujita
257

11 Concluding Remarks
Bae-Gyoon Park and Asato Saito
294

Index
303