Contents

- List of Figures xii
- List of Maps xiii
- Preface xiv
- Acknowledgments xvii
- Cover image xix

1. Introduction to the Land and Its People
   - Geography 2
   - People 2
   - Economies 6
   - Politics 8
   - Culture and Entertainment 12
   - Latin America: Past and Present 20

2. Latin America in 1790
   - Colonial Background 24
   - Power and Privilege 28
   - Land 29
   - Colonial Administration 32
   - Enlightened Monarchy 33
   - The Agents of the Reform 35
   - Disorder and Rebellion 37
   - Discontent and Disorder in Brazil 39
   - Changing Gender Roles 40
   - On the Road to Independence 42
   - Nationalism and American Culture 42
   - Conclusion 46
3 Competing Notions of Freedom

Five Roads to Independence 50
African Slavery in the Americas 51
Slavery and the Countryside 55
Slavery in the Cities 55
Treatment and Punishment 57
Slavery and the Church 58
African Medicine and Religious Practices 59
Resistance and Rebellion 60
The Sugar Colony of Saint-Domingue 62
The Slave Revolt 64
The Revolution Betrayed 66
Brazil’s Independent Empire 67
Independence in Mexico 68
South American Independence 70
Post-independence Changes in Racial and Gender Status 74
The Last Holdout of Slavery in Spanish America 75
Latin America in a Changing World Order 77
Conclusion 78

4 Fragmented Nationalisms

Searching for Political and Economic Unity 81
New World “Feudalism” 82
Post-independence Politics 86
Argentina and the Tyrants 87
Populist Caudillismo: Paraguay and Bolivia 89
After Caudillismo 91
Race, Race Mixture, and Liberalism 93
Gender and Liberalism 96
Intersections of Gender, Race, and Class 98
Nationalism 101
Conclusion 101

5 Latin America’s Place in the Commodity Chain

The Guano Boom 106
Nitrates in Chile 108
Sugar and Coffee 109
The Growth of São Paulo 111
Colombian Coffee 113
The Rubber Boom 114
Expanding Exports 115
Mexico and US Expansionism
The North American Invasion
General López de Santa Anna
The New Age of Imperialism
Central America and the Panama Canal
Ecuador and the “Panama” Hat
Independence at Last? Cuba and Puerto Rico
Conclusion

6 Immigration, and Urban and Rural Life
Asian Immigration
European Immigration
The Southern Cone
Life on the Pampas
British Investment
The Changing Cultural Landscape
Urban Renewal
Mexico and Benito Juárez
French Invasions
The Rise of Porfirio Díaz
Intellectual Theories: Positivism and Eugenics
Conclusion

7 Revolution from Countryside to City: Mexico
The Porfiriato
Opposition to the Porfiriato
Constitutional Opposition
Madero Assassinated
US Intervention
Women in Combat
Carranza as President
The Constitution of 1917
Aftermath of Struggle
Agrarian Revolts in Latin America
Conclusion

8 The Left and the Socialist Alternative
Socialism on the World Stage
Social Reform and the Middle Class
Anarchism, Socialism, and Anarcho-syndicalism
Women in the Workforce
Colombia: Resistance to the United Fruit Company 179
The Labor Movement 181
Socialism and the Arts 182
Tenentes Revolt and Brazilian Communism 183
Modern Art Week in Brazil 185
Women in the Arts 187
Socialism vs. Capitalism 189
José Carlos Mariátegui 190
Conclusion 191

9 Populism and the Struggle for Change 193
Getúlio Vargas and “New State” Politics 195
Juan Perón and Peronism 197
Perón’s Fall from Grace 200
Politics Engendered 201
Revolutionizing Mexico: Lázaro Cárdenas 203
Populism in Colombia and Peru 204
Central America 206
The Long Twentieth Century 210
Conclusion 211

10 Post-World War II Struggles for Sovereignty 213
World War II 213
Temporary Worker Program 215
Post-war Latin America 217
Military vs. Civilian Rule 219
The Absolute Dictator: Rafael Trujillo 221
Americas in Transition: Guatemala and Bolivia 225
Guatemala 225
Revolution in Bolivia 227
Mining and the Voice of Bolivian Activism 229
The Revolution in Decline 231
Conclusion 232

11 Cuba: Guerrillas Take Power 235
“History Will Absolve Me” 236
Causes for Discontent 237
The Revolutionary War 238
The Special Period in Peacetime 241
Cuba and the World 242
Ernesto “Che” Guevara 243
What Difference Did the Revolution Make? 246
Democratic Shortcomings 248
Conclusion 249

12 Progress and Reaction 251

Modernization and Progress 251
Brazil’s Military Coup 252
The National Security State 254
Latin America’s Youth Movement 255
Mexico 255
The Massacre at Tlateloco 256
The Chilean Road to Socialism 257
The Chilean Road to Socialism Dead Ends 259
Urban Guerrilla Warfare: Uruguay 260
Urban Guerrilla Warfare: Argentina 262
Dictatorship and State Terror 264
Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo 266
The War of the Malvinas/Falkland Islands 267
Movements for Revolutionary Change: Peru 269
Sendero Luminoso, the Shining Path 270
Women and Shining Path 272
Repression and Fujimori 273
Conclusion 274

13 Revolution and Its Alternatives 277

A Changing Catholic Church 278
Marxism and Catholic Humanism 279
The Opposition 281
The Somozas versus Sandino: the Next Generation 281
The Sandinista Opposition 282
Sandinistas in Power 285
United States and the Sandinistas 288
Effects of the Contra War 289
Central America in Turmoil: El Salvador and Guatemala 291
Politics of Repression in El Salvador 292
The Opposition 293
The Fighting Ends 294
Guatemala: The Bloodiest War 295
The Evangelical Alternative 297
Colombia: The Longest War 299
The War on Drugs in Latin America 300
Conclusion 303
14 The Americas in the Twenty-first Century 305

- The Washington Consensus 305
- Brazil and the Workers’ Alternative 306
- The Workers’ Party in Power 308
- Bolivia: Twenty-first-century Indigenismo 309
- Venezuela and Hugo Chávez 310
- The Bolivarian Mission 312
- Chávez and “the Pink Tide” 313
- Complicating Social Ties 314
- Chile’s Transition to Democracy 315
- New Social Movements 317
- Movements for Racial and Gender Equality 319
- Women and Politics 320
- The Latin Americanization of the United States 322
- Immigration and Free Trade 325
- Opponents Confront Free Trade 327
- Immigration and Neoliberalism 330
- Sharing the Environment and the Cost of Stewardship 331

Notes 335
Glossary 341
Further Reading 345
Index 359