Index

accommodating attitudes
in groups 108–9
accountability 84, 122
mentors and 137–8
action(s)
beliefs and 84
imagining and exploring alternative courses of 39–42
in Jasper’s stages of reflective practice 125
planned/proposed 92
in Gibb’s reflective cycle 232, 233–4
in what reflection on 2, 3, 25, 166
taking 5, 7, 81, 98, 111, 203, 228 commitment/deciding to 7, 219, 227 action learning sets 97, 114, 139, 208, 209 activities
mentors 133
supervision, in healthcare 153
activities-based approaches in groups 111 aesthetic knowledge 38
affective dimension to self-awareness 129 Alzheimer’s Society 247, 248
analogies as narrative devices 185, 187 anxiety in groups 104–5 appropriation (in re-evaluating the experience) 24
Sue Duke’s account 189, 196–7
April rebirth (poem) 76–7
Aristotle 2, 4
art-based approaches in groups 111–12
articulating your reflective practice 48 artistic practice 47
Artist’s Way 61
‘ask’ (big) of doing reflection 177, 196, 198, 225
assessment and evaluation (by self) 23, 45–6, 143–4, 201–24
of clinical skills 128
definitions and terminology 22–4, 230 distinction of two terms 203–4
exercise 46
issues and problems 205–10
journals and 63–6, 91
of learning, mentors and 138
mentors and 137–8, 143–4
student and teaching staff issues 217–19 tools for 210–17
perceived lack of effective ones 209 association (in re-evaluating the experience) 24, 189, 189–92
Sue Duke’s account 189, 189–92
assumptions
identifying/analysing/challenging 38–9
mentors and 135
in writing to learn 61, 62
asynchronous discussion in online reflective
groups 96, 111
attributes for reflective practice 18, 26–7, 47–50, 202, 203, 207
audiovisual (video) recordings 43–5, 45 feedback on student performance 129–30 journals 59
authoritative interventions (in supervision) 169
autonomy 19, 144
awareness
of context see context
critical 6, 9, 10, 80
of self (mindfulness) 5, 23, 24–5, 28–33, 164, 230, 230, 245, 248 reflective writing examples 245, 248
  students 126–30
Barnett, R 7, 8
  behaviour, change in 219, 220 behavioural dimension to self-awareness 129 beliefs and actions 84
  blended learning 111
  blogs, journalling 59, 60–1, 111, 130, 140 Boud, D.
    outcomes of reflection 219
    stages in re-evaluating of experience 24–5, 189, 192
  Brookfield, Stephen 9–11, 130, 135
  Burnard, P., and patient-centred empathy 66, 67, 69 cake (supervision) metaphor 150, 166, 171 Cameron, J., The Artist’s Way 61
cancer diagnosis, communicating 179 care (patient)
  environmental cues to 194–5 finding 179–80
  person-centred see person-centred care
  see also healthcare Care Quality Commission 154 care support worker in dementia, reflective writing 243–6 Carper’s four patterns of knowing 38 case studies 216
  challenge 227–9
    in groups see groups
    having courage to 250
  change, personal (incl. new ideas and transformation) 16–17, 162, 220, 227–9 exercise on openness to 31
    having courage to 250
    in perspective 142, 220, 239
clinical expertise 12, 13
  Duke’s personal exploration of 177–200 supporting evidence for relationship between reflection and 194 clinical governance 153 clinical judgement 13, 14, 122, 226, 250 clinical skills teaching in simulated environments 127–9 clinical supervision (CS) 139–40, 150–71
  definition 155–6
  key characteristics 158
  making connections between reflective practice and 151–6 Proctor’s functions or elements of clinical supervision 167–8 telephones in 159–61, 163
  closure (group exercise) 46 Cochrane Collaboration 12
  code of conduct 84, 86, 87, 114, 123 co-facilitation 28, 158–9 cognitive dimension to self-awareness 129 colleague/partner (reflecting with) 11–12, 238–40 exercises with 27
    audiovisual recording 43–4
    description 35
    on different perspectives 41
    evaluation/self-assessment 46
    feelings (talking about yours) 41 knowledge (discussing yours) 40
    life mapping 32
    values 30
  finding one 238–40
  see also dialogue; one-to-one sessions commitment
    to action 7, 219, 227
    to group 109–10
communication
  with patient
    of bad news (cancer diagnosis) 179
    in dementia 248
    touch and 13–14
  of practice knowledge 14–16
  self-awareness in 130
  see also dialogue; discussion; one-to-one sessions; verbal approaches community 9, 11
  comparative reflection 239
  competency, assessment 143, 144 computers, journalling on 59, 60, 87
  see also information technology conduct, code of 84, 86–7, 114, 123 confession, reflection as 156, 205, 240 confidentiality and disclosure issues 86, 87, 109, 160 in clinical supervision 156, 160 constructive processes/approaches 37, 38, 48, 66, 133, 137, 138, 250 contemplating a journey of reflection 225–9 context (and awareness of it)
    in group reflection, connection with setting 95 of healthcare, assessment in 204–5
    mentors and 135, 136
    for practice 136, 137
  reflection in evaluating 219–20
    of learning 5
Index

continuing professional development (CPD) 153
contract
clinical supervision 159, 160
reflective learning 213
correlates of reflective practice 203 courses and curriculum
mentor, assessment 140–1
personal journals and 63
reflection as a key part, formal assessment 206 see also education; students critical awareness 6, 9, 10, 80 critical being 7
critical friend 68–9, 139, 156, 240, 242
critical incidents 9, 58, 91, 132, 140, 143, 213–14
critical reflection
in groups 102
in typology of reflection 239
critical theory 4–5
critical thinking and analysis 3, 9, 19, 23, 36–42, 229–30 on evidence-based nursing 14
exercises 40–2
in Gibb's reflective cycle 232, 233
students 131–2
crossroads in life-mapping exercise 32
cues
environmental, to patient care 194–5 reflective, in John’s model for structured reflection 235–6 cultural knowledge 40
ward 124
cultural suicide 9, 10
curriculum see courses and curriculum danger (and its risks) in reflection 9–12, 17
blogs 60–1
groups 99
Data Protection Act (1998) 87
debates in team (exercise) 42
debriefing 100, 132, 231
decision making 12, 122, 123, 125, 133, 134 emotions and 127
deliberative thinking 4, 152 dementia, reflective writing example 242–9
description 23, 33–6, 231
developing skills in 130–1
exercises 34, 35, 36
of experience see experience of feelings see feelings
in Gibb’s reflective cycle 232, 233
Dewey, John 2–3, 4, 6
diagnosis of cancer, communicating 179 dialogue, reflective 13, 24, 90, 111–12, 141–2, 211, 213, 217, 228, 238, 240
in groups 98, 102, 111–12
mentors and 127, 141–2
in writing 60, 141–2
six dialogical movements 55, 56, 64, 68, 69, 77
see also colleague; discussion;
one-to-one sessions
diaries 56, 111, 130, 140, 206, 208, 213, 215, 241, 242 directions and destinations exercise 32 disclosure see confidentiality and disclosure issues discussion
in groups
online discussion groups 96–7, 105, 109, 110
time 107
with mentors 211–12
with partner see colleague
see also dialogue
distress in groups 104–5
facilitator 115
see also stress
diverse (heterogeneous) groups 99, 102 Dr Seuss and reflective groups 100–1 drawings in personal journal 71, 72, 73
Driscoll’s what? model of structured reflection 130–1, 234–5 Duke’s personal exploration of reflection and clinical expertise 177–200
e-reflection groups (online) 96–7, 109, 110
Eckroth-Bucher, M. 126
Edna (patient), Sue Duke’s account with 178–97 education 3, 15, 17–18
changes and pressures on 121–3 contemporary challenges 1–2 critical theory and 4–5
finding knowledge in experience in 181
tensions 17
see also courses; students effort put into reflection 206
egalitarian consultation meetings (ECMs) 96 Egan, G., and patient-centred empathy 66, 67, 69 emotion(s) (and emotional reactions) decision making and 127 listening to yours 183–4 reflective writing example of coping strategy based on 245 see also feelings
emotional intelligence 15, 126 empathy, patient-centred 66–8 empirical knowledge 38
empowerment 10, 11, 16–17
ENFJ (Extraverted iNtuitive Feeling Judging) 170 engagement in groups 101, 105, 112–13 environmental cues to patient care 194–5 evaluation see assessment and evaluation events see situations and events evidence
for journal-keeping 58–9
journals used as (to support subsequent learning) 60, 63–6 evidence-based practice (EBP) 12–14, 136–7, 192–3
experience
analysis 91–2
conclusions about 92
description 90–1
exercise 35
in Jay and Johnson’s typology of reflection 239 drawing on repertoire of 228–9
evaluating 91
in Gibb’s reflective cycle
final evaluation 232, 233–4 initial evaluation 232, 233
in Jasper’s stages of reflective practice 125 learning by see learning liberating and using 18–19
in personal journal 56
possessing repertoire of 47, 228–9
reviewing see re-evaluation
Sue Duke’s account 177–200
experimenting (in practice) 4, 6, 10, 11, 49 deframing 47–8
expertise, clinical see clinical expertise expressing oneself and one’s practice 15 Extraverted iNtuitive Feeling Judging (EFNJ) 170

face-to-face groups 96, 97, 105
facilitative interventions (in supervision) 169 facilitators (and facilitation) 27–8, 136 absence 114
assessment and 218–19
groups 101–2, 104, 106–15, 212
key processes/phases in facilitation 107–8 skills 114, 209–10
supporting facilitators 114–15
family (patient’s)
in reflective writing example 248–9
in Sue Duke’s account of Edna 180
feedback 64
on journal entries 215
from mentor 133, 134
on presentation 65
video-facilitated 129–30
feelings
behaviour influencing 129
describing or analysing your 35, 91
exercises 40–1
mentors 141
exploring those relating to the situation 38
in Gibb’s reflective cycle 232, 233
other peoples’, mentors and consideration of 141
Sue Duke’s account 187–9
see also emotions
financial pressures in assessment 210 Find the point – have a heart (poem) 182–3 fourth-generation evaluation 220
Friere, Paulo 6–7, 16
future
learning from the past to see the 46, 166, 172
in researching self 68
game playing in supervision 166–7
Gherardi, S. 94–5
Gibbs reflective cycle (1988) 124, 231–2
adapted and updated 90–2, 231, 232–3 ‘Giver’ (‘The’) 170
governance, clinical 153
grading reflection 216–17
ground rules
for exercises 28
for groups 106–16
groups 11–12, 93–120, 212
benefits 98–106
challenges 98–106
need for challenge 112–13
exercises
audiovisual recording 45
debates 42
evaluation/self-assessment 46
guidelines 27, 29
life-mapping 32
learning in 96–8
pragmatic issues 106–16
risks 99, 101
groups (cont’d)
  setting and context of, connection between 95 supervision 96–8, 96–8, 99, 102, 103, 104, 108, 111, 114
  tutorials 212
  guidance with personal journal 56

  haiku 77
  handover of patient with dementia, reflective writing example 246–9 happiness, unconscious pursuit 162 ‘headlines’ (newspaper) in journals 162, 168 healing in personal journal 74–5
  Health and Social Care Act (2008) 154 healthcare
    assessment in context 204–5
    law 154
    supervision activities in 153
    see also care
  ‘hear and now’ process 166
  Helping Students Get the Best from Their Practice Placements (2006) 126 on mentors 134
  hermeneutic spiral 55, 66
  Heron’s (1976) six-category intervention analysis 169 heterogeneous (diverse) groups 99, 102
  heuristics 55, 191
  homogenous groups 102
  honesty, barrier to 208
  see also truth

  icing on the (supervision) cake metaphor 150, 166, 171
  imagination (use of) 39–42
  groups 100–1, 111
  impostership 9–10, 177, 196
  individual see one-to-one sessions;
    people; self and entries under person; personal
  information technology with exercises 28
  see also computers
  innocence, lost 9, 10–11 insights (personal) 11, 14, 16, 29
  writing about 56, 60, 64, 68, 77
  integration (in re-evaluating the experience) 24
  Sue Duke’s account 189
  intellectual thinking 3, 6
  intelligence, emotional 15, 126
  internet see online
  interpersonal interventions in supervision 169 interrelational practice 192, 195 interventions in supervision 169

  Jasper, M.A. 87, 124, 125, 162
  Jay and Johnson’s typology of reflection 238, 239
  Johns’ model of reflection 83–4, 235–7
  journalling see writing judgement
    clinical 13, 14, 122, 226, 250
    in evaluation 45
    reflective 217–18
  King and Kitchener model of reflective judgment 217–18 knowledge 37–8, 39–40
    acquiring see learning
    analysing your 39
    communicating 14–16
    discussing your 40
    expertise informed by 195
    identifying your existing knowledge 37–8 knowing more than we can tell 8–9 lack of recognition of personal and practice knowledge 18 nursing, types 124
    in reflective judgement model 218
    tacit 48–50
    tensions between university and professional perspectives on 17 Kolb’s principle of experiential learning 124, 125, 140, 152, 231 law (healthcare) 154
  leadership 138
  learning
    action (sets) 97, 114, 139, 208, 209
    blended 111
    contract 213
    creating an environment for 136 experiential (finding knowledge) 13, 124, 125, 129, 140, 144, 152, 156, 231
    Sue Duke’s account 180–6
    facilitation of 136–7
    in groups 96–8
      behaviours facilitating 106 mentors and evaluation of 138 organisational, and learning organisations 94–5 from past to see the future 46, 166, 172
    peer 11
    problem-based 132
    reflective 5, 16, 27, 28
      assessment 214, 238
      contract 213
      facilitators of 209
    simulated 126–30
  styles, students 98–9
Index

work-based 30, 94–5, 135, 136, 153, 158
writing for see writing legislation (healthcare) 154 life map exercises 31–3
listening to yourself (exercise) 46 listening zones, Burnard’s 67
literature, reading the see reading living (in researching self) 68 example 70
log 56
researching self 66, 67, 69
loose-leaf files for journalling 59, 60
lost innocence 9, 10–11

mapping (life map) exercises 31–3 Mead, Margaret 93, 115
meditation 72, 74, 76
membership (group) 99, 102, 104, 108–9
mentors 132–44, 211–12, 240
importance of reflection 121–3
preparation and reflection 135–44, 135–8 role of reflection in their development 134–5
roles and responsibilities 132–4 metaphors as narrative devices 185, 187 micropolitics of groups 108–9 mindfulness of self see awareness mirroring 67
in groups 103
in supervision 165, 166
misconduct, professional 86–7 mobile phones see telephones models (frameworks) of reflection 83, 90–2, 230–8 introducing students to 124–5 ‘morning pages’ 62
motivation
in clinical practice 162
essay on 142
exercises 30
journalling and 53, 54, 57
mutual facilitation 99, 101

narrative
narrative devices 185–7
in personal journal 56, 77, 78
new ideas see change Noddings, Nell 7
notebooks for journalling 61
now what? trigger questions 234, 235 number in (size of) groups 113 Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) on accountability 122–3 eight domains for mentorship 133, 135, 136–8

professional responsibilities 84, 86, 87
reflective trigger questions 136–8
Standards to Support Learning and Assessment in Practice 121, 133

Objective Structured Clinical Examination (OSCE) 129–30 objectivity in personal journal 56
one-to-one sessions 99
clinical supervision 157, 159, 160, 163
group work versus 102
mentors and 139
tutorials 212
see also colleague; dialogue

online/internet
reflective groups 96–7, 105, 109, 110
writing
blogs 59, 60–1, 111, 130, 140
dangers 60–1
open-mindedness 6, 19, 103, 242
open-page technique 162
opinions see perspectives oppression 9, 18, 181, 240 oral culture in nursing 240
organisational learning and learning organisations 94–5 outcome
as reason for journal-keeping 58–9 of reflection 219–21
assessing 207–8
Oxford Brookes University 127–8, 129, 134, 140, 231, 237

paper-based journalling 59–60 parallel process in supervision 165 Park, The (exercise in reflective writing) 80–3, 89–90 partner see colleague past, learning from the, to see the future 46, 166, 172 patient
communication with see communication confidentiality 86
with dementia, reflective writing
example 242–9
empathy and 66–8
patient-centred care see person-centred care peer learning 11
peer support in groups 98, 99, 101, 112
people, reflecting on 113–14
performance
mentors 142
student, video-facilitated
feedback 129–30
see also competency person-centred (patient-centred) care in dementia 248, 249 empathy 66, 67, 69, 248
personal change see change personal development, journalling for 69, 71–7 personal exploration (by Sue Duke) of reflection and clinical expertise 177–200 personal insight see insights personal journal see writing personal knowledge see knowledge personal practice knowledge 124 personal transformation see change personal tutorials (individual tutorials) 212
see also one-to-one sessions perspectives (viewpoints/opinions) different (on situations) 41–2
personal journals and 75
transformation (to alternative perspective) 142, 220, 239 phones see telephones
photographs in personal journal 59, 61, 71, 73, 74, 75
poetry 75–7
Sue Duke’s 181–91
Polanyi, M 8, 38
political issues in assessment 210
in groups 108–9
portfolio 216
power and reflective groups 101
see also empowerment
Practice Assessment Document (PAD) 127, 130, 134, 140, 144, 232
praxis 5, 6–7
preparation
cues for 236
mentor 135–44
in researching self 68
example 70
pre-reflective stage (in reflective judgment) 218 presentation feedback 65
prioritisation of group activities 109 problem(s), in practice, framing 47–8 problem-based learning 132
procedural knowledge 124
process
process reasons for journal-keeping 58 of reflection, assessing 207 of supervision 164–6
Proctor’s functions or elements of clinical supervision 167–8
professional responsibilities 84–7 psychological burn 205
qigong 70, 71
quality of reflection 89–90
quasi-reflective stage (in reflective judgment) 218 questions
in models of reflection
Driscoll’s what? model of structured reflection 235
Gibbs reflective cycle 232, 233
Jay and Johnson’s typology of reflection 238, 239
Johns’ model of reflection 236
Stephenson’s reflective framework 237
Socratic questioning 132
trigger 135–8, 234, 235
rational thinking 2, 7, 195 versus emotional thinking 7
reading (about reflection) 250 examples of reflective writing 242 recording audiovisual 43–5, 45
of personal journals 59, 61
re-evaluation (reviewing) of experience 189–97
Boud’s stages 24–5, 189, 192
Duke’s account 189–97
reflection, and reflective practice (general references only) concepts and definitions 2–12 dangers see dangers
definitions/meanings 5, 202, 207
developing levels of 208
Duke’s personal exploration of 177–200
grading 216–17
models see models
starting your journey 225–53
key suggestions 229–50
‘what’ and ‘how’ of 152
reflexive knowledge 124
relationships
effective working, establishing 136
group work and 95, 113
online 97–8
in supervision on supervision 157–9 therapeutic 20, 38, 63, 66, 85–6, 247, 249
see also interrelational practice renewal in personal journal 74–5 repetition as narrative device 185 report, undergraduate, writing style 79
research
• practice based on evidence from (evidence-based practice) 12–14, 136–7, 192–3
• on self 66–71

responsibilities (roles and)
• mentors 132–4
• professional 84–7

reviewing of experience see re-evaluation risk-taking in reflection 112, 206
see also danger
road running 9, 11
Rogers, C., and patient-centred empathy 66, 67, 69
roles
• journals and 75
• modelling 27, 138–9, 141, 157
see also responsibilities
Royal College of Nursing (RCN) dementia care 249
Helping Students Get the Best from Their Practice Placements (2006) 126 survey of nurses (2011) 121–2 rules see ground rules
scepticisms, reflective 135
Schön, Donald 3–4, 8–9, 18, 24, 25, 26, 47, 48, 84, 123, 123, 124, 132, 151, 166, 191, 218, 225, 250 self
• assessment/evaluation of see assessment and evaluation
• awareness/mindfulness of see awareness expressing oneself 15
• researching 66–71
• transformation see change
sensitivity to others 13, 19
sign-off mentor 133, 134
silence
• group member 113
• supervisor 170
simulated environments, developing • self-awareness 126–30
situations and events
• description see description
• feelings relating to, exploring 38
• in Gibbs reflective cycle, analysis 235
• perspectives on see perspectives
• reflecting on 113–14
• in Stephenson’s reflective framework, choosing 237 size of groups 113
skills (clinical), teaching in simulated environments 127–9 skills (reflective practice) 23–52, 229–30 • alternatives to skills-based approach 26–7 developing 23–52, 130–2, 229–30
• exercises 28–49
• guidance 27–8
• facilitator skills 114, 209–10
• limitations of skills-based approach 25–6
• underlying 24–5
SMART (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic and Timely) goals 128
so what? trigger questions 234, 235 social relations see relationships Socratic questioning 132
space-giving mode (supervisor) 170
Standards to Support Learning and Assessment in Practice 121, 133
Stephenson’s reflective framework 237, 237–8
stress, reflecting writing about 244, 245
see also distress
structured reflection models
Driscoll’s 130–1, 234–5
Johns’ 83–4, 235–7
students/undergraduates 121–32
• importance of reflection 121–3
• issues in assessment 217–19
• learning styles 98–9
• reflecting with someone else see colleague
• writing styles 79
see also courses; education subjectivity in personal journal 56 subversive troublemakers 10
supervisee expectations in clinical supervision contract 160
supervision 150–76, 240
• blind-spots 163, 165, 167, 170
• clinical see clinical supervision
• game playing in 166–7
• group 96–8, 99, 102, 103, 104, 108, 111, 114
• preferences and styles 167–70
• supervision on 151, 157–9, 164, 168, 170–2
• establishing relationship for 157–9
• team supervision and 157, 162
• using reflection for 161–4
support
• in reflective groups 112–13
• for facilitators 114–15
• peer 98, 99, 101, 112
see also facilitators; mentors; supervision
students 126
Index

swampy lowlands (Schön’s) 84, 123, 132, 218, 225 synchronous discussion in online reflective groups 96, 110
synthesis 23, 42–5, 230
definition 42, 230
tacit knowledge 48–50
Tate’s adaptation of Gibbs reflective cycle 231–2 teaching staff issues in assessment 217–19 team debate by a (exercise) 42 supervision of 157, 162
technical rationality 18, 123 telephones (incl. mobile phones) clinical supervision by 159–61, 163
journalling 61
text (reflective)
finding what’s in it 184–7
preserving wholeness of 184
starting with 181–4
theory in reflective writing, application by mentors 141–2 therapeutic relationship 20, 38, 63, 66, 85–6, 247, 249 thinking and thoughts (reflective) critical see critical thinking deliberative 4, 152
Dewey on 2–3
exercise/activities 49
imaginative see imagination
intellectual thinking 3, 6
rational see rational thinking self-awareness and 129
writing about 54, 56, 60, 66, 74, 77, 82, 83, 91
time issues in groups 107, 109–10, 112
touch and nurse–patient
communication 13–14
‘Train the Trainers’ programme 158 transactional relationship with practice 48
transformation see change
trees in personal journal 72, 73, 74, 75 trial and error, knowledge gained via 40 trigger questions 135–8, 234, 235 troublemakers, subversive 10 truth, universal 39
see also honesty
tutorials 212
typology of reflection 238, 239 uncertainty 151, 170–1, 195, 228 uncovering (in researching self) 68
example 70
undergraduate see student universal truth 39
validation (in re-evaluating the experience) 24
Sue Duke’s account 189, 192–3, 194
values, exercises in clarifying and evaluating of 29–30
Vampires, pirates and aliens (poem) 186, 187 VARK 141–2
verbal approaches/strategies to assessment 210, 211–12
by mentors to reflection 139–40
see also communication; discussion video see audiovisual recordings viewpoints see perspectives voice medical/scientific 240 notion of 15
in telephones clinical supervision 161
ward cultural knowledge 124
what? model of structured reflection (Driscoll’s) 130–1, 234–5 work-based learning 30, 94–5, 135, 136, 153, 158 writing (reflective writing/journalling) 53–92, 140–3, 213–17, 241–9 assessment in 213–17
blocks to 61–3
content 63–77
examples 243–9
reading about 242
fitting into reflective learning 55–6 groups and 111
mentors 140–3
practical tips 241–3
purpose 56–9
starting 59–61
styles 77–8, 79
on supervision 162, 163, 168
types 59–61
what it is 77–84
see also blogs; diaries; essay; portfolio; text