Advanced ceramic fibers, 865 carbon fibers, 866
  other ceramic fibers, 875 oxide fibers, 866
  SiC Fibers, 868
Advanced ceramics for gas turbine and automobile engines, 563 Advanced microsystems, 293 integration and process strategies for ceramics in, 293 Alternatives to heavy metals, 655
Alumina support, 589
American Ceramic Component Manufacturers (AACCMM), 77
American Ceramic Society (ACerS), 11, 77
Australia, 445
  Centre for Materials Research in Energy Conversion (CMREC), 446 ceramics in energy and environmental applications in, 445 photoelectrodes for solar hydrogen, 446 segregation, 447
University of New South Wales (UNSW), 446
Automobile components, 582
Automotive catalysts, 588
Availability of property and performance data, 10
AWG, 327
BAS, 326
Bioactive glass tissue scaffolds, 249 materials processing, 250 optimizing in vitro growth conditions, 256 scaffold characterization, 251 Bioceramics, 189
  challenges, 189
  control of infection, 193 healing of chronic wounds, 193
  optimizing in vitro growth conditions, 192 stem cell engineering, 192 third-generation biomaterials that regenerate tissues, 190 tissue engineering, 190 of soft tissues, 191 tissue regeneration, 190 Biology and medicine, 181 avoiding simplistic paradigms, 186
  ceramics in, 183
  critical issues, 185
  diagnostics, 185
  doing ceramic science at the nanometer level, 186 hard- and soft-tissue generation, 184 lessons from ceramic processing, 186 technical challenges, 186 therapies, 185
  timelines, 187
  understanding interaction of material and biology, 186 Biomedical applications, 10
Biomimetic materials, 231
Biomimicking, 232
Biomineralization, 237
Bio-prosthesis, 231
Brake materials, 580
Brittleness of glass, 811 challenges for overcoming, 811
  current technology, 813
  definition of, 813
Brittleness of glass (continued) effect of composition and structure on, 813 future technology on, 818
history, 811
molecular dynamics simulation, 816 practical meaning of, 815
Bulk silicon, 463
Buried contact solar cells, 465
Ceramic catalysts for NOX reduction, 588 Ceramic floor and wall tiles, 683 best available techniques, 683 main environmental impacts, 683
Ceramic gas turbine engine development programs, 564
Ceramic materials and systems for the commercialization of solid oxide fuel cells, 509
Ceramic matrix composites for gas turbine applications, 566 Ceramic membrane technologies, 458
Ceramic revolution, 475
Ceramics in the semiconductor process industry, 339
CGZ, 326
Chemical mechanical planarization (CMP), 419 China, 49
ceramic materials in, 52
ceramic research in Tsinghua University, 54 ceramic research organizations, 52 ceramics industry in, 54 Chinese society, 49 controlled growth of second-branch crystals and nanowires at the nanoscale, 55 defect control of polycrystalline spinel ceramic for transparency, 57 energy saving, 50 financial programs of R&D supported by the state ministries, 52 high reliance on state funding, 51 job expansion, 50
low power of manufacturing firms, 51 low utilizing efficiency of natural resources, 49 particle size and domain controls of dielectric ceramics, 59 patents in, 172
programs and progress of advanced ceramic materials research and development in, 49 progress in precise controls of structures of ceramic materials the nanoscale, 55 rapid economic development, 49 research, 51
research facilities in, 52 rural urbanization, 50 shape control of nano-flake spinel for electrolysis, 57 state key laboratories for ceramic research, 53 state policy on R&D, 51 Civil infrastructure, 110
measurement needs and solutions for, 110
CMCs for the automotive gas turbines, 567
Complexities of integration, 135
Consumer products, 261
future of ceramics for, 267
Cutting tools, 109
Densification with FAST, 787
Dental caries, 199
fluorescence, 200
light scattering, 200 optical coherence tomography (OCT), 202 photonic applications to, 199
Raman spectroscopy, 202
Detectors and absorbers, 204
Diamond model, 268, 269
Diesel emission control applications, 584 Diesel engines, 583, 931 ceramic research and successes in, 931 Diesel particulate filter (DPF), 586 Electric-field-enhanced effects and processing, 779 coatings, 781
compacts, 780
electrophoretic deposition, 780 sintering, 782
synthesis, 779
Electrochemical conversion of chemical energy into electrical energy, 446
Electrochemical energy, 556
Electrochemical gas sensors, 455
Electronic packaging, 397 alumina-based, 397
application spaces, 413 future demands, 408
glass–ceramic, 401
greensheets, 397
manufacturing methods for advanced packaging, 406 metallization, 397 multilayer ceramic (MLC) package, 398 packaging of the future, 414 tape casting, 397
unique opportunities for multilayer ceramics, 415 Electronics, 287
advanced packaging technologies, 298 direct-write processing, 303 hybrid integrated systems, 296 microelectronic integration and opportunities, 294 opportunities for nanomaterial integration and assembly, 304 process control strategies, 300 Electrospaying of melts, 783
Enabling discoveries, 139
Energy, 431
ceramics in, 433
Energy conservation, 10
Energy costs, 10
Energy efficiency, 133
Energy-saving measures in the ceramic industry, 655
Engineer of 2020, 122
Enrollment trends in materials disciplines, 119
Environment, 595
Environmental barrier coatings, 574 Environmental issues, 656 impact of ceramic nanotechnology on, 656 Environmental performances of modern ceramic manufacture and products, used as competitiveness factors, 681 emissions into the atmosphere, 685 Environmental protection, 663 photocatalyst materials for, 663
Evolving functionality of ceramics, 69 Ferroelectric/piezoelectric ceramics, 381 advances and trends in fabrication technology, 386
anisotropy of properties, 383 bulk technology, 386 calculations of functioning of ferroelectric/piezoelectric components, 385 calculations of properties, 385 ceramic thin films, 386 first-principle calculations, 384 modeling of new aaterials, 384 morphotropic boundary compositions, 383 nanocomposites, 388
new 1D structures, 390
new ferroelectrics for microelectronics and high-frequency electronics, 383 new materials, 382
new piezoelectronics, 382
self-assembly, 387
Fiber optics, 203
Fine ceramics, 37
First International Congress on Ceramics, 1
First-principle calculations, 384
Flexible LSI (LSI on plastic), 319
Floating-gate-type EEPROM, 314
Fossil energy, 563
Fuel cells, 499, 529 (see also Solid oxide fuel cells) alkaline, 533
characteristics, 530
development and demonstration status, 533 drivers and potential benefits, 531 molten carbonate, 534
phosphoric acid, 533
polymer exchange membrane (PEM), 536 solid oxide fuel cell (SOFC), 534 types of, 530
Gas turbine components, 565
Gas turbine engines, 919 applications of ceramics for, 919
current technology, 922 future challenges for advanced ceramics, 924 future challenges for CMCs, 925 future challenges for monolithics, 924
history, 920
Geopolymers, 623
building products, 624
mining industry, 625
Geopolymers (continued) nuclear industry, 625
scientific and nomenclature issues to be addressed, 626 Glass, 725
chemical tempering, 728 cladding/casing, 727
clues to solving strength of, 755
coatings, 728
cracking, 737
fatigue, 729, 731
hardness, 735
lamination, 728
new techniques and applications, 741 residual stress, 741 strength, 726, 729
inert intrinsic, 730
strength testing, 753
strengthening, 726
stress birefringence, 741 thermal tempering, 727
ultrastrong, 749
Glass melting technology, 765 batch-related fluctuations, 767 combustion-related fluctuations, 767 E-field-enhanced processes for the preparation of nanomaterials, 777 in situ sensors, 769 process-related fluctuations, 768 sensors for environmental measurements, 771 sensors for monitoring glass melt properties, 769 emission spectroscopy, 770 laser-induced breakdown spectroscopy (LIBS), 770 redox measurement, 770
viscosity, 769
voltammetric sensor, 770 sensors for monitoring species in the combustion space, 771 sensors for optimizing combustion efficiency, 771 target properties of glass melt and glass product, 766 Glass and transparent ceramic materials, 703 applications, 706
directions, 708
issues, 707
Glass industry, 715
academia–industry collaborations, 722 basic research benefitting, 715 questions remaining to be solved or approached, 721 how to efficiently screen unexplored domains of glass composition, 721 how to speed up the melting and the fining, 721 what glass homogeneity is, and how to measure it, 721 will it be possible to elaborate high-toughness nanoglasses?, 721 recent breakthroughs, 715 composition dependence of the fictive temperature of glass, 718 environment of cations in glasses, 715 fracture physics of heterogeneous solids, 720 glass transition, 718 plastic deformation, 719 structure, 715
surfaces: structure and reactivity, 718
Glass of the future, 725
Glass–ceramics, 225, 401
as biomaterials, 225
Global environment, 10
Global manufacturing, 32
Global R&D, 31
Global Roadmap for Ceramics, 1
consumer products, 6
crosscutting issues, 6
economics, 9
education, 7
electronics, 2
energy, 5
environmental preservation, health, and safety, 3 hard materials/armor, 6 innovation, 7
intellectual property, 8
materials informatics, 8 measurements and standards, 7 medical applications, 3 optics and photonics, 5 technical goals, 2
transportation, 4
Globalization, 29
Government initiatives worldwide for INDEX

hydrogen and fuel cell technologies, 501 Australia, 502
Canada, 501
Japan, 502
Singapore, 502
Thailand, 503
United States, 502

Health and safety issues, 10
Health care, 197
Hidden ceramics in the energy and transport sectors, 553
High-critical-temperature superconducting ceramics, 489
HiLight™ Transparent Ceramic Scintillator, 797
History of floating-gate-type nonvolatile memory development, 312
Honda–Fujishima effect, 664
Hydrogen, 498
Hydrogen economy, 498
Hydrogen production by photocatalysis, 664
Hydrogen separation technologies, 460

Industrial ceramics, 67
Innovation and invention, 83
Innovation in the staples of society, 129 Integrated circuits, 97
measurement needs and solutions for, 98
Integrated functions in multilayer ceramic technologies, 375
Integrated high-frequency dielectrics, 372 Intellectual property, 162
issues, 10
International trends and business perspectives, 13
Ion beam assisted deposition (IBAD) method, 482 Italian ceramic tile industry, 681 environmental performance of, 687

Japan, 37
R&D of fine ceramics in, 37

Key materials of endurance, 132 Kyocera, 19
ceramic technology development at, 19 environmental preservation, 25 information and communications, 24 quality of life, 27 vision for the future, 23

Laser parameter studies, 215
Laser-assisted rapid prototyping of dental components in the SiO₂–Al₂O₃ system, 211 Lasers, 104
measurement needs for, 105
Layer-wise slurry deposition (LSD), 211, 212 Light-emitting diodes (LEDs), 104
measurement needs and solutions for, 105
Linking productivity analysis and innovation for materials and energy, 143
Low-cost, high-performance, epitaxial ceramic films on artificial substrates for energy and electronic applications, 891 implications for applications other than superconductors for maximizing the “extrinsic” properties for a given set of “intrinsic” properties, 897 implications for non-HTS applications, 900 maximization of “extrinsic” properties for a given set of “intrinsic” properties, 892 maximization of “intrinsic” properties of REBCO conductors via nanotechnology, 897 rolling-assisted biaxially textured substrates (RABiTS), 894 Low-temperature co-fired ceramic (LTCC) technology, 298 LTCC materials, 326
cavity formation, 334
cofiring technology of different materials, 334 cost reduction, 334
first-generation, 326
high mechanical toughness, 334 second-generation, 327
third-generation, 332

Magnetic storage, 101
measurement needs and solutions for, 102
Making ceramics able to carry large electrical currents, 479
Making ceramics ductile, 479
Managing the global enterprise, 35
Markets, 34
Materials by Design®, 122
Materials education, 9
Measurement needs, 111
Measurement science and technology for ceramics innovations, 89 identifying needs for, 89
measurement needs, 90
Metal, ore, and energy production, 145
Mexico, 275
advantages and disadvantages of globalization, 278 evolution of the ceramic industry, 275 importance of the ceramics industry in, 275 innovative processing, 280
intellectual property, 280
national center of metrology (CENAM), 284 present economic situation, 275 Microelectromechanical systems (MEMS), 106
measurement needs and solutions for, 107
Microwave materials for low-temperature cofired ceramics, 325
Miniature light sources, 204
Multilayer ceramic capacitors, 362
Multilayer ceramic devices, 361 capacitors, 362
Nanocermics, 355, 356, 839
cold spray, 843
high-pressure sintering, 841
outlook, 844
rate-control sintering, 840 solid oxide fuel cells, 358 strength of nanocrystalline bulk ceramics, 841 synthesis and characterization of thin films, 842 thermal interface materials, 356
Nanocomposites, 91
Nanoparticle engineering, 419
Nanoparticles, 91, 353
Nanostructured materials, 353
Nanotechnology, 353, 475
National Institute for Materials Science (NIMS) (Japan), 39 biofunctional materials, 44 innovative ceramics, 41 materials for fuel cells, 45 materials for semiconductor devices, 43 materials for sensors, 46
nano/organic modules, 41 nanoparticle processing, 41
nanoparticles, 41
  nanosheets, 41
  nanotubes, 41
optoceramics, 44
photocatalysts, 46
research projects at, 40 superconducting materials, 45
National Research Council Report, Globalization of Materials R&D:
  Time for a National Strategy, 1
National Science Foundation (NSF) (USA), 127 ceramics at, 127
Ceramics Program (CER), 127
New global business model for technology companies, 29
NGC, 327
Nonvolatile memory, 311, 314
Nuclear energy, 560
Nuclear power industry, 541 ceramic fuels, 543
ceramic materials in, 541
  nuclear fuels, 543
SiC/SiC composites in nuclear fusion reactors, 562
Trisotropic (TRISO) fuels, 544
Nuclear waste separation technology, 546
Nuclear waste stabilization, 546
Opportunities for ceramic education in a materials world, 117
Organically modified silicate (ORMOSIL), 419, 423
Patenting ceramic-related inventions, 161
Patents, 162
“prior art”, 170
ceramics-specific issues, 167 change in the U.S. patent landscape, 168 changing from a first-to-invent to a first-to-file priority framework, 169 eliminating the best-mode requirement, 170 enabling third-party pregrant submissions of prior art and creating a new postgrant opposition system, 171 in China, 172
issues presently shaping the global patent landscape, 164 limiting the doctrine of willful infringement, 171 providing for the publication of substantially all utility patent applications at 18 months, 170
strength, 164
Patents filed in major countries in 2004, 32
Photocatalysts, 635, 695
(S, N)-codoped TiO₂, 698
(S, rare earth elements)-codoped TiO₂, 698 apatite doped with Ti(IV), 670 application and industrialization, 672 characteristics, 636
detection and diffusion of active species, 667 dry processing, 672
factors that affect photocatalytic properties, 665 highly active, 665
N-doped TiO₂, 696
phase and morphology, 639 photocatalytic activity, 641 photo-induced hydrophilic conversion, 667 plasma spraying, 636
powders, 636
preparation and characterization, 696 surface chemical state, 639 Ta₃N₅ nanoparticles, 700 thin film properties, 667 visible light sensitivity, 669 water and air cleaning, 666 wet processing, 671
wettability control, 667 working under visible light irradiation, 695 Photoelectrochemical conversion of solar energy into chemical energy, 447
Photonic/material combinations, 203 Piezoelectric ceramic fibers, 829 energy harvesting, 830
lighting, 835
piezoelectric ceramic fibers by VSSP, 832 piezoelectric power generation, 833 smart structures, 836 ultra-low-power electronics, 830 viscous suspension spinning process (VSSP), 833 wireless sensor networks, 834 Piezoelectric multilayers, 369
Poly isolation chemical mechanical planarization (CMP) process, 419 in the ULSI process, 419
Preparation of nanocomposites, 785
Product stewardship, 601
Product Stewardship Program for Refractory Ceramic Fiber, 601 benefits, 613
communications, 608
employee morale, 615
exposure assessments, 607 formulating a comprehensive, 605 health effects research, 607 improved unit processes and operations, 616 liability issues, 617
new products, 616
product research, 608
special studies, 608
study of workplace controls, 607 ties to customers, 615 workplace monitoring, 607
Productivity in materials processing, 154
Radical innovation, 153
Rapid prototyping (RP) processes, 211
Reciprocating engines, 578 Recycling of high-volume ceramic waste, 646 cement and concrete, 646
glass, 648
immobilization, 651
pigments, 650
refractories, 647
Reducing emissions, 656
Refractory ceramic fiber (RCF), 603
Research and development of fine ceramics, 37
RFCPU on glass substrate, 311
Rolling-assisted biaxially textured substrates (RABITS) method, 482
RWG, 332
Saint-Gobain Glass and Ceramics, 67
Segregation, 447
Self-cleaning titania coatings, 454
Semiconductor fab, 341
Semiconductor processing, 337 chemical mechanical planarization, 348 eposure, 344
 implant, 343
interconnect metallization, 347 ion implant, 345
lithography, 342
oxidation, 344, 346
RTP and EPI, 347
use of advanced ceramics, 337
wafer carriers, 348
Shanghai Institute of Ceramics, 885
    bioceramics, 885
    organic–inorganic bionic nanocomposites, 886 prospective and recent development on advanced inorganic materials and their applications, 885 solid oxide fuel cells, 888
Silicon nitride ceramics for bearing applications, 437 carbon nanotube dispersed silicon nitride ceramics, 440 evaluation by the contact damage method, 440 future work, 440
    history of, 438
    new innovations in, 439
    TiN in-situ precipitated Si₃N₄ ceramics, 439
Silicon photovoltaic solar cells, 463
Carbon nanotubes, 339
Slurry preparation, characterization, and optimization, 214
Software, 34
Solar energy, 558
Solid freeform fabrication (SFF) techniques, 211 Solid oxide fuel cells (SOFCs), 358, 497, 534 basic system setup, 510 fuels and fuel processing for, 511 German and EU perspective, 525 power ranges and scale-up of, 511 stacks, 512
        active stack components, materials, and manufacturing, 513 design aspects, 512
        future, 523
        high-temperature sealing technology, 520 improvements in long-term stability, 525 improvements on cell level, 523 increase of stack power output, 525 interconnectors, 517 mechanical and thermomechanical aspects, 513 operating experiences, 522 operating parameters, 512 operating temperature, 512 passive stack components, materials, and manufacturing, 515 voltage level, 512
        weight and volume, 513
Standards, 175
    facilitate purchasing, 177 needed for emerging technologies, 179 needed in the development process, 178 reduce costs, 176
    speed acceptance by regulatory agencies, 177 Structured EPD compacts, 784
Sustainable development, 643
Synthetic vitreous fiber (SVF), 603 Technical glasses, 709
    advances in, 709
    Celcor, 714
    Cercor, 711
    Chemcor, 711
    Communications, 710
    Corning Incorporated, 709 display materials, 709
    environmental, 711
    optical fiber, 710
Technological development in materials businesses, 68
Thermal barrier coatings, 569
Thermal plasma deposition of ceramic coatings, 903
    applications, 903, 909
    coating processes and structures, 903
current technology, 903
diagnostics, 906
equipment, 907
future directions, 908 modifications to the APS process, 908 process control and design, 908 process simulation, 907 recent advances, 905
thermal spray processes, 905 Thin-film capacitors, 365
Thin-film polycrystalline silicon on class, 469
Thin-film silicon, 466
Three-dimensional laser surface sintering (3D-LSS), 211, 218
Titania photoelectrodes for water photolysis, 452 Transparent polycrystalline ceramics, 803 application areas for, 804 critical needs and concerns, 807 infrared transparent materials, 805 translucent/transparent materials for lighting, 806 transparent armor, 804 transparent ceramic scintillator materials, 807 transparent electro-optic ceramics, 807 transparent polycrystalline laser materials, 805
Transportation, 913

Ultra large scale integrated (ULSI) devices, 419

Ultra-high-temperature ceramics, 847 application of the spark-plasma sintering technique for the densification of UHTC ceramics, 855
effects of secondary phases on densification behavior microstructure, mechanical properties, and oxidation resistance, 852 influence of the final machining, 859 production of ultrarefractory composites through reaction and sintering processes, 857
role of sintering aids in densification and microstructure evolution, 849

United Kingdom (UK), 63 structural ceramics network, 63 aims and scope, 64
operation, 64
outlook, 65
United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), 166 United Technologies Corporation (UTC), 81 prospects for ceramic technology in, 81 Users of ceramics, 123

World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), 164

Yttria-stabilized zirconia (YSZ) for electrochemical devices, 450