Contents

Preface xiii
Acknowledgments xxii

PART ONE Framing the Problem

CHAPTER 1 Portfolio Focus and Stage of Life 3
A “Balanced” Portfolio Approach May Not Last Through Retirement 4
Retirement Saving versus Retirement Income: An Illustration 10
Products versus Solutions 11
Summary 12

CHAPTER 2 The Top-Down View
A Short Primer on Economic Models of Retirement Income 13
An Overview of Economic Models of Retirement Income 14
Reconciling Retirement Income Portfolio Construction with Accumulation 15
The Dynamics of Risk Aversion 19
Separation between Flooring and Upside 21
Fully Funded versus Underfunded Flooring 22
Monetizing Mortality 23
Taking Market Risk 23
Risk Is Risk, Is It Not? 24
Risk, Uncertainty, and Risk Aversion 25
Summary 25

CHAPTER 3 The Importance of Lifestyle Flooring 27
Amount of Flooring: A Balance Sheet View 28
Retirement Requires Outcomes, Not Just Expectations 30
Consumption Needs 32
Yes/No Planning 33
The Window for Maintaining Lifestyle 34
The Bedrock Floor 36
The Aspirational Floor 37
The Finished Floor 38
Nominal versus Real Flooring 38
Types of Flooring 42
Choosing a Flooring Type 45
Summary 48

CHAPTER 4
Monetizing Mortality
Annuities and Longevity Insurance 49
Risk Pooling 50
Pure Longevity Insurance 50
Annuities 52
Complex Annuities 54
Credit Risk and Insurance 55
Summary 57

CHAPTER 5
Flooring with Capital Markets Products 59
Government-Issued Securities 60
Creating a Floor of Strips 61
TIPS 63
Municipal Securities 65
Corporate Securities and Other Financial Products 66
Summary 67

PART TWO
Adapting Portfolios for Retirement Income

CHAPTER 6
Building Retirement Income Portfolios 71
Portfolio Sleeves for Retirement Income 72
Portfolio Intuition 76
Basic Portfolio Constructs 77
General Accumulation Plans for Retirement Income 81
Taxes and Retirement Income Portfolios 81
Summary 85
PART FOUR
Making It Happen

CHAPTER 10
The Transition Phase 141
What the Transition Is About 142
The Order of Transition 144
A Difficult Transition 146
When to Transition 148
Making the Transition Seamless 150
Creating a Business Model that Includes a Natural Transition 152
Sudden Transitions 153
Summary 153

CHAPTER 11
Putting Together the Proposal 155
Laying Out Client’s Assets to Show Current Status 156
Minimally Invasive Surgery: Reconfiguration Proposal 158
Lifestyle and Flooring Types 160
Accumulation Plan Types 160
Allocations 161
Passive Versus Active Risk Management 163
Summary 165

CHAPTER 12
Market Segmentation 167
Segmentation for Traditional Portfolios 168
Segmentation for Retirement Income Portfolios 169
Summary 175

CHAPTER 13
Products and Example Portfolios 177
Overview of Products Offered 177
Managing Expectations around Outcomes 184
Example Portfolios 185
Summary 202

CHAPTER 14
Preparing Your Client for a Retirement Income Portfolio 203
Know Your Resources 207
Lifestyle and Life Cycle 210