Index

A
A&P, 21–22
Abdul Latif Jameel Poverty Action Lab (J-PAL), 163
ACLU, 32
Advocacy-focused animal protection non-profits, 77–78
Against Malaria Foundation, 96
AIDS epidemic research, 9
AIDS walks, 119
Alchemy: description and history of, 156; difference between chemistry and, 156–157
American Cancer Society (ACS), 56
American Red Cross, 115, 125, 143
Amnesty International, 116
Anderson, Jack, 9
Animal Charity Evaluators (ACE), 76, 77, 105–106
Animal Equality, 76, 77, 105
Animal protection charities: advocacy-focused versus farm animal-focused, 77–78;
Animal Charity Evaluators (ACE), 76, 77, 105–106;
Animal Equality, 76, 77, 105;
Center for Consumer Freedom (CCF), 75; Charity Navigator's rankings of, 103; comparing the efficiency of different, 72–79, 175–176;
donating to less critical causes instead of, 141–142; how empathy or lack of empathy impacts donations to, 12–122;
The Humane League, 76, 77, 105; Humane Society of the United States (HSUS), 74–75; Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance and Portage Bunny Rescue, 41–43, 63–66, 68–72; lack of financial incentive to drive down their costs, 92–93; Mercy for Animals, 76, 77, 105; potential benefits of holding costs down for, 95; SPCAs, 76
Apple, 13
Aravind Eye Care Systems (India), 13
Arizona Department of Public Safety (DPS), 51
Attaining distance principle, 67
Austin, Tommy, 50–51

B
Ball, Molly, 164
Battle of Gettysburg medic triage story, 138–139, 142
Battlefield medic triage, 138–139, 142
Beane, Billy, 154–155
Biases. See Psychological biases
The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, 96, 163
Blindness: Aravind Eye Care Systems clinics in India to treat, 13; Dr. V’s success in India in reversing, 12–13. See also Seva Foundation
Boston Marathon bombing, 118
Bottom line: big changes required by following the, 44–45, 50–58; comparing Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance and Portage Bunny Rescue’s, 41–43; “cost per good done” measurement of, 44; counterintuitive nature of making decisions based on the, 61; define and make decisions around a, 170–171; existential threat of losing sight of the, 58–61; Fry’s Electronics founding and establishment of their, 38–39, 40, 44, 47–48; Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance changes for improved, 42–43, 44, 46; Make-A-Wish Foundation’s, 51–58; Seva Foundation’s, 40–41; time and mental energy required for basing decisions around the, 60; understanding the implications of following the, 43–50; why we lose sight of the, 58–61. See also Doing good/improving world; Non-profit efficiency; Non-profit organizations
Boy Scouts of America, 27
The brain: doing good impact on the prefrontal cortex of the, 108–109; how it has evolved to express empathy, 122–123; how to do as much good as possible even if it means defeating our, 126–128; NIH study on doing good and impact on the, 107–109. See also Psychological biases
Breast cancer walks, 119
Brilliant, Girija, 12, 13
Brilliant, Larry, 12, 13
“Brutal facts”: A&P and Kroger differences in accepting the, 21–22; accepting that we can always do better, 28–30; be willing to face the, 168–170
Business Insider, 154
C
California’s Proposition 8, 163–164
Cancer Fund of America, 5
Carter, Jimmy, 45
“The Cave” (Obama campaign, 2012), 157–158
Center for Consumer Freedom (CCF), 75
Changes: of American Cancer Society (ACS) focus, 56; facing “brutal facts” in order to make, 21–22, 28–30, 168–170; the job of great charity and bringing about social, 175–176; Make-A-Wish Foundation bottom line and the required, 51–58; psychological biases preventing between charity choices and making, 54–55, 60; required by following the bottom line, 44–45, 50–58; required for HFHI to lower cost per family housing, 48–50, 55, 56; of the YMCA focus, 55–56
Charity: asking the “Why” question about, 2–3; examining if TCG succeeds at the goal of, 11–12; the free market of the world of, 86–90;
the IRS definition of, 4; the joy of great, 175–176; judging if the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra achieves goal of,
135; making hard decisions about who to help and who to ignore, 143–146; nine steps to greatness, 165–173; premise on the “making the world a better place” goal of, 3–5, 8, 11, 17, 40, 86, 166–167, 173;
recognizing that it is all about winning, 148–150; societal definition of, 3–4; success premise of, 8, 86;
understanding that not all causes are needed or worth doing, 138–142; why it doesn’t always feel good, 146–148. See also Doing good/improving world; Non-profit organizations
Charity Navigator, 13, 100, 102–104
Charity Navigator, 44
CharityNavigator.org, 99
Cleveland Symphony Orchestra,
135
Collins, Jim, 6, 21, 134–135 “Cost per good done”: benefits of making donation decisions based on, 78–79; as bottom line measurement, 44; coming to grips with the hard facts of efficiency and, 79–82;
comparing CFF and SCI’s,
88–89; comparing Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance and Portage Bunny Rescue, 68–72; efficiency of some animal protection charities, 72–79,
175–176; Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance changes for improved, 42–43, 44, 46, 129–130; lack of financial incentive for charities to lower, 92–93; Make-A-Wish Foundation’s, 51–58; making changes to lower the, 44, 48–50, 55, 60; non-profit overhead, salaries, and transparency impacting, 100–101; of scam-style nonprofits, 100–101; Seva
Foundation’s, 40–41, 144, 145–146, 147–148, 175; value
of testing to efficient, 161–162. See also Doing good/improving world;
Non-profit efficiency
“Crash cola” story, 83–86, 90
Cystic Fibrosis Foundation
(CFF), 88–89, 93

D
Dallas Habitat for Humanity, 45
Data: Obama campaign (2012) use of hard, 157–158; understanding that there will always be some imperfection in understanding, 162. See also Testing and measurement Decision making. See Donor decision making; Non-profit decision making
Decisive (Heath and Heath),
66–67
Defense Fund, 9
Doctors Without Borders, 115,
144–145
Doing good barriers: how empathy can sometimes be a, 131–132; overview of the different types of, 5–7; self-centeredness as, 112–117, 128–130; unhelpful advice as, 99–104; White Mountains ski experience as metaphor for, 19–20. See also Psychological biases

Doing good/improving world: assessing charities by its success as at, 15–17; assessing Save Our Kids’ success in, 15–17; being great doesn’t matter unless you are doing the “right,” 134–137; the challenge of “Why?” and, 7–8; coming to grips with facts about relationship of efficiency to, 79–82; comparing different charities in terms of success in, 22–35; comparing great, mediocre, and bad charities success at, 41; comparing Seva Foundation and TCG success at, 22–26, 27–29, 32, 33, 34, 53, 70, 78, 87; empathy making it difficult to take dispassionate approach to, 131–132; how non-profit efficiency impact ability to, 63–66; the joy of great charity and, 175–176; judging if the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra achieves charity goal of, 135; “making the world a better place” definition of, 3–5, 11; never forget that the goal of charity is, 166–167; NIH and Genoa Medical School’s joint fMRI study on, 107–109; putting our efforts into those charities that achieve the most, 33–35; putting our self-centeredness to work, 128–130; recognizing that charity is all about winning at, 148–150; remember to never forget that the goal of charity is, 173; scenario on Rachel’s skill at increasing income of TCG at the expense of, 137; Schindler’s regret at not “doing more” of, 17, 20, 67, 165, 176; studies showing donor decisions not based on, 90–95; testing to improve efficiency of, 158–164; understanding that not all causes are needed or worth doing, 138–142; why it doesn’t always feel good, 146–148. See also Bottom line; Charity; “Cost per good done”; Non-profit organizations

Donor decision making: Animal Charity Evaluators (ACE) information to help with, 76, 77, 105–106; based on efficiency, 63–66; be aware that psychological biases always shapes, 167–168; define a bottom line for, 170–171; how empathy can interfere with making the best, 131–132; making hard decisions about who to help and who to ignore, 143–146; motivation behind volunteering and, 109–117; principle of attaining distance before, 67; scenarios on altruistic desire to do good versus personal desires, 112–117; studies showing low impact of ”doing good” success on, 90–95, 99, 100, 101; ten Donors: be aware that they all have psychological biases, 167–168; coming to grips with facts about charity efficiency for doing good, 79–82; donations based on perceived efficiency of non-profit, 63–66; emotional pay-off of donating by, 79–80; empathy of, 117–123, 131–132; Money for Good II study on, 90–91; Money for Good study on, 90–91, 99, 100, 101, 125; motivation of volunteers and, 109–117; a new breed of charity advisors available to, 104–106; studies showing that donations are not based on “doing good” success, 90–95, 99, 100, 101; taking the space to be human by deciding to donate, 66–68; understanding that not all causes are needed or worth doing, 138–142; unhelpful advice influencing donation decisions by, 99–104. See also Non-profit organizations; Psychological biases; Volunteers

E
Efficiency. See Non-profit efficiency
Empathy: fMRI studies on racial and ethnic differences impact on, 118; how our brains have evolved to express, 122–123; making it difficult to take dispassionate approach to doing good, 131–132; for people who are the same, 117–122; toward animals, 120–122
Environmental protection charities: donating to less critical causes instead of, 141–142; potential benefits of holding costs down for, 95; Sierra Club, 59

F
Farm animal-focused non-profits, 77–78
Feel-good rhetoric, 167
$1,500 bottle of soda, 83–86, 90 fMRI studies: description of, 107; implications for donor motivation by the, 111; NIH and Genoa Medical School’s doing good, 107–109; on psychological biases related to racial and ethnic differences, 118
Following your passion advice, 132–134
Food assistance charities, 119
Food for Life, 91, 92, 94, 96
Ford, Edsel, 9
Ford Foundation, 9–10
Ford, Henry, 9
INDEX

Ford Motor Company, 9
Free market: the $1,500 bottle of soda story on, 83–86, 90; as giving non-profits the incentive to be great, 90–95; psychological reasons behind donor’s responses to, 96–99; of the world of charity, 86–90
Freedom to Marry, 163–164
Fry, Charles, 37
Fry, Dave, 37, 38–39
Fry, Donald, 37
Fry, John, 37, 38–39
Fry, Randy, 37, 38–39
Fry’s Electronics: the bottom line established at, 38–39, 40, 44, 47–48; founding and early approach of, 37–38
Fry’s Food and Drug Store, 37
Fuzzy “doing good” thinking, 167

G
Gates, Bill, 163
Gates Letter (2013), 163
Gay marriage message, 163–164
GiveWell, 104–105, 106
Goal of charity. See Doing good/improving world
Good to Great and the Social Sectors (Collins), 135
Good to Great (Collins), 21, 134–135
Greatness. See Nine steps to greatness
Greenpeace, 32
Greicius, Chris, 50–51
Guidestar, 99, 100, 102, 104
Guidestar.org, 99

H
H&M, 34
Habitat for Humanity, 45, 93
Habitat for Humanity International (HFHI): anecdotes on families helped by, 143; changes required to lower the cost per family housed by, 48–50, 55, 56; description and early history of, 45–46; lack of incentive to drive now cost per family housed, 93; overseas versus U.S. cost per family housed by, 46–47, 48
Habitat for Humanity of Greater Nashville, 45
Hard facts. See “Brutal facts”
Heath, Chip, 66–67
Heath, Dan, 66–67
Hope Consulting, 90–91
The Humane League, 76, 77, 105
Humane Slaughter Act (1958), 74
Humane Society of the United States (HSUS), 74–75
Hunger relief donations, 124

I
“Ich bin ein Berliner” (“I am a Berliner”) [Kennedy], 120
Improving the world. See Doing good/improving world India: Aravind Eye Care Systems clinics in, 13; Dr. V’s success in reversing blindness in, 12–13; reactions of Americans toward terrorist attacks in, 118. See also Seva Foundation

J
Jean, Wyclef, 5
Jobs, Steve, 13

K
Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance: coming up with innovative ways to save more rabbits, 129–130; comparing efficiency between Portage Bunny Rescue and, 68–72; comparing Portage Bunny Rescue and, 42–43; description of, 41–42; examining scenario of donating to either Portage Bunny Rescue or, 63–66; making better decisions based around bottom line, 42–43, 44, 46
Kennedy, John F., 120
Kirstein, Lincoln, 9
Koldern, Kathryn, 37, 38–39
Kroger, 21–22

L
LA Fitness, 34
Landman, Anne, 75
Lewis, Michale, 154–155
LGBT advocacy organizations, 40
Lombardi, Vince, 150
The Los Angeles Times, 157
Lowery, W. McNeil: credited with steering Ford Foundation toward the arts, 9–10; TCG goals set out by, 10
Lymphoma walks, 119

M
Maalin, Ali Maow, 12
Made to Stick (Heath and Heath), 66
Make-A-Wish Foundation:
bottom line of, 52, 53–55, 56–58; comparing Schistosomiasis Control Initiative (SCI) and, 53–54, 57; hypothetical “Wish To Be Well” program of, 54–55, 113–114; lack of incentive to
Moneyball: The Art of Winning an Unfair Game (Lewis), 154–155
Monster.com, 154
Motivation: how psychological biases impact, 112–126; implications of the fMRI studies on donor, 111; Money for Good II study on donors and their, 90–91; Money for Good study on givers and their, 90–91, 99, 100, 101, 125
Marriage equality message, 163–164
Measurement. See Testing and measurement
Medic triage story, 138–139, 142
Mercy for Animals, 76, 77, 105
Messages: Freedom to Marry’s testing to create effective gay marriage, 163–164; testing to improve efficiency in charity, 158–164; value of testing to more efficient “cost per good deed,” 161–162
Mexican American Legal Education, 9
MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), 163
Money for Good II study, 90–91
Money for Good study, 90–91, 99, 100, 101, 125
Money for Good study, 90–91, 99, 100, 101, 125
Motivation: how psychological biases impact, 112–126; implications of the fMRI studies on donor, 111; Money for Good II study on donors and their, 90–91; Money for Good study on givers and their, 90–91, 99, 100, 101, 125; questioning the giving or volunteers to charity, 109–111; scenarios on altruistic desire to do good versus personal desires,
Motivation (Continued) 112–117; why charity is all about winning and not our personal, 148–150
MyPhilanthropedia.org, 99

N
National Council of La Raza, 9
National Institutes of Health study, 107–109
Nature Conservancy, 27
Neuroscience: findings on what giving to charity does to the brain, 109; NIH study on doing good and impact on the brain, 107–109; on psychological biases related to racial and ethnic differences, 118
New York City Ballet, 9
Nine steps to greatness: 1: get serious, 166; 2: never forget the goal of charity, 166–167; 3: shun fuzzy thinking and feel-good rhetoric, 167; 4: be aware of the psychological biases we all have, 167–168; 5: be willing to face the hard facts, 168–170; 6: define and make decisions around a bottom line, 170–171; 7: measure, measure, measure, 171–172; 8: give non-profits the incentive to be great, 172; 9: remember to never forget the goal of charity, 173
9/11 attacks, 118
Nissan Altima, 32
Non-profit comparisons: of great, mediocre, and bad charities, 41; Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance and Portage Bunny Rescue’s bottom line, 41–43, 63–66, 68–72; making hard decisions about who to help and who to ignore, 143–146; making them when comparisons seem hard, 24–26; massive differences in nonprofit efficiency, 68–79; putting our efforts into those that achieve goal of charity, 33–35; Schistosomiasis Control Initiative (SCI) and Make-A-Wish Foundation, 53–54, 57, 133–134; Seva Foundation and TCG, 22–26, 27–29, 32, 33, 34, 53, 70, 78, 87, 101, 169; subjective nature of making, 30–32; taking a triage approach to, 138–142; understanding that there are always big differences in, 26–28
Non-profit decision making: comparing A&P and Kroger example of facing facts and, 21–22; counterintuitive nature of taking bottom line approach to, 61; for lowering the “cost per good done,” 44, 48–50, 55, 60; principle of attaining distance before, 67; required by HFHI to lower cost per family housing, 48–50, 55, 56; ten years later principle for, 67; time and mental energy required for bottom line-based, 60; websites that exist to provide donors with information for, 99–100. See also Donor decision making Non-profit efficiency: benefits of making donation decisions based on “cost per good done” and, 78–79; coming to grips with facts about doing good relationship to, 79–82; of different animal protection charities, 72–79; donating to either Portage Bunny Rescue or Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance based on, 63–66; massive differences between charities in the same field, 68–79; testing to improve, 158–164. See also Bottom line; “Cost per good done”

Non-profit organizations: Animal Charity Evaluators’ rankings of, 76–77, 105–106; the “brutal facts” that they can always do better, 21–22, 28–30, 168–170; Charity Navigator’s rankings of, 13, 100, 102–104; GiveWell’s rankings of, 104–105, 106; great, mediocre, and bad charities, 41; Guidestar’s rankings of, 99, 100, 102, 104; how the free market provides incentive to be great, 90–95; massive differences in efficiency in, 68–79; nine steps to greatness for, 165–173; overhead, salaries, and transparency of, 100–101; providing them the incentive to be great, 172; scam-style, 100–101; scenarios on personal desires versus altruistic desire to do good by donating to, 112–117; taking a triage approach to assessing, 138–142; testing which message is most appealing by, 158–160; understanding that they are not all created equal, 22–23. See also Bottom line; Charity; Doing good/improving world; Donors

NRA, 32

O

Oakland A’s, 154–156
Oakland Raiders, 114–115
Obama, Barak, 157–158
Obama campaign (2012), 157–158
Operation Smile fundraising appeal, 143

P

Pack mentality, 114–115
Population Services International, 27
Portage Bunny Rescue: comparing efficiency of Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue and, 68–72; comparing Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance and, 42–43; examining scenario of donating to either Kalamazoo Rabbit Rescue Alliance or, 63–66

Poverty question-and-answer session, 2–3

Prefrontal cortex: description of, 108; NIH study on doing good impact on the, 108–109

Proposition 8 (California), 163–164

Psychological biases: against those who are different and empathy for the same, 117–122; as barrier to charity choices and making changes, 54–55, 60; be aware that we all have, 167–168; how lack of accurate information about charities impacts donations and, 96–99; how to do as much good as possible even if it means defeating our, 126–128; the mental quirks of our, 123–126; Money for Good
Psychological biases (Continued)

studies on donors about their giving decisions, 90–91, 99, 100, 101, 125; putting our self-centeredness to work, 128–130; scenarios on altruistic desire to do good versus personal desires and, 112–117; for the status quo, 124–125. See also The brain; Doing good barriers; Donor decision making

Public Broadcasting System (PBS), 9

R

Red Cross, 115, 125, 143
Rumsfeld, Donald, 151, 152, 154

S

Salvation Army, 125
Save Our Kids, 15–17
Scam-style nonprofits, 100–101
Schindler, Oskar, 17, 20, 66, 67, 165, 176
Schindler’s regret, 17, 20, 67, 165, 176
Schistosomiasis, 52–53, 88, 89, 119
Schistosomiasis Control Initiative (SCI), 52–53, 57, 88
Scientific method: historic development of the, 156–157; learning how to do good instead of guessing how to do good using the, 158–164;
Obama campaign (2012) use of hard data, testing, and, 157–158; testing as the heart of the, 157–164, 171–172
Scottsdale Memorial Hospital, 51

Self-centeredness: putting it to work for good, 128–130; scenarios on altruistic desire to do good versus personal desires and, 112–117; shun fuzzy thinking and feel-good rhetoric as being, 167
Self-identity: pack mentality of, 114–115; scenarios on altruistic desire to do good versus personal desires and, 112–117
Seva Foundation: assessing its success as a charity, 15, 17; bottom line of, 40–41; comparing TCG doing good outcomes with, 22–23, 25–26, 27–29, 32, 33, 34, 53, 70, 78, 87, 101, 169; “cost per good done” to prevent blindness by, 40–41, 144, 145–146, 147–148, 175; facing the hard facts about TCG and deciding to donate to, 169; focus on reversing blindness by the, 13–15, 40–41; imagining how to decide whether or not to donate to, 14–15; Kevin’s story on choosing to volunteer with TCG or, 133–134; making hard decisions about who to help and who to ignore, 143–144, 145–146, 147–148; value of testing and measurement to increased donations to, 161. See also Blindness; India
Sierra Club, 59
Somalia, 118, 141
SPCAs, 76
Stalin, Joseph, 124
Status quo bias, 124–125
Susan G. Komen for the Cure, 27
Switch (Heath and Heath), 66
INDEX

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>T</th>
<th>Triage of charity, 138–142</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tea Party, 32</td>
<td>Tyson, Mike, 27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ten years later principle, 67</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Testing and measurement:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Freedom to Marry's work with, 163–164; as the heart of the scientific method, 157; to improve charity efficiency, 158–164; Obama campaign (2012) use of hard data and, 157–158; as one of the nine steps to greatness, 171–172; understanding that there will always be some imperfection in, 162; understanding the value to increased donations from, 160–162; value to more efficient “cost per good done,” 161–162. See also Data; What we don't know</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Theatre Communications Group (TCG): assessing its success as a charity, 15, 17; comparing Seva Foundation doing good outcomes with, 22–23, 25–26, 27–29, 32, 33, 34, 53, 70, 78, 87, 101, 169; establishment of the, 10; examining if it succeeds at the goal of charity, 11–12; facing the hard facts about, 169; imagining how to decide whether or not to donate to, 14–15; Kevin's story on choosing to volunteer with Seva or, 133–134; lack of incentive to drive costs down, 93; scenario on Rachel's skill at increasing income of, 137; success of the goals set out by the, 10</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tostan, 116</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toyota Corolla, 32</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| U | UN World Health Assembly, 12 |
|  | UNICEF, 96 |
|  | United Way, 115, 125, 127–128 |
|  | University of Genoa Medical School, 107 |
|  | University of Leeds, 152 |
|  | University of Pennsylvania study, 124 |
| “Unknowns”: Donald Rumsfeld's quote on “unknowns unknowns,” 151, 154; how pride limits our honesty about our, 153–154; Oakland A's story on value of learning, 154–156; Waterman’s “best guess” experiment on, 152, 171 |

| V | Venkataswamy, Govindappa (“Dr. V”), 12–13 |
| Volunteers: Kevin's story on choosing which charity to be a, 133–134; questioning the motivation of donors and, 109–111; why following your passion can be bad advice to, 132–134. See also Donors |
| Waterman, Amanda, 152–153, 159, 171 |
| Waterman's “best guess” study, 152–153, 159, 171 |
| Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, 70 |
| What we don't know: Donald Rumsfeld's quote on “unknowns unknowns,” 151, 154; how pride limits our |
INDEX

What we don't know (Continued)
honesty about, 153–154;
Oakland A's story on value of learning, 154–156;
Waterman’s “best guess” experiment on, 152, 171. See also Testing and measurement
White Mountains ski experience, 19–20

The “Why?” challenge: premise on charity success of the, 8, 86; premise on the doing good goal of charity, 3–5, 8, 11, 17, 40, 86

The “Why” question: the contiuning challenge of the, 7–8; deeper understanding about poverty through the, 2–3; driving mom crazy with the,
1–2

Williams, Greg, 12
Wired magazine, 12
Wizard of Oz, 45
World Health Assembly (UN), 12
World Health Organization
(WHO), 12
World Wildlife Fund (WWF),
115–116

Y

Yele Haiti, 5
YMCA, 55–56