Contents

Notes on Contributors xi
Foreword Rue L. Cromwell xx
Preface David A. Winter and Nick Reed xxviii

1. What Is a Personal Construct? Fay Fransella 1

Part I Personal Construct Psychology and Its Philosophy 9
2. Personal Construct Theory and Philosophy Trevor Butt and Bill Warren 11
4. Personal Construct Psychology in Relation to an Integrative Constructivism Jonathan D. Raskin 34
5. Philosophy and Psychology: The Distinctiveness of the Theory of Personal Constructs Bill Warren 45
6. So Distant, Yet So Close: Kelly, Maturana, and Their Constructivist Theories Gabriele Chiari 57

Part II Methodology 69
7. Methodologies of Assessment in Personal Construct Psychology Richard C. Bell 71
8. Assessment of Hierarchies of Construing 88
   Peter Caputi

9. Using Linear Mixed Models with Repertory Grid Data 99
   Mark Heckmann and Richard C. Bell

10. Nonverbal Assessment Methods 113
    Beverly M. Walker

11. Experience Cycle Methodology: A Qualitative Method to Understand the Process of Revising Personal Constructs 125
    Lindsay G. Oades and Fiona Patterson

Part III  Society and Culture 137

12. Personal Construct Psychology, Society, and Culture: A Review 139
    Harry Procter

13. “Culture’s like an extra layer on top isn’t it?” Sociality and Superordination in Italian and English People 154
    Viv Burr, Trevor Butt, and Massimo Gliberto

14. Relational Construct Psychology 167
    Harry Procter

15. The Political Program of Personal Construct Psychology 178
    Dušan Stojnov

16. Transcending War-Ravaged Biographies 190
    David A. Winter

Part IV  Clinical Applications 201

17. The Continuing Clinical Relevance of Personal Construct Psychology: A Review 203
    David A. Winter

18. Experiential Personal Construct Psychology and the Integral Universe: Theoretical and Clinical Implications 218
    Larry M. Leitner and Katherine J. Hayes

19. Dilemma Resolution 230
    Guillem Feixas

20. A Narrative Hermeneutic Approach to Personal Construct Psychotherapy 241
    Gabriele Chiari
21. Reconstructing Meaning in Bereavement 254
   Robert A. Neimeyer

Part V Organizational Applications 265

22. Personal Construct Theory, Research, and Practice in the Field of Business and Management 267
   Nelarine Cornelius

23. Consulting in Organizations 282
   Mary Frances

24. Humanizing Healthcare: A Personal Construct Psychology-Based Intervention 293
   Sean Brophy

25. Organizational Paradoxes: When Opposites Cease To Be Opposites 306
   Robert P. Wright

26. Personal Construct Coaching 320
   Jelena Pavlović and Dušan Stojnov

Part VI Educational Applications 331

27. From Periphery to Core: Personal Construct Psychology’s Permeation of Education 333
   Maureen Pope and Pam Denicolo

28. Learning and Education 352
   Martin Fromm

29. Creativity with Students 361
   Vladimir Džinović

30. Reconstructing Lifelong Learning 371
   Michael Kompf and Nicola Simmons

   Barbara Strobachová and Miroslav Filip

Part VII New Horizons 397

32. A Vision of the Future of Personal Construct Psychology 399
   Peter Cummins
33. Construing Homicide
   David A. Winter
   416

34. Too Much of a Bad Thing: Commonality and the Construction of Sexual “Experience”
   Carmen Dell’Aversano
   426

35. Personal Construct Psychology and Buddhism
   Spencer A. McWilliams
   439

36. Personal Construct Psychology and the Arts
   Jörn W. Scheer and Viv Burr
   452

37. Personal Construct Psychology and Law
   Nick Reed
   464

38. Personal Construct Psychology and Restorative Justice
   Finn Tschudi
   476

   Nick Reed and Nadine Page
   487

40. George Kelly’s Psychology of Understanding: Questioning Our Understanding, Understanding Our Questioning
   Miller Mair
   499

Appendix
   Personal Construct Theory: A Summary
   518

Index
   524