Abandonment rate, 234, 238
Abbar, Anas, 29–30
Access rights, 305–309
  Collaborate permission, 306–307
data subset access control through view filters and user permissions, 307–308
Edit permission, 306
Manage Users permission, 306
No Direct Access, 308
Read & Analyze, 307
“Accessing GA Data with R” (Goldsmith), 496–498
Account creation and tracking code installation, 59–89
  account structure, 64–66 multiple views per property, 66 new property for each additional website or app, 65–66
creating an account, 59–64 account and installation terminology, 63–64 configuring account and property settings, 61–62 tracking code, installing, 66–88
  determining version, 78–81
migrating from classic to Universal, 77–78
placement, 67–77
Acquisition reports, 183–220
  campaign tracking, 188–202
  adding campaign parameters to inbound links, 189–198
  consistency, 198–202
channel customizations, 202–208 custom channel grouping, defining, 206–208 default channel, 203–204
in the multi-channel funnel and attribution reports, 208
new channel, defining, 204–206 reordering, 203
“Google Analytics Benchmarking Reports” (Rabold), 212–215
terminology and concepts, 183–188 campaigns, 188
  channels, 186–187
  medium and source, 183–184
referrals, 184–186
Treemaps report, 187–188
tracking organic traffic, 208–219 branded vs. nonbranded, 209–210 Google image and country-specific clickthroughs, 210
Google search console, 210–212
  (not provided), 209
Adel, Mohamed, 159–160
AdSense, 444–446
  benefits of GA integration, 444–445
DoubleClick for Publishers and DoubleClick Ad Exchange, 446
linking accounts, 445
sample reports, 445–446
“Advanced Funnel Analysis—The Next Level” (Standen), 493–496
AdWords, 430–444
  attribution beyond last touch, 434–435
“Best Practices and Expert Tips for Remarketing” (Stone), 442–443
data in GA, 431
GA conversion vs. AdWords conversion, 435
GA data in, 431–432
vs. GA for remarketing audiences, 436–442 creating a Google Analytics remarketing audience for AdWords, 437–438 dynamic remarketing, 438–440 remarketing lists for search ads (RLSA), 441–442 remarketing in mobile apps, 440–441 remarketing on YouTube, 441 Smart Lists and Similar Audiences, 440 using the same name for different sources and mediums, 199–201

Campaigns, 188

“The Case for Implementing Long-Term Value (LTV) Alongside Cost per Acquisition (CPA) to Gain Competitive Advantage” (Duffle), 471–474

Change History, 309

Channels, 186–187

Chronology, maintaining, 353

Clifton, Brian, 81–88, 321–322

Cohort Analysis report, 42–43

Collaborate permission, 306–307

Comparison chart, 38

Containers

publishing and versioning, 103–105

all tags published simultaneously, 104 designating a single publisher, 104

Google Analytics tag as equivalent to native tracking code, 105 versions and environments, 111

Content grouping, 366–368

configuring, 367

vs. content group, 366, 368

populating groups, 367–368

based on rules or extraction, 368

Conversion rate, 230–231

optimization, 234

Conversion-related system segments, 315–316

Conversion reports, 28–29

Cookies, 69

dependency, 70, 276

“Creating Powerful Experiment Hypotheses Using the LIFT Model,” 558–563

CRM data, integrating Google Analytics with, 453–476 calculating cost per qualified lead, 454–463

B2B use case: qualifying leads for memory chips, 454–457 correlating campaign channels with qualified leads, 458–459, 462–463

“The Case for Implementing Long-Term Value (LTV) Alongside Cost per Acquisition (CPA) to Gain Competitive Advantage” (Duffle), 471–474

client ID, visitor ID, and user ID, 458

CRM integration and PII, 457 joining Google Analytics and CRM data with visitor ID, 463–474 exporting Google Analytics data, 464 importing Google Analytics data into CRM, 464–465 merging Google Analytics behavior and audience data with CRM data, 465–467 using CRM ID as visitor ID in Google Analytics, 467–471 long-term perspective, 453–454

“Recording Google Analytics Campaign Data in Salesforce” (Ezzedin), 459–462

Cross-device tracking with user ID, 386–392

Admin setup, 386–387

authentication required, 386

considerations for, 389

cross-device reports, 389–391

advanced session stitching, 391 acquisition device, 391 device overlap, 389

device paths, 389–390

populating user ID, 387–388

sending user ID with each hit, 387–388

unset on logout, 388

user ID as custom dimension, 391–392

Cross-domain reporting, 378–381

tracking, 379–381

cross-domain settings, 380–381 and hosted Ecommerce providers, 381 maintaining the session, 379

verifying, 381

Currency conversion, 252

Custom channel groupings, 276

Custom dimensions, 355–366

ad blocking, using custom dimensions to measure, 366

article author and category, 356–361

retrieving in WordPress, 359

populating, 358–361

scope, 357–358

setting up in Property Admin, 357

“Calculated Metric and Custom Dimensions for Hotel Bookings” (Stannard), 364–365

firmographics data as, 363

form selection, 363

login status, 361–362

Custom event trigger, tracking Google Analytics events through the GTM data layer and, 155–164 tracking blog comments as events, 160–161 tracking page scroll and video embeds, 161–162

using events to track navigation, 163

Custom, 500, 536–538

Custom metrics, 369–371

configuring, 369

formatting type and scope, 371

populating, 369–371

Custom reports, 342–347

“Finding the Story in Your Data” (Brown), 345–347

funnels, 345
Custom segments, 317–332 creating, 317–325
behavioral segments, 318–320
Engagers segment, 321–322
miscellaneous segments, 320–321 User scope, 322–325
mapping customer constituencies as, 325–332 availability for other views and users, 330
Multi-Channel Funnel conversion segments, 331–332
remarketing with Google Analytics segments, 330–331
Customer feedback, 449–450
Customer relationship management (CRM). See CRM data, integrating Google Analytics with Data import, 503–520

campaign as de facto key for cost data import, 517 campaign data, 513–514
comparing campaign cost and performance, 518 content data, 509–513
cost data, 514–517
automated, 417
CRM data, 504–508
extended data import vs. hit data import, 510 geo data, 520
imported data as a custom dimension, 506 product data, 518–519
uploading through the Management API, 508 using imported data in Google Analytics reports, 508–509
Data-Driven Attribution, 545–546
Date selection, 35–37
Demographics and interests, 19–20, 373–374
privacy policy, 373–374
reports, 19–20
Dershwitz, June, 546–547
Dimensions and metrics, 30–43
Cohort Analysis report, 42–43
date selection, 35–37
metric groups, 32
Multi Session Analytics reports, 43
primary dimension, 31–32 Search Terms report, 40–41
secondary dimensions, 32–33
Site Speed reports, 41
table and chart display options, 37–40
comparison chart, 38
percentage and performance charts, 38–39
pivot table display, 39
table filters, 33–34
weighted sort, 35
Document Object Model (DOM) listeners, 129
DoubleClick integrations, 539–546
attribution beyond the Google Ecosystem, 546 Bid Manager remarketing, 541–542
Campaign Manager, 539–541
Data-Driven Attribution, 545–546
for Publishers, 544
for Search, 542–543
DoubleClick for Publishers and Ad Exchange, 446, 541
Duffle, Andrew, 471–474
Dugar, Smita, 422–427
Dunn, Tara, 572–573

Ecommerce tracking, 243–270. See also Goal tracking basic, configuring, 244–247 creating a transaction tag in GTM, 245–246 Ecommerce reporting, 247–248 enabling Ecommerce setting, 246 Enhanced Ecommerce, 249–269 segmenting and remarketing based on shopping and checkout behavior funnels, 269–270 variables, populating the data layer with, 244–245
Edit permission, 306
Eisenberg, Bryan and Jeffrey, 231–234
Email service providers, 448–449
Engagement goals, 225
Engagers segment, 321–322
Enhanced Ecommerce, 249–269
add and remove (to and from cart), 258 checkout options, 260–261 checkout steps, 259–260 choosing data to track, 251
currency conversion, 252
custom dimensions and metrics for Ecommerce products, 258
“The Last Concession: Advanced Technique for Bracking Build & Price Leads with Google Analytics Enhanced Ecommerce” (Hamel), 265–269 mobile apps, tracking in, 264–265 object variable, reading Enhanced Ecommerce data from, 262–263
pageview or event tag for, 252–253 occurrences to track with event tag, 253 product click, 255–256
product detail, 257
product and promotion impressions, 253–255 promotion click, 256–257 purchase, 261–262
coupon, 261–262
recording confirmation step with purchase, 262 in testing and live environments, 264
Enhanced Link Attribution, 374
“Enhancing Google Analytics with Visitor Surveys” (Anderson), 550–556 Environments, 109–119
creating a custom GTM environment, 109–119 publishing to a GTM environment, 113–114 separating GA properties in development and production, 117 sharing through code snippet, 111–112 sharing through preview link, 112 single GA property in development and production, 117–118 using trigger exceptions to block firing, 114–118 workflow options, choosing, 119 Error tracking, 173–180 navigation summary, viewing referring pages in, 177 tracking 404 and 500 errors, 173–176 error indicated in title but not URL, 173–174 error indicated in URL, 172 error not indicated in URL or title, 174–175 tracking errors as events, 177–178 crawl errors in Google search console, 178 intelligence alerts for errors, 178 JavaScript errors, 178–180
tracking, 178–179
viewing in Events report, 180
ETLV, 485–488
Event tracking, 126–147
in GTM, 134–147
manual event tracking, 134–135
non-interaction events and bounce, 146–147
PDF event tag, testing, 144–146
tracking other file types and offsite links, 139
tracking PDF downloads through GTM, 135–139 need for, 126–134
consistency in, 133–134
DOM listeners, 129
events report, populating, 130–133 no tracking of click action, 124–126 user interaction, tracking, 133 “Event Tracking for Scrolling and YouTube Embeds” (Adel), 159–160
Ezzedin, Allaedin, 459–462
F Feng, Jeff, 482–483
Filter execution order, 302–304
Filters. See View filters
“Finding the Story in Your Data” (Brown), 345–347
“Fixing the Biggest Blind Spot in Web Analytics: Phone Calls” (Shapiro), 238–243
“Four Questions to Ask Before You Tackle Advanced Attribution” (Dershwitz), 546–547
Funnel visualization, 235–238
funnel conversion rate, 235–236
funnel step completions, 236
inability to apply segments to, 236–237
Funnels, custom, 500, 536–538
G “GA Event Autotracker: Use Only Two Tags to Track Multiple Types of Link Clicks as Events” (Awwad), 154–158
“Get More Out of Your Split Testing with Documentation and Post-Test Analysis” (Hewitt), 566–568
Ghostery extension for Chrome, 95 Goal tracking, 221–243. See also Ecommerce tracking “The Buyer Legend Precedes the Funnel” (Eisenberg), 231–234 creating goals in test view, 222 creating 20 goals per view, 222
engagement goals, 225
“Fixing the Biggest Blind Spot in Web Analytics: Phone Calls” (Shapiro), 238–243
funnel visualization, 235–237
funnel conversion rate, 235–236
funnel step completions, 236
inability to apply segments to, 236–237 goal flow, 237
goal and funnel reports, 229–231
abandonment rate, 234
correction rate, 230–231 goal overview, 229–230
goal funnel, 228–229
goal sets, 223
goal type, 223–225
engagement goals, 225
goal value, 227
match type, 226
Begins With, 226
Regular Expression, 226 Goal tracking (Continued)
reverse goal path, 238
“Seven Tips for an Effective Call to Action” (Ash), 224
Goldsmith, Eric, 496–498
Google Analytics
as a growth engine, 29–30
introduction to, 1–8
chapter summary, 4–7 reason for this book, 1–3 who should read this book, 4 regular expressions in, 290–298 top 10 gotchas, 81–88
assuming data quality takes care of itself, 84 collecting personal information, 82–84 comparing Ecommerce data with back-end data, 87–88 not segmenting, 86–87
“Google Analytics Benchmarking Reports” (Rabold), 212–215
“Google Analytics Breakthrough: From Zero to Business Impact” (Feng), 482–483
“Google Analytics and Data Privacy” (Tempel), 392–396
Google Analytics 360, 531–550
“Four Questions to Ask Before You Tackle Advanced Attribution”, 546–547 increased capacity, 532–535 custom dimensions and custom metrics, 532 fresher data, 532–533 increased data limits, 533–535 purchasing, 548–550
considerations for reseller evaluation, 549–550 people aspect, 549
process aspect, 549
technical aspect, 549 reasons for using, 531–532 resources, 544–548
billing and tiers, 548
portal, 547
releases and beta features, 548 training, 547–548
service-level agreements, 535–546 BigQuery export, 538
custom funnels, 536–538
DoubleClick integrations, 539–546
roll-up reporting, 538–539
support, escalation, and terms, 536
Google Cloud Platform, 481
Google Merchant Center, 440
Google Play, 416–418
Google search console, 210–215
Bing Webmaster Tools, 212 linking to Google Analytics, 211 verification and user management, 211–212 direct sessions in the Multi-Channel Funnel reports, 218 direct traffic and attribution precedence, 215–217 Google Tag Assistant, 73–75 record feature, 73–74
recordings with GTM Debug, 75 saving and sharing recordings, 75 Google Tag Manager, 91–122, 132–145, 155–156
access rights, 105–107
account access, 105–106 container access, 106–107 two-step verification, 107 benefits of, 95–97
consistency with structured variability, 96 customizations and updates, 96 data collection, governance of, 98 flexible triggering, 95 management, 95
marketing/analytics department, greater involvement of, 97 modularity and reusability, 96 templates and open-format tags, 96 concepts, 92–95
account, 92
container, 92–93
data layer, 94
tag, 93
trigger, 93
variable, 94
creating an account and container, 98–100 adding container to website, 98–100 installing container in WordPress, 100 deploying Google Analytics through, 100–105 creating a Google Analytics pageview tracker, 101–102 previewing/debugging, 102–103
publishing and versioning, 103–105
environments, 109–119
creating a custom GTM environment, 109–119
event tracking in, 134–147
manual event tracking, 134–135
non-interaction events and bounce, 146–147
PDF event tag, testing, 144–146
tracking other file types and offsite links, 139
tracking PDF downloads through GTM, 135–139
migrating from native tracking, 108–109 Google Tag Manager and Universal upgrade in one, 108 maintaining native GA code while building out GTM, 108–109
Index

tracking Google Analytics events through the GTM data layer and custom event trigger, 155–164 Goward, Chris, 560–565
Graphical formats for analysis and presentation, 38
“GTM Triggers Under the Hood” (Ahava), 139–144

H
Hamel, Stéphane, 265–269
Harris, Alex, 558–559
Hewitt, Bobby, 566–568
Hostname filters, 301
“https-to-http Referrer Loss” (Mahsoub), 218

I
Images, and browser requirements for tracking, 69–70 Implementation customizations, 355–398 calculated metrics, 371–373 conversion rate based on users, 372 non-bounce conversion rate, 372
content grouping, 366–368
configuring, 367
vs. content group, 366, 368
populating groups, 367–368
cross-device tracking with user ID, 386–392
Admin setup, 386–387
authentication required, 386
considerations for, 389
cross-device reports, 389–391
populating user ID, 387–388
user ID as custom dimension, 391–392
cross-domain reporting, 378–381
tracking, 379–381
custom dimensions, 355–366
ad blocking, using custom dimensions to measure, 366
article author and category, 356–361
“Calculated Metric and Custom Dimensions for Hotel Bookings” (Stannard), 364–365
firmographics data as, 363
form selection, 363
login status, 361–362
custom metrics, 369–371
configuring, 369
formatting type and scope, 371
populating, 369–371
demographics and interests, 373–374
privacy policy, 374
Enhanced Link Attribution, 374–375
“Google Analytics and Data Privacy” (Tempel), 392–396
roll-up reporting, 381–386
applying view filters to disambiguate domains, 384
dedicated view for each domain or subdomain, 385
mobile app roll-up, 382
Premium roll-up, 382
subdomain tracking, 383
Tracking Info customizations, 375–378 campaign timeout, 376
organic search sources, 376–377
Referral Exclusion List, 377–378
Search Term Exclusion List, 378
session timeout, 375
Integrations, Google Analytics, 429–451
AdSense, 444–446
benefits of GA integration, 444–445
DoubleClick for Publishers and DoubleClick Ad Exchange, 446
linking accounts, 445
sample reports, 445–446
AdWords, 430–444
attribution beyond last touch, 434–435
“Best Practices and Expert Tips for Remarketing” (Stone), 442–443
data in GA, 431
GA conversion vs. AdWords conversion, 435
GA data in, 431–432
vs. GA for remarketing audiences, 436–442
Google Display Network campaigns, 433–434 linking with GA, 432
remarketing with Google Analytics audiences, 435–436 segment vs. remarketing audience, 436 Analytics 360 integrations, 448
data variance, 430
Google Merchant Center, 440
programmatic advertising and user centricity, 444 Session scope vs. User scope, 438 useful integrations, 448–450
BI/Data Visualization, 450
customer feedback, 450
email service providers, 448–449
marketing automation, 450 paid search management platforms, 450 social media platforms, 449
testing, 449
YouTube in GA, 447
GA YouTube channel page, 447
YouTube Analytics, 447
Integrations, mobile, 410–415
AdMob integration to Google Play and iTunes, 410–412
Integrations (Continued)
  Apple App Store integration with Google Analytics, 414–415 asynchronous ping, 415
  redirect, 414–415
  Google Play integration, 413–414
Intelligence alerts, 348–352 follow-up, 350–352
Intranet tracking, 71

J JavaScript, 69, 177–179 errors, 177–179
  tracking, 177–178
  viewing in Events report, 178–179

K
Kaushik, Avinash, xi–xii
Key performance indicators (KPIs), 51, 52

L
Last-click attribution, 271
“The Last Concession: Advanced Technique for Bracking Build & Price Leads with Google Analytics Enhanced Ecommerce” (Hamel), 265–269
Learning Loop (Ries), 427
Left navigation, hide and display, 11
Link Shim referrals, 218
Location report, 17–18
  optimization opportunities from, 18

M
Mahsoub, Hazem, 218, 519–520
Manage Users permission, 306
Management API, uploading through, 506
Marketing automation, 450
  and personalization, 576–580
  “Marketing Automation and Google Analytics: Integration and Personalization” (Telem), 576–580
Measurement protocol, 520–528
  “Measurement Protocol: Two Case Studies” (Stannard), 522–528
  “Understanding Measurement Protocol” (Mahsoub), 521
Measurement strategy, 47–58 analytics effectiveness, six steps for, 53–57 aggregate, 53
  collect, 53
  integrate, 54
  interpret, 54
  segment, 54
  visualize, 54
  measurement plan, 51–53 objective—business impact, 47–51 assessing your analytics status quo, 48–49 business and marketing discovery, 50–51 optimization framework, 48
  process and communication challenges, 49–50
Medium and source, 183–184
Metrics. See Dimensions and metrics Michael, Joel, 119–121
Mobile Analytics, 399–428 account structure best practices, 407–408 “App Measurement for App Improvement” (Dugar), 422–427
  campaign tracking, 415–421
    Android, 416–418
    iOS, 419–421
  importance of, 399–400
  integrations, 410–415
    AdMob integration to Google Play and iTunes, 410–412
    Apple App Store integration with Google Analytics, 414–415
    Google Play integration, 413–414 mobile apps, tracking, 399 mobile configuration in Google Analytics, 403 privacy, 421
  Real-Time app reporting, 408–410 data dispatch, 409–410
  setting up Google Analytics in app, 404–407 deploying to app, 404
  mobile SDK vs. GTM SDK, 404–407 strategies, 400–401
  useful metrics, 401–402
  segmentation, 402–403
Mobile apps
  Ecommerce and Enhanced Ecommerce tracking in, 264–265
  remarketing in, 440–441
  tracking, 399
Mobile campaign tracking, 415–421
  Android, 416, 419
    Google Play campaign attribution for download tracking, 416–417 general campaign and traffic source attribution for post-install tracking, 417
  iOS, 419–421
    campaign tracking URL builder, 420–421 general campaign and traffic source attribution for post-install, 419–420 install campaign measurement, 419 overview, 416
Multi-Channel Funnel reports, 270–279 Assisted Conversions report, 271–272 conversion, 271
conversion segments, 272
all/AdWords, 271
first interaction analysis, 272
lookback window, 272
attribution model comparison tool, 274–275
custom channel groupings, 276
Goal Value and Ecommerce Revenue, distinguising between, 278–279
last-click attribution, 271
Page Value report, 276–278
Path Length report, 274
Time Lag report, 273
Top Conversion Paths report, 273
Multi Session Analytics reports, 43

N
Navigation, using events to track, 163
New vs. returning report, 16–17
No Direct Access, 308
Non-Bounce Sessions, 315
Non-interaction events and bounce, 144–145

O
Optimization framework, 48
Optimization program, broadening, 551–580
“Creating Powerful Experiment Hypotheses Using the LIFT Model,”
“Enhancing Google Analytics with Visitor Surveys” (Anderson), 552–555
“Get More Out of Your Split Testing with Documentation and Post-Test Analysis” (Hewitt), 566–568 marketing automation and personalization, 576–580 “Marketing Automation and Google Analytics: Integration and Personalization” (Telem), 576–580 overlay reporting, 558
qualitative inputs, 551–552
“Quick Wins for Big Results” (Harris), 559
testing, 559–560, 568–571
“Testing Mobile Apps with Optimizely” (Dunn), 573–576
“Tips for Success with A/B Testing” (Dunn), 572–573
User Research and Qualitative Optimization, 555–558 Organic search sources, 376–377
recording country-specific search engines, 376 recording Google image search as a source, 376–377 Organic traffic, tracking, 208–219
branded vs. nonbranded, 209–210
direct sessions in the Multi-Channel Funnel reports, 218
direct traffic and attribution precedence, 215–217
Google image and country-specific clickthroughs, 210
Google search console, 210–215
(not provided), 209
Overlay reporting, 558

P
Page scroll, tracking, 161–162
Page Value report, 276–278
distinguising between Goal Value and Ecommerce Revenue within, 278–279 Pages, 21–25
average time on page (and average time on screen), 22–23 entrances, bounce rate, and percent exit, 24 navigation summary, 25–26
page title, 25
page value, 24
pageviews, 22
unique pageviews (and unique screen views), 22
Pages/session and average session duration, 14–17
Path Length report, 274
PDF downloads, tracking through GTM, 133–137
Click URL variable, enabling, 133 creating a Google Analytics event tag, 134 creating a trigger for PDF clicks, 134
PDF event tag, testing, 142–144
Performance targets, 52
Pivot table display, 39
Private browsing, 70–71
do not track (browser setting), 71 Google Analytics browser opt-out, 71 private/incognito mode, 70
Process and communication challenges, 49–50
“Push Off, Pedal, and Keep Going: Growing the Analytics Discipline in Our Company (and Your Company, Too)” (Burns), 55–57

Q
Qualitative inputs, 551–552
“Quick Wins for Big Results” (Harris), 559

R
Rabold, Tracy, 212–215
Read & Analyze, 307
Real-Time reports, 43
filters in, 299
“Google Analytics Breakthrough: From Zero to Business Impact” (Feng), 482–483
“ShufflePoint” (Anderson), 498–500
Reset Link, 113
Resources, 581–584logs, 582–583
books, 583–584
career, 584
checklists and code, 581
Google documentation, learning resources, and tools, 581–582 podcasts, 583
social, 582
Revenue terminology, 248
Reverse goal path, 238
Ries, Eric, 427
Roll-up reporting, 381–386, 536–537
applying view filters to disambiguate domains, 384
dedicated view for each domain or subdomain, 385
mobile app roll-up, 382
Premium roll-up, 382, 536–537
subdomain tracking, 383

Sabino, Vanessa, 279–281
Sampling, 332–334
accessing unsampled data, 334
sample size and cardinality, 332–334
Search management platforms, paid, 450
Search Term management platforms, paid, 450
Search Terms report, 40–41
Seasonality and yearly comparison, 36–37 Segments, 313–337
custom segments, mapping customer constituencies as, 325–332
availability for other views and users, 330
Multi-Channel Funnel conversion segments, 331–332
remarketing with Google Analytics segments, 330–331
vs. filtered views, 334–335 focus and amplify, 313–325 applying a built-in (“system”) segment, 314–316 custom segment, creating, 317–325
sampling, 332–334
accessing unsampled data, 334
sample size and cardinality, 332–334
Seiden, Krista, 44–45
Session timeout, 375
Sessions and users, 12–13
vs. visits and unique visitors, 13
“Seven Tips for an Effective Call to Action” (Ash), 224
Index

Shapiro, Irv, 238–243
Shortcuts, 347
“ShufflePoint” (Anderson), 498–500
Site search tracking, 292–293
Site Speed reports, 41
Social interactions, tracking, 164–173 distinguishing between social connects and content actions, 171–172 Google Analytics tracking for social widgets, 172 social connects, 164–166 social content actions, 166–172 listeners and callback functions, 166–172 social plugins report, 172
Social media platforms, 449
Sparklines, 11
Standen, James, 493–496
Stannard, Matt, 364–365, 522–528
Sterne, Jim, 7–8
Stone, Dan, 442–443

T

Table and chart display options, 37–40
comparison chart, 38
percentage and performance charts, 38–39
pivot table display, 39
Table filters, 34
Tableau, 482–485
advanced use cases for, 488–495 advanced funnel analysis, 493–496 Ecommerce, 490–492
path analysis, 488–490
Telem, Mike, 576–580
Tempel, Holger, 392–396
Templates and open-format tags, 96
Terminology, account and installation, 63–64 built-in vs. custom, 64 classic vs. Universal, 63 native vs. Google Tag Manager, 63 standard vs. premium, 64
Test account, access to, 10
Testing, 449
“Testing Mobile Apps with Optimizely” (Dunn), 571–573
The Three Masters of Analytics, 7–8
Third-party shopping carts, integrating with, 279–281
“GA Tracking Questions to Ask Your Ecommerce Provider” (Sabino), 279–281 Third-party tools, 480–485
Analytics Canvas, 480–482
BigQuery, 481–482
Tableau, 482–485
Time Lag report, 273
“Tips for Success with A/B Testing” (Dunn), 572–573
TiVo, 426
Top Conversion Paths, 273
Tracking code, installing, 66–88
determining version, 78–81
analytics.js, 81
migration paths to Universal, 80
when to migrate, 80
migrating from classic to Universal, 77–78
placement, 67–77
browser requirements for tracking, 69–70 cookie dependency, 70
intranet tracking, 71
page templates, advantage of, 68 pageview hits, 72
private browsing, 70–71
tracking from mobile devices, 71–72 verifying installation, 73–77
Trash Can, 310
Treemaps report, 187–188
Trends and comparisons, 23
Triggering, flexible, 95

U

“Understanding Measurement Protocol” (Mahsoub), 521 Unique events, 130
URL fragmentation, 290
URL Parameters report, 291
User scope, 322–325
and cookie deletion, 325
tyling sessions together with, 322–325

V

Value terminology, 248
Video embeds, tracking, 161–162
View settings, view filters, and access rights, 285–311
access rights, 305–309
Collaborate permission, 306–307
data subset access control through view filters and user permissions, 307–308
Edit permission, 306
Manage Users permission, 306
No Direct Access, 308
Read & Analyze, 307
user management for agencies, 309 Change History, 309
filters, 294–305
applying the same filter to a different view, 304–305
filter execution order, 302–304
including traffic to a specific subdirectory, 300–301 View settings (Continued)
  hostname filters, 301
  IP address, excluding internal traffic by, 295–298 lowercase filters, 300
  nonstandard search results URLs, configuring site search for, 301–302
    in Real-Time reports, 299 referral spam, excluding, 302 regular expressions in Google Analytics, 290–298 rewriting medium to social for social sources, 298–299 multiple views, need for, 285–286 settings, 287–294
    bot filtering, 293–294
    default page, 289
    excluding query URL parameters, 290–293
    site search tracking, 292–293
  Trash Can, 310
  working, test, and unfiltered views, 287

Virtual pageviews, 147–155 events vs., 155
  for multiple AJAX screens, 151–155 creating the lookup table, 152 creating the trigger, 154

W
  Weighted sort, 35

WordPress, installing GTM container in 100
  “Working with Developers (When You’re Not a Developer)” (Michael), 119–121

Y
  YouTube
    in GA, 447
    GA YouTube channel page, 447
    YouTube Analytics, 447
  remarketing on, 441