Contents

Preface ix

1 What is Media Literacy? 1
   Media Literacy 2.000 4
   Natives and Aliens 7
   Media Education has a History to Draw On 9
   Media Education in the Twenty-First Century 12

2 Children’s Media Lives 17
   Researching Young People in Mediated Environments 19
   Getting Older Faster, Staying Younger Longer 20
   Life Inside a Media Wonderland 23
   Inequities and Parents’ Worries about Media Use 25
   Media Concentration and the Big Four 28
   Creating Cradle-to-Grave Consumers 30
   Conclusion 33

3 Media as Public Pedagogy 35
   Media as Threat 37
   Media as a Form of Public Pedagogy 39
   New Learning Horizons 41
   Debating Dangerous Screens 43
   The Merits of Television for Education 46
   Children’s Learning Television 48
      SIDEBAR: An Inconvenient Truth as public pedagogy 50
   Public Service Announcements, Entertainment
      Education, and Culture Jamming 53
   Bricolage 58
      SIDEBAR: Pre-teen girls and popular music 60
Contents

4 Media Literacy 101 63
   A Demand for New Heuristics 65
   Cultural Life 67
   Production 68
      SIDEBAR: Moral makeovers: Reality television and the good citizen 69
   Text 76
   Audience 84
      SIDEBAR: Children’s media encounters in contemporary India: Leisure and learning 88
   Cultural Life 92
      SIDEBAR: The Simpsons: Not such a dumb show after all! 95

5 Media Production and Youth Agency 100
   What Creative WorkAdds to Media Education:
      Production as Praxis 101
      SIDEBAR: Youth cultural production and creative economies 102
      SIDEBAR: Assessing learning from practical media production at an introductory level: The role of writing 106
   What does Production Mean? 110
   How is Production a Form of Agency? 112
      SIDEBAR: Youth as knowledge producers in community-based video in the age of AIDS 119
      SIDEBAR: Youth Radio 126

6 Literacies: New and Digital 137
   What does it Mean to be ‘Literate’ Today? 137
   Expanded Literacies 139
   New Literacies and New Ways of Thinking and Doing 141
   Digital Literacies and ‘Top-Down’ Approaches 144
   The Role of Learning Environments in Relation to Digital Literacies 146

7 Media Literacy 2.0: Contemporary Media Practices and Expanded Literacies 151
   Media Literacy 2.0: The Seven Cs of Contemporary Youth Media Practices 153
      SIDEBAR: Learning in Second Life 156
      SIDEBAR: Immersive advertising and children’s game spaces 164
      SIDEBAR: Rethinking media literacy through video game play 175
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Contents</th>
<th>vii</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>SIDEBAR: Understanding remix and digital mashup</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>SIDEBAR: YAHAnet: Youth, the Arts, HIV and AIDS network</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conclusion</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| 8 Critical Citizenship and Media Literacy Futures | 191  |
| Thinking, Judging, and Critical Citizenship     | 195  |
| Last Words                                    | 200  |

| References | 203 |

| Index      | 217 |