SUBJECT INDEX

Page references followed by fig indicate an illustrated figure; followed by t indicate a table.

A
A players, 444–445
Abbott Diagnostics Division, 35
ABC rational-emotive therapy (RET) model, 409, 412
Academic Standards Committee (AHRD), 677, 679–680
Academy of Human Resource Development (AHRD): Academic Standards Committee of, 677, 679–680; Advances in Developing Human Resources journal published by, 301, 359, 574, 575–576, 643, 647, 690; creating quality certification by, 668–669; Critical HRD and Social Justice Perspectives Special Interest Group introduced by, 283; feminist research used for analysis of, 132; HRD accreditation role of, 677–685; ongoing debate over HRD accreditation role of, 674; origins and establishment of the, 517; publications focused on organizational outcomes of career development by, 361; Standards for HRD Graduate Program Excellence, 679–685; Standards on Ethics and Integrity of, 140, 516–519t, 521–522, 674
Accountability: action component of diverse group with, 551; NHRD (national human resource development), 654
Accreditation: AHRD role in HRD, 677–685; description, purpose, and process of, 675–676; of HRD academic programs, 673; ongoing debate over HRD academic program, 674
Accrediting organizations: four types of, 676–677; function and standards set by, 673–674; ongoing debate over HRD accreditation and, 674
Action: blending learning and, 549–552; constructive development theory and action logics, 596, 597t; developmental action inquiry (DAI), 596; three components of, 551–552
Action components: a diverse group with accountability and responsibility, 551; power and responsibility of the group to develop strategies/take actions, 551–552; an urgent and important problem, 551
Action inquiry, 596–598
Action learning: applications of, 556–562; blending the learning and action in,
549–552; continued growth and implementation of, 563; description of, 549; ethical issues of, 554; evidence for the effectiveness of, 556; future research on, 562–563; importance of diversity in, 555–556; multiple-problem and single-problem, 552–553; open-group, 552–553; origins (1940s) of, 549, 563; overview of the stages of, 555; theoretical underpinnings of, 553–554. See also Learning Action learning applications: building teams, 558; challenges in the, 562; creating learning organizations, 558–559; examples of organizational, 560–561; individual professional growth and development, 559; leadership development, 557–558; problem solving, 557 Action learning-based programs: action components in, 551–552; designing a, 106–107; learning components in, 550–551; multiple-problem and single-problem action learning groups in, 552–553; providing diverse action learning in, 555–556; stages of action learning in, 555 Action learning coach/facilitator, 550 Action logics, 596, 597: “Action science” coaching model, 411 Activity-based HRD: description of, 493; HRD programs and phases of, 495; moving to results-driven HRD from, 493–495; transactional roles performed during, 504–505 Adult development theory: coaching models and processes from, 408–409; description of, 407; Kegan’s stages of adult development, 407–408 Adult learning theory: andragogy, 8, 41–43; on collective and collaborative learning, 48–50; examining changes and evolution of, 40; humanistic tradition influencing, 8; on individual learning at work, 41–48; reflective and transformative, 47t Advances in Developing Human Resources (ADHR journal), 301, 359, 574, 575t–576t, 643, 647, 690 Adverse impact: “four-fifths rule” to prevent, 485–486; modifying or validating training practices if evidence of, 486 Affordable Care Act’s Prevention and Public Health Fund, 307 Afghanistan’s NHRD, 648–649 African American women (AAW): black feminist theory on experience of, 286–287; HRD research on career development opportunities of, 359 Age differences: career development and age-related differences in cognition, 270–271; career development and organizational characteristics impacted by, 273–276; career differences and experience due to, 271–273; “fluid intelligence” and, 271; line manager support and employee, 275–276; overcoming negative stereotypes of older workers, 265–266; practical implications for HRD policies related to, 276–277; research on increasing differences due to age, 266; three selected cases of career challenges due to, 266–270 Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA), 480 AHRD Conference of the Americas (2005), 674 AHRD Standards on Ethics and Integrity, 140, 516, 517t, 521–522, 674 Allah (or God), 516 Alliance Institute for Integrative Medicine, 305 Allstate Insurance management training, 487 American Board of Nursing Specialties, 664 American Board of Professional Psychology, 409 The American Dental Association (ADA), Kolstad v., 479 American Evaluation Association, 517 American Hospital Association, 305–306 American Psychological Association (APA), 289, 517 American Society for Training and Development (ASTD), 549, 626, 662, 663, 670, 689, 690, 697, 700 American University, 560t Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), 300, 301, 303–305, 308, 309, 487 Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Title II, 303 Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Title III, 303 Americans with Disabilities Act Amendment (ADAAA), 300, 303–305, 309 The Analects (Confucius), 515 Analogies, 595 Andragogy theory: description of, 8; Drago-Severson’s ways of knowing, 42, 43t; on work-related learning, 41–43 Andrea del Sarto (Browning), 650 Anglo American Mining, 561t Anthropology, 554 Apple, 25 Apprenticeship training, 481–482
B

B players, 444, 445

Baby boomer employees, attracting and retaining, 89

“Barbell” economy, 205

Behavioral cultural intelligence (CQ), 338–339

Behavioral psychology: description of, 4; HRD relationship to, 4–7; operant conditioning, 5–6; social learning, 6–7

Behaviors: care ethics on modifying one’s, 513–514; homonegativity, 314, 315; homophobia, 314–315; social oppression, 281–289; subjective or innate characteristics of expertise, 185. See also Discrimination; Ethics/integrity; Organizational behavior

Beliefs: ABC rational-emotive therapy (RET) model on irrational, 409, 412; “cognitive distortion” or “thinking errors,” 409; self-efficacy, 6–7, 341–342. See also Values

Bhagavad Gita, 514–515

Biology and life science, 554

Bisexuals. See Lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender people (LGBT)

Black feminist theory, 286–287

Boeing, 560t

Boundaries (system), 25

Boundaryless career orientation, 354, 355

Brazil’s NHRD, 148

British National Health Service (NHS), 157

Buddhism, 515

Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training (now the Office of Registered Apprenticeship), 482

Burlington Industries, Inc. v. Ellerth, 478–479

Burnout: burnout-antithesis framework on employee engagement, 607–608; Maslach-Burnout Inventory General Survey (MBI-GS) to measure, 609, 610t, 611

BusinessWeek, 549

C

C players, 444

California’s Employment and Training Panel (ETP), 468

Capturing learnings, 555

Care ethics, 513–514

Career development (CD): action learning used for, 559; age-related differences in cognition and, 270–271; barriers facing LGBT employees, 360; boundaryless career orientation of, 354; cross-cultural training and, 332–337; employability strategies, policies and practices impacting older workers, 273–275; ePortfolios used for, 579; examining the challenge of older workers and, 265–266; experience of older workers and, 271–273; HRD defined as integrated use of training and, 688; HRD programs for, 29t; HRD research literature and implications for future research on, 355–363; implications for HRD practice, 363–364; Kaleidoscope Career Model of, 354, 355; life design model of, 354–355; mentoring and mentor-protégé relationship and, 357–358; as multilevel phenomenon, 361, 364; organization-level analysis lacking in HRD studies of, 360–361; organizational support can make a difference in, 356–357; practical implications for HRD policies related to older worker, 276–277; protean career orientation of, 354, 355; renewed scholarship interest in, 353; three selected cases of career challenges of older workers, 266–270; traditional definition of, 353. See also Development concept; Employees; Leadership development; Training

Caribbean Water Project, 560t
Case-based reasoning systems, 374
Categorical Imperative duty, 513
Center for Creative Leadership (CCL): leadership development work being done by, 73, 359; on-the-job experience research at, 73; organizational coaching model used by, 405–406
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 306, 307
Certification. See HRD certification
Certified Professional in Learning and Performance (CPLP), 670
Certified Professional Technologist (CPT), 670
Change: Civil Rights movement bringing about social, 129; cognitive or emotional barrier toward, 411; critical perspectives on social, 128–132; critical theory on social, 129. See also Organizational change
Change champion role, 507
Chaos theory: on action learning, 554; study of behaviors using, 24
Character: Burns’ view on transformational leadership and leader’s, 69; effective top-level leadership associated with three specific, 75; how leadership is impacted by, 74–76. See also Ethics/integrity
Charismatic leaders: as having subjective characteristics of expertise, 185; impression management and social power of, 193
Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, 442
Chattanooga Model of Global Leadership Development, 206
Chicana feminist theory, 287
Child sexual abuse reporting, 520
Chile: Competency Certification and Training Quality System of, 667; National Competency Certification System being launched by, 667–668
Chinese higher education, 467
Christianity, 514
church of Scientology, 487
City of Boca Raton, Faragher v., 478
The City of Canton v. Harris, 480
Civil Rights movement, 129
Climate change, 166
Closed systems, 25
COACH model, 411
Coaching. See Organizational coaching
Cochran-Weiss-Shanteau Index of Performance (CWS), 189
Codes of ethics, 516–519
Cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT), 410, 412
Cognitive cultural intelligence (CQ), 338
“Cognitive distortion,” 409
Cognitive/behavioral coaching (CBC), 410
Cognitive/behavioral psychology: coaching models and processes from, 410–412; on “cognitive distortion” or “thinking errors,” 409; description of, 409
Collaborative Development Action Inquiry (CDAI), 54–56
Collaborative Virtual HRD activities, 571–572
Collective and collaborative learning: adult learning theories on, 48–49; Collaborative Development Action Inquiry (CDAI) on, 54–56; complexity theory on, 49–50
“College for all” belief, 466
“The Coming Paradigm Shift: Synthesis and Future Directions for Virtual HRD” (Bennett), 576
Commission on the Future of Higher Education’s report (U.S. Department of Education), 676
Communicating competency, 202, 203t, 204, 211
Communication: competency in, 202, 203t, 204, 211; dialogic conversation, 594–595. See also Discourse; Language
Competence demands: across career stages, 207t; global, 206–207; implications for HR managers, 211–212; organizational complexity and related, 210–211; related to global complexity, 208–210; related to organizational complexity, 210–211; for techno-socio-culturally competent employee, 207; U.S. labor market “barbell” economy, 205
Competencies: base skills and, 202–205, 211; communicating, 202, 203t, 204, 211; different perspectives on the development of, 201–202; emotional intelligence, 628t; expertise used as benchmark for, 185–186; managing people and tasks, 203t, 204–205, 211; managing self, 202, 203t, 204, 211; mobilizing innovation and change, 204t, 205, 211; related to sexual minority issues, 317–320. See also Knowledge; Problem-solving skills
Competency-based certification model: essential components of the, 663–664; illustrated diagram of core elements of, 664t
Complexity: competency demands of employees due to, 210–211; conceptual framework for strategic insight under, 601–602t; description and elements of, 210;
implications for how experience is utilized under conditions of, 593–594; implications for strategy and strategic thinking, 590–591; strategically learning through the context of, 593

Complexity theory: to describe simultaneous individual and collective learning, 49–50; epistemology of strategic HRD practice based on, 592–594

Constellation Energy, 561

Constructive development theory: action logics and, 596, 597; description of, 596

Consultative Committee for Professional Management Organizations (CCPMO), 667

Content management tools, 375

Copyright laws, 482–483

Corporate culture, 82. See also Organizational culture

Corporate Equality Index (Human Rights Campaign, HRC), 318–319

Corporate Executive Board, 549

Corporate social responsibility (CSR): building external linkages to promote, 174; challenges and tensions of practicing, 169–172; description of, 164; “global responsibility” discourse of, 168; “good neighbor” orientation of, 168; HRD role within, 168, 172–175; “public relations” discourse of, 167; “strategic stakeholder relations” discourse of, 167; tension between HRD and ideals of, 164–165; “triple bottom line” discourse of, 166–167, 170, 172

Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA), 676

Creativity–learning relationship, 6

Credibility of HRD programs: additional techniques for establishing, 500; earning and transferring, 499; questions to ask for creating, 498; role of reputation in developing, 499–500; strategies for improving, 498–499

Crew resource management (CRM) training, 478

Critical HRD (CHRD): AHRD’s Special Interest Group on, 283; antecedents of, 147, 148; attributes of, 147, 148; comparing HRD and, 146–147; complying with societal human development values and social justice, 149–150, 283; consequences or outcomes of, 147, 148; considering various definition of, 145–146; contributions and implications of, 157–158; critical management studies (CMS), critical pedagogy (CP), and critical theory (CT) informed, 151–154, 156; empirical referents of, 147, 148; examining factors driving the emergence of, 149–151; four reasons driving response to predominance of “performative” values, 150; interrelated activities of research, education, and practice of, 155–157; Ramdhony’s unmediated approach to, 151–152; similarities and distinctions between Western and non-Western approaches to, 153–155; stakeholders of, 155

Critical human resource development (CHRD), 131

Critical management studies (CMS): Critical HRD (CHRD) informed by, 151–154; organizational culture perspective in, 86; origins in 1992 of the term, 152; overview and organizational applications of, 129–130

Critical pedagogy (CP), 151, 153, 154, 156

Critical theory (CT): contribution to feminist organization critique, 132–135; critical HRD (CHRD) influenced by, 151; critical pedagogy roots in neo-Marxian literature of, 153; critiquing hegemony, 134–135; description of, 129; HRD practice toward sexual minorities ascribed by Guba and Lincoln to, 319–320; privileging instrumental reasoning, 134; queer theory, 290

Critical thinking: highest-order learning related to, 6; as subjective or innate characteristic of expertise, 185

Critique: critical human resource development (CHRD), 131; critical management studies (CMS), 86, 129–130, 151–154; critical pedagogy (CP), 151, 153, 154, 156; critical theory (CT), 129, 132–135, 151, 153, 290, 319–320; “critical turn” of academic work toward, 151; description and applications to HRD, 128–129; Hegel’s social revolutionary dimension of, 151; Kant’s epistemological dimension of, 151

Critiquing hegemony, 134–135

Cross-cultural issues: action learning-based program and, 100; contemporary HRD issues relevant to, 337–341; cultural convergence, divergence, and crossvergence debate and, 339–341; ethical issues related to religious-moral perspectives and diversity, 514–516; expatriation and repatriation, inpartria- tion, transpartriation and related, 332–337; frameworks relevant to IHRD management, 327–332; how globalization has increased corporate, 326–327; IHRD training and development on, 332–334; implications for future HRD research, 342–343; implications for HRD professionals, 341–342. See also Diversity; Global workplace; International human resource management (IHRM)

Cross-cultural management frameworks: Global Leadership and Organizational Behavior Effectiveness (GLOBE), 330–331; Hofstede’s Value Dimensions, 328–329; Kluckhohn and Strodtbeck’s Six Dimensions, 327–328; Trompenaar’s Seven Dimensions, 329–330

Cultural convergence/divergence/crossvergence of values, 339–341

Cultural intelligence (CQ): description of, 337; implications for future research on, 342–343; Sternberg’s integrative framework on, 337–339

Cultural intelligence (CQ) framework: behavioral cultural intelligence (CQ), 338–339; cognitive cultural intelligence (CQ), 338; metacognitive cultural intelligence (CQ), 337–338; motivational cultural intelligence (CQ), 338

Culture: cultural intelligence (CQ) and capability to function in diverse, 337; debate over the definition of, 80; ethical relativism of, 512; HRD career development practices in context of national, 363; learning, 56 fig–57; organizational coaching consideration of multiple facets of, 417–418. See also Organizational culture

Customers: corporate social responsibility (CSR) tension related to, 171; resistance to organizational announcements on sustainability by, 175

D

Davis, Washington v., 486

Decision making: artificial neural networks used for, 374; case-based reasoning systems for, 374; group decision support system for, 374; results-driven HRD and, 493–497; return on investment (ROI) of coaching consideration in, 417; semantic search engines used for tasks of, 374; social network analysis for, 374–375; utilitarianism focus on ethical, 513

Declaration of Independence, 513

Deloitte & Manufacturing Institute, 469

Deontological ethics, 513

Department of Labor’s ONET (Occupational Information Network), 468

Development concept: dialectical development model of, 116–117; as emergent, 102/fig, 103/fig; evolutionary development model of, 117–118; examining the HRD notion of, 112–115; interaction of four types or models of, 119; life cycle development model of, 115–116; as maturation, 101, 102/fig, 103/fig; moral and ethical dimensions of human development aspects of, 119–122; person-centered view of, 113; principled problem solving view of, 114; production-centered view of, 113–114; as shaping, 101, 102/fig, 103/fig; teleological development model of, 118–119; as voyage, 101–102/fig, 103/fig. See also Career development (CD); Human development; Leadership development

Developmental action inquiry (DAI), 596

Developmental Coaching Dialogue, 408

Developmental psychology: description of, 11; information processing theory (IP), 12–13; Piagetian theory, 11–12; sociocultural theory, 12

Dewey-based theories: on individual work-related learning, 43–46, 48; Kolb’s learning cycle, 44–45/fig; Marsick and Watkins cycle of error in learning, 45–46; Mezirow’s theory of transformative learning, 46, 47t; stages of reflective learning, 46, 47t

Dharma (duty and virtue), 515

Dialectical developmental model, 116–117

Dialogic conversation, 594–595

Disabilities: ADA and ADAAA definitions of, 304; brief overview of laws covering issues of, 303–305; classifications of, 302; understood as complex phenomenon, 301–302

Disability law: Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), 300, 301, 303–305, 308, 309, 487; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Title II, 303; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Title III, 303; Americans with Disabilities Act Amendment (ADAAA), 300, 303–305, 309; Rehabilitation Act (1973), 300, 303; Section 504 (Rehabilitation Act of 1973), 303. See also Discrimination

Disability studies: description of, 288; on disability as complex phenomenon, 301–302; narrative discourse used in, 289; social constructionist model for, 288–289; social justice foundations in, 288–289. See also People with disabilities (PWD)

DiSC personality test, 435

Discourse: corporate social responsibility (CSR), 165–168; framing management interests to make them appear to be in everyone’s interest, 133–134; how it can skew and manipulate to maintain power, 133; HRD role in articulating CSR, 173, 175. See also Communication

Discrimination: “four-fifths rule” to prevent adverse impact and, 485–486; homonegativity, 314, 315; homophobia, 314–315; modifying or validating training practices if evidence of adverse impact and, 486; “new age” training and religious, 487; people with disabilities (PWD) and issues of, 299–310; “Test 21” (Washington, D.C. police department) issue of, 486. See also Behaviors; Disability law

“Disorienting dilemma,” 46, 47

Diversity: ethical issues related to religious-moral perspectives and, 514–516; increasing demand for competencies related to, 206–207. See also Cross-cultural issues

Diversity (action learning), 555–556

Dominant ideologies: on corporate power as being good for most Americans, 135; critical management studies (CMS) on, 129–130; critical theory challenge to, 129; racism as, 130

Double-stimulation method, 17

DuPont, 561

Duty to train, 479, 480

E

Eastern philosophy, 516

“The Ecology of Virtual Human Resource Development” (Bennett & Bierema), 575

Education. See Higher education; HRD academic programs; Training

Educational Resources Information Center

Clearinghouse on Adult, Career, and Vocational Education, 666, 667

Eightfold Path (Buddhism), 515

Ellerth, Burlington Industries, Inc. v., 478–479

Ellis’ ABC rational-emotive therapy (RET) model, 409, 412

Elmhurst University, 636

Emotional intelligence competencies: illustrated diagram on, 628f; King Solomon’s wisdom and, 635–636; self-awareness, 629; self-motivation, 630f–631f; self-regulation, 629–630; social awareness, 631f–634f

Emotional intelligence (EI): competencies of, 628f, 629f–634f; description of, 624–625; growing interest in, 624; how HRD can develop human resources using, 626–635

Employee engagement HRD practice: motivations of stakeholders consideration of, 617–618; valid and reliable instruments used for, 616–617; viable models used for, 615–616

Employee engagement instruments: Job Engagement Scale, 609, 610f, 612; Maslach-Burnout Inventory General Survey (MBI-GS), 609, 610f, 611; Passion Scale, 609, 610f, 612; Psychological Engagement Scale, 609, 610f, 611; Utrecht Work Engagement Scales (UWES-17 and UWES-9), 609, 610f–611

Employee retention, 89

Employees: A, B, and C players, 444–445; action learning for professional growth and development of, 559; burnout by, 607–608, 609, 610f, 611; challenges of career development for older, 265–277; competencies of, 185–186, 201–212; ethical issues and best practices by, 519–520; expatriate, 332–337, 341–342; expertise of, 183–195; “global scorecard” to facilitate goal-setting and self-awareness of, 418; HCN (host country national), 334; HRD role in retention of, 89; lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender (LGBT), 289–291, 314–323, 360; older workers, 265–277; PCN (parent country national), 334; resistance to organizational announcements on sustainability by, 175; shortfalls in STEM-educated, 465, 467, 470; studies on satisfaction of SME, 534; taking a career development perspective, 212; talent management (TM) of, 211, 438–452; TCN (third country national), 334; the techno-socio-culturally competent, 207f. See also Career development (CD); Leadership development; People with disabilities (PWD); Trainees; Training

Enabling technology: as being about solving problems, 576–577; as continuing HRD issue, 697; far-reaching influence on HRD field by, 576; information and communication technology (ICT), 577–578; ten key technologies for lean process improvement, 576–577f; for Virtual HRD, 577–578f

Encapsulation phenomenon, 271
Enforcement Guidance (EEOC), 479
Enterprise portals, 375
Enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems, 580–581
Environmental practices: CSR concerns with sustainability and, 166; CSR tension related to, 170–171; “green,” 166
ePortfolios, 578–580
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission: Enforcement Guidance of the, 479; on reasonable accommodations in training, 487
Ergonomics, 308
Erikson’s psychosocial theory, 14–16
Ethical relativism principle, 512
Ethics/integrity: action learning, 554; AHRD Standards on Ethics and Integrity, 140, 516–519t, 521–522, 674; best practice trends related to, 519–520; as continuing HRD issue, 697–698; corporate social responsibility (CSR) challenges and tensions related to, 169–172; four case studies on HRD, 511–512, 521; globalism and diversity of religious-moral perspectives, 514–516; how HRD can continue to effectively promote, 700; HRM professionals’ self-perceived role of enforcing, 172; implications for HRD researchers and scholar-practitioners, 520–522; key principles and theories related to, 512–514; moral and ethical dimensions of human development aspects of HRD, 119–122; professional codes of ethics, 516–519t. See also Behaviors; Character; Values
Ethnocentric policies, 337
European Foundation for Management Development, 174
European Union (EU): comparing American Critical HRD (CHRD) with that of, 153–155; EU European Training Foundation, 667; public policy role in post-WWII era redevelopment of, 459, 464; small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) in, 530; study of SME management development in the, 532. See also United Kingdom (UK)
European Union Training Foundation, 666
Evolutionary development model, 117–118
Executive coaching: description of, 402, 404; elements of, 404
Expatriate employees: cross-cultural adjustments of, 332–334; repatriation, inpatiation, and transpatriation of, 334–337; training impact on self-efficacy and adjustment of, 341–342
Experience: career development and, 271–273; constructive development theory on meaning constructed from, 596; Dewey’s “hands-on learning” from, 72; experiential learning cycle of learning from, 10; how it is utilized under conditions of complexity, 593–594; time and practice-feedback-repractice cycle of learning from, 72–73
“Experiential intelligence,” 271
Experiential learning cycle, 10
Expert financial planner, 185
Expertise: debate over ability to teach and learn, 195; definition of, 183–184; elicitation and transfer of, 191–192; emerging developments in scholarship of, 185–194; implications of, 194–195; leadership, 192–194; Model of Expertise Redevelopment (MER) of, 190fig–191; objective characteristics or acquired, 184–185; organizational need for, 195; subjective or innate characteristics of, 185
Expertise measurement: Cochran-Weiss-Shanteau Index of Performance (CWS), 189; Generalized Expertise Measure (GEM), 189–190; Inference Verification Technique (IVT), 188; Principle Identification Technique (PIT), 188–189; Sentence Verification Technique (SVT), 188; Spencer and Spencer Technical Scale, 187–188; traditional approaches to, 187
“Exploring the Emergence of Virtual Human Resource Development” (McWhorter), 575t
F
“Failure to accommodate” lawsuits, 305
Fair employment laws, 484fig–487
Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), 483
Fairfax County Public Schools, 560t
Faith-based accreditors, 677
Faragher v. City of Boca Raton, 478
Federal Aviation Administration (FAA): action learning applications by, 560t; federal mandate for training by, 478
Federal Deposit Insurance, 561t
Federal laws/regulations: Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA), 480; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), 300, 301, 303–305, 308, 309, 487; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Title II, 303; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Title III, 303; Americans with Disabilities Act Amendment (ADAAA), 300, 303–305, 309; CRM (crew resource management) training, 478; FAA minimum training and standards, 478; fair
Hajj (pilgrimage), S16

“Hands-on” learning, 72

Hannah Montana (TV series), 246

Harmony: broader concept of, 230; work/life, 230–240

“Harnessing and Optimal Utilization of Human Capital in Virtual Workplace Environments” (Nafukho, Graham, & Muyia), 575

Harris, The City of Canton v., 480

Hawthorne Study (late 1920s and early 1930), 80–81

Hawthorne Works factory (Western Electric), 80

Health and wellness programs, 305–308

Health coaches, 308

Health promotion, 307

Heraclitean cosmology perspective, 105, 106, 107

HERS Institutes, 359

Heterosexism/heterosexuality, 290, 314

High performers talent management: of A, B, and C players, 444–445; description of, 441, 444–445; guiding question, intended employees, and aim of, 448; strategically aligned practice for, 440

High-potential (HiPo) talent, 445

Higher education: assessments of primary, secondary, and, 465; Chinese, 467; “college for all” belief in, 466; Educational Resources Information Center Clearinghouse on Adult, Career, and Vocational Education on, 666, 667; employee need for, 466–467; ePortfolios used in medical, 579–580; need for additional STEM, 464; shortfalls in STEM workers, 465, 467, 470; Social Justice Critical Reflection Model (SJCRM) tool for, 291–292; social justice foundation in, 291; theoretical underpinnings of action learning in, 553. See also HRD academic programs; Training

Hinduism, 514–515

Hofstede’s Value Dimensions framework, 328–329

Homonegativity, 314, 315

Homophobia, 314–315

HR Profession Map, 442

HRD academic programs: accreditation of, 673–686; for developing human resources, 625–626; developing strategic HRD mindsets through, 600; Program Excellence Network (PEN) to promote, 686; Standards for HRD Graduate Program Excellence (AHRD) for, 679–685. See also Higher education; HRD programs

HRD certification: adopted as part of NHRD, 667; ASTD’s Workplace Learning Professional (WLP) certification, 697; benefits and limitations of personnel, 664–666; challenges facing, 666–669; characteristics of a profession context of, 661–662; competency-based certification model for, 663–664; as continuing HRD issue, 697; credentialing terminology and model for, 662–663; debate over AHRD’s role in developing, 668–669; how HRD can continue to move forward with, 699–700; HRD’s Professional in Human Resources (PHR) certification, 697; ISO/IEC 17024 guidelines on, 668, 670; presenting a case for creating, 669–670. See also HRD professionals; Licensure

HRD certification challenges: business/financial, 669; philosophical, 666–668; technical, 668–669

HRD definitions: continuous debate over, 146; developing non-defining HRD parameters instead of using a, 107–108; dilemmas of coming up with, 97–98; emergent, maturation, shaping, and voyage elements of, 101–103; Heraclitean cosmology perspective of, 105, 106, 107; HRD field’s drive to come up with a, 98–99; as human sciences field of study on learning, expertise, and performance improvement, 623; impact on HRDP by perceived, 462–464; implications for working without a, 106–107; as integrated use of training, organization and career development, 688; as interdisciplinary area of inquiry, 462; by McLean and McLean that stimulated research in NHRD, 643; Parmenidean, 104, 105; philosophical case for refusing to come up with, 99–100; the practical reason for refusing to come up with, 105–106; as process with potential to develop adults’ work-based expertise, 86; the professional case for refusing to come up with, 103–104; theoretical case for refusing to come up with, 100–103

HRD development concept: development as emergent, 102; as maturation, 101, 102; as shaping, 101, 102; as voyage, 101–102; dialectic development model, 116–117; evolutionary development model, 117–118; examining the notion of, 112–115; interaction of four models of, 119; life cycle development model, 115–116; moral and ethical dimensions of human development aspects of, 119–122; person-centered view of, 113; principled problem solving view of, 114; as production-centered view of, 113–114; teleological development model, 118–119

HRD expertise: definition of, 184; emerging developments in scholarship of, 185–194; HRD expertise by, 184–195; implications of, 194–195; subjective or innate characteristics of, 185. See also Leadership expertise

HRD General Principles, 140

HRD (human resources development): absence of social justice in defining the field of, 282–283; AHRD Standards on Ethics and Integrity for, 140, 516–519r, 521–522, 674; asking where we want/need to be in the future, 692–693; Collaborative Developmental Action Inquiry application to, 54–56; corporate social responsibility (CSR) and role of, 164–165, 168, 172–175; critical feminist agenda for, 139–140; Critical HRD, 145–158, 283; debate over defining, 86, 97–108, 146; defining the intersections between HRDP and, 464; employee engagement interventions by, 612–614; ethical and moral issues in, 119–122, 169–172, 510–522; examining humanistic ethos and feminist critique of, 125–140; examining the current state of, 689–692; foundational psychological theories of, 3, 4–13, 16–17; four key issues framing the future direction of, 696–698; General Principles of, 140; identifying internal and external challenges facing, 693–696; informal and incidental learning applications to, 52–54; national (NHRD), 643–658, 667; organizational culture relationship and applications by, 86–89; people with disabilities (PWD) and implications for, 308–310; as process within organizations, 34fig; sexual orientation issue for, 315–316; small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), 526–539; social and emotional development implications for, 13–17; socio-economic context for practice of, 591; strategic, 492–507, 590–602fig; strategic choice theory application to, 537; system theory for understanding and application to, 22–37; systems, economic, and psychological theories within ethical frame basis of, 3–4; three major concepts of, 34fig; toward a social justice paradigm for, 292–293; traditionally dominated by masculine rationality, 127–128; United Nations use of terminology of, 643, 645; virtual, 567–583; what is needed to achieve the ideal future of, 698–700. See also International human resource management (IHRM)

“HRD in Global Economic Crisis” conference (2012), 154

HRD legal framework: administration of the, 477–481; components of the, 475r–477r; governing treatment of HRD program participants, 483–484, 484–487; implications for the HRD professional, 487–489; modeling the, 475fig; production function of, 481–483

HRD legal issues: apprenticeship training, 481–482; copyright and intellectual property, 482–483; negligence and employee training, 479–481; negligence and the common law duty to train, 479, 480; recovering training costs, 481; training as a defense to claims of unfair treatment, 478–479; training mandated directly by statute or regulation, 477–478. See also Federal laws/regulations; Legal cases

HRD processes: illustrated diagram of, 27fig; as one of three major HRD concept, 34fig; system theory implications for, 26–28

HRD professionals: AHRD Standards on Ethics and Integrity for, 140, 516–519r, 521–522, 674; career development (CD) implications for practice of, 363–364; copyright and intellectual property concerns of, 482–483; cultural competence related to sexual minorities by, 317–320; developing strategic mindsets, 590–602fig; employee engagement considerations for, 615–618; equitable efforts toward sexual minorities by, 320–323; HRD academic programs for, 600, 625–626, 673–686; HRD legal framework implications for the, 487–489; KM and OL implications for practice of, 381–382; leadership expertise by, 192–194; new skills in technology development for, 582; online communities of practice for, 375; organizational change role of, 87–88; organizational coaching challenges and trends of concern to, 416–418; practical implications for working with older workers, 276–277; practices toward sexual minorities ascribed by Guba and Lincoln to critical theory, 319–320; recommendations for work/life harmony practice by, 239–240; resisting singular utopian ideologies or large scale “ethical transformations,” 175; strategic HRD philosophy of, 497–498; strategic HRD requirements of, 507; talent management implications for, 447–451; transactional roles of, 504–505; transformational roles of, 504–505, 506–507; workplace learning transfer implications for practice by, 395–396; workplace learning (WPL) implications for, 224–225. See also HRD certification

HRD programs: action learning-based, 106–107, 549–563; activity-based HRD phases of, 495, 504–505; career development, 29; compensating participants of, 483–484; creating credibility in the organization for, 498–500; employee development, 29; ePortfolios for evaluation and development of, 579; fair employment and human resource development issues of, 484–487; four-fifths rule to prevent adverse impact, 485–486; how initiatives contribute to career development, 357; mentoring long established as lexicon of, 425; as one of three major HRD concept, 34; performance support, 29; programmatic evaluation of, 614; reputation of, 499–500; results-driven HRD phases of, 495–497; system theory implications for, 28–30; test construction and validation of, 486; workplace learning curricular and pedagogical implications for, 257–258. See also HRD academic programs; Training

HRD research: brief history of (1940 to 1980) of leadership, 66–69; on career challenges still facing women, 359; career development (CD), 355–363; case studies on ethical issues of, 511–512, 521; on character traits of great leaders, 74–76; coaching evaluation studies, 417; on Critical HRD (CHRD), 155–157; on differentiation of expert and novice learning, 186; emerging developments in expertise, 185–194; on employee engagement, 605–606, 614–615; implications for future cross-cultural, 342–343; implications of ethical issues for, 520–522; KM and OL implications for, 381–382; on leadership development, 358; on NHRD (national human resource development), 643; on-the-job experience, 73; on organizational culture, 80–86; on people with disabilities (PWD), 300–301, 309; “scientific” approach taken by orthodox, 156; on small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), 535–537; on strategic HRD, 592–598, 601–602; on subcultures, 86; on training transfer, 386–387; on transformational leadership, 69–70; on work/life harmony, 238–239

HRDP (human resource development policy): concepts of public policy that apply to, 461–462; defining the intersections between HRD and, 464; definition and focus of, 459, 470–471; government role in promoting outcomes of, 464–468; historical applications of, 459–460; key trends in, 468–470; as a “practice-oriented theory,” 460; three domains of, 459; tracing the different views of HRD and how they impact, 462–464

HRDP trends: preparing the new workforce, 469; retraining workers displaced by economic change, 469–470; supporting firm-based training, 470

Hsian (filial piety), 515

Human capital NHRD perspective, 654

Human development: broad conception and definition of, 120–121; Critical HRD (CHRD) to comply with social justice and values of, 149–150, 283; as defined in for-profit organizations, 121–122; international examples of organizations concerned with, 120; moral and ethical dimensions of HRD, 119–122. See also Development concept

Human Development Index (HDI), 654

Human Resource Certification Institute (HRCI), 662, 668, 697

Human Resource Development International, 690

Human Resource Development Quarterly, 86

Human resource management (HRM): differentiation between global talent management (GTM) and international, 211; distinguishing HRD from, 126–127; ethics violations enforcement by, 172; next-generation HR practices associated with, 449; Virtual, 572–573

Human Resource Wheel, 32, 33

Human resources (HR): competence demands for managers in, 211–212; distinguishing HRD from, 126–127; talent management (TM) as strategically aligned practice of, 441–444

Human Rights Campaign (HRC) Corporate Equality Index, 318–319

Humana Health Systems, 561

Humanistic ethos: critical perspectives to examine, 128–131; examining HRD in context of, 125–126; feminist change strategy in context of, 131–138; HRD humanist founding principles taken from, 126–127; HRD masculine rationality at odds with, 127–128
Humanistic psychology: adult learning theory informed by, 8; description of, 7; instructional design models based on, 8; overlap with positive psychology, 8–10; Rogers and Maslow’s work on, 7–8; self-determination motivation theory of, 7

I
Ideologies: of corporate power as being good for most Americans, 135; critical management studies (CMS) on dominant, 129–130; critical theory challenge to dominant, 129; HRD professionals’ resistance to singular utopian, 175; racism, 130
Impression management, 193
“Incidental” learning, 217
India: blackout (2012) experienced in, 208; country-wide application of NHRD in, 647; fast growing economy of, 208; global complexity competence for multinational employees working in, 208–209; Ministry of HRD and Education of, 643; research and development of NHRD strategy model in, 645–646
Individual work-related learning: andragogy theory on, 8, 41–43; complexity sciences to describe collective and, 49–50; Dewey-based theories on, 43–46, 48; reflective and transformative learning theories on, 47; ways of knowing associated with, 42, 43t
Industrial Revolution, 434
Industrial/organizational (I/O) psychology, 126–127
Inference Verification Technique (IVT), 188
Informal and Incidental learning in the Workplace (Watkins & Watkins), 217
Informal and Incidental Learning Model, 52–54
Information and communication technology (ICT), 577–578
Information processing theory (IP), 12–13
Innovation management tool, 375
Inpatriation of employees, 335–336
Inputs (system), 23fig–24
Insightful questioning, 550
Institute for Corporate Research Productivity, 438
Institute of Medicine, 579
Instructional design models, 8
Intellectual property, 482–483
Intelligence quotient (IQ), 624, 627
Intelsat, 560r
International Conference of the Americas (2005), 677, 678
International human resource management (IHRM): differentiation between global talent management (GTM) and, 211; frameworks relevant to cross-cultural management and, 327–332. See also Cross-cultural issues; HRD (human resources development)
International Labor Organization (ILO), 120, 645
International mindset strategy, 336
International Society for Performance Improvement (ISPI), 662, 670
ISO 10015 Guidelines, 27
Islam, 516
ISO/IEC 17024 (certification guidelines), 668, 670

J
Japanese kyosei (human dignity), 166
Japanese Ministry of Labor, 667
Jen (humanity concerns), 515
Job candidate trends, 202
Job design, 36fig
Job Engagement Scale, 609, 610t, 612
Journal of Applied anthropology, 81
Journal of Rational-Emotive and Cognitive-Behavior Therapy, 410
Judaism, 514
Judeo-Christian ethical perspective, 514

K
Kaleidoscope Career Model, 354, 355
Kama (pleasure), 515
Kant’s Categorical Imperative duty, 513
Kegan’s stages of adult development: description of, 407; five orders of, 407–408
Kegan’s Subject-Object Interview (SOI), 408
Kluckhohn and Strodtbeck’s Six Dimensions framework, 327–328
Knowledge: encapsulation phenomenon of information processing within, 271; objective characteristics or acquired, 184; “Ontology of the human Observer,” 412. See also Competencies; Learning
Knowledge management (KM): aligning organizational learning, learning organizations, and, 378, 379fig; compared to learning organizations, 376–377; critical themes of, 373; definitions of KM systems and,
370–372; evolution of concepts and theories of, 372–373; implications for HRD research and practice, 381–382; increasing interest and significance of, 369–370; integrated approach of organizational learning and, 379–381; integrated technological system for knowledge and learning deployment, 380–381; technological system for, 374–375; tools of, 375–376
Knowledge management (KM) tools: Ardichvili’s KM technologies for, 375; considerations for selecting, 376; Rao’s classification of, 375
Knowledge taxonomies, 375
Knowledge workers, 205
Kolb’s experiential learning cycle, 10
Kolstad v. the American Dental Association (ADA), 479
Kyosei (human dignity), 166

L
“Ladder of inference” metaphor, 412
Language: framing management interests to make them everyone’s interest, 133–134; how it can skew and manipulate to maintain power, 133; Maturana’s ontological perspective of “speech acts” of, 412, 413. See also Communication Leaders: Burns’ view on transformational leadership and character of, 69; charismatic, 185, 193; difference between managers and, 65; Leadership Practices Inventory (LPI) on behaviors of, 70–71; organizational culture role of, 83–84; research on character traits of great, 74–76; “servant,” 75
Leadership: brief history of research (1940 to 1980) on, 66–69; examining the nature of, 62–63; how character and personality impact, 74–76; HRD and new concepts of, 73–74; learning from experience, 72–73; postmodern approach replacing the modernist notion of, 73; shared, 74; situational, 67–68; understanding the importance of, 63–64. See also Management The Leadership Challenge (Kouzes and Posner), 71 Leadership development: action learning applications to, 557–558; brief history of research (1940 to 1980) on, 66–69; Chattanooga Model of Global Leadership Development, 206; examining the nature of, 62–63; Full-Range Leadership Theory (FRLT) on, 70; HRD research on, 358; HRD role in supporting CSR, 174; The Leadership Challenge (Kouzes and Posner) on process of, 71; Multifactor Leadership Questionnaire (MLQ) used for, 70, 71; Organizational Culture and Leadership (Schein) on process of, 72; recent trends in theory and practice (1980 to 2010), 69–72; trend toward less use of “off-the-shelf,” 77. See also Career development (CD); Development concept; Employees Leadership development theory, on learning from experience, 72–73 Leadership expertise: impression management and social power of, 193; personal characteristics of, 192–193. See also HRD expertise Leadership pipeline talent management: description of, 441, 445; guided question, intended employees, and aim of, 448; strategically aligned practice for, 440–441
Leadership Practices Inventory (LPI), 70–71 Lean process improvement technologies, 576–577 Learning: action inquiry and strategic practices of, 596–598; adult theory on individual work-related, 41–48; collective and collaborative, 48–50; complexity and process of, 49–50, 592–594; creativity relationship to, 6; critical thinking, 6; debate over ability to teach expertise, 195; Dewey’s “hands-on,” 72; differentiation of expert and novice, 186; Houle’s three motivational orientations for, 250; how competencies are developed through, 201–202; informal and incidental, 52–54, 217; innovative strategic, 591; Kolb’s experiential learning cycle, 10; linking motivation to transfer of, 386–397; Marsick and Watkins cycle of error in, 45–46; OADI (observe-assess-design-implement) Cycle of Individual Learning, 201; operant conditioning theory on, 5–6; organizational level of, 51–52; “presence” as the deeper level of, 254; scenario, 595; self-formation through, 253–257; situational (or “situated learning”), 201–202; stages of reflective, 46, 47; strategic practices for, 594–596; transformative, 46–47; 50; Virtual HRD use of informal and formal, 569–571; work-related, 247–258; workplace learning (WPL), 215–225. See also Action learning; Knowledge; Organizational learning (OL)
“Learning company,” 217 Learning culture, 564–57
Learning organizations: action learning used to create, 558–559; aligning organizational learning, knowledge management, and,
Learning theories: adult learning theory, 8, 40–57; Collaborative Development Action Inquiry (CDAI), 54–56; complexity sciences, 49–50; Gestalt psychological theory, 10–11; Informal and Incidental Learning Model, 52–54; information processing theory (IP), 12–13; Maslow’s needs hierarchy, 8; Model I (command and control), 50, 52; Model II (learning-oriented), 50, 52; Piagetian theory, 11–12; positive psychology, 8–10; reflective and transformative, 47t; social learning theory, 6–7; sociocultural theory, 12; theory of andragogy, 8, 41–43; Watkins and Marsick’s learning organization model, 56fig–57; Wlodkowski’s Time Continuum Model of Motivation, 8

Management: brief history of research (1940 to 1980) on leadership and, 66–69; critical management studies (CMS) on, 129–130; cultural convergence/divergence/crossvergence of values of, 339–341; differentiation between international HRM and global talent management (GTM), 211; managerialism approach to protecting power of, 130; The One-Minute Manager approach to, 67–68; POSDCORB (Planning, Organizing, Scheduling, Directing, COordinating, Reporting, and Budgeting), 64–65; traditional (1930s through 1950s) focus on, 64–65. See also Leadership

Managerial Grid (Blake and Mouton), 66

“Managerialism,” 130

Managers: competence demands for HR, 211–212; culture development and maintenance role of, 81; difference between leaders and, 65; line, 275–276; The One-Minute Manager, 67–68; supervisory support of career development (CD) by, 357

“Managing Employees’ Motivation, Cognition, and Performance in Virtual Workplaces: The Blueprint of a Game-Based Adaptive Performance Platform (GAPP)” [Huang, Han, Park, & Seo], 575t

Managing people and tasks competency, 203t, 204–205, 211

Managing self competency, 202, 203t, 204, 211

Masculine rationality, 127–128

Maslach-Burnout Inventory General Survey (MBI-GS), 609, 610t, 611

Maslow’s needs hierarchy, 8

Mathis v. Phillips Chevrolet, Inc., 480

McKensey & Company, 438

“Measurement of Outcomes in Virtual Environments” (Chapman & Stone), 575t

Medical education ePortfolios, 579–580

Medical errors, 579–580

Mental models, 411–412

Mentor (The Odyssey character), 426, 427–428, 433

Mentoring: attempts to evaluate the effectiveness of, 425–426; career development (CD) through, 357–358; characteristics of, 430; criticisms of, 431–434; current concepts of, 428–431; historical underpinnings of, 426–428; implications for implementation of, 434–435; long established as part of HRD lexicon, 425; networking association with, 358; "The Odyssey’s" story of Telemachus being taught by Mentor, 426, 427–428, 433; value and benefits of, 430, 432–433, 435. See also Organizational coaching

Mentoring relationships: formal versus informal, 430; historical underpinnings of traditional, 426–428; "The Odyssey’s" story of, 426, 427–428, 433; organizational focus on performance-enhancement strategy of, 429; unintended consequences of, 433–434; variability and subjectivity in managing, 431

Metacognitive cultural intelligence (CQ), 337–338

Methodist minister leadership study, 63

Microsoft, 560

Middle Way (Buddhism), 515, 516

Milgram Studies “white lab coat effect” (1960s), 193

Millennials employees, 89

Mobilizing innovation and change competency, 204t, 205, 211

Model I (command and control) theories, 50, 52

Model II (learning-oriented) theories, 50, 52

Model of Expertise Redevelopment (MER), 190fig–191

Moral rights tradition, 513

Morality issues. See Ethical issues

Morgans Hotel Group, 561t

Motivation: Houle’s three motivational orientations to learn, 250; linking training transfer and transfer performance to, 387–397; Maslow’s needs hierarchy on, 8; Wlodkowski’s Time Continuum Model of Motivation, 8

Motivational cultural intelligence (CQ), 338

Moving stage (Lewin’s field theory), 10

Multidimensional framework on employee engagement, 608–609

Multifactor Leadership Questionnaire (MLQ), 70, 71

Multinational enterprises (MNEs): cross-cultural training and development by, 332–334; expatriate employees of, 332–337, 341–342; expatriation, repatriation, inpatiation, and transpatriation of employees of, 332–337; four strategic mindsets of, 336; four types of policies generally pursued by, 337; global complexity facing, 208–210; globally-demanded competencies required by, 206–207, 208–210; HCN (host country national) employees of, 334; PCN (parent country national) employees of, 334; TCN (third country national) employees of, 334; understanding risk for depending on India’s power infrastructure, 208. See also Organizations

Multinational mindset strategy, 336

Multiple-problem action learning groups, 552–553

Musculoskeletal disorders (MSDs), 308

Myers-Briggs personality test, 435

N

NAM-sponsored Skills Gap report (2011), 469

NASSCOM, 208

National Apprenticeship Act (1937), 482

National Bank of Dominica, 561t

National Center for Learning Disabilities, 303

National Gay and Lesbian Task Force, 318

National human resource development (NHRD): challenges and barriers with, 654–656; characteristics of, 650–653; definition of, 643, 644–645; emerging models related to, 645–646; five theoretical approaches to, 644; the future practice, research, and theory of, 656–657; history and examples of country-wide applications of, 647–649; HRD research on, 643; measuring the outcomes of, 654; professional certification adopted as part of, 667; subsets of, 649–650

Nationwide Insurance, 561t

Need-satisfaction framework, 606–607

Negligence: common law duty to train and, 479, 480; employee training and, 479–481

The Netherlands: Human Development Index (HDI) used by government of, 654; well-developed system of personnel credentializing and certification in, 667

“New age” training, 487

New Education Consensus, 464

New Straits Times (newspaper), 465

New Talent Management Network, 438

New Zealand’s Human Development Index (HDI), 654

Nicomachean Ethics (Aristotle), 512–513

Noble Truths (Buddhism), 515

Non-Western CHRD practices, 154

North Carolina State University, 677, 679

Norway’s Human Development Index (HDI), 654
OADI (observe-assess-design-implement) Cycle of Individual Learning, 201

Obedience to authority, 193–194

“The Observer” notion, 412

Occupational domain of experience, 273

Occupational Safety and Health Act (1970), 477–478

The Odyssey (Homer), 426

OECD: on defining “small firm” or SME, 528; reporting (2009) on worker need for higher education, 466

Off-shoring employees: global complexity competence demanded of, 208–210; globally-demanded competencies of, 206–207, 208–210

Office of Disability Employment Policy, 300

Ohio State University, 677

Older forestry worker education (Sweden), 268

Older workers: career development and age-related differences in cognition, 270–271; career development and experience of, 271–273; employability strategies, policies and practices impacting, 273–275; line manager support of, 275–276; overcoming negative stereotypes of, 265–266; practical implications for HRD policies related to, 276–277; research on increasing differences due to age of, 266; three selected cases of career challenges of, 266–270

On-the-job training system: Center for Creative Leadership research on, 73; S-OJT (structured on-the-job training), 27–28fig, 29fig, 30, 221

The One-Minute Manager, 67–68

ONET (Occupational Information Network), 468

Online communities of practice, 375

Ontology coaching: description of, 412; Muratura’s “The Observer” notion and views of “speech acts,” 412–413; models and processes from perspective of, 413–414

“Ontology of the human Observer” knowledge, 412

Open-group action learning, 552–553

Open systems and engineering (chaos theory), 554

Operant conditioning theory: description of, 5; presentation and removal punishment, 5; for shaping and increasing learning, behavior, and performance, 5–6

Oracle, 576

Oregon mandate on child sexual abuse reporting, 520

Organization development (OD): Four Stage Analysis and Development Model of, 689fig; HRD programs for, 29t; next-generation HR practices associated with, 449; as process about change, 689

Organizational architect role, 506

Organizational behavior: commitment to learning, 550–551; organizational culture perspective in, 85–86. See also Behaviors; Organizational culture

Organizational change: cognitive or emotional barrier toward, 411; competency of mobilizing innovation and, 204t, 205; feminist strategies for, 135–138t; HRD professionals’ role in supporting, 87–88; improving organizational effectiveness by managing, 502; Lewin’s field theory on, 10–11; organization development (OD) as process about, 689; small-win strategy of, 137–138t, 176; sociology of radical, 690–691fig; system theory to understand HRD and, 35–37. See also Change

Organizational coaching: action learning coach or facilitator engaged in, 550; boundary between therapy and, 417; challenges and trends in, 416–418; cultural differences as issue of concern in, 417–418; executive coaching form of, 402, 404–405; return on investment (ROI) of, 417; theoretical perspectives in, 406–416; workplace coaching delivered to non-executive employees, 402, 404–405. See also Mentoring

Organizational coaching models: Argyris’ “action science,” 411; authentic happiness coaching (AHC), 415; Center for Creative Leadership’s, 405–406; COACH model, 411; cognitive/behavioral coaching (CBC), 410; Developmental Coaching Dialogue, 408; Gallup’s Strengths Survey tool, 415; GROW model, 411; illustrated diagram of, 403fig; Kegan’s Subject-Object Interview (SOI), 408; mental models, 411–412; Peterson’s Development Pipeline, 410–411; Skinner’s three-stage behavior training method, 410; Values in Action (VIA) Inventory of Strengths tool, 415
Organizational coaching theories: adult development theory, 407–409; cognitive/behavioral psychology, 409–412; ontology sciences, 412–414; positive psychology, 414–416

Organizational culture: artifacts, values, and assumptions of, 83; critical management studies (CMS) on, 129–130; establishing a development culture as part of your, 501; future of HRD role in, 88–89; HRD relationship and applications of, 86–88; learning organization model on creating a learning, 56fig–57; Organizational Behavior perspective of, 85–86; role of leader in the, 83–84; Schein’s definition of, 83; subcultures within, 84, 86; symbols, language, ideology, beliefs, rituals, and myths making up, 81, 82; as “variable” of the organization, 85; Virtual HRD and influence of, 570–571. See also Culture; Organizational behavior

Organizational Culture and Leadership (Schein), 72

Organizational culture research: criticism of functionalist and functionalist-structuralist approach to, 84; different disciplines and perspectives of, 84–86; Hawthorne Study, 80–81; Ouchi’s definition as “set of symbols, ceremonies, and myths,” 82; Peters and Waterman’s research on characteristics of best companies, 82; Pettigrew’s work (1979) on, 81–82; as popular discussion topic, 82–83; research (1960s) on, 81; Schein’s definition and conceptualization of, 83–84; as “social engineering,” 84. See also Corporate culture; Culture

Organizational effectiveness: assessing your, 501; “goal method” approach to, 500; identifying strategies to improve, 501–502; three different definitions of, 500–501

Organizational learning (OL): aligning learning organizations, knowledge management, and, 378, 379fig; Collaborative Development Action Inquiry on, 54–56; description of, 377; implications for HRD research and practice, 381–382; Informal and Incidental Learning Model on, 52–54; integrated approach of knowledge management and, 379fig–381; integrated technological system for knowledge and learning deployment, 380fig; interconnecting knowledge management (KM) and, 369; resilience, 51; retention, 51; stimulus-response theory of, 51–52; three levels of learning and interactions for, 377–378; Watkins and Marsick’s Learning Organization Model on, 56fig–57. See also Learning

Organizations: CD and employability strategies, policies and practices of, 273–275; commitment to learning at all levels of the, 550–551; competitive advantage of taking a career development perspective, 212; complexity of, 210–211, 590–594, 601–602fig; conceived as system by HRD, 34fig; contributions to health promotion by, 307; creating HRD program credibility in, 498–500; creating strategic partnerships in, 502–504; cultural convergence/divergence/crossvergence of, 339–341; effectiveness of, 500–502; “failure to accommodate” lawsuits filed against, 305; HRD (human resources development) as process within, 34fig; overview of disability law impacting, 303–305; small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), 526–538. See also Learning organizations; Multinational enterprises (MNEs); Workplace

The Origin of Species (Darwin), 426

Outputs (system), 23fig–24

P

Panasonic, 560t

Paradigm: definition of, 282; toward a HRD social justice, 292–293

Passion Scale, 609, 610t, 612

Path-goal theory, 67

PCN (parent country national) employees, 334

Pennsylvania State University’s Sandusky scandal, 520

People with disabilities (PWD): civil rights and laws protecting rights of, 300; description and work issues of, 299–300; disability understood as complex phenomenon, 301–302; “failure to accommodate” lawsuits filed by, 305; implications for HRD, 308–310; limited HRD research on, 300–301, 309; overview of disability law impacting, 303–305; reasonable accommodations for, 300, 487. See also Disability studies; Employees

PeopleSoft, 576

Performance: HRD program that serve as support for, 29t; job design in system of human, 36fig; model linking motivation to learning transfer and transfer, 387–397; the nine variables of, 35t; positive psychology applications for improving, 9–10; self-efficacy beliefs associated with, 6; study on leadership of Methodist ministers and congregational-level, 63
Performance consulting process, 31
Performance engineer role, 506
Performance review system, 35
Personality traits: DiSC, Myers-Briggs, and FIRO-B tests on, 435; research on great leaders; 74–76; Stogdill’s report (1948) on leadership and, 76; subjective or innate characteristics of expertise, 185
PEST tool, 598
Peterson’s Development Pipeline, 410–411
Phillips Chevrolet, Inc., Mathis v., 480
Piagetian theory, 11–12
PIRLS International Study Center, 465
Pivotal talent pools talent management: description of, 445–446; guiding question, intended employees, and aim of, 448; strategically aligned practice for, 440
Police Officers Employability (The Netherlands), 268–269
Political architect role, 507
Political science, 554
Polycentric policies, 337
POSDCORB (Planning, Organizing, Scheduling, Directing, Coordinating, Reporting, and Budgeting), 64–65
Positive psychology: description of, 8; overlap with humanistic psychology, 8–10; performance improvement using, 9–10
Power: action component of group responsibility and, 551–552; action learning and politics of, 554; critical theory explanation of, 129, 134–135; critiquing hegemony and, 134–135; framing management interests to make them appear to be in everyone’s interest, 133–134; how discourse can skew and manipulate history to maintain, 133; ideology that corporate power is good for most Americans, 135; impression management and social, 193; managerialism approach to protecting management, 130; obedience to authority and, 193–194; privileging instrumental reasoning, 134; racism as ideology to maintain dominant, 130
Practice-feedback-repractice cycle of learning, 72–73
“Presence,” 254
Presentation punishment, 5
Principle Identification Technique (PIT), 188–189
Private Career accreditors, 677
Privilege status, 134
Privileging instrumental reasoning, 134
Problem solving: action components having to do with, 551–552; action learning applications to, 557; action learning group multiple-problem and single-problem, 552–553; technology as being about, 576–577
Problem-solving skills: age differences in “experiential intelligence” used for, 271; age differences in “fluid intelligence” used for, 271; as crucial to labor economy, 205; objective characteristics or acquired, 184–185; online communities of practice to help with, 375; organizational need for, 195. See also Competencies
Problems: action learning multiple-problem and single-problem work with, 552–553; action learning stage of reframing the, 555
Processes: HRD, 26–28, 34/fig; performance consulting, 31; system, 23/fig–24
Professional codes of ethics, 516–519
Professional in Human Resources (PHR) certification [HRCI], 697
Professions: Freidson’s characteristics of a, 661; HRD certification in context of a, 661–662
Program evaluation and development ePortfolios, 579
Program Excellence Network (PEN), 686
Programmatic accreditors, 677
Programmatic evaluation, 614
Project Management Institute (PMI), 662
Protean career orientation, 354, 355
“Protégé” concept, 426, 427
Psychological Engagement Scale, 609, 610t, 611
Psychological theories: action learning and, 553; behavioral, 4–7; developmental psychology, 11–13; Gestalt, 10–11; humanistic, 7–8; implications for HRD, 16–17; positive psychology, 8–10
Public policy: categories of, 462; concepts of, 461–462; definition of, 461; role in promoting HRDP outcomes, 464–468
Punishment: operant conditioning theory on, 5; presentation, 5; removal, 5
Q
Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (UK), 678
Queer theory, 290
Questions: action learning and capturing learnings through, 555; insightful questioning using, 550
Quiet: The Power of Introverts in a World That Can’t Stop Talking (Cain), 434
Qur’an (Islam text), 516
R
Racism: critical theory explanation of, 129; as unjust and dominant ideology, 130
Rationality: HRD dominated by masculine, 127–128; Kant’s epistemological dimension challenging, 151; sexist and racist issues of masculine, 128
Reasonable accommodations: description and application to employees, 300; provided during training, 487
Reasoning from analogies, 595
Reflective listening, 550
Refreezing stage (Lewin’s field theory), 10
Regiocentric policies, 337
Regional accreditors, 676
Rehabilitation Act (1973), 300, 303
Relationship builder role, 506
Relevance: as continuing HRD issue, 696–697; how HRD can continue to have, 698–699
Religious discrimination, 487
Religious-moral ethical perspectives, 514–516
Removal punishment, 5
Repatriation of employees, 332–337
Republic of Korea (South Korea), 647–648
Reputation (HRD program), 499–500
Research. See HRD research
Responsibility: action component of diverse group with, 551; action component of group power and, 551–552
Results-driven HRD: HRD program and phases of, 495–497; moving from activity-based to, 493–495
Retention learning, 51
Return on improved performance (ROIP), 446
S
Samsung, 25
Sandusky scandal (Pennsylvania State University), 520
Santa Clara University, 70
SAP, 576
Saturn (fasting), 516
Scenario learning, 595–596
Section 504 (Rehabilitation Act of 1973), 303
Self-awareness competency, 629t
Self-determination motivation theory, 7
Self-efficacy beliefs: better task performance related to, 6; how cross-cultural training increases expatriate employees, 341–342; training role of, 6–7
Self-esteem training issue, 8
Self-formation: psychodynamic perspective of, 255; sociocultural perspective of, 254–255; vocation as pilgrimage of, 253; work-related and process of, 253–255; work-related learning for fostering, 255–257
Self-initiated learning, 217
Self-managed learning, 201
Self-motivation competency, 630t–631t
Self-regulation competency, 629t–630t
Semantic search engines, 374
Sentence Verification Technique (SVT), 188
Servant leaders, 75
Seven Dimensions framework, 329–330
Sexual harassment training, 478
Sexual orientation: “closeting” of, 319; cultural competence of HRD professionals related to, 317–320; definitions of, 289–290; definitions related to, 316–317; human resource development (HRD) and, 315–316; LGBT studies informing social justice in context of, 289–291. See also Lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender people (LGBT)
Shared leadership, 74
Single-problem action learning groups, 552–553
Situational leadership, 67–68
“Situational Leadership” (Hersey & Blanchard), 67
Situational (or “situated learning”) learning, 201–202
Six Dimensions framework, 327–330
Skills Gap report (2011), 469
Skinner’s three-stage behavior training method, 410
Small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs): advocation of strategic choice theory applications to HRD in, 537; barriers to HRD in, 531–533; characteristics of HRD in, 529–530; current state of HRD neglect in, 527–528; description of, 526; drivers of HRD in, 530–531; examining the HRD perspective of, 526–528; implications for HRD policy and practice in, 537–538; mapping the terrain of, 528–529; new directions of HRD research on, 535–537; rationality of informality in, 533–535; recognizing the differences between larger firms and, 529; studies on satisfaction of employees of, 534
Small-win strategy of change, 137–138t, 176
Smoking policies, 308
Social and emotional development: attachment, 13–14; Erikson’s psychosocial theory on, 14–16; implications for, 16–17; importance for HRD, 13–16
Social awareness competency, 631–634
Social constructionist model, 288–289
Social injustices, 293. See also Social oppression
Social justice: corporate social responsibility (CSR) challenge to promote, 165; Critical HRD (CHRD) to comply with societal value of, 149–150, 283; description and conditions of, 281; philosophical foundations of, 283–285; Social Justice Critical Reflection Model (SJCRM) tool for, 291–292; social justice paradigm implications for HRD, 292–293; social oppression triggering outcomes of, 282; theoretical foundations of, 285–289
Social Justice Critical Reflection Model (SJCRM), 291–292
Social learning theory: Bandura’s socio-cognitive, 6–7; on competency development, 201; description of, 6
Social network analysis, 374–375
Social of Applied Anthropology, 81
Social oppression: black feminist theory on experience of African American women (AAW), 286–287; Chicana feminist theory on experience of Chicana women, 287; description of, 281; LGBT studies on sexual orientation and and, 289–291; narrative discourse used to study disability and, 289; organizational and institutional settings of, 281–282; philosophical understanding of one’s moral duty to respond to, 284–285; social constructionist model for studying disability and, 288–289; social justice outcomes triggered by, 282; talking back strategy as form of disruption to, 287. See also Social injustices
Social power, 183
Society: feminist change strategy as transforming gendered, 138; ideology that corporate power is good for most Americans, 135; privilege status in, 134; racism as unjust and dominant ideology of, 130. See also Values
Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), 442, 695, 696
Socio-cognitive learning theory, 6–7
Sociocultural domain of experience, 273
Sociocultural theory, 12
Sociology of action learning, 553–554
Sociology of radical change, 690–691
Sony Music, 561
South Korea (Republic of Korea), 647–648
Specific talent segments talent management: description of, 446–447; guiding question, intended employees, and aim of, 448; strategically aligned practice for, 440
“Speech acts” (ontological coaching), 412, 413
Spencer and Spencer Technical Scale, 187–188
Spirituality of work movement, 246–247
Stages of reflective learning, 46, 47
Standards for HRD Graduate Program Excellence (AHRD), 679–685
Standards on Ethics and Integrity of the Academy of Human Resource Development, 140, 516–519, 521–522
State Postsecondary Review Entities (1965), 676
STEM education: need for additional, 464; shortfalls in, 465, 467, 470
Sternberg’s cultural intelligence (CQ) framework: behavioral cultural intelligence (CQ), 338–339; cognitive cultural intelligence (CQ), 338; metacognitive cultural intelligence (CQ), 337–338; motivational cultural intelligence (CQ), 338
Stimulus-response theory of learning, 51–52
Strategic choice theory, 537
Strategic HRD: activity-based, 493–495, 504–505; complexity theory basis of practice, 592–594, 601–602; creating a philosophy of, 497–498; creating organizational credibility for HRD programs, 498–500; creating strategic partnerships in organizations using, 502–504; developing mindsets for, 590–602; examining the development and applications of, 492; four streams of relevant literature on practice of, 592–598; identifying transactional and transformational HRD roles using, 504–507; opportunities for, 592; requirements for HRD professionals to embrace, 507; results-driven, 493–497
Strategic HRD mindset framework: applications in graduate classes, 600; on generative strategic insight under conditions of complexity, 601–602; integrating elements in strategy development process, 598–600
Strategic HRD mindsets: conditions of complexity and, 592–594, 601–602; four streams of relevant literature on practice and, 592–598; framework for developing, 598–600, 601–602; implications of complexity for, 590–591; lessons learned and implications on, 601–602; opportunities for developing, 592
Strategic HRD philosophy, 497–498
Strategic human capital planning, 446
Strategic learning practices: dialogic conversation, 594–595; reasoning from analogies, 595; scenario learning, 595–596
Strategic partnerships: creating, 502–504; as mutually beneficial relationship, 502; purpose and partnering elements of, 502–503; three levels of, 504
Strategist role, 506
Structured on-the-job training (S-OJT): link with workplace training, 220; research findings on, 27–28
Student assessment ePortfolios, 579
Student learning ePortfolios, 579
“A Study of Adult Learning in a Virtual World” (Mancuso, Chlup, & McWhorter), 575
Subcultures: definition of, 84; research on, 86
“Survival of the fittest” concept, 426
Sustainability: corporate social responsibility (CSR) concerns with, 166; resistance to organizational announcements on, 175
Swedish credentialing and certification system, 667
Swiss credentialing and certification system, 667
SWOT analysis tool, 598
System theory: chaos theory to study the behavior of, 24; description of, 22; HRD management applications of, 30–32; HRD programs applications of, 28–30; HRD training and development application sof, 26–28fig; literature on applications to HRD, 21; singular meaning of system as core of understanding, 22–23; understanding HRD by using the, 32–37
“Systemizing Virtual Learning and Technologies by Managing Organizational Competency and Talents” (Yoon & Lim), 576
Systems: boundaries of, 25; closed, 25; description and components of, 23fig–24; ISO 10015 Guidelines for training development, 28fig; job design in human performance, 36fig; preferred usage of, 26; structured on-the-job training (S-OJT), 27–28fig, 29fig, 30, 221; subordinate systems or sub-systems of, 24–25; training applications of, 25

T
“Take This Job and Shove It” (Paycheck song), 246
Talent management approaches: focus on high performers, 440fig, 441, 444–445, 448t; focus on leadership pipeline, 440fig, 441, 445, 448t; focus on pivotal talent pools, 440fig, 441, 445–446, 448t; focus on specific talent segments, 440fig, 441, 446–447, 448t
Talent management (TM): the current state of, 439–441; different approaches to, 440fig, 441, 444–447, 448t; differentiation between international HRM and global, 211; discussion and implications for HRD, 447–451; early practice of, 438; examining a taxonomy to understand, 438, 439; as strategically aligned HR practice, 441–444
Talent segments talent management: description of, 446–447; guiding question, intended employees, and aim of, 448t; strategically aligned practice for, 440fig
Talentship approach, 446
Talking back strategy, 287
Talmud, 514
TCN (third country national) employees, 334
Teachers College (Columbia University), 677
Team-building, 556. See also Groups
Techno-socio-culturally competent employee, 207fig
Technology: as being about solving problems, 576–577; as continuing HRD issue, 697; enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems, 580–581; ePortfolios, 578–580; far-reaching influence on HRD field by, 576; how HRD can continue to effectively utilize, 700; information and communication technology (ICT), 577–578; integrating HRD objectives and, 581; ten key technologies for lean process improvement, 576–577t; for Virtual HRD, 577–580
Technology development: definition of, 581; of enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems, 580–581; for HRD professionals, 582; Virtual HRD and, 580–581
Telemachus (mentoring “protégé”), 426, 427–428, 433
Teleological development model, 118–119
Ten Commandments, 514
“Test 21” (Washington, D.C. police department), 486
Test construction/validation, 486
Texas A&M University, 677
Theory of andragogy, 8, 41–43
“Thinking errors,” 409
Time and practice-feedback-repractice cycle of learning, 72–73
Time Continuum Model of Motivation, 8
TIMSS assessments, 465
Title II (Americans with Disabilities Act), 303
Title III (Americans with Disabilities Act), 303
Tobacco morbidity and mortality, 308
Torbert’s action logics, 596, 597
Tort law, 479
Trainees: addressing self-esteem of, 8; compensation of, 483–484; fair employment and human resource development of, 484–487; “four-fifths rule” application to, 485–486. See also Employees
Trainers: awareness of self-efficacy beliefs by, 6–7; self-esteem addressed by, 8
Training: activity-based HRD, 493–495, 504–505; apprenticeship, 481–482; crew resource management (CRM), 478; cross-cultural, 332–337; as defense to claims of unfair treatment, 478–479; Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) standards and, 478; HRD defined as integrated use of career development and, 688; HRDP support of firm-based, 470; ISO 10015 Guidelines for development system, 28 fig.; link of workplace learning with workplace, 220–221; mandated sexual harassment, 478; mentoring form of, 357–358, 425–435; modifying or validating if evidence of adverse impact, 486; Multifactor Leadership Questionnaire (MLQ) used during, 70, 71; negligence and employee, 479–481; negligence and the common law duty to train, 479, 480; organizational coaching form of, 402–418; path-goal theory “situational” advice on, 67; reasonable accommodations in, 487; recovering costs of, 481; religious discrimination and “new age,” 487; results-driven HRD, 493–497; retraining of workers displaced by economic change, 469–470; self-efficacy role in, 6–7; system of structured on-the-job (S-OJT), 27–28 fig., 29 fig., 30, 220; systems understood in the context of, 25. See also Career development (CD); Employees; Higher education; HRD programs
Training manuals: copyright and intellectual property issue of, 482–483; cross-cultural, 332–337; work-related learning curricular and pedagogical implications for, 257–258
Training transfer research: on implementation intentions, 391–393; linking motivation to transfer training and performance, 387–391; overview of, 386–387; on role of personal initiative in transfer, 393–396
Transformational leadership: Burns’ view on leader’s character importance to, 69; Full-Range Leadership Theory (FRLT) on, 70; research on, 69–70
Transformative learning: for capturing individual and collective learning, 50; Mezirow’s “disorienting dilemma” on, 46, 47t; summary of reflective and, 46–47t
Transgender identity, 289–291
Transgenders. See Lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender people (LGTB)
Transnational mindset strategy, 336
Transpatriate executives, 336
“Triple bottom line,” 166–167, 170, 172
Trompenaar’s Seven Dimensions framework, 329–330
True North (George, Sims, and Gergen), 76
Trust–expert power relationship, 194
U
UK’s Chartered Institute for Personnel and Development (CIPD), 155
UNESCO Science Report (2010), 465
UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Social, and Cultural Organization), 645
Unfair treatment defense: Burlington Industries, Inc. v. Ellerth, 478–479; EEOC’s Enforcement Guidance training for, 479; Faragher v. City of Boca Raton, 478; Kolstad v. the American Dental Association (ADA), 479; training that serves as, 478–479
Unfreezing stage (Lewin’s field theory), 10
Uniform Guidelines (1978), 485–486
United Kingdom (UK): “Best Small Companies to Work For” in, 534; Chartered Institute for Personnel and Development (CIPD) of the, 155; “learning company” terminology used in, 217; origins of action learning (1940s) in, 549, 563; Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education of, 678; study on barriers to HRD in SMEs in, 531–533; well-developed system of personnel credentializing and certification in, 667. See also European Union (EU)
United Nations: General Assembly of the, 645; HRD (human resources development) terminology used by the, 643, 645; Human Development Index (HDI) used by, 654; UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Social, and Cultural Organization) of the, 645; United Nations Development Agency of the, 120; United Nations Development Program (UNDP) of the, 649; United Nations Environmental Program (UNEP) of the, 560t
United States: “barbell” economy and knowledge workers, 205; Declaration of Independence of the, 513; Human Development Index (HDI) used in the, 654
Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 413
University employment patterns, 267
University of Georgia, 679, 686
University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, 677
University of Minnesota, 677
U.S. Department of Agriculture, 561
U.S. Department of Education, 676, 678
U.S. Department of Labor, 665
U.S. labor market “barbell” economy, 205
U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), 528
U.S. Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC), 675
Utilitarianism, 513
Utrecht Work Engagement Scales (UWES-17 and UWES-9), 609, 610–611

V
Value Dimensions framework, 328–329
Values: Critical HRD (CHRD) to comply with societal human development and social justice, 149–150, 283; cultural convergence/divergence/crossvergence of, 339–341; four reasons driving critical response to predominance of “performative,” 150; HRD professionals in clarifying and integrating, 88; Japanese kyosei (human dignity), 166; organizational culture component of, 83; religious-moral perspectives and, 514–516; social justice, 149–150, 169. See also Beliefs; Ethics/integrity; Society
Values in Action (VIA) Inventory of Strengths tool, 415
Virtual HRD: branches in, 572, 573fig; definition of, 568–569; description of, 567–568; emerging perspectives and enabling technologies of, 574–578fig; ePortfolios and, 578–580; formal and informal learning fundamental to, 569–571; individual and collective activities in, 571–572; technology development and new skills of, 580–582; the Virtual HRD within, 572–574
“Virtual HRD: The Intersection of Knowledge Management Culture and Intranets” (Bennett), 575t
Virtual HRM, 572–573fig
Virtue ethics principle, 512–513

Vocation: literature on work as, 252–253; as pilgrimage of self-formation, 253; spirituality or calling of, 251–252
Vygotsky’s double-stimulation method, 17

W
War for Talent (Michaels, Handfield-Jones, & Axelrod), 438, 444, 445
Washington v. Davis, 486
Ways of knowing, 42, 43t
Welsh Farmers, 561t
Western philosophy, 516
“White lab coat effect,” 193
The woman “problem,” 135–138t
Women: black feminist theory on experience of African American, 286–287; Chicana feminist theory on experiences of, 287; flexible work arrangements (FWA) as part of discourse of, 358–359; HRD research on career challenges still facing, 359; HRD research on career development opportunities of African American, 359; HRD’s masculine rationality issue for, 127–128. See also Gender inequalities
Work: different ways to understand the meaning of, 249–251; flexible work arrangements (FWA), 358–359; multiple dictionary definitions of, 249; spirituality of work movement, 246–247; story of three workers on the meaning of, 249–250; thought of as a commodity, 249–250
Work-related learning: curricular and pedagogical implications for HRD, 257–258; fostering self-formation in, 255–257; the meanings of, 247–249; role of self-formation in, 253–255; vocation and process of self-formation through, 251–253
Work/life harmony: adaptive strategies and, 232; defined as state-like indicator of well-being, 232; the DNA and properties of, 231–236, 235fig; as good metaphor for explaining work/life dynamics, 236–238; introduction concept of, 230–231; properties of integrated and aligned, 233–234; recommendations for HRD practice, 239–240; recommendations for HRD research on, 238–239; roles, relationships, responsibilities, and resources of, 232–233; value-added improvements of initiatives promoting, 228–229
Work/life metaphors: examples of, 229–230; work/life harmony as work/life dynamics metaphor, 236–238
Workplace: adult theory on collective and collaborative learning in the, 48–50; adult theory on individual learning in the, 41–48; competencies for the, 185–186, 201–212; ethical issues in best practices in the, 519–520; Gestalt psychology to understand behavior in the, 10–11; the global, 206–210; health and wellness programs in the, 305–308; Informal and Incidental Learning Model on the, 52–54; invisible saturation of sexuality in the, 314; spirituality of work movement in the, 246–247; technology-enabled, 576–580. See also Global workplace; Organizations

Workplace learning applications: issues to consider for, 219; link with workplace training, 220–221

Workplace Learning Professional (WLP) certification [ASTD], 697

Workplace learning transfer: HRD research on, 386–387; model linking motivation to transfer performance and, 387–397

Workplace learning transfer model: description and assumptions of, 389–390, 396–397; discussion on implications of, 394–395; illustrated diagram of, 389/fig; on implementation intentions, 391–393; implications for HRD practice, 395–396; on motivation to transfer, 390–391; on personal initiative role in training transfer, 393–394

Workplace learning types: “incidental” learning, 52–54, 217; learning in formal settings, 217; self-initiated or “informal learning,” 52–54, 217

Workplace learning (WPL): applications of, 219–221t; claims associated with concept of, 221–222; criticisms and misconceptions of, 222–223; definitions of, 216–217; examining theories and practices of, 215–216; history of, 218–219; implications for HRD practice, 224–225; increasing interest in topic of, 215; learning path of, 217; limited alternatives suggested for, 223–224; origin of the term, 217–218; three types of activities for, 217

World Bank Human Development Network, 666

The World Bank report on higher education (2000), 466

World Health Organization’s (WHO): on disabilities and disability oppression, 288; health and wellness as defined by, 305; millennium development goals of the, 120

Z

Zakat (donation or poor tax), 516