Contents

Preface viii
Acknowledgments x

1 What Does It Mean to Matter? 1
   Introduction: A Thought Experiment 1
   Defining Mattering: What It Is 2
   Distinguishing Mattering: What It Is Not 8
   A Similar Construct 12
   Mattering and the Self as Entity 15
   Mattering and the Self as Process 19
   Mattering and the Life Course 25
   Mattering in Adolescence 28
   The Structure of the Book 32

2 Mattering Matters 33
   Mattering as a Motivator for Behavior 33
   The Motivational Properties of Mattering 37
   Anti-Social Behavior 42
   A Contemporary Example: Timothy McVeigh and the Oklahoma City Bombing 43
   Self-Destructive Behavior 46
   A Contemporary Example: Seung-Hui Cho and the Massacre at Virginia Tech 47
Contents

1. Elaborating the Relationship: The Mediating Role of Self-Esteem 52
2. Mattering to Family 59

3. Researching Mattering: An Overview 63
   - Operationalization: The Craft of Measurement 63
   - Gathering the Sample 67
   - Plan of the Analysis 68
   - A Caveat 70
   - Reporting the Results of the Analyses 71

4. Mattering and Anti-Social Behavior 73
   - Theories of Anti-Social Behavior 74
   - Relevant Research on Anti-Social Behavior 79
   - Preliminary Analysis: The Relationship between Mattering and Self-Esteem 81
     - Truancy 84
     - Vandalism 88
     - Dealing in Contraband 91
     - Theft from the Family 95
     - Physical Violence 97
   - An Additional Mediator: Attitude toward Violence 103
     - Preliminary Analysis: Mattering and Attitude toward Violence 105
     - Carrying a Weapon 109
     - Violence against Others 114
   - Mattering and Anti-Social Behavior: Summing It Up 119

5. Mattering and Self-Destructive Behavior 123
   - Theories of Self-Destructive Behavior 125
   - Self-Esteem Again 126
   - Illicit Drug Use 127
   - Binge Drinking 132
   - Suicidal Behavior 137
   - An Additional Mediator: Depression 140
     - Preliminary Analysis: Mattering to Family and Depression 144
   - Suicidal Behavior: Planning Suicide 146
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Contents</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Suicidal Behavior: Attempted Suicide</td>
<td>149</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mattering and Self-Destructive Behavior: Summing It Up</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6 Inducing Mattering</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Social-Structural Underpinnings of Mattering</td>
<td>160</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Different Perspective</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teaching Children That They Matter</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Parenting Styles and Mattering to Family</td>
<td>182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Parenting: It’s Not About the Parent</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Too Much Mattering?</td>
<td>191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Future of Mattering</td>
<td>193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Appendix: Researching Mattering: A Scientific View</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Sample and the Procedure</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Measuring Mattering</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Measuring Self-Esteem</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Measuring the Control Variables</td>
<td>202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Limitations of the Data Set</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plan of the Analysis</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reporting the Results of the Analyses</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Caveat</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>References</td>
<td>233</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index</td>
<td>251</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>