Contents

Contributors viii
Acknowledgements xii

Introduction: What Indie Isn’t… Mapping the Indie Field
Geoff King

Part One Indie Culture

1 Indie Film as Indie Culture
Michael Z. Newman

2 The Making of the Indie Scene: The Cultural Production of a Field of Cultural Production
Sherry B. Ortner

3 Indie as Organic: Tracing Discursive Roots
Geoff King

Part Two Indie and Other Media

4 Quirky Culture: Tone, Sensibility, and Structure of Feeling
James MacDowell

5 Independent Intersections: Indie Music Cultures and American Indie Cinema
Jamie Sexton

6 Post-Cinema Soderbergh
Mark Gallagher
Part Three  Criticism, Marketing, and Positioning Indie  153

7 Structuring Indie and Beasts of the Southern Wild: The Role of Review Journalism  155
   Erin Pearson

8 Marketing American Indie in the Shadow of Hollywood  181
   Finola Kerrigan

Part Four  Movements/Moments  207

   Janet Staiger

10 From Independent to Indie: The Independent Feature Project and the Complex Relationship between American Independent Cinema and Hollywood in the 1980s  233
   Yannis Tzioumakis

11 Going Mainstream: The Indie Film Movement in 1999  257
   Thomas Schatz

12 Looking through a Rearview Mirror: Mumblecore as Past Tense  279
   J.J. Murphy

Part Five  Indie as Regional  301

13 The Pull of Place: Regional Indie Film Production  303
   Mary P. Erickson

14 Rural Crimewave: Reconfiguring Regional Spaces through Genre in US Indie Cinema  325
   John Berra

Part Six  Aesthetics and Politics  347

15 Life During Wartime: Emotionalism, Capitalist Realism, and Middle-Class Indie Identity  349
   Claire Perkins

16 Indie Cinema and the Neoliberal Commodification of Creative Labor: Rethinking the Indie Sensibility of Christopher Nolan  368
   Claire Molloy

17 “They Believe Every Fuckin’ Word Because You’re Super Cool”: Masculine Cool ’90s Style in Reservoir Dogs  389
   Stella Bruzzi

18 The Craft of Independent Filmmaking: Editing in John Sayles’ Return of the Secaucus Seven and Baby It’s You  407
   Warren Buckland
Part Seven  Kickstarting Indie  431

19  Crowdfunding, Independence, Authorship  433
  Chuck Tryon

20  Go Digital or Go Dark: Crowdfunding, Independent Financing, and Arthouse Exhibition on Kickstarter  452
  Sarah E.S. Sinwell

Part Eight  Indie Acting and Stardom  469

21  Casing Indie Acting  471
  Chris Holmlund

22  Flexible Stardom: Contemporary American Film and the Independent Mobility of Star Brands  493
  Paul McDonald

Index  521