Index

Page numbers in italics refer to figures; those in bold type, to tables.

abductive reasoning, 69–70

Absolut Vodka
bottle design and properties, 159 number of bottles per box, 160, 160, 161, 161–162, 162
supply chain logistics, 160–161 absorption, from packaging contents, 103 academic research, 12, 29, 35, 205 stages in methodology, 68, 68–70 adhesives, electrically controlled, 171–174 airflow, in food packaging, 85, 86, 86, 88 aluminium, 104, 111, 159, 167 Alvedon® (paracetamol) pills packaging systems, 167, 169 production and supply, 166–167 redesign impacts, 167–170, 170
apportionment
case studies
paracetamol pills and packs, 167–170 salmon packaging, 149–154 toothpaste tubes, 154–158 wine and spirits, boxes of bottles, 158–162
as function of packaging, 5 supply and demand perspectives, 74–76, 75, 149 Arla Foods company logistics, 191–196, 192, 194, 196 artwork, design software, 56 aseptic filling process, 106, 106 assessment see evaluation automated packaging equipment, 142, 143, 161 bag-in-box wines, 117, 118 barcodes, 6, 78, 184, 185, 191 benchmarking, 52, 54

best-before dates, 107, 182–183 biosensor tags, 183–187, 184, 186 blister packs, usability, 167–168, 170, 171–172, 173 bottles alternatives to use of glass, 116–118, 118, 198–199 conventional wine packaging system, 114–115, 158 corks and screw caps, 118, 158 number per box, 159–162, 160, 161

brainstorming sessions, 52 brand image, 79, 132, 196–197

businesses competence in packaging design, 66–67 models and strategies, 44, 122 processes impacted by packaging, 6 social responsibility, 18, 20 cans (metal), 105–106, 108 compared with cartons, 109–113, 110, 111, 112, 112

Cape Citrus company, 91, 92 carbon dioxide equivalents (CO2e)
definition, 24
of discarded waste, 152
in food retail supply chains, 31, 94, 137, 150 cardboard boxes beneficial design features, 134, 135 citrus storage and transport, 91, 92–94, 93 detergent powder, fill rate, 126, 129–131 grapes, retail (secondary) packages, 85–86 gravlax salmon secondary packaging, 151, 152 for hand towels, portability, 175–177 replacement by use of CDM, 172 shelf-ready toothpaste packaging, 154, 155, 155–156, 156 size/space efficiency, pill pack cartons, 167, 168, 169–170 wine bottle secondary packaging, 115–116, 158, 159 cartons
as alternative to glass bottles for wine, 117 flexible, aseptic filling, 106, 106 secondary and tertiary packaging, 119–123 Tetra Recart retortable package, 108–113, 109, 114 case study analysis, 68–70, 69, 81–82 cell phones see mobile phone packaging certification, organic and environmental, 57 child-resistant packaging, 7, 168 circular systems (packaging lifecycle), 38–39 citrus fruits handling and storage conditions, 91–92 improved packaging design for protection, 92–94, 93 packaging for export, 90–91 cleaning workers, 174–175, 176 communication
within design teams, 48
as function of packaging, 6, 79
product claims on packaging, 197–202 Sony Ericsson Mobile (cell phone) products, 187–190, 189 technology development, 77–78, 181 terminology problems, 9
Comparative Packaging Assessment (COMPASS©) software tool, 56 compass for sustainable packaging design concept, research methodology, 68, 68–70, 81 direction components, 65–66, 66, 71–79 strategic aims, 57–58, 64, 65 users and modes of use, 66–68 computer aided design (CAD) tools, 56–57 concentrated products, 126, 168–169 conductive packaging, 171, 172 conservation of natural resources, 17, 20, 73 Consumer Goods Forum, 57
consumers
choice of products, 22, 89, 196–202 effect of display arrangement on sales, 120–121, 121 KANO customer satisfaction model, 54, 55 packaging material preferences, 102, 116, 117–118, 198–199 perceptions of waste, 25–26, 105 product testing, using display models, 187–188, 190 protection regulations, 7, 168 purchased pack size needs and choices, 76, 152, 201, 202 research on needs and requirements, 37–38, 50–52, 51 responses to damaged goods, 94, 96, 123 see also user-friendliness containment function, 4 controlled delamination materials (CDM) ease of opening and security applications, 171–172, 172, 173 invention and development potential, 171, 173–174, 174 secondary packaging replacement, 171, 172, 173, 173 convenience function, 5, 170 convergence phase (design process), 49, 53–57 corks, carbon footprint, 118 corporate social responsibility (CSR), 18, 20 corrugated board handling and insulation qualities, 137 strength properties, 94 used for pallets, 141, 143, 146 wraparounds for vodka bottles, 160 see also cardboard boxes costs
comparison for packaging and product waste, 25, 26 effects of using cheapest options, 94, 95, 99, 99 fixed production costs, 75, 116 goods prices for consumers, 89, 109, 113, 152, 201 impacts of apportionment change, 161, 162, 168–170 investment in packaging improvements, 121–122, 129, 178 shrinkage (returnable container loss), 192, 195 trade-offs with value components, 42–43, 185, 186 transportation, 117, 129–130, 137, 145
Council of Supply Chain Management Profession (CSCMP), 13 creativity, in design process, 49, 50, 145 dairy products
returnable container tracking, 191–196 separable packaging, 200–201, 201 decision-making in design process, 36, 39–44, 45, 48 impacts and limitations, 12, 63 tools for support, 53–58, 67–68 design
legal protection, 7–8 process management, 45–48, 66–68 redesign for sustainability improvement, 118–123 scope, layers of needs and requirements, 35–39, 36 strategic decisions, 39–44 sustainable development impacts, 28 tools and guidance, 49–58, 64–71, 66, 205 ‘Design Thinking’ (Plattner Institute), 45–46 detergent powder (Via brand) current packaging, 126–127, 127, 128 packaging system improvements, 128–131, 129, 130, 131, 172 supply chain structure, 127–128, 128 dishwashing tablets, box size, 197, 197–198 distribution alternative arrangements for ice cream, 134–136, 136 chill chain quality monitoring, 185 direct and indirect channels, 38 repacking before delivery, 167 as role of packaging, 17, 21, 22 use of returnable transport packaging (RTP), 191–193 warehouse storage and picking, 193 wholesaler centres, 87, 116, 143–144, 155 divergence phase (design process), 49, 50–53 drinks, packaging, 118–119 environmentally friendly PlantBottle, 198, 198–199 liquor bottle boxes, 159–162 milk roll containers, 191–193, 192 orange juice cartons, 119–123 ring-pull cans, CDM use, 172
wine bottles, 114–118
drugs see pharmaceutical products e-commerce, 22–23

economics
  economic viability in design thinking, 45–46, 47 global business value of packaging, 1 supply chain efficiency, 85, 89, 93, 153 sustainable profitability, 20–21 see also costs

Efficient Consumer Response (ECR) guidelines, 57

‘Ektorp’ sofas (IKEA) improved box design, 96, 96–99, 97, 98 previous (cheap) knock-down boxing, 94–96, 95 sustainability impacts of redesign, 98, 99

electronics products cell phone marketing comparisons, 187–190, 189, 190 theft and fraud prevention, 171–172, 173 empathy maps, 53

environmental issues carbon footprint of materials, 115, 116–118 design evaluation tools, 54–56 environmental burden of packaging, 102–103, 105, 111, 121 impacts of over- and under-packaging, 23–25, 24, 73 legislation and protection policies, 8, 57 package size and consumer perceptions, 188–190, 190, 191 sustainable production aims, 20, 89, 188

ethnographic observations, 50

EU (European Union)
  emissions and sustainability targets, 17 environmental protection measures, 8 health and safety, cleaning work, 174–175, 179 labelling regulations, 7, 182 standard (wooden) pallet design, 86, 115, 119–121, 120, 121 evaluation

  design compass assessment, 69, 69–70 end user survey insights, 176–177 need for holistic value-chain approach, 122–123 tools, 53–56, 55, 119–121, 121

Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) policies, 8 extended shelf life (ESL) packaging, 106–107

fill rate
  case studies
    detergent powder, 126–131
    ice cream, 132–139
    IKEA loading ledges, 139–146 claims and pack sizes, 197, 197–198 effects of apportionment change, 156, 156, 157 space efficiency of cartons, 111–113
  sustainable development impacts, 73–74, 125

flat-pack furniture, 94–99

focus groups, 51

food
  environmental impact, products compared, 149–150, 150 labelling for consumer information, 182–183, 199–200 life cycle analyses, 24–25 packaging legislation, 7 processing and filling technologies, 105–107 protection against spoilage, 102–103 quality monitoring technologies, 183, 183–187 sector importance and challenges, 82 special offers, waste and sustainability, 201, 202 supply chain logistics, 30, 31, 86–89, 87, 91–92 undesired transfers to/from packaging, 103 waste, 25, 83, 89, 182–183, 200–201 form and function integration, 41–42 fruit imports, packaging solutions citrus fruit, 90–94

  table grapes, 84–90
functions of packaging, 1, 3–6, 27–28, 36 furniture, self-assembly, 94–99 glass
hot filling of containers, 105 properties as packaging material, 104 weight and secondary packaging, 111, 115, 158, 159 Global Protocol on Packaging Sustainability, 57 grapes logistical activities, 86–89, 87 packaging system (boxes and wrappings), 85–86, 86 producers and trade, 84, 84, 84–85, 89 supply chain sustainability, 89, 90 greenhouse gases (GHGs), 17, 24 guidelines, packaging design, 57 handling care for food products, 86, 91–92 design for ease of use, 28, 77, 159 distribution centre infrastructure, 143 health problems from heavy lifting, 174–175 portion or unit size, 5 reduction in time by use of CDM, 172 time, used in design evaluation, 119–120, 120, 157–158 holistic design, 40–41, 43, 48 hot filling process, 105 hygiene products, 175–179
ice cream
brick packaging, GB Glace, 132, 132–133, 133 elliptic packaging, SIA Glass, 134, 134, 135 fill rate and sustainability comparisons, 136–139, 138 supply chain structures, 134–136, 136 ideation (design idea generation), 52–53 IKEA
attention to packaging and logistics, 139, 143–144 global product sourcing strategy, 141, 145 monitoring and costs of quality problems, 94, 95, 99 policy for damaged goods, 96 see also ‘Ektorp’ sofas; loading ledges indicators
accumulated time-temperature, 183, 183–187, 184, 186 on-off sensors, 183–184, 185 information
case studies
mobile phone packaging, 187–191 roll containers for dairy products, 191–196 time-temperature biosensor for milk, 182–186, 186 on dosage and safety, drugs products, 166, 167
as function of packaging, 5–6, 22, 78–79
product traceability, 92
technology development, 77–78, 181 inner fill rate, 74
innovation, 39, 46, 49, 52, 81 insight mining, 50–52, 51, 176–177 intermodal transport, 127 interviews (of users), 51, 91, 121 inventory level optimization, 75–76, 142 ISO (International Standardization Organization) standards, 54, 57 KANO model of customer satisfaction, 54, 55 knock-down boxing improved bottom-and-top box design, 96, 96–98, 97, 99 low-cost slotted containers, 94–95, 95 Krav (Swedish organic) labelling, 57, 200 labelling ‘environmentally-friendly’ symbols, 188, 198, 198–199 EU Directives and Regulations, 7, 182 identification technologies, 78 organic/environmental organization systems, 57, 154 laminated materials advantages and disadvantages, 104 electrically controlled delamination, 171–174 multilayer paperboard for cartons, 109 laws see legislation legislation compliance, in design process, 37 regulations for drug products, 166, 168 loading ledges (IKEA)
  comparison of unit load carrier materials, 140–141 concept and design, 139–140, 140, 141, 145 introduction impacts, 141–146, 146 locally produced baby foods, 199, 199–200 marketing
  brand advertising and differentiation, 126, 132, 134 impact of packaging size on sales, 187–190, 191 role of packaging, 6, 21–22, 120–121 specifications for different markets, 91, 142, 145 materials
  case studies
    cans and cartons compared, 108–114 secondary/tertiary packaging, juice cartons, 118–123
    wine bottles, 114–118
consumer preferences, 102, 105, 116, 117–118
recycling, 39, 104, 116 selection in packaging design, 72–73, 101, 103, 108, 140–141 types used for food packaging, 102–105 see also controlled delamination meat packaging, 24, 102, 107, 182 mechanical damage cartons and cans compared, 113 effect of loading ledges in transport, 142 inadequate, consequences, 93, 95, 95–96 protection measures, 72, 85, 90–91 tracking and repair (roll containers), 193, 195 medicines see pharmaceutical products migration, packaging to product, 7, 103, 104, 105 Millennium Development Goals (UN), 18
mobile phone packaging
  consumer and sales staff perceptions, 188–189, 189 importance in different store types, 187–188 packaging improvement suggestions, 189–190, 190, 191 Modified Atmosphere Packaging (MAP), 107 multiple life packaging, 38–39, 137 obsolescence, 76
onion analogy for design, 36, 36, 39, 41 openings
  elderly people and blister packs, 167–168, 170 position on package, 126, 129 security issues, 171–172, 173 user-friendliness, 77, 109, 113, 178–179 oranges see citrus fruits organic product labelling, 57 cheese, 200, 200
locally produced baby food, 199, 199–200 organizations departments and responsibilities, 12, 37, 63 prosperity, sustainable development, 20–21 risk and gain sharing, 43–44
see also businesses outer fill rate, 74
overpackaged products, 23, 24 oxygen, role in food spoilage, 102, 107

packaging
definition, 3
functions, 1, 3–6, 27–28, 36 history, 21–23, 108
types, terminology, 9, 9–10, 10
Packaging Impact Quick Evaluation Tool (PIQET©) software, 56

pallets
arrangement of secondary packing units, 86, 126–127, 128, 129 compared with IKEA's loading ledges, 139–141 load plan design tools, 56–57 palletizing process and equipment, 142, 159 redesign for handling and display improvements, 119–121, 120, 121 stacking height, 92–93, 133, 134 tertiary packaging for food transport, 88, 115, 133, 135 tracking information, 92 paper packaging, 104, 200 permeability of packaging, 103 personas, use in design, 53 PET (polyethylene terephthalate) grape boxes, 85, 86, 88 PlantBottle, 198–199
wine bottles, 115, 116–118, 118

pharmaceutical products over-the-counter (non-prescription) pills, 166–170 packaging legislation, 7, 166
quantity in sales unit (apportionment), 76, 154–158

PIQET© (Packaging Impact Quick Evaluation Tool) software, 56

PlantBottle materials, 198, 198–199 plastics
contact contamination of products, 7 for IKEA loading ledges, 140, 145–146 ocean dumping, 17
for redesigned carton display pallets, 119 secondary packaging, sustainability impacts, 177–179 types used in food packaging, 104, 134, 198–199, 200 use in pill blister packs, 167 wrapping for tertiary packaging, 86, 126, 151, 160

pollution
'polluter pays' (EPR) policies, 8 reduction as pillar of sustainability, 20 see also waste
polymers, bio-based, 104, 198–199 portion sizes, 5, 137
postponement (business strategy), 44 preservation function, 4, 102–103, 103 preservatives, added, 85

primary packaging arrangement for consumer display, 119 CDM use, to reduce handling and materials, 172, 173, 173 design improvements, 128–129, 167–170 effects of shape on tertiary fill rate, 136–139, 138 importance for perishable goods, 72, 85, 102–103, 150 as part of packaging system, 10–11 returnable, for home delivery, 23 space for information/graphics, 187–190, 189, 190 protection

case studies
citrus fruits, 90–94
flat-pack furniture, 94–99 imported table grapes, 84–90
as function of packaging, 4–5, 23 protection (cont’d)
of public, legislative measures, 7, 168 role related to sustainable development, 71–72, 83
prototypes, 53, 56

QR (quick response) codes, 78, 191 quality
biosensors for monitoring, 183–187, 184
control checks, 88, 92
perceptions influenced by
packaging, 188
response to customer complaints, 94 user assessment of quality attributes, 54, 55
questionnaires (surveys), 51–52

recycling
collection and recovery rates, 111, 112 considered in design, 38–39 cost benefits, materials compared, 116 ease of packaging disposal, 176, 179 information on packaging, 198, 198–199
loading ledges and wooden pallets, 144 recyclability of materials, 85, 104, 113, 145–146, 177
regulations see legislation renewable (bio-based) materials, 73, 145 research see academic research retail choice of suppliers, 166–167 damaged packages, 72, 96, 123 display, pallet redesign, 120, 120–121, 121, 144
outlets and market structures, 21–23, 38, 187–188
power of chains over producers, 85, 89, 187
product deliveries, 135–136 shelf space fill rate, 74, 130, 189 shelf stacking process efficiency, 159, 172
storage arrangements, 88–89, 160
see also marketing; stores retort filling process, 105–106 return on investment analysis, 195 return transports, 130, 144, 195 returnable transports, 23, 38, 191–196
RFID (radio frequency identification), 44, 184, 191
risk
definition and impacts, 43 elimination, for loss of returnable packaging, 193
financial, transfer to producers, 85 pill abuse related to availability, 168, 170
sharing and responsibility in supply chains, 187
roll containers
design and logistics for dairy products, 191–193, 192
tracking system implementation, 193–196, 194, 196
salmon packaging, apportionment, 149–154, 151, 152, 153
SCA Hygiene Products (company), 175, 177
scorecard, packaging (Olsmats and Dominic), 54, 167–168
separable dairy packaging, 200–201, 201 shelf life extended by processing/filling technologies, 105–107
of perishable goods, 76, 84, 86, 90, 182–183
prolonged by packaging, 72, 102–103, 103
shelf-ready packaging, 154–158, 155 shipping (sea transport), 87–88, 92, 143 shops see stores
shrink wrapping, 9, 115, 126, 137, 158 ‘silent salesman’ role, 22, 79, 187, 196–202
simulations, of consumer voice, 53 skin conductivity switches, 172, 172 social equity, 20
software programs, design, 56–57
South Africa
citrus fruit production for export, 90–92
table grape producers, 85, 89 wine industry, carbon emissions reduction, 115, 116, 117 wine packaging and supply chain, 158–159 stackability
comparison of containers, 110 double-stacking, pack redesign, 155–156, 156, 157 features improving stackability, 85, 97, 98, 134, 168 related to stability and fill rate, 74 storage conditions, 88–89, 92, 176, 183–184 stores (shops)
deregulation of pharmaceuticals, impacts, 166, 168 display and pickup arrangements, 97–98, 98 self-service customers, 196–197 small corner vs. specialist outlets, 187–188 supermarkets, history and impacts, 21–22 supply chains
drinks products, 115–116, 122, 159, 160 end user handling efforts, 176 environmental impact assessments, 24–25, 27 food products, 30, 31, 86–89, 87, 91–94 information and tracking technologies, 78, 183–187 management, interdisciplinary integration, 12–14, 29 market deregulation impacts, 166–167 needs of actors considered during design, 37, 43–44, 152–153 packaging impacts on sustainability, 89, 90, 94 working procedures for damage limitation, 95–96 surveys, consumer (questionnaires), 51–52, 176–177 sustainable development contributions of packaging, 24, 27–31, 41, 205 evaluation of designs, 47, 57–58 goals and global attention, 17–19, 19 guidance compass, 57–58, 64–71, 66 triple bottom line (three pillars), 19–21, 20, 69 Sustainable Packaging Coalition (SPC), 55–56 system concept of packaging, 10–11, 11, 25–26 design and performance, 36–37, 54 systemic combining, 70, 81 tamper-evident technologies, 6, 134 team management, 47–48, 50, 68 technical specifications, 46 temperature control, 86–87, 88–89, 92, 134, 137 see also indicators
Tempix temperature indicator, 185
Tetra Recart retortable cartons design and materials, 108–109, 109 environmental impacts, 111–113, 114 shape and weight compared with cans, 110, 110–111, 111 theft prevention, 171–172, 173, 192, 193–196 Toothpaste
ACTA brand packaging and supply, 154–155, 155 reapportionment of secondary packaging, 155–158, 156, 157 TORK hand towels
ease of use and redesign, 176–179, 177, 178 packaging and supply chain, 175, 175–176, 176 tracking identification systems, 193–196, 194, 196 trade-offs
in decision-making, 42–43, 48, 98 package solution compromises, 139, 153, 161, 171 trademarks, 7–8
transport conditions for perishable goods, 86–88, 92
environmental impacts, 17, 31, 115, 117 fleet size reduction, 195 role of packaging in damage protection, 72 space utilization, 110–113, 130, 136–137, 142–143, 143
supply chain logistics, 127–128, 175–176, 176 tracking information importance, 78–79, 192–196, 196

UN sustainable development goals, 18–19, 19 Unilever, 127, 132
unit loads, support structures, 140–141, 141 unitization function, 5, 97
US (United States)
  environmental responsibilities, 8 mass production and marketing history, 21 ‘use by’ dates, 182–183
user-friendliness
case studies
  Alvedon® (paracetamol) pills, 166–170
  controlled delamination materials (CDM), 171–174 separable package for yoghurt, 200–201, 201 TORK hand towels, 174–179
design considerations, 76–77, 109, 113, 165 handles for heavy goods, 97, 159 users identification of needs, 46 insight mining, 50–52, 51
  participation in design, 52 of sustainable packaging design compass, 66–68 value of package information, 78–79 see also consumers vacuum-packed products, 151, 151 value addition components considered in design, 28, 42–43 creation as business model, 44 quality information technology, 184–186 Walmart’s sustainable packaging scorecard, 26–27 warehouses, location space fill rate, 74, 137, 143, 157
waste
  avoidance by protective packaging, 71–72 caused by container emptying problems, 200–201 date-labelling as cause, 182–183 economic responsibility for, 89, 93, 185–187 impact of apportionment, 149–154, 153 over/under-packaging balance, 23, 24 public perceptions of packaging, 25–26, 63, 105 reduction, reuse and recycling aims (‘3 Rs’), 17, 26–27, 77 wholesalers
  competition, 166–167
  product handling time, 119–120, 120, 159 quality control checks, 88 role in supply chains, 87, 91, 151, 155 wine
  number of bottles per box, 158, 159, 161–162 primary packaging (bottle) materials, 114–118, 118, 158 wood, packaging material regulations, 140–141 World Commission on Environment and Development (1987), 18
World Economic Forum, 29