Index

Academy of Medical Educators (AOME), 117 accident and emergency department, 46–7 Acute Care Assessment Tool (ACAT), 68 ad hoc teaching, 100 aids and props, 39, 63. See also resources aims, 31, 42, 45, 52, 54, 94
AMEE (Association for Medical Education in Europe), 117
AOME (Academy of Medical Educators), 117 apprenticeship, xi, 1, 6, 23 ASME (Association for the Study of Medical Education), 117 assessments of performance (AoPs), 68 case-based discussion, 70, 71–2 directly observed procedural skills, 75–6 glossary of, 118
mini-clinical evaluation exercise, 73–4 multi-source feedback, 77–8 student’s level of experience and, 94–5 for teaching, 94–6 workplace-based assessments/supervised learning events, 67–70 (See also feedback) Association for Medical Education in Europe (AMEE), 117 Association for the Study of Medical Education (ASME), 117 bedside teaching, 19, 29–37 bench rounds, 26–8
board rounds, 26–8, 46
case-based discussion (CbD), 69, 70, 71–2, 79 clinic teaching emergency department and, 46 principles, 38–40
strategies, 40–46
clinical placements, 2–4, 6–10 clinical supervision, 1, 11, 115 colleagues
involvement of, 13–14
teaching of, 64–5, 103
complaints, 96–9
confidence, 1, 2, 50, 103 conscious competence, 57 conscious incompetence, 57 continuing professional development 110–117 continuity, 8–9
curricula, 5, 10, 40, 111 de-briefing, 30, 33, 34, 41, 54 deliberative practice, 59 difficult consultations, 106 directly observed procedural skills (DOPS), 68, 69, 75–6 discussion-based assessments, 68 educational supervision, 9, 70, 77, 94, 115 enthusiasm, 9–11, 16, 77, 108, 112 errors, 4, 96–9
European Working Time Directive, 8 evaluation. See assessment tools;
self-evaluation
programme/placement evaluation, 114–15 self-evaluation and, 111–15 expectations, 3–5, 16–17, 50, 69

How to Teach in Clinical Settings, First Edition. Mary Seabrook.
© 2014 John Wiley & Sons, Ltd. Published 2014 by John Wiley & Sons, Ltd.
feedback. See also assessment tools at bedside, 33–7
chronological approach to feedback, 87 criteria-based approach to feedback, 87 ersors and, 96
importance of, 10
from learners, 113–15
negative, 81–2
options for, 85–8
patient, 35–6
peer, 35
principles of, 82
programme/placement evaluation and, 114–15
strategies, 82–5
structures for, 85–8
financial support, 92
formative assessments, 67 funding of medical education, 91–3 goal-setting, 10
group learning, 101–2, 105, 107 handover meetings, 26–8 hidden curriculum, 23–4 images interpretation, 47–8 induction, 4–5
Kolb’s model of experiential learning, 97–8 leadership, 9
learning enhancement of, 1–6, 15–17 in groups, 101–2, 105, 107 Kolb’s model of, 97–8
of practical skills, 56–60, 105
quiet/reluctant students and, 104–5 learning climate, 1–6 log books, 6, 51, 109
masters programmes, 116 medical education organisations, 117
mini-clinical evaluation exercise
(Mini-CeX/Mini-ACE), 68, 69, 73–4
Mini Peer Assessment Tool
(Mini-Pat), 68
modelling, 36
multidisciplinary approach, 13–14, 64–5, 103 multidisciplinary teaching, 13–4, 64–5 multi-source feedback (MSF), 68–9, 77–8 named clinical supervisor, 9, 70, 94 negative feedback, 81–2 objectives, 5, 7, 29, 54, 70, 79, 97, 100, 111 observational assessments, 68 observational skills, 15, 21–2, 43–5 on-call teaching, 60–62 open/trainee-centred model of feedback, 88 operating theatre teaching, 49–55 orientation, 3–5
OSAT (Objective Structured Assessment of Technical Skills), 68 patients. See also clinic teaching bedside teaching and, 19, 29–37 briefing, 30
continuity and, 8–9
difficult consultations and, 106 education of, 62–4
involvement of, 11–13
selecting, 30
peer evaluation, 112
Pendleton’s rules, 85
placements, 3, 5–9, 114–15 practical skills teaching, 56–60, 105 professional socialisation, 23–4 procedure-based assessments (PBA), 68 programme evaluation, 114–15 psychiatric ward rounds, 25–6 quiet students, 104–5 questioning, 41–2, 71–4 reflection, 96–8
relatives, 106
reluctant students, 104–5, 108–9 remote teaching, 60–62
resources, 9–10, 39, 63, 79, 115–17 role models, 11, 23–5 Sandwich Model, 85, 87
self-evaluation, 74, 83, 111–15
Service Increment for Teaching (SIFT), 91–2
Sheffield Peer Assessment Tool (SPRAT), 68
SIFT (service increment for teaching), 91–2 skills development, 110–11, 115–16
SLEs. See supervised learning events social support, 3
specimens interpretation, 47–8 student feedback, 113–15 summative assessments, 67 supervised learning events (SLEs) background and overview, 67–70
case-based discussion, 70, 71–2 directly observed procedural skills, 75–6
effective use of, 69–70 mini-clinical evaluation exercise, 73–4
multi-source feedback, 77–8
teaching observation tools, 78–80

TAB (team assessment of behaviour), 68 teaching
ad hoc, 100
effectiveness and, 9–11 groups, 101–2, 105, 107 level of, 94–5
multiple students, 107
observation tool, 79–80 opportunisitic, 100 uninterested trainees, 10 principles and strategies, 15–17

quiet/reluctant students and, 104–105, 108–109
skills development, 110–11, 115–16
teaching climate, 9–10
team assessment of behaviour (TAB), 68
theatre teaching, 49–55 time constraints, 91–3 time pressures, 91–3
training programme director, 1, 99 tuition fees, 92

unconscious competence, 56–7 video evaluation, 112–13

ward rounds
general principles, 19–21 psychiatric, 25–6
strategies, 21–5
work-based learning, 1–2 workplace-based assessments (WBAs), 67–70. See also supervised learning events