Index

Abrahamsson, N. 183
acquisition-learning hypothesis 71, 255 additive bilingualism 50, 255
adult learners, social expectations 21
adverb placement 121
affective filter hypothesis 73–4, 255
affective-humanistic approaches 112–13 age of arrival (AoA) 176, 181, 255
age of learner 169–91
children raised in isolation 173–4 Critical Period Hypothesis 170–3 empirical studies 174–83
exceptional cases 184–5
grammatical ability 179–82
immigrant-learners 37–8
language deprivation 173–4 pronunciation ability 175–9 age of onset (AO) 176, 255
Alberto, profile 44, 147, 224, 231, 253
Alderson, J.C. 157
ALM see Audiolingual Method AMTB see Attitude/Motivation Test Battery ancestral language instruction 51–2 Ancient World 107
animal communication 14–15 AO see age of onset AoA see age of arrival aptitude in language learning 195–200, 255 Arabic 184
Argentina 40
article system, English language 84
Asher, James 114
Atkinson, R.C. 77
Attitude/Motivation Test Battery (AMTB) 202, 255 attitude to language learning 201–5 Audiolingual Method (ALM) 63, 110–12, 255 auditory discrimination, infants 7–8 automatic processing 76, 256 avoidance of difficult structures 144
babbling 8–10
Babel 1
babies see infants Baddeley, A.D. 199
basic interpersonal communicative skills (BICS) 195, 256
behaviorism 13–14, 256
Berko, Jean 12
Berlitz Method 109–10
Bever, Thomas 172
BFLA see bilingual first language acquisition BICS see basic interpersonal communicative skills bilingual cognition 241–2
bilingual education 44–6, 49–50, 256
bilingual first language acquisition (BFLA) 224, 256 bilingual immersion 49–50
bilingualism 223–49
additive bilingualism 50
advantages of 241
bilingual cognition 241–2
bilingual development 228–34
bilingualism (cont'd)
  bilingual lexical representation 234–41, 256
  bilingual vocabulary 230–1
  cognitive advantages 241
definitions 224–8
eyear bilingual speech perception/production 229–30
grammatical development 230–1 infants' bilingual speech perception/production 229–30 lexical access 234–41
memory gaps 242
mixed utterances 231–4
modified hierarchical model 239 revised hierarchical model 237, 239
subtractive bilingualism 45
types 226–7
vocabulary 230–1
bilingual lexical representation 234–41, 256
Bilingual Syntax Measure 72–3
bilingual vocabulary 230–1
Birdsong, David 171, 181
Bloomfield, Leonard 224
Bongaerts, T. 183
brain lateralization 172
Brown, H.D. 115
Brown, Roger 11

CAH see Contrastive Analysis Hypothesis
CALL see computer-assisted language learning CALP see cognitive/academic language proficiency Canada
  heritage language instruction 52
  immersion instruction in French 46–7 immigrant-learner study 38 Suggestopedia 113
caregiver communication see child-directed speech Carroll, John 196, 197
CAS see complex adaptive system
Catalan–Spanish bilingualism 230 CBI see Content Based Instruction child-directed speech (CDS) 16–17, 22, 256 CHILDES (Child Language Data Exchange System) 16, 232–3, 256
children
  bilingual development 228–34
  child-directed speech 16–17, 22, 256 CHILDES database 16, 232–3, 256 cognitive development 19
  feral children 173
  first language acquisition 6–25
grammatical knowledge 12
language deprivation 173–4
language presentation 234 “less is more” hypothesis 172
metalinguistic awareness 19–20
morpheme acquisition 149–51 raised in isolation 173–4 see also infants
China
  immersion instruction in English 48–9 study abroad students 39
Chinese language learning 39, 40, 81, 144, 195, 252
Chomsky, Noam 5, 7, 13, 67, 69–70
CL see cognitive linguistics Classical Method 108
classroom instruction 41–51, 42–3, 118–29
bilingual education 44–6 corrective feedback 124–5
dual language instruction 49–50
error correction 124–5
first language acquisition 125–8
form-focused instruction 119–24
heritage language instruction 51–2
immersion instruction 46–9
input enhancement 120–1
input flooding 121–2
motivational teaching practice 204–5 Processing Instruction 122–4
reading skills 158
technology 128–9
traditional classroom instruction 42–3
translation 127–8
working memory 200
CLI see cross-linguistic influence
CLIL see Content and Language Integrated Learning CLT see Communicative Language Teaching CMC see computer-mediated communication code-switching 228, 256
cognates 149, 256
cognitive/academic language proficiency (CALP) 195, 256
cognitive approach 75–7
cognitive linguistics (CL) 89–90, 256
cognitive style 208–11, 256
Comenius, Johannes Amos 108
Communicative Language Teaching (CLT) 67, 115–16, 257 community language instruction 51–2 competence 67
complex adaptive system (CAS) view 90–1, 257
Comprehensible Input Hypothesis 73, 257 Comprehensible Output 80–1, 257 counter-assisted language learning (CALL) 128, 257 counter-mediated communication (CMC) 128, 129, 257
connectionism 17–18, 87–9, 257
Conrad, Joseph 184–5
Content Based Instruction (CBI) 48
Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) 48 context of learning 35–58
instructed learning 41–51
L1/L2 acquisition differences 21
naturalistic contexts 36–41
Contrastive Analysis Hypothesis (CAH) 61–4, 257 controlled processing 76, 257
conversational interactions 78, 79–80
Cook, G. 127–8
Coral Way Elementary School, Florida 50 Corder, S.P. 65, 137
corrective feedback 124–5, 257
critical period 258
Critical Period Hypothesis (CPH) 170–3, 257
grammatical ability 179–82
key studies 182–3
pronunciation 175–9
cross-linguistic influence (CLI) 64, 138–9, 258 Csizér, K. 205
Curtiss, Susan 174
Danz Elementary School, Wisconsin 50 Darwin, Charles 11
databanks, language 16, 159, 232–3 DBE see development bilingual education declarative knowledge 76, 258
de Groot, A. 237
DeKeyser, R. 181
developmental errors 66, 258
developmental sequences 141, 258
development bilingual education (DBE) 49–50
Direct Method 109–10, 258
Dornyei, Z. 203, 204–5
dual language instruction 49–50, 258
EA see error analysis
EFT see Embedded Figures Test
Einstein, Albert 59
Ellis, R. 120, 209
Elman, J.L. 172
Embedded Figures Test (EFT) 210–11
emergentism 17–18, 86–91, 258
cognitive linguistics 89–90
complex adaptive system view 90–1
connectionism 87–9
Emerson, Ralph Waldo 35
empirical studies, age of learner 174–83
empiricism 13
English language
adverb placement 121
article system 84
inflected forms 147
morpheme acquisition order 11 number of words 147
present perfect tense 121
question development 153, 154
English literature 184–5
English as a Second Language (ESL) learners contrastive analysis approach 62
conversational interactions 79–80
pragmatic development 156
question development 153, 154
error analysis (EA) 24–5, 64–7, 258
error correction 124–5
ESL see English as a Second Language executive control 241, 258 experiential learning approach 208–9 explicit knowledge 85
explicit learning 84
exposure time, L1/L2 acquisition differences 21–2, 23 extraversion/introversion personality types 206–7 extrinsic motivation 202, 203 eye contact 7
Eysenck, Hans 206–7
FD see field dependence feedback corrective feedback 124–5 negative feedback 79
feral children 173
FFI see form-focused instruction FI see field independence field dependence (FD) 210, 211 field independence (FI) 210, 211, 259 Finnish speakers 139
first language (L1) acquisition 5–33 behaviorist view 13–14
classroom instruction 125–8
connectionist view 17–18
emergentism 17–18
holophrastic stage 9–10
interactionist view 15–17
from sounds to words 6–10 telegraphic stage 10–11
theories 13–18
universal grammar model 14–15, 68–9
vs second language acquisition 18–25 from words to sentences 10–12
see also bilingualism
first words, infants 9–10
Flege, J.E. 145–6, 177, 183
FLES see foreign language in the elementary school programs
FLEX see foreign language experience programs Florida 50
focus on form 119–24
Ford, Ford Madox 184
“foreigner talk” 78
“foreign” language acquisition 3 foreign language in the elementary school (FLES) programs 43 foreign language experience (FLEX) programs 43 form-focused instruction (FFI) 119–24 form-function mappings 88 form-meaning connections 85
formulaic sequences 24, 141–2
fossilization 143
France 40, 41
French–English bilingualism 232–3
French language learning
contrastive analysis approach 62–3
error analysis 65
immersion instruction 40, 41, 46–7
pronunciation 145–6, 178
Fries, Charles 62
function words 89
Gardner, Howard 194–5
Gardner, Robert 201–2
Garnett, Edward 185
gaze-coupling 7
general ability 194
genetic predisposition for language 7–10
Genie, language deprivation case 173–4
German language learning 151–2
German speakers 139, 146
Gladwell, Malcolm 20
Grabe, W. 157, 158
Grammar Translation Method 108–9
grammatical development 149–53
age of learner 179–82
bilingualism 230–1
children 12
critical period 179–82
morphology 149–51
pragmatic development 156
question development 153, 154
syntax 151–2
Granger, S.A. 159
Greek language learning 107, 108
Green Bay, Wisconsin 50
Gregg, K. 74, 93
Grosjean, François 223
Group Embedded Figures Test (GEFT) 210–11
HAS see high amplitude sucking technique
Haugen, Einar 225
Heredia, R.R. 237
heritage language instruction 51–2, 75
hemeneumata texts 107
hierarchy of difficulty 63
high amplitude sucking (HAS) technique 7 Hindi, sound contrast perception study 7–8
Hitch, G. 199
Hoefnagel-Höhle, Marian 176, 182
holophrastic stage, first language acquisition 9–10 home language instruction 51–2
Hong Kong 46
Hyltenstam, K. 183
hypotheses 60–1
see also individual hypotheses
ID see individual difference factors “ideal speaker-hearer” 69–70
IL see interlanguage ILP see interlanguage pragmatics imitation 13
immersion instruction 46–9, 259
Chinese language learning 39
English language learning 48–9
French language learning 40 proficiency in target language 48 receptive/expressive skill gap 48
immigrant-learners 36–8, 176–7
age of arrival and language proficiency 37–8 native speaker interaction 38
see also profiles
implicit knowledge 85
implicit learning 84
imprinting 170, 260
individual difference (ID) factors 193–222 aptitude 195–200
attitude 201–5
cognitive style 208–11
intelligence 194–5
learning strategies 211–14
learning style 208–11
motivation 201–5
personality 205–8
infants
auditory discrimination 7–8
babbling 8–10
bilingual speech perception/production 229–30 caregiver communication 7
first language acquisition 6–25
first words stage 9–10
high amplitude sucking technique 7 sound discrimination 7–8
see also children
inflections 89, 90, 147
informal speech 153
information processing approach 75–7
input definition 11 “intake” differentiation 81
pronunciation 177
input enhancement 120–1
inputflooding 121–2
Input Hypothesis 70–5
input processing (IP) 85–6 instructed learning see classroom instruction instrumental orientation 202–3 intake, “input” differentiation 81 integrative orientation 202–3
intelligence 194–5, 260
Interaction Hypothesis 77–80
interactionism 15–17
interference 21, 64
interlanguage (IL) 65, 143
interlanguage pragmatics (ILP) 155 Internet resources 129
intrinsic motivation 202, 203
introversion/extraversion personality types 206–7 IP see input processing
IQ tests 194, 195
Irish language learning 48
irregular verb forms 12, 24, 85
Italian language learning 42–3, 77, 78, 141–2, 211–12, 253
Janda, L.A. 90
Japan 40–1
Japanese language learning 92–3
Johnson, Jacqueline 180–2
Joly, Nicholas 109
Joseph Conrad phenomenon 184, 185
Julie, exceptional learner case 184 Kinginger, C. 41
knowledge 76, 85, 148
declarative/procedural 76
explicit/implicit 85
vocabulary acquisition 148
Kolb, D.A. 208–9
Krashen, Stephen 70–5
Kroll, J.F. 237
Kuhn, Thomas 60
Kumaravadivelu, B. 117–18
L1 acquisition see first language acquisition L2 acquisition see second language acquisition Ladmiral, Jean-René 127
Lado, Robert 62
language, characteristics 14–15 language acquisition devices 73
language corpora 159
language databanks 16, 159, 232–3
language deprivation 173–4
language learning aptitude 195–200 language learning contexts 35–58
instructed learning 41–51
L1/L2 acquisition differences 21
naturalistic contexts 36–41 (language minority) term 45
language presentation 234
language teaching see classroom instruction; teaching approaches language transfer 138–9
Larsen-Freeman, Diane 113
lateralization of brain 172 Latin 107, 108
learner language 159
learning “acquisition” differentiation 71 automatic/controlled processing 76 implicit/explicit learning 84 learning contexts see language learning contexts
learning strategies 211–14
learning style 208–11
length of residence (LOR) 176, 181
Lenneberg, Eric 170–1, 172
“less is more” hypothesis 172
lexical access 234–41
Lexical Approach 142–3
Linda, profile 42, 77, 78, 141–2, 211–12, 253 linguistic milestones 8 Linguistics across Cultures (Lado) 62
linguistic sub-areas
grammatical development 149–53
phonology 144–6
pragmatics 154–6
reading skills 156–8
sociolinguistic variation 153–4
vocabulary acquisition 146–9
literacy skills 25, 148, 156–8 literary English 184–5
Locke, John 105
Long, Michael 78–9
long-term memory (LTM) 207 LOR see length of residence Lozanov, Georgi 112–13
LTM see long-term memory
Lyster, R. 124–5
Mackay, I.R.A. 183
Mackey, William 225–6, 227–8
Malmberg, Bertil 224–5
Mandarin (Chinese) language learning 39, 40, 81, 144, 195, 252
markedness 140–1, 261
Markedness Differential Hypothesis (MDH) 140–1
MBTI see Myers–Briggs Type Indicator questionnaire MDH see Markedness Differential Hypothesis mean length of utterance (MLU) 11 means-end concept 19
memory bilingualism 242
long-term memory 207
phonological memory 198, 199–200 short-term memory 207
working memory 198–200
metalinguistic awareness 19–20, 126–7
MHM see modified hierarchical model
Miami, Florida 50
Middle Ages 107, 108
Mila, profile 36–7, 115, 174–5, 205–6, 224, 252 milestones, linguistic 8
Minimalist Program 69
"minority language" term 45
mixed utterances 231–4, 261
MLAT see Modern Language Aptitude Test
MLU see mean length of utterance Modern Language Aptitude Test (MLAT) 196–8, 261 modified hierarchical model (MHM) 239 modified interactions 78
Molís, M. 181
Monitor Model 70–5
Moore, D. 126
morphemes
acquisition of 11, 149–51, 262 studies 72
morphology 149–51
motivation 1–2, 201–5, 262
Multidimensional Model 151, 262 multilingualism 3, 184–5
Munro, M.J. 183
Myers–Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) questionnaire 206 Nation, I.S.P. 147, 148 native-speaker/non-native speaker interactions 78 nativism 13
Natural Approach 74–5
naturalistic contexts 36–41
immigrant-learners 36–8
study abroad experience 39–41
Natural Order Hypothesis 72
negative feedback 79
negotiation for meaning 79 Newport, Elissa 172, 180–2 non-interface position 71
nonreduplicated babbling 9
Norton Pierce, B. 38
noticing 262
Noticing Hypothesis 81–5
novels 184–5
object permanence 19
Object Verb Subject (OVS) structure 123 online resources 129
oral corpora 159
oral production 72–3
orientation 202–3
Ottó, I. 203
output 73
overextension 10
overgeneralization 24–5, 64, 140
OVS see Object Verb Subject structure
Oxford, Rebecca 212
Oyama, Susan 175, 176, 182
Paradis, Michel 238, 239
parameters 68
past tense forms, irregular 12, 24, 85
Patkowski, M.S. 182
Patterson, J.L. 234
Pavlenko, A. 239
peer-to-peer scaffolding 92–3 Penfield, Wilder 170
Perceptual Learning Style Preference Questionnaire (PLSPQ) 209
perceptual salience 82 personality traits/variables 205–8 phonological memory (PM) 198, 199–200
phonology 64, 144–6
critical period 175–9
input rule 177
L2 acquisition 22
PI see Processing Instruction
Piaget, Jean 19, 60
Pienemann, M. 152
Piper, T. 15–16
Planken, B. 183
PLSPQ see Perceptual Learning Style Preference Questionnaire plural forms 12, 88
PM see phonological memory Portuguese language learning 83
postmethod perspective 117–18
Pousada, A. 185
“poverty of the stimulus” argument 67–8
pragmatics 154–6
prepositions 87–8
present perfect tense 121
procedural knowledge 76
Processability Theory 152
Processing Instruction (PI) 122–4
processing-related hypotheses 77–86
Comprehensible Output Hypothesis 80–1 input processing 85–6
Interaction Hypothesis 77–80
Noticing Hypothesis 81–5 productive knowledge 148 proficiency levels, L1/L2 acquisition differences 22
profiles
Alberto 44, 146–7, 224, 231, 253
Linda 42, 77, 78, 141–2, 211–12, 253
Mila 36–7, 115, 174–5, 205–6, 224, 252
Steve 39, 40, 81, 144, 195, 252, 253
Walid 51, 75, 138, 174, 175, 224, 253
Xia Mei 46, 80, 128, 144, 205, 253
pronunciation 64, 144–6
critical period 175–9
input rule 177
L2 acquisition 22
Quebec 47
question development 153, 154
questionnaires
Myers–Briggs Type Indicator questionnaire 206
Perceptual Learning Style Preference Questionnaire 209
Ramirez, J.D. 45
Ranta, L. 124–5
reading skills 25, 148, 156–8
recasts 78, 124
receptive knowledge 148
reduplicated babbling 9 Reid, J. 209
repetition of phrases, L1/L2 acquisition parallels 23–4
research areas/questions 3
research literature 2
revised hierarchical model (RHM) 237, 239
Roberts, Lamar 170
Rochefoucauld, François de la 169
Roman Empire 107
Ronjat, Jules 234
Russian language learning 90
Saer, D.J. 229
Salish, sound contrast perception study 7–8
Sapon, S. 197
scaffolding 92–3
Schils, E. 183
Schmidt, Richard 81–5
SCT see sociocultural theory second language development 137–68
avoidance of difficult structures 144
cross-linguistic influence 138–9
developmental sequences 141
formulaic sequences 141–2
fossilization 143
language corpora 159
language transfer 138–9
learner language 159
linguistic sub-areas 144–58
grammar 149–53
phonology 144–6
pragmatics 154–6
reading skills 156–8
sociolinguistic variation 153–4
vocabulary acquisition 146–9
markedness 140–1
overgeneralization 140
processes and influences 138–44 second language (L2) acquisition (SLA) definition 1
research areas/questions 3
terminology 2–3
Selinker, L. 143
semantic priming 240
sensitive period, critical period comparison 170 Sharwood Smith, Michael 120–1 Shiffren, R.M. 77
short-term memory (STM) 207 sign language 9
SILL see Strategy Inventory for Language Learning
Skinner, B. F. 13
SLA see second language (L2) acquisition
SLM see Speech Learning Model Snow, Catherine 176, 182
social expectations of adult learners 21 sociocultural theory (SCT) 91–3
sociolinguistic variation 153–4
software programs 128–9 sound discrimination, infants 7–8
SOV see Subject Object Verb
Spada, Nina 120
Spain 40
Spanish language learning heritage language instruction 51–2
vocabulary acquisition 146–7
Spearman, Charles 194
Speech Learning Model (SLM) 145–6
Sternberg, R. J. 195
Steve, profile 39, 40, 81, 144, 195, 252, 253
Stewart, E. 237
Stewart, S. 93
STM see short-term memory
Strategy Inventory for Language Learning (SILL) 212 Stroop experiments 240, 241
study abroad experience 39–41
stylistic variation, linguistic 153–4
Subject Object Verb (SOV) structure 63 Subject Verb Object (SVO) structure 62, 122
subtractive bilingualism 45
Suggestopedia 112–13
SVO see Subject Verb Object
Swain, Merrill 80
Syntactic Structures (Chomsky) 67
syntax 72–3, 151–2
task-based language teaching (TBLT) 116–17 Teachability Hypothesis 152 teaching approaches 105–35
affective-humanistic approaches 112–13
in antiquity 107
approach term 107
Audiolingual Method 110–12
cognitive linguistics 90
Communicative Language Teaching 115–16
Direct Method 109–10
Grammar Translation Method 108–9 historical perspectives 106–18 method term 107
perspectives 106–18
postmethod perspective 117–18
Suggestopedia 112–13
task-based language teaching 116–17 technique term 107
terminology 107
Total Physical Response Method 114 see also classroom instruction technology in classroom instruction 128–9 telegraphic stage, first language acquisition 10–11
terminology 2–3
theories 59–103
cognitive approach 75–7
contrastive analysis approach 61–4
emergentism 86–91
error analysis 64–7
first language acquisition 13–18
information processing approach 75–7
Input Hypothesis 70–5
Kuhn’s guidelines 60
Monitor Model 70–5
Processability Theory 152
processing-related hypotheses 77–86
sociocultural approach 91–3 Universal Grammar model 67–70
usage-based approaches 86–91
The Tipping Point: How little things can make a big difference (Gladwell) 20
Total Physical Response (TPR) Method 114
traditional classroom instruction 42–3
transfer 21
translation in language teaching 127–8 two-way immersion (TWI) 49–50 UG see Universal Grammar underextension 10
United States (US) bilingual education programs 45
dual language instruction 49–50
foreign language teaching programs 43
heritage language instruction 51–2
Universal Grammar (UG) model 14–15, 67–70
hypotheses 68–9
language teaching application 70 limitations 70
Minimalist Program 69
parameters 68
revisions 69
uptake 124
Urdu speakers 139
US see United States
usage-based approaches 86–91
cognitive linguistics 89–90
complex adaptive system view 90–1
connectionism 87–9
Valdés, G. 51–2
VanPatten, Bill 85–6, 122–4
Van Summeren, C. 183
variegated babbling 9
verb forms, irregular 12, 24, 85
vocabulary acquisition 146–9, 175, 230–1
Vygotsky, Lev 91
Walid, profile 51, 75, 138, 174, 175, 224, 253
was like variant 153
Wei, Li 226
Weinreich, Uriel 226, 234–5
“Wes” (Japanese English language learner) 82
Widdowson, Henry 127
Willing, K. 209
Wisconsin 50
WM see working memory
word families 147
word order 151–2
word recognition 157
words, first words stage 9–10
see also morphemes;
vocabulary acquisition
working memory (WM) 198–200 Wray, A. 142
writing systems 158
Wug test, Berko’s 12
Xia Mei, profile 46, 80, 128, 144, 205, 253 zone of proximal development (ZPD) 91–2