Contents

Preface ix
Acknowledgments xi
Introduction xiii
Olav Alvares
In memoriam: Jonathan Ship (1959–2008)—a celebration of his life xvii
Editors and contributors xix

1. The enigma of dry mouth 3
   1.1. Dry Mouth: A Common Worldwide Tormentor 3
       L.M. Sreebny
   1.2. Saliva: The Remarkable Fluid 10
       A. van Nieuw Amerongen, E.C.I. Veerman, and A. Vissink
   1.3. Living with a Drought: The Patient Speaks 26
       K. Morland Hammitt

2. Dry mouth: a multifaceted diagnostic dilemma 33
   2.1. The Odd Couple: Dry Mouth and Salivary Flow 33
       L.M. Sreebny
   2.2. Symptoms and Semiotics 52
       A. Vissink and L.M. Sreebny
   2.3. Sialometry: The Measure of Things, with Ease and Reliability 64
       L.M. Sreebny and A. Vissink
   2.4. Other Ways to Assess Salivary Gland Disease 77
       A. Vissink

See the supporting companion Web site for this book: www.wiley.com/go/sreebny vii
3. The causes of dry mouth: a broad panoply
   L.M. Sreebny
   3.1. Drugs, Dry Mouth, and Dentistry
       3.1.1. Setting the stage
       3.1.2. The regulation of the salivary system
       3.1.3. Xerogenic drugs
       3.1.4. Detailed reference guide to drugs and dry mouth (on Web site)
   3.2. Dry Mouth: Diseases and Conditions
       3.2.1. The autoimmune connection
           C.G.M. Kallenberg
       3.2.2. Head and neck radiotherapy: an iatrogenic factor
           A. Eisbruch
       3.2.3. Brains and saliva
           E.C.I. Veerman and J.A. Bosch
       3.2.4. Other causes of dry mouth: the list is endless
           S. Beier Jensen, A.M. Lyng Pedersen, and B. Nauntofte

4. Treating dry mouth: help is available
   J. Ship, A. Vissink, and L.M. Sreebny

5. And what about the future?
   5.1. Is Gene Therapy the Answer?
       B.J. Baum, C. Zheng, L. McCullagh, A.P. Cotrim, J.S. Brahim,
       J.C. Atkinson, C.M. Goldsmith, N.P. Nikolov, R.J. Turner, and G.G. Illei
   5.2. Is Stem Cell Therapy a Reasonable Approach?
       R.P. Coppes and I. Lombaert

Index