Index

abdominal distension, 93 and fibre intake, 97–8 abdominal massage, 98, 170–171 adenosine, 50
algorithms, 11

see also care pathways Alzheimer’s disease, 61–4

continence information sheets, 145–7 anal sphincters, 89–90, 98–9, 177–8, 181 anorectal angle, 181
anti-muscarinic drugs, 74 anticipated recovery pathways (ARPs) see care pathways appointment booking schemes, 33–4 arachis oil, 175
assessments, 18–19
care rationing concerns, 18 evaluation and audit, 19–20 assessments tools, 9

see also generic continence standards Assist UK, 130
The Association of Chartered Physiotherapists in Women’s Health (ACPWH), 128
Association for Continence Advice (ACA), 8, 126 audit, of assessment processes, 19–20 Audit Commission, report on continence management (1999), 2 autonomic dysreflexia, 100, 176–7 benchmarking, 3, 58–9

biofeedback techniques, 74 bisacodyl, 174–5
bladder and bowel foundation, 127 bladder diaries, 83
bladder outlet obstruction, 72 bladder scanning, 35, 36–7 bladder training, 83
blood
in faeces, 91
in urine, 54
body language, 40
bothersome ratings
for overflow incontinence, 84–5 for stress incontinence, 68, 75, 77 for urge incontinence, 79, 81 bowel
anatomy and physiology, 89–90, 177–8
care pathways, 92–3
functions, 90, 179–81
bowel (continued)
impact of medications, 94, 166–9 innervation, 178
maintaining continence, 177–8, 180–181 neurogenic, 177–9
obstruction, 91–4, 182–3 referral indications, 91
self-care advice, bowels, 151–2 stimulation, 101–3 tumours, 91
see also constipation; faecal continence bowel diaries, 54–6, 96, 181 bran, 171–2
bulking agents, 171–2
caffeine, 49–50, 147–51
cardiac failure, 46
care maps see care pathways
care pathways
benefits and advantages, 11–12, 27, 31–2 communicating with patients, 38–44 development and evolution, 10–11, 111–23 evaluation studies, 11–12, 115–23 evidence-base, 20–23, 25–9 generic bowel care standards, 54–8, 92–3 generic continence standards, 45–64 impact on referrals, 28 implementation issues, 25–6 influence on commissioning, 6 local adaptations, 36–7 managing change, 37–8
patient involvement, 106–7, 111–23
resources and information, 134–6, 157–8 staff information sheets, 157–84 symptom-related specific standards, 65–87 variances, 11, 23–4, 28–9, 36–7
see also process mapping carer support, 62–4
information sheets, 145–7 organisations, 129
case studies
adopting care pathways, 25–9 using NLP techniques, 42–3 catheterisation, 7
cervical injuries, autonomic dysreflexia, 100, 176–7 Choose and Book scheme, 33–4 clinical guidelines, 11 see also care pathways; national guidelines clinical protocols, 11
clinical tests and investigations, process mapping, 33–5 cognitive dysfunction, 61–4 commercial publications, 131–3 Commission for Healthcare Improvement (CHI), 113 commissioning of services, 5–6
commodes, 60–61
communication with carers, 62–4 communication with patients, 38–44 effective listening, 38–9 language use, 43–4
techniques, 40–43
community matrons, 4–5
consent see patient consent constipation, 54–8 causes, 90, 95–6
charting stool frequencies, 54–6, 181 diagnostic criteria, 55, 95 generic care standards, 54–8 impact of diet, 56–7, 95 impact of medication side effects, 94, 158–65 privacy and toilet environment, 57–8, 58–61 signs and symptoms, 54–8, 96–7, 184 use of abdominal massage, 98, 170–171 use of laxatives, 57, 171–6 consultations, communication skills, 38–44 content validation techniques, 115–18 Content Validity Index, 67
continence care and NHS budget, 1–2 background, 7–10
generic standards, 45–64
quality of care, 9–10
see also care pathways
Continence Care Forum (for nurses), 128 continence nurse specialists, 8–10 education and training, 9–10 continence pads, 7–8 continence products, 7–8 advice and information, 59, 130–131 continence services see service provisions continence standards see generic continence standards Core (Digestive Disorders Foundation), 126
cranberry juice, 48–9
critical friends groups, 110–111, 123 critical paths see care pathways cystitis, myths, 16
The Cystitis and Overactive Bladder Foundation, 129 DAFNE programme, 109
data collection, 113–14
questionnaires, 114–15
see also patient involvement
Data Protection Act 1998, 113
defecation, 89–90
normal control, 180
positioning, 97
see also constipation
dementia, 61–4
information for carers, 145–7 detrusor instability, 69 diagnostic pathways, 65 diaries, 38, 83, 122–3 diet and constipation, 56–7, 95
fibre intake, 97–8, 152, 153–5 Digestive Disorders Foundation (Core), 126 digital rectal examinations, 98–9 patient consent, 99–100
discovery interviews, 123 diuretics, 96
docusate, 174, 175
drinks
advice and guidelines, 46–8, 147–51
caffeinated, 49–50, 147–51
cranberry juice, 48–9
drug treatments see medications e-Health Nurses Network, 135 educational material from companies, 131–3
literature sources, 133 electrical stimulation treatments, 73–4 electromyography (EMG) techniques, 74 electronic booking schemes, 33–4 EMG see electromyography (EMG) techniques environmental issues, 58–61 mobility and transfer aids, 59–61 privacy and comfort needs, 57–8 equipment advice, organisations, 59, 130–131 equipment needs
commodes, 60–61
mobility and transfer aids, 59–61
personal care, 59–61
ERIC (Education and Resources for Improving Childhood Continence), 127 Essence of Care (DH 2001), 3, 16–17 European Pathway Association, 134 evidence-based practice, 16–17 care pathway studies, 20–23 expenditure on continence management, 1–2
The Expert Patients Programme, 109–10, 135–6

faecal continence care pathway algorithms, 101–3 normal maintenance, 177–8, 180–181
self-care advice, bowels, 151–2
see also bowel; constipation faecal impaction, 99
stool softeners, 174
ferrous sulphate, 91
fibre intake, 95, 97–8
bulking agents, 171–2
patient information sheets, 152, 153–5 precautions, 103
scoring charts, 97
supplements, 98
A First Class Service (DH 1998), 16
fluid intake, 46–50
advice and guidelines, 46–8, 94, 147–51
caffeine intake, 49–50, 147–51
cranberry juice, 48–9
focus groups see patient involvement

Index
gastrocolic reflex, 178
generic continence standards
for cognitive dysfunction, 61–4 for constipation, 54–8
for fluid intake, 46–50 for medication use, 58
for mobility and environmental issues, 58–61 for urinalysis, 50–54
glycerine suppositories, 172, 175
Good Practice in Continence Services (DH 2000), 2 government policy see policy documents guidelines see care pathways; national guidelines healthcare policies see policy documents healthcare services see service provisions heart failure, 46
hesitancy, 71
history of continence care, 7–10 history-taking, effective communication skills, 38–44 hormone therapies, 75, 78, 82 hyper-osmotic laxatives, 172–3 IBS Network, 126
ICIQ (International Consultation on Incontinence Modular Questionnaire), 66, 75, 79, 85 Improvement leaders’ guides (NHS IfI 2005), 33–4, 35, 110 in-dwelling catheters, 85 incontinence economic costs, 1–2 impact, 15–16
myths, 16
prevalence data, 8
treatment overview, 73–4
Index

lower motor neurone injuries, 178–9 macrogol, 174
mapping patient journeys see process mapping massage, abdominal, 98, 170–171 matrons, 4–5
medical histories, effective communication skills, 38–44 medications affecting bowel function, 94, 166–9 affecting urinary continence, 58, 158–65 for continence, 74
men, continence information sheets, 141–5 mixed urinary incontinence, 73 multidisciplinary pathways of care (MPCs) see care pathways Multiple Sclerosis Society, 129 national guidelines early initiatives, 2
on drug treatments, 74
on fluid intake, 47
target setting, 2–3
see also generic continence standards; patient-centred care National Library for Health, 134
National Service Framework for Older People (DH 2001a), 2, 17 neurogenic bowel management, 177–8, 178–9 neurolinguistic programming (NLP), 40–43 neurological dysfunction, 82, 100 changing bowel habit, 96–7, 177–8, 178–9 overflow incontinence, 83, 85 NHS budgets, 5 see also overflow incontinence; stress incontinence; urge incontinence independent living centres, equipment advice, 59 information handouts (patients), 137–56

information sources, 125–36 commercial sponsored material, 131–3 educational literature, 133
equipment advice organisations, 130–131
support organisations, 126–9 website resources, 134–6 integrated care pathways (ICPs) see care pathways International Continence Society (UK), 127–8 interviews with users (feedback), 123 intestinal obstructions, 91, 93–4 Involving Patients and Carers (NHS IfII 2005a), 120–121 iron supplements, 91
iso-osmotic agents, 174 isphagula, 171–2
joint working, policy initiatives, 3
The King’s Fund, 134
lactulose, 173
language and terminology, 39–40, 43–4 large bowel obstruction, 94, 182–3 laxatives, 57, 171–6
hyper-osmotic, 172–3, 176
iso-osmotic, 174, 176
stimulant, 174–5
see also stool softeners leucocytes, 53
Likert scale, 75
liquid paraffin, 174

Index

The NHS in England (DH 2006), 106
The NHS Improvement Plan (DH 2004), 4–5
NHS Institute for Innovation and Improvement (NHS IfII), 135
NHS Patient Survey Programme (DH 2003), 106
The NHS Plan (DH 2000A), 6–7
NICE guidelines, 47
- on drug treatments, 74
- on fluid intake, 94
nitrites, 54
NLP see neurolinguistic programming (NLP) nocturia, 71
not-for-profit service providers, 6 nurse specialists see continence nurse specialists nurse-led services, commissioning, 6 nursing roles, 4–5
oestrogen therapy, 75, 78, 82
Our Health, Our Care, Our Say (DH 2006), 3–4, 5, 109–10 outflow obstruction, 72 outpatient appointments, 'choose and book' schemes, 33–4 overflow incontinence
- care pathways, 83–7
- definitions, 72
- patient bothersome ratings, 84–5
- standard statements, 71–3, 86–7
- treatment overview, 73–4 oxybutynin, 74
paralytic ileus, 182–3 patient-centred care, 6–7, 12
patient consent
- ethical considerations, 112–14
- physical examinations, 99–100
- research participation, 112–20 patient diaries, 38, 83, 122–3
patient information sheets, 137–56
patient involvement, 105–24
- aims and purpose, 105–7
- concepts and definitions, 107–8
- ethics, 112–13
- Expert Patients Programme, 109–10
- focus groups, 118–20, 121–2
- local implementation issues, 120–123
- policy directions, 106
- resources and information, 134–6
- sampling methods, 113
- selection and data collection, 113–14
- setting-up considerations, 111–20
- use of questionnaires, 114–15
- user groups, 110–111
- validation of content, 115–18 patient journals, 38, 83, 122–3 patient journeys
- contact points, 32–3
- see also process mapping
patient rapport, 40
patient shadowing, 122
patient’s perspectives
- compiling symptoms-based standard statements, 66–8
- impact of incontinence, 15–16
- see also bothersome ratings;
- patient involvement
PDSA (plan, do, study and act)
- cycles, 35
PEG (polyethylene glycol), 174 pelvic floor exercises, 73 biofeedback, 74
information handouts, 137–41
information sources, 126–7, 133 for men, 78, 142–5
use of weighted cones, 74 for women, 137–41
Index

personal care
privacy issues, 57–8
toilet adaptations and aids, 59–61 policy documents, 2–4 on patient involvement, 106 post-micturition dribble, 72 post-void residual volume, 82 measurement, 86
preventative services, 3, 4 primary care, budget allocations, 5 Primary Care Trusts,
commissioning roles, 6
The Princess Royal Trust for Carers, 129
privacy issues, personal care, 57–8 process mapping, 24, 32–5 Promocon, 130
prostate enlargement, 83, 86 protein, in urine, 54
The Protocols and Care Pathways Library, 134
public awareness, 9
public health nurses, 4
quality of care, 8–9
quality of life measures, 66
see also bothersome ratings
questionnaires see patient involvement
randomised control trials (RCTs), 21–2 rapport with patients, 40 rationing of services, role of assessment, 18
rectal bleeding, 91
rectal examinations, 98–9
patient consent, 99–100
referrals, 28
research
audit project, 19–20
ethical considerations, 112–14
external clinical evidence, 17 Involve, 106
literature review 20–22, 23 resources, 125–36
useful sources, 22
see also case studies;
evidence-based practice;
ICIQ; patient involvement;
variances
respite care, 62
roles see nursing roles Royal Association for Disability and Rehabilitation (RADAR), 130–131 Royal College of Nursing, survey on continence services, 2 sampling methods see patient
involvement
scanning equipment, GP
surgeries, 35
self-catheterisation, 85 self-medication, laxative use, 57 self-toileting
key steps, 63
cognitive dysfunction, 61–4
environmental and mobility problems, 59–61
senna, 174–5
service provision analysis and redesign, 32–5 guidelines, 2
improvement initiatives, 9–10, 35
see also care pathways
signage, 62
small bowel obstruction, 93, 182–3 sodium picosulfate, 175 specialist nurses see continence nurse specialists
spinal injuries
autonomic dysreflexia, 100, 176–7
Index

spinal injuries (continue) impact on bowel function, 177–8, 178–9 using bowel stimulation techniques, 101

Spinal Injuries Association, 128 standards for continence care see generic continence standards

sterculia, 171–2

stool charts/diaries, 54–6, 96, 181
stool softeners, 174

stools
blackened/tarry, 91
impacted, 99

strangulated obstructions, 182–3

stress incontinence
care pathways, 74–9
definition, 69
patient bothersome ratings, 68, 75, 77
patient information handouts, 137–41
standard statements, 70–71, 75–9 treatment options, 73–4, 75, 78

support organisations, 126–9

surgical treatments, 74

Swindon Carers Centre, 110–111 symptom-related care pathways, 65–87 assessment profiles, 66–8

overflow incontinence
standards, 71–3
stress incontinence standards, 68–70 urge incontinence standards, 70–71 third sector service provisions, 5–6 toilet frames and seats, 59, 61 toilets, washing and drying solutions, 61 training and education, 9–10 upper motor neuron injuries, 178–9 urge incontinence

care pathways, 79–83
definitions, 70
patient bothersome ratings, 79, 81
standard statements, 70–71, 82–3
treatments, 74

urgency, 71
patient information, 82, 141–5
treatments, 74

urinals, non-spill adaptors 59

urinalysis, 50–54
collection of specimen, 51 forms and records, 52–3 infection indicators, 53–4 urinary tract infections (UTIs), assessment and urinalysis, 50–54

urine specimens, 51

user groups, 110–111

see also patient involvement

vaginal cones, 74
vaginal soreness, 78, 82
validation methods, 115–18
variances, 11
evaluating local adaptations, 36–7 tracking, 23, 28–9, 112 voiding difficulties, and overflow incontinence, 72

women, continence information sheets, 137–41