Contents

Preface xv
Foreword xvii
About the Contributors xxi

1 Introduction to Sustainability

Amarjit Sahota

1.1 Introduction to Book 1

1.2 Introduction to Sustainability 2

1.3 Ethics in the Cosmetics Industry 3

1.4 Drivers of Sustainability 6

1.4.1 Rise in Ethical Consumerism 7

1.4.2 Pressure from the Media and NGOs 7

1.4.3 Environmental Changes and Finite Resources 8

1.4.4 Pressure from the Supply Chain 9

1.4.5 Laws and Regulation 9

1.4.6 Business Benefits 10

1.5 Sustainability Reporting 10

1.5.1 CSR and Sustainability Reports 10

1.5.2 Communicating to Consumers 11

1.6 Guide to Book Chapters 12

References 15

2 Environmental Impacts of Cosmetic Products

Part 1: The Growing Importance of Metrics 17

Xavier Vital

2.1 Corporate Carbon Footprinting 18

2.1.1 Introducing the Concept of “Scope” 18
CONTENTS

4.2.4.4 Training and Qualification 87
4.2.4.5 Crop Diversification 88
4.2.4.6 Promotion of Partnerships 88
4.2.4.7 Selection of Suppliers 88
4.2.4.8 Traceability 89
4.2.4.9 Placement on the Market 89

4.2.5 Success Stories 89
4.2.5.1 Cooperative Coopemaflima (Island of Marajó, Pará) 89
4.2.5.2 Community of Panacauera (Igarapé-Miri, Pará) 90
4.2.5.3 Community of Nazarezinho (Igarapé-Miri, Pará) 91
4.2.5.4 Ilha das Onças (Ilha das Onças, Pará) 91
4.2.5.5 Farmer’s Association of the Community of Santa Luzia (Tomé-Açu, Pará) 92
4.2.5.6 Community of Caetés (Bragança, Pará) 93
4.2.5.7 Community of Jubim (Salvaterra, Pará) 93

4.2.6 What is Yet to be Achieved 93
4.2.7 Conclusion 94

References 95

5 Biodiversity in the Cosmetics Industry 97
Eduardo Escobedo and Rik Kutsch Lojenga

5.1 Introduction 97
5.1.1 The Critical Loss of Biodiversity and its Impact on the Cosmetics Industry 99

5.2 Why Should the Cosmetics Industry Care about Protecting Biodiversity? 100
5.2.1 Biodiversity as a Sound Business Strategy 101
5.2.2 Ecosystem Services 102

5.3 How is the Policy Arena Changing and What Implications Does This Have for the Industry? 103
5.3.1 The Convention on Biological Diversity 103
5.3.2 The Strategic Plan for Biodiversity 104
5.3.3 The Nagoya Protocol 106
5.3.4 The Convention on International Trade of Endangered Species of Wild Flora and Fauna (CITES) 107

5.4 Biodiversity Barometer: Consumer Views and Expectations on Biodiversity 109
5.4.1 Biodiversity Awareness is Growing 110
5.4.2 Increased Awareness Brings Greater Expectations 111
5.4.3 Opportunities for Pioneering Companies 111

5.5 Ethical Sourcing in Practice 114
5.5.1 Putting Ethical Sourcing of Biodiversity into Practice 114
5.5.2 Conservation of Biodiversity 116
CONTENTS

6.4.3 A Great Beginning 149
  6.4.3.1 Rosemary Mint Shampoo 149
  6.4.3.2 Why PCR? 151
  6.4.3.3 Aveda Brilliant 151
  6.4.3.4 Brilliant Tubes 152
  6.4.3.5 Uruku Lipstick 152

6.4.4 Real Sustainability 153
  6.4.4.1 Renewable Energy 153

7 Energy and Waste Management 155
  Charles J. ‘Chuck’ Bennett and Michael S. Brown
  7.1 Introduction to Energy and Waste Management in the Cosmetics Industry 155
      7.1.1 Global Resource Constraints and the Challenge for Business 155
      7.1.2 Energy Issues and the Cosmetics Industry 156
      7.1.3 Wastes and Personal Care Products 158
  7.2 Aveda – The Company 159
  7.3 Energy Management in Aveda 161
      7.3.1 Process Energy Opportunities 162
      7.3.2 Facility Energy Improvements 162
      7.3.3 Results and Current Situation 163
      7.3.4 Renewable Energy and Emissions Offsets 164
      7.3.5 Other Dimensions of Aveda’s Energy Management –
          Shipping and Product Use 166
  7.4 Waste Management at Aveda 167
      7.4.1 Waste Management in Operations 167
      7.4.2 Recycling beyond Blaine 169
      7.4.3 Products and Packaging 169
  7.5 Summary 173
  References 173

8 Corporate Social Responsibility and Philanthropy 175
  Part 1: Introduction 175
  Amarjit Sahota
  8.1.1 Corporate Social Responsibility 175
  8.1.2 Corporate Philanthropy 176
  References 178

  Part 2: BURT’S BEES® Case Study 178
  Paula Alexander
  8.2.1 Value-Driven Sustainability Leadership 180
CONTENTS

8.2.2 The Greater Good Business Model: An Integrated Approach to Sustainability  181
8.2.3 Strategic Giving  184
8.2.4 Employee Engagement  186
8.2.5 Summary  188
References  188

Part 3: Dr. Bronner’s Magic Soaps: Business as Activism  189
David Bronner  189
8.3.1 Introduction  189
8.3.2 Company Background  189
8.3.3 Fair Trade Projects  191
8.3.4 Corporate Activism  194
8.3.5 Summary  195

9 Green Formulations and Ingredients  197
Judi Beerling  197
9.1 Introduction  197
9.2 Definitions  198
9.2.1 Synthetic Ingredient  198
9.2.2 Natural Ingredient  198
9.2.3 Naturally Derived Ingredient  199
9.2.4 Nature Identical Ingredient  199
9.2.5 Organic  199
9.3 How Natural are Current Market Products?  200
9.4 Synthetic Ingredients Normally Absent from Natural/Organic Cosmetics  202
9.5 Available Green Replacements for Synthetic Cosmetic Ingredients  204
9.6 Formulation Issues with Green Ingredients  214
9.7 Summary  214
References  215

10 Green Standards, Certification and Indices  217
Judi Beerling and Amarjit Sahota  217
10.1 Introduction  217
10.2 Natural and Organic Cosmetic Standards  218
10.2.1 Major European Standards for Natural and Organic Products  219
10.2.2 BDIH (Germany)  219
10.2.3 Ecocert Greenlife (France)  220
10.2.4 CosmeBio (France)  221
CONTENTS

10.2.5 Soil Association (UK) 221
10.2.6 ICEA (Italy) 222
10.2.7 COSMOS 222
10.2.8 Natrue (Belgium) 224
10.2.9 Other European Standards 225
10.2.10 Major North American Standards 225
10.2.11 USDA/NOP 226
10.2.12 NSF International 226
10.2.13 NPA (Natural Products Association) 227
10.2.14 Standards in Other Regions 228
10.2.15 Comparison of the Key Requirements of the Ecocert
     Greenlife, COSMOS and Natrue Standards 229
10.3 Fair Trade Labels 229
10.4 Other Eco-Labels 231
   10.4.1 Eco Flower – The European Eco-Label 231
   10.4.2 Nordic Swan – The Nordic Ecolabel 232
   10.4.3 Others in Europe 232
   10.4.4 Green Seal USA 232
   10.4.5 USDA Biobased Product Certification 233
   10.4.6 Carbon Labels 233
10.5 Other Sustainability Standards and Indices 234
   10.5.1 ISO Standards 14000 and 26000 234
   10.5.2 SA8000 235
   10.5.3 Other Standards 236
   10.5.4 Sustainable Indexes 236
References 237

11 Understanding Green Marketing 239
   Darrin C. Duber-Smith and Mason W. Rubin
   11.1 The “Why” of Sustainability 240
   11.2 The Green Consumer 242
   11.3 Best Green Practices 244
   11.4 Communication versus Reality: The Many Shades of Green 245
      11.4.1 Red Marketer 245
      11.4.2 Green Panderer 247
      11.4.3 Green Buffeteer 248
      11.4.4 Light Green Marketer 249
      11.4.5 Natural Green Marketer 250
      11.4.6 Deep Green Marketer 251
   11.5 Greener Than Thou 252
References 253
CONTENTS

12 Marketing Case Studies ........................................... 255
Part 1: Yes ToTM Inc. .................................................. 255
  Ido Leffler and Lance Kalish .................................... 255
  12.1.1 The Background .......................................... 255
  12.1.2 The Growth Path ........................................ 256
  12.1.3 Marketing Strategy ....................................... 259
  12.1.4 Product Positioning ...................................... 262
  12.1.5 Distribution Growth and Brand Extensions .......... 263
  12.1.6 Future Plans ............................................. 264

Part 2: Korres Natural Products .................................. 265
  George Korres .................................................... 265
  12.2.1 Herbal Remedies to Natural Products ................. 265
    12.2.1.1 The Pharmacy ..................................... 265
  12.2.2 The Challenge ........................................... 267
    12.2.2.1 Today .............................................. 267
  12.2.3 Vision and Strategy ...................................... 268
    12.2.3.1 Herbs .............................................. 268
    12.2.3.2 Cooperations ..................................... 269
    12.2.3.3 Extractions ....................................... 269
    12.2.3.4 Research .......................................... 269
  12.2.4 Target Audience .......................................... 270
  12.2.5 The Portfolio at a Glance ................................ 270
  12.2.6 Marketing and Positioning ............................... 271
    12.2.6.1 A Leading Natural Player that Talks Efficacy .. 271
  12.2.7 Beauty Made Honest ...................................... 272
  12.2.8 Sustainability ........................................... 273
    12.2.8.1 Ingredients ........................................ 273
    12.2.8.2 Energy ............................................. 273
    12.2.8.3 No Waste .......................................... 273
    12.2.8.4 Responsible Packaging ............................. 273
    12.2.8.5 Community ........................................ 274
  12.2.9 Global Presence .......................................... 274
  12.2.10 A Closer Look ........................................... 276
    12.2.10.1 Europe ............................................ 276
    12.2.10.2 USA ................................................ 276
    12.2.10.3 Asia and Australia ................................ 276
  12.2.11 A Success Case Study Starring . . . The Product ... 277
  12.2.12 The Future ............................................. 277

Part 3: Whole Foods Market ......................................... 278
  Jody Villecco .................................................... 278
  12.3.1 Introduction ............................................. 278
CONTENTS

12.3.2 Body Care Quality Standards 279
12.3.3 Whole Body Responsible Packaging 285
12.3.4 Organic Body Care Labeling Standards 286
12.3.5 Industry Recognition 287
12.3.6 Conclusion 287
References 288

13 Targeting the Green Consumer 289
Kathy Sheehan
13.1 Introduction 289
13.2 United States 292
13.3 Western Europe 295
13.4 China 296
13.5 Latin America 298
13.6 Conclusions 300

14 Future Outlook 301
Amarjit Sahota
14.1 Preamble 301
14.2 Sustainability 301
14.3 Social Dimensions 303
14.4 Green Cosmetics 305
14.5 Responsible Consumption 308
14.6 Role of Government and Legislation 310
14.7 Benchmarking of Cosmetic Companies 311
14.8 Conclusions 312
References 314

Index 315