Index

Page numbers in bold indicate tables; page numbers in italics indicate figures.

accountability see individual accountability
acute illness 69–70, 74–82 agency see individual accountability antibiotic administration 41–42, 44
articulation work 121–139
concepts and definitions 121–122
data analysis 124–125
discussion and conclusions 134–137 emergence and evolution 121–122 initial management of requests by receptionists 128–129 interrupting practices for non-routine repeat prescribing work 131–134, 135
managing growing volume of repeat prescriptions 126–128
methodology 123–125
patient trajectories 124
practical wisdom and conjectural knowledge 136–137 practice characteristics and fieldwork duration 123 practice interviewees by profession 123–124, 124 practice organisation of repeat prescribing 127
protocols and SOPs 125, 128, 135
receptionists in general practices 122, 125–134 repeat prescriptions 121–139 sampling and data collection 123–124
sociological research 6, 9 spatial dimension 125, 134–135
study findings 125–134
temporal dimension 124–125, 134–135
transferring practices for routine repeat prescribing work 129–131
Austin, J. L. 53
blame culture 28–29
bureaucratic healthcare 104, 108–113
checklists 4, 13, 45
communicative bureaucratic pressures 104–106, 111–112 competing priorities 146–147 conjectural knowledge 136–137 consent forms 89
continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) 42 cooproduction of safety 95–97
corporate governance 52–68
board time by discussion topic 56
concepts and definitions 52–53
data collection and analysis 56
discussion and conclusions 64–66
dramaturgical framework 54–66 foundations of performativity 53 Hajer’s dramaturgical categories by study site 58
methodology 54–56
performativity of governance 54 rise of performativity 53–54 sample selection 55–56
sociological research 3, 10
study design 54–55
study findings 56–58
study sites 55
trust 107, 108–110, 114–115

Index

CPAP see continuous positive airway pressure culpability trees 36

culture
  individual accountability 41–42
  policy, practice and research 23–24, 28–30
  sociological research 10
  trust 102
  see also organisational culture

data collection 144–145

deficit model 28

dramatistical framework artefacts 58, 60
  board governance of patient safety 59–64
  board time by discussion topic 56
  corporate governance 54–66
  discussion and conclusions 64–66
  Hajer’s dramatistical categories by study site 58
  methodology 54–56
  performance 62–64
  performativity of governance 54
  physical setting 58, 60
  scripting 58, 59
  staging 61–62
  study findings 56–58
  study sites 55

EE see emotional energy

effective learning 102, 103–104, 110–113

elderly patients 78–80, 82

elective surgery 88

emergency room (ER) 148 emotional energy (EE) 142, 146–148

emotional response 93

ER see emergency room

error reporting 140–141

Forgive and Remember (Bosk) 26, 37–38, 45

Foundation Trust (FT) hospitals 54–55

FT see Foundation Trust

general practitioners (GP)
  articulation work 121–122, 125–134
  sensemaking 91–97
  see also primary medical care

Goffman, Erving 53

Gold Standard, The (Timmermans and Berg) 28

governance see corporate governance

GP see general practitioners

HAI see hospital acquired infections

Hajer, M. 54–66

hierarchies 148

hospital acquired infections (HAI) 140–154

ICU see intensive care units

individual accountability 36–51
  allocation of responsibility 36–37 calculus-like approaches 36–37
  concepts and definitions 36–39 consequences of failures/errors 44–47, 49
  discussion and conclusions 47–50 ethnographic case studies 39 externally-imposed deprivations of control 43–44 formal standards 48
  forums 44–49
  methodology 39–40
  moral agency 38, 42–43, 47
  norms of responsibility 37–38, 42–44, 48–49 organising principles 38–39
  policy, practice and research 25, 28–29
  protocols 41–42
  sociological research 4, 9, 11–12
  study findings 40–47
  trust 111

infections
  corporate governance 62–64
  individual accountability 41–42, 44
  interaction rituals 140–154
  sociological research 5–6, 11

instrumental bureaucratic pressures 104, 110–112

intensive care units (ICU)
  interaction rituals 145–149
  rescue 69, 76–79, 82
  interaction ritual chains (IRC) 142, 147–148
interaction rituals 140–154 accessing interactions through accounts 143 characteristics of interview sample 144
competing priorities 146–147
concepts and definitions 140–143
data analysis 145
discussion and conclusions 150–152
emotional energy 142, 146–148 factors that influence speaking up 141–142 finding mutual focus of attention 145–147
hierarchies 148
hospital acquired infections 140–154 individual-cognitive factors 141–142
methodology 144–145
microsociological theory 142–144, 148, 150–152 narrating situational and organisational realities 143 organisational culture 140–143, 149–150 past interactions 147–149 presence of an audience 149–150 relational approach 141–142
sociological research 5–6, 11–12 speaking up and the patient safety movement 140–141
study findings 145–150
time-pressured clinical work settings 145–147 IRC see interaction ritual chains key performance indicators (KPI) 61
knowledge-sharing
articulation work 122
sociological research 8
trust 102–103, 105, 115
KPI see key performance indicators
labelling 99
M&M see morbidity and mortality
maternity services
rescue 3, 69–70, 74–77, 80–82
sociological research 3

Medical Nemesis (Illich) 24–25
mental health care
interaction-time, competence and care 113–115
inter-professional relations 110–113
productivity and learning 110–113
professional and service user relations 113–115 quality and performance governance 108–110
rescue 79
sociological research 8–11
trust 102–120
vicious and virtuous cycles 115–118 workplace trust 108–110
microsociological theory 142–144, 148, 150–152
Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust 20–21, 52–53 mobility work 125
moral agency 38, 42–43, 47
morbidity and mortality (M&M) meetings 44

National Institute for Health Research (NIHR) 71–72
National Patient Safety Alert System 52–53
National Research Ethics Service (NRES) 88
negotiation 92
NIHR see National Institute for Health Research
NRES see National Research Ethics Service

organisational culture
individual accountability 41–42, 48
interaction rituals 140–143, 149–150
policy, practice and research 29–30
trust 102–103, 114–115, 117–118
orthodox paradigm
policy, practice and research 19–20, 22–24, 28–31
sociological research 1–2, 4–5, 8–12
Index

Patient Safety Collaboratives programme 52–53
patient safety movement 140–141
Patients for Patient Safety (PFPS) 6–7
patient trajectories 70–71, 75 patient trajectories work 124 performance governance 108–110 performativity 53–54
PFPS see Patients for Patient Safety
policy, practice and research active errors versus latent factors 22–24
blame culture 28–29
cause-and-effect model 22–23
culture 23–24, 28–30
emergence and evolution of the field 18–19 epistemology of quality and safety 29
orthodox paradigm 19–20, 22–24, 28–31
power and politics 30 regulatory procedures 19–20
self-regulation 22–23, 25 service-level problem 20–21 social problem of healthcare quality and safety 19–22
sociological research 2, 8, 11–13, 24–29
specialist agencies 21–22
trust 104, 112
politics 10–11, 30
power 30
practical wisdom 136–137
primary medical care
articulation of safety 89–91
articulation work 121–139
proactive patients and the co-production of safety 95–97 reflecting on safety in practice 91–94
repeat prescriptions 121–139
sensemaking 87–101
sociological research 7–8, 9–11
proactive patients 95–97
protocols
articulation work 125, 128, 135
individual accountability 41–42
Q Initiative 9
quality governance 108–110

RAG see red-orange-green
rapport 113–114
reciprocal trust 111–112
red-orange-green (RAG) ratings 60–61
repeat prescriptions
articulation work 121–139
initial management of requests by receptionists 128–129
interrupting practices for non-routine repeat prescribing work 131–134, 135
managing growing volume of repeat prescriptions 126–128
practice organisation of repeat prescribing 127
protocols and SOPs 125, 128, 135
sociological research 6, 9
transferring practices for routine repeat prescribing work 129–131
rescue 69–86
acute illness 69–70, 74–82
acutely ill crocks in medical wards 78–81 categorisation and ordering practices 71
data collection 72, 74
discussion and conclusions 81–82
elderly patients 78–80, 82 ensuring safety, quality and efficiency 76–77 ethnographies of work practices 72 interpretations of practice 72–73 managing patient trajectories in hospital settings 70–71, 75
maternity services 69–70, 74–77, 80–82 observation of ward/unit activity 72 primacy of real emergency in maternity 80–82 rescue imperative in maternity and medical care 75–76 research project 71–74
risk management strategies 70, 77
sociological research 3, 11
structural features of research sites 73
study findings 75–81
track and trigger systems 76–77, 79
resilience 110
restructuring healthcare systems 2–3 retention of staff 110
self-regulation 22–23, 25
sensemaking 87–101
articulation of safety 89–91
concepts and definitions 87
discussion and conclusions 97–100
emotional response 93
labelling 99
methodology 88–89
negotiation 92
physical environment 90–92 practitioner competence 90–92 presumption 98
primary medical care 87–101
proactive patients and the co-production of safety 95–97
reflecting on safety in practice 91–94 safety and sensemaking 87–88
sociological research 7–8, 9–11
strategies for psycho-social safety 94, 99
study findings 89–97
transparency 96–98
trust 93, 98–99
vulnerability 88, 91
Shipman, Harold 20
sickness absence 110, 113–114
SOC see standard operating configurations Social Organization of Medical Work (Strauss) 25
sociological research 1–17
concretisation 9–10
culture 10
emergence and evolution of the field 2 experiences, and contribution to quality and safety 6–8 future directions 8
key themes 1–2
organising for safety and quality 2–4
orthodox paradigm 1–2, 4–5, 8–12
policy, practice and research 2, 8, 11–13, 24–29
politics 10–11
technologies and practices of quality and safety 4–6 SOP see standard operating procedures speaking up 140–143
standard operating configurations (SOC) 125, 135 standard operating procedures (SOP) 125 stress 110
structured theory 4, 12
surgical training 26, 37–38
tacit knowledge 122
To Err is Human (IoM) 21, 30
track and trigger systems 76–77, 79 transparency 96–98
trust 102–120
approach and design 106
bureaucratic healthcare 104, 108–113
concepts and definitions 102–103
data analysis 107–108
data collection 107
discussion and conclusions 115–118
effective learning 102, 103–104, 110–113
interaction-time, competence and care 113–115
inter-professional relations 110–113
knowledge-sharing 102–103, 105, 115
methodology 106–108
micro-dynamics of changing trust processes 105
organisational culture 102–103, 114–115, 117–118 participant characteristics 106
productivity and learning 110–113
professional and service user relations 113–115
quality and performance governance 108–110
rapport 113–114
reciprocity 111–112
salience of inferred interests for trusting relations 103–104 sampling and participants 106–107
sensemaking 93, 98–99
sociological research 8–11
stress, sickness absence and staff retention 110, 113–114 <table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>trust (Continued)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>study findings 108–115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>supervision, meetings and other time pressures 112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>theoretical framework: trust chains 103–106, 115–118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vicious and virtuous cycles 115–118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>workplace trust 108–110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UK Health Foundation 24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vicious and virtuous cycles 115–118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vulnerability</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sensemaking 88, 91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>whistleblowing 140–141</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>