Index

Note: Page numbers in italics refer to Figures; those in bold to Tables.

ADEA see Australian Diabetes Educators Association (ADEA) advanced glycated end products (AGE), 9 adverse events (AEs), 178
Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), 5
Alimo-Metcalfe’s (2008) model, 217
American Association of Diabetes Educators (AADE), 136, 151
American Diabetes Association (ADA), 5
American Medical Association, 164 artistic expression, 106–7
Australian Diabetes Educators Association (ADEA), 66, 152, 221

Beliefs about Medicines Questionnaire (BaMQ), 191 brain, learning and cognitive functions, 37
dendrites, 35
iron, 38
mind-body fitness, 38–9
myelination process, 36
neural pathways, 35, 35
repetition, 36
specific learning activities, 35
Brief Medicines questionnaire (BMQ), 191

catchy phrases, 161–2
certified diabetes educators (CDEs), 139 complementary and alternative medicines and therapies (CAM), 181–2 computer-supported intentional learning environment (CSILE), 41 consumer medicines information (CMI), 192 continuing professional development (CPD), 223 continuous partial attention (CPA), 40 Conversation Maps™, 168
creative arts, use in diabetes care
  artistic expression, 106–7
  healthcare delivery
    clinical relationship, 100 disease, 99–100
  patient accompaniment, 100–101
  therapeutic education, 100 medical identity, 98–9 modes of expression, 101 painting
  autonomy, 106
  continuous transformations, 105 difficulties, 105
health condition and quality of life, 104 introspection, 103–4 personal emotions, 103
psychological strength, 106 reactivation of emotions, 104–5 self-esteem increase, 106 structure of, 102
promoting creativity, 101
creative arts, use in diabetes care (cont’d)
  self-expression, 101
theatre of lived experience actors, 110–111
  blood glucose, 107
  cancer, 108
  gaining perspective, 110
  glycosylated haemoglobin, 107, 108 harmful influence, 108 lighting and music, 109, 111 moderator, 111
  origin, 106
  participants, 110
  stage director, 111
  structure, 109
therapeutic education
  benefits, 113, 114
  HCPs, 113
  left and right cerebral hemispheres, 112 transformation process, 111 verbalising silence process, 112 DCCT see diabetes control and complications trial (DCCT) decision support systems (DSS), 208
diabetes
  educator’s role
    active listening, 72
    presence, 76
  glucose homeostasis, 2–3
  long-term complications autonomic and peripheral nerves, 8 emotional distress, depression and burnout, 9 macrovascular disease, 8 microvascular disease, 8 pregnancy, 9
    UKPDS, 8
management aims, 7–8
overview of, 1–2
prevalence of, 1–2
signs and symptoms of diagnosis, 5
  diabetic ketoacidosis (DKA), 3
  gestational diabetes (GDM), 4–5 non-compliance, 4
  self-management, 6–7
T1DM, 3
T2DM, 3, 4
diabetes control and complications trial (DCCT), 177
diabetes diagnosis
  beliefs and attitudes, role of
    chronicity, 14
    cognitive restructuring techniques, 18
    HbA1c, 15
  illness perceptions, 16
  insulin use, 17
  long-term complications, threat of, 18
  medication-taking behaviour, 15
  personal experience, 17
  PIR, 16
  SMBG, 18
  type 2 diabetes, 14
diabetes diagnosis
  beliefs and attitudes, role of
  chronicity, 14
  cognitive restructuring techniques, 18
  HbA1c, 15
  illness perceptions, 16
  insulin use, 17
  long-term complications, threat of, 18
  medication-taking behaviour, 15
  personal experience, 17
  PIR, 16
  SMBG, 18
  type 2 diabetes, 14
emotional reactions
  consultations, 20
  depressed mood, 19
  individual’s frustrations, 20
  retinopathy, 19
emotional reactions
  consultations, 20
  depressed mood, 19
  individual’s frustrations, 20
  retinopathy, 19
illness/wellness behaviours, 22–3 social factors
  clinic appointments, 21 cultural pressure, 22
  family disease, 21
  health literacy, 22
  self-care behaviours, 21
Diabetes Education and Self-Management for Ongoing and Newly Diagnosed (DESMOND) programme, 167 diabetes education leadership, 225, 226, 228–9
Diabetes Literacy and Numeracy Education Toolkit (DLNET), 166
Diabetes Numeracy Test (DNT), 166 diabetes self-management education (DSME), 133 AADE, 151
catchy phrases, 161–2
clinical experience
  indigenous people, 154
  insulin-related fear, 156
  LADA, 155
  old age, 155
  rephrasing questions, 156
  seven self-care behaviours, 152, 153 T2DM diabetes, 155
teachable moment, 154
tick box assessment tools, 153 consistent and correct terminology, 159–60 cultural sensitivity and diabetes education, 170–172 disabilities, 169–70

Dunning (2009) brief tool, 173, 173 evidence-based practice, 151
Flinders model, 152
group education, 166–9
health literacy, 164–6
honesty, 159
individual’s knowledge and experience, 161
language, 172
learning styles
daily activity, 157
teaching strategies, 157, 158–9 principles of adult learning, 152 right questions to ask, 163–4, 164 simplifying complex concepts, 160–161
visual aids, 162–3
diabetic ketoacidosis (DKA), 3

educational neuroscience, 32
effective communication, 70–72
electronic health records (EHR), 205 emotional intelligence, 73 empathy, peer leaders
patient relationships
American Association of Diabetes Educators, 145 diabetes self-care, 143 educational learning and training, 146 goal setting and problem solving, 145 scientific evidence, 144
self-management, 144
social support, 142–3
sympathy, 142
exceptional educators attributes
contributors, 65–6
Internet blogs and publications (2011), 65 spirituality, 66
transformational journey, 66
presence, 75

diabetes care and education, 67–9
HbA1c, 62
healing, 63–4
holism, 63
HP’s duty of care, 72–4
in-depth interviews, 63

individual limits, 67
learner’s achievements, 64
listening, 72
philosophy, 69–70
reflection, 74–5
self-care, 75
therapeutic relationship, 70–72 wounded healer, 74
experiential knowledge, 34
expressive writing, 93

Feltman teaching tool, 171, 171
Flinders model, 152
free fatty acids (FFAs), 3 general practitioners (GPs), 6, 69, 170, 187, 192
gestational diabetes (GDM), 4–5, 161
gestures, 80
 glucometer, 160
glucose lowering medicines (GLM), 177 glycaemic control (HbA1c), 15, 59, 94, 127, 151, 165 goal hierarchies, 52, 52
Great Man theory, 216, 218
group education
common sense model, 167
Conversation Maps™, 168
DESMOND programme, 167
diabetes educators, 166
experienced facilitators, 169 issues, 168, 168
social learning theory, 167
T2DM, 169

healing process, 63–4
healthcare information technology (HIT)
diabetes education
behaviour changes, 202
coaching, 203
defensible reactions, 202
healthcare providers, 204
HONcode, 203
overview, 204, 204
self-efficacy, 203
diabetes management tools analytic tools, 206–7
diabetes registers, 205–6 EHR and shared care, 205 healthcare information technology (HIT) (cont’d) internet and networks, 200–202 personal health tools and self-care e health ecosystem, 207, 207 PHR and decision support systems, 208–9 self-management tools and remote monitoring, 209–211 healthcare providers (HCPs), 113
health literacy, 164–6
Health on the Net Foundation (HON), 203 health professionals (HPs) see diabetes care high fasting glucose (FPG), 3 high-risk medicines (HRM), 178 HIT see healthcare information technology (HIT) hyperglycaemic, hyperosmolar states (HHS), 5
IAPO see International Alliance of Patients’ Organisations (IAPO) IDF see International Diabetes Federation (IDF) impaired glucose utilisation (IGT), 3
indigenous people, 154
informed decisions
  behaviour-serving goals actions and values, 53, 54 approach goals vs. avoidance goals, 54 catastrophic failure, 55 higher order goals, 53
    interactions, 56
    people’s behaviours, 55
HPs, 51
limited resources
  blood glucose levels, 57 cognitive decline and dementia, 58 conscientiousness, 57 ego resiliency/impulse control, 57 mental activity, 58
  pre-testing levels and performance, 57 resist temptation, 57, 58 quality of life benefits, 51 self-regulation, goals and values everyday behaviours, 52 hierarchical structures, 52 sexual harassment, 53
sleep, 59–60
SMARTER goals, 58–9
  tools and information, 50 injection-related anxiety, 16 intelligence style, 74
International Alliance of Patients’ Organisations (IAPO), 94
International Diabetes Federation (IDF), 229 islet cell antibodies (ICA), 5
language
  and attitudes, 82–4
body language
  complicated messages, 84
  diabetes educators, 85
  first impression, 85–6 unconscious movements, 84 communication skills, 79 components of
gestures, 80
  paralingual sounds, 80
  spoken words, 81
  written words, 81
culture
  effective communication, 88
  miscommunication, 87–8 psychosocial components, 88
  Talmud, 86
  technology, 87
  written information, 88
definitions, 79
diabetes educators, 227
effective communication, 88
exchanging information
  cognition, 90
  encoding and decoding, 89
  intentionalist, 89
  person-centred diabetes education, 90 perspective-taking, 89 knowledge and experience, 94–5 learning, 81–2
narrative medicine, 91
power of, 82–4
reading fiction, 91–2
social cognition, 79
voices, 90–91
writing, 92–3
latent autoimmune diabetes in adults (LADA), 2, 155 laws of learning, 32, 33
leadership
  Australian diabetes educators, 227 competencies and attributes
ADEA core competencies, 221–2, 222
CPD, 223
people-oriented leadership style, 223
self-efficacy, 224
self-reflection, 223
definition, 218
diabetes
clinical care, 225
education, 225, 226
research, 225–7
Dunning and Manias’ (2008) survey, 227 education and care of people, 224–5 functions, 220
historical perspective behaviour categories, 216 engagement, 217
followers’ behaviour, 217
Great Man theory, 216
high performing organisations, 217 international diabetes educator leaders survey, 227, 228
philosophies, theories and models, 220–221 styles and the key leader traits, 218, 219–21, 220
learning theory
behaviourism, 31
brain research, 32
cognitivism, 31
constructivism, 31–2
neuroeducation theories, 32
transformational learning, 32
Logical Levels Model, 128

medicine-related errors evidence-based strategies and process, 180
overview, 179
medicines adherence report scale (MARS), 191 medicine self-management beliefs and behaviours, 177
CAM, 181–2
carers, 186–7
compliance, 183–4
diabetes educators and medicine management, 194–6 the diabetic’s perspective costs, 184
cultural customs and beliefs, 185 daily routines, 184–5 likelihood and side effect types, 184 proactive decision-making, 185 self-reported behaviour, 186 HP advice, 181

medicine compliance and optimal health outcomes, 188–9 assessed/measured, 190–194 factors, 190
non-compliance, extent of, 187–8 pill burden, 178
polypharmacy, 178
prescribers and educators perspectives, 186 QUM, 194, 195, 196
memory consolidation, 37
Morisky scale, 191
multiple intelligences, theory of, 73–4 nudging, 34–5
oral glucose tolerance test (OGTT), 5
paralingual sounds, 80
partial knowledge, 34
patient decision support systems (PDSS), 208 patient empowerment, 63
peer leaders
DSME
behavior changes, 138
clinical care, liaison/link, 137 evidence, 136
lifestyle coaches, 138 low-cost scalable interventions, 135 ongoing support, 137
social and emotional support, 137 social network, 137
standardised structure, 136 support/assistance, giving of, 134 target population, 135
WHO, 135
empathy
patient relationships, 143–6
social support, 142–3
sympathy, 142
low-cost initiatives, 134
SMS, 134
support and education
active listening, 140
CDE, 139
chronic illness, 138
lay health coach, 141
peer leaders (cont’d)
  limitations, 141
  OARS, 140
  SMART goals, 140
  standardised curriculum, 139 personal health record (PHR), 208–209
polypharmacy, 178
post-prandial hyperglycaemia, 3 principles of learning, 30 psychological insulin resistance (PIR), 16 quality use of medicines (QUM), 192, 194, 195, 196 reflection in and on action, 74–5 scientific knowledge, 34 self-knowledge, 72–3
self-management support (SMS), 134 self-monitoring of blood glucose (SMBG), 18 signpost, 81
social intelligence, 73
spatial knowledge, 34
tacit knowledge, 34
 teachable moment, 70
teaching and learning brain
    cognitive functions, 37
dendrites, 35
iron, 38
mind-body fitness, 38–9
myelination process, 36
neural pathways, 35, 35
repetition, 36
  specific learning activities, 35
diabetes education, 29
and knowledge, 32–4
laws of learning, 32, 33
learning theory
  behaviourism, 31
  brain research, 32
cognitivism, 31
constructivism, 31–2
neuroeducation theories, 32
transformational learning, 32
male and female brains, 39–40 memory, 36–7
nudging, 34–5
principles of learning and teaching, 29–31 proactive strategies, 41, 43, 44–5, 45 refresher programmes, 29
sleep, 39
technology
  CPA, 40
  psychological theories, 41, 42–3 teaching strategies see laws of learning;
  principles of learning
theory of mind, 92
therapeutic patient education (TPE), 99 transformational leadership theories, 217 turning points and transitions building resilience diabetes educator training curricula, 131 ecomaps and arts, 128
  Logical Levels Model, 128
  positive and negative transitions, 128, 128 promote/inhibit resilience, 129, 129 social awareness, 129 social facility, 129–30
  students growth and development, 130
definition, 120
diabetes-related transitions, 124, 124 disenchantment, 122
disengagement, 120
disidentification, 120, 122 disorientation, 122 growth and development, 120, 121 individual’s responsibility, 125 neutral zone, 122
  new beginnings, 122–3
  relationships, 124
seven ages of man
  individual self, 118
  Kubler-Ross’ grief cycle, 119 personality characteristics, 118 precarious moment, 120
Wei ji, 119, 120
signs, 125
strategies
  circumstances, 125
  comprehensibility, 126
  diabetes’ mid-life crisis, 127 manageability, 126
  meaningfulness, 126
  total situation, 125, 126
type 2 diabetes, 124
type-1 diabetes mellitus (T1DM), 2

visual aids, 162–3

type-2 diabetes mellitus (T2DM), 2

World Health Organisation (WHO), 99, 135

unconscious knowledge, 34 wounded healer theories, 74

United Kingdom Prospective Study (UKPDS), 177