Contents

About the Editor ix
About the Contributors x
Introduction 1

Part I  Political, Legal and Policing Context 9
1 The Impact and Consequences of Terrorist Legislation in the United Kingdom Since 2001: A Review 11
   Lord Carlile of Berriew, QC, and Carys Owen
2 Investigating Terrorism in the First Decade of the Twenty-First Century: A Different Sort of Crime 31
   Peter Clarke

Part II  The Criminal Justice Process 43
3 Challenge, Compromise and Collaboration: Part of the Skill Set Necessary for Interviewing a Failed Suicide Bomber 45
   John Pearse
4 Urgent Interviews and the Concept of Oppression in Terrorist Cases 66
   Max Hill, QC
5 Defence Counsel in Terrorism Trials 80
   Peter Carter, QC
6 An Garda Síochána Model of Investigative Interviewing of Witnesses and Suspects 100
   Geraldine Noone
7 Risk Assessment of Terrorist Offenders: A Challenge Too Far? 123
   Gisli H. Gudjonsson, Adrian West and Amy McKee
Contents

8 Hostage Negotiation and Communication Skills in a Terrorist Environment
  Simon Wells
  144

Part III Individual and Group Perspectives  167

9 Understanding Suicide Terrorism: Insights from Psychology, Lessons from History
  Andrew Silke
  169

10 Taking Anders Breivik Seriously as a Political Terrorist
  Robert Lambert
  180

11 Social Psychology and the Investigation of Terrorism
  Karl Roberts
  202

12 Community Surveillance and Terrorism
  Clive Walker and Simon McKay
  214

13 Thinking about Peace While Engaged in Counter-Terrorism: The Primacy of Intelligence
  John G. D. Grieve
  239

Index  259