index

Note: Page numbers in italics refer to Figures; those in bold to Tables.

abutment influence
artificial soft tissue management, 155, 156–7 concave submergence profile, 140, 141 connection procedures, 141 implant/abutment connection complex, 138 micromovements and microgap infiltration, 141–3 platform-switching design, 140 prefabricated Nobel BioCare abutment, 140 prosthetics, 147, 149–50 prosthetic requirements, 138 provisional and final restoration, 150–155 provisionalization phase, 140 switch platform concept, 143–7, 148–9 zirconium, 140, 140–141
AlloDerm®, 96–9
altered passive eruption
classification, 32, 34
clinical parameters, 33
description, 32
natural eruption of teeth, 34 alveolar bone
after tooth extraction, 39, 39–40 alveolar socket, 40, 40
Bio-Oss® Collagen, insertion, 40–41 buccal cortical plate thickness, 38, 38 characteristics, 37
crown lengthening, 37
delayed implantation, 44, 44–5 healed site 3 months after extraction, 40, 40 immediate implantation, 42, 43, 44 immediate implant placement, 38 late implantation ceramic shell, 49
cone-shaped resorbable membrane, 48 hard tissue and soft tissue augmentation, 45
new socket repair technique (NSRT), 47 post-extraction implant, 50 right lateral incisor (RLI) and right cuspid (RC), 46 RLI profile after healing abutment removal, 47 socket seal surgery, 45–6 soft tissue alterations, 47, 50 three-unit temporary bridge, 49 osseous biotypes, 37–8, 38 pre-extraction buccal cortical plate evaluation, 41, 41 sagittal root position, 38, 39 socket surgical management and implant placement timing, 42 artificial soft tissue management alveolar soft tissue crest, 155, 156 composite layer, 155, 156 hybrid prosthetic gingival restoration, 155 radio-alveolar x-rays, before and after extraction, 155, 156 smiling, 155
steps, 155, 156
transfer pin, 3D implant impression, 155, 156 white crown ceramic, pink gingival ceramic, 155, 156 beauty cosmetics, 1
 smile see smile
 Bio-Oss® Collagen, insertion, 40–41
cemento-enamel junction (CEJ), 21 Chu’s aesthetic gauges, 67–8 closed flap technique, type I-A after 6 months, 79, 81
after papilla anaesthesia, 80 bleeding, aspirin intake, 79, 81 diamond bur, 80
esthetic smile, 79, 81
initial consultation, 80 length, crown, 79, 81
marginal internal bevel incision, 79, 80 periodontal probe/Chu’s gauge, 81 proportions checking, 80 restorative interface complex, 81 short natural clinical crowns, 80 soft tissue margin removal, 79
connective tissue attachment (CTA), 20–21
connective tissue graft (CTG) procedure “creeping attachment,” 93 full-mouth periapical and bitewing radiographs, 88 graft harvesting, 93
keratinized gingiva, 86, 87
plasticopteriodontal treatment, 88 pontics see pontics and CTG timing tunneling pouch technique see tunneling pouch technique connective tissue growth factor (CTGF) expression, 100
crown lengthening, 68
crown lengthening procedure asymmetrical gingival levels, 70
biological width, 68
closed flap technique, type I-A, 79–81 factors, adopted approach, 85 gingival resection and harmonization altered passive eruption, 74, 76–9 flap elevation, 70, 74, 75 with/without osseous resection, 70–74 indications alveolar bone resection, 68–9 architecture, gingival margin, 70
gummy smile, 68
nonrestorative cases, 69

© 2013 John Wiley & Sons, Ltd. Published 2013 by John Wiley & Sons, Ltd.
crown lengthening procedure (cont’d)
objective, 69–70
subgingival preparation, 69, 69
midfacial, 70
open flap technique, type I-A/type IB/type II B, 81–4
periodontal biotype, 70

DAGU see dentoalveolar gingival unit
(DAGU)
dental esthetics esthetics-specific treatments, 7
senior citizen’s smile, 10–12 smile-related quality of life see smile-related quality of life social and psychological reasons, 7 dentoalveolar gingival unit (DAGU) biochemical space bone remodeling around one- or two-stage implants and teeth, 65 dentogingival complex, 63–4 distance between bone crest and junctional epithelium, 63 natural tooth biological width, 63 Sharpey’s fibers inserted on natural root cementum, 64
subgingival preparation, 64
“biological width,” 20
bone see alveolar bone
components, 20
connective tissue attachment (CTA), 20–21
gingiva see gingiva
interproximal bone height see interproximal bone height
junctional epithelium (JE), 20–21
PWES see pink/white esthetic score
(PWES)
sulcus depth, 20
tooth
ceramic chip on the cuspid, 53
Chu’s T-bar, 52
dental composition, 50
disproportion, 53
factors, 50, 52
gender differences, 53
mandibular anterior, 53
natural passive eruption see natural passive eruption
parameters, 52
rice-shaped lateral incisor, 53
right bicuspid to left bicuspid, 52
triangular, ovoid, rectangular, square and malpositioned, 51
width, average maxillary central incisor, 52–3

EMD see enamel matrix derivative
(EMD)
Emdogain®, 100
enamel matrix derivative (EMD), 88, 100
esthetic implant treatment advantages, minimally invasive surgery, 157, 158
anterior region, 102
difficulties, 103
effective management, 159 factors, peri-implant mucosa architecture, 157, 158
gingival contour, 103
high smile line/gingival recession, 102, 103
intracoronal crown preparation, 159 maxillary teeth, scaling and root planning, 159
osseointegration, 102
peri-implant risk factors antiseptics, 104
buccal bone resorption, 104
calcium and nicotine staining, 104, 105
conditions, infection cycle, 103–4 diabetic patient, checking blood sugar, 104, 105
local, general and psychological risk factors, 106
older patients, 103
oral hygiene, 104
periodontal dental prophylaxis, 104, 105
plaque, supragingival areas, 104 systemic factors, 105–6 thickness, keratinized gingiva, 104 tobacco, 104, 105
published works, 157
single central incisor, 103 soft tissue management see soft tissue management
thick cortical bone, presence, 103 vitro-ceramic e.max® restorations, 159 esthetic periodontal treatment bioengineering materials
Emdogain®, 100
enamel matrix derivative, 93, 100 flap elevation technique, 94, 95–7
full-mouth periapical and bitewing radiographs, 93
mucogingival surgery, 100
Mucograft®, 93
occlusal guard, 100
substitutes, donor connective tissue, 100
region, 103
subgingival preparation, 64
“biological width,” 20
bone see alveolar bone
components, 20
connective tissue attachment (CTA), 20–21
gingiva see gingiva
interproximal bone height see
interproximal bone height
junctional epithelium (JE), 20–21
PWES see pink/white esthetic score
(PWES)
sulcus depth, 20
tooth
ceramic chip on the cuspid, 53
Chu’s T-bar, 52
dental composition, 50
disproportion, 53
factors, 50, 52
gender differences, 53
mandibular anterior, 53
natural passive eruption see natural
passive eruption
parameters, 52
rice-shaped lateral incisor, 53
right bicuspid to left bicuspid, 52
triangular, ovoid, rectangular, square
and malpositioned, 51
width, average maxillary central
incisor, 52–3

EMD see enamel matrix derivative
(EMD)
Emdogain®, 100
gingival recession coverage see gingival recession coverage
harmonious smile, 66
periodontal therapy, 67
phases, 66, 67
esthetic, teeth
broken left central incisor, 162 implant treatment
objective, 163
philosophy, 163
multiple class I/II gingival
recession, 161
NobelProcera™ restoration, 162 peri-implant esthetic stability, 162 periodontal plastic surgery disproportioned clinical crown, excess gingiva, 161
longer teeth and less gingiva, 161 philosophy, implant treatment, 163 role, clinician, 163

face anatomical disorders, 13 attractiveness and symmetry, 13 buccal region, 13
left-right asymmetries, 13, 14
tooth display, 13
gingiva
biotypes
anatomical parameters, 26
bone, 25
classification, gingival/alveolar same thickness, 24, 24
evaluation, marginal bone loss, 27
gingival contour, 22
implant survival rate, 27 maxillary and mandibular anterior regions, 26
medium biotype, 24, 24
subgingival restorations, 25 thick, flat biotype, 23, 23–4 thickness, 25–6, 27
thin, scalloped biotype, 24, 24 tangential probing, 25, 26
cemento-enamel junction (CEJ), 21
esthetic considerations frequency and magnitude, distal displacement, 22
gingival margin, 21–2
gingival zenith, 21, 22 heights, maxillary canines, 22 gummy smile see gummy smile
recession, 35–7
gingival recession
Class I and II, 35
classification, 35–6
Class IV, 35, 36
prevalence, 35
prognosis, 36
with osseous resection, altered passive eruption adequate gingival tissue, 74, 76 forced eruption, 74, 79, 79 inadequate gingival tissue, 74, 77 with/without osseous resection, natural passive eruption confident and enthusiastic smile, 72 continuous silk sutures, 71 double contour incisions, molars, 72 end, surgical session, 73 excessive amounts, KG, 71 excessive gingiva, 72, 73 gingival disharmony, 72

gingival margin checking, right anterior teeth, 73 harmony, lip contour, 74 higher incision, lateral, 73 internal beveled supracrestal incision, 71 large band, KG, 71
longer teeth, 72
6-month postoperative result, 74 patient, with makeup, 74 pigmented attached gingiva, 71 scalloped internal bevel incision, 72 semilunar marginal internal incision, 73 short crowns and absence of make-up, smile, 71 2 weeks after surgery, 74 x-ray, central incisors, 73 gingival smile see gummy smile
gummy smile
altered passive eruption see altered passive eruption dental etiology
clinical situations, 32, 33 short clinical crowns, 32 diagnosis, 33
gingival exposure, 27–8
more than 3 mm, gingival tissue, 27 muscular etiology
hypertonicity, upper lip, 30, 30 injection, Type A botulinum toxin, 31, 32 short upper lip, 30, 31 surgical techniques, 31
symmetry/asymmetry, upper lip, 30, 31 osseous etiology characteristics, skeletal abnormality, 27, 28, 29 orthodontic treatment, 29 therapeutic challenges, 33 therapeutic protocols, 28 impact of esthetics
on behavior, 5–6
full-mouth restoration with ceramic, 7 NobelProcera™ shells, 7
self-esteem, 5
unnatural smile, with old full-mouth ceramic restoration, 7
interproximal bone height dental relation Class 1, Class 2 and Class 3 IHB, 55–6 clinical aspect, interdental spaces, 55 height differences, 57, 58 interdental papilla, 56
IP, ACP, and IABC relationship, 55 large diastema, 57
relationship, contact surfaces and interdental papilla, 57 free gingival margin, 55 interproximal implant relation apico-coronal proximal biological width position, 61 configuration, interdental papilla, 60–61 horizontal and vertical relations, 59, 59–60, 60 mean follow-up time, 61
junctional epithelium (JE), 20–21
Laser-Lok® collar, 109–10
lips
anterior esthetic zone, 13 dynamic stages, smiling, 15 lower lip, 19
relationship between lips, teeth and gingiva plus the alveolar bone, 15 size, smile, 13
smile lip line see smile lip line upper lip see upper lip line lower lip line, 19
microgap infiltration, 151–3 Mucograft®, 93
natural passive eruption, 54
new socket repair technique (NSRT), 47
NobelProcera™ restoration, 162
NobelProcera™ shells, 7
open flap technique, type I-A/type IB/type II B adequate tooth proportion, 81, 83 apically repositioned flap, 81, 83 apical partial flap dissection, 84 asymmetrical excess, gingiva, 81, 82 bone crest, resection, 81, 82 disproportion, width and length, 81, 82 final crown restorations, 81, 83
gingival disharmony, 81, 82 harmonious relation, teeth and gingival contour, 81, 84 healing, 81, 83
internal bevel sulcular incision, 84
marginal internal bevel incision, 84 5 months, final teeth preparation, 81, 83 osseous resection, 81, 82 presurgical temporary crowns, 81, 82 surgical session end, 81, 83
osseointegration, 102
over-buccally inclined implant
gingival recession, 130 submarginal concave submergence profile, 131, 133–4 peri-implant mucosa thickness alveolar ridge preservation and augmentation, 117 Biomet Prevail® implant, 117, 118 buccal bulk and thickness, 117, 119 buccal/proximal contour, 117, 119 ceramic implant restoration, 117, 119 connective tissue graft, 117, 118 flapless extraction, left central incisor root, 117, 118
keratinized gingiva, 117
3 months after surgery, 117, 118 prerequisites, 119
reinforcement, peri-implant gingiva, 117 retro-alveolar x-ray, 117, 118 severity, tissue recession, 117 socket seal epithelial connective graft, 119 techniques, quality improvement, 119–20 temporary crown, concave submergence profile, 117, 118 pink/white esthetic score (PWES) cusp with Class II gingival recession, 62 definition, 61
healed site, 62
platelet-rich fibrin (PRF), 129
platforming switching see switch platform pontics and CTG adjacent implants, 131
anterio roots, 134, 137 former transitional bridge, 134, 137 four-unit zirconium bridges, 134, 136 gingival tissue and residual ridge, 134, 136 gold abutments, 134, 137 immediate temporary abutments and crowns, 134, 137 implant restoration, cuspid and pontic, 134, 135 mandibular incisors replacement, 134 maxillary incisors replacement, 134
mandibular incisors replacement, 134 multiple implants, 131 placement, implants, 134, 137 provisional bridge restoration, 134, 136 scored pontic area, 134, 135 screwed pontic area, 134, 135 screwing, prosthesis, 134, 136 soft tissue contour, 134, 135 sulcus area, 134, 135
zirconium restorations, 134, 135 provisionalization, implant restoration cement line and preparation, 155 concave submergence profile, 154 concave temporary crown, 150, 152 convex soft tissue contour, 150, 152 CTG, tuberosity, 150, 151, 152
description, 150
double palatal pedicle flaps, 150, 152 denture hygiene, 150, 153 emergency profile, peri-implant soft tissue, 150, 153 implant exposition, 150, 151 laceration, sulcular epithelium, 154
NobelProcera™ restoration, 154 occlusal view, healed ridge, 150, 151 palatal pedicle flap, 150, 151 prosthetic recommendations, 155 screwed temporary crown, 150
soft tissue contour, 150, 152 temporary acrylic crowns, 150, 153 temporary crown, 150, 152, 153 thick biotype, 154
PWES see pink/white esthetic score (PWES) roll technique, before/after implant exposition ceramic restoration, 125, 130 compromised buccal ridge, 125, 130 connective-bone sliver graft, 127 CTG insertion, 125, 130
keratinized palatal tissue, 125, 129

senior citizen's smile
aging, 10
behavior, 12
importance, appearance and physical features, 11 increasing demand, 11–12 maxillary teeth, 10–11

“young elderly” population, 11

smile
definition, esthetics, 160 esthetic dentistry, 4
esthetic orthodontics, 3
gingival, 160
implantology, 3
laminate veneers, 2
before periodontal surgery, 2
periodontal therapy, 3
right central implant restoration, 3 staging, 4
unpleasant-looking teeth, 1, 2

smile lip line
harmonious smile, 16
“high lip line smile” / “gummy smile,” 15–16 low lip line smile, 16
medium lip line smile, 16 position of the smile line, 15

smile-related quality of life Class II, division I disharmonious smile, 8 demand, 7
dentofacial appearance, 8, 9 implant-supported prostheses, 10 periodontal health and smiling patterns, 9 replacement of missing teeth, 9 unpleasant right-side profile, 10-year-old girl, 8

soft tissue management abutment influence see abutment influence after extraction, tunneling flap see tunneling flap, implant placement after temporary crown/final restoration centrifugation, 129–30 implant insertion, 127, 131
laminate veneers, 127, 131
leukocytes presence, 130 loose lateral incisor, 127, 131 microflap elevator, 127 neovessels, 130
physiological resorption, 130, 132
platelet-rich fibrin (PRF), 129 provisional restoration, 127, 131 apical migration, implant junctional epithelium, 109 before/after implant exposition see roll technique, before/after implant exposition connective tissue graft and pontics, 131, 134, 135–8, 138, 139 crestal bone resorption, 108–9 disharmonious gingival contour, 107 facial tissue height and contour, 107

healing, 107–8
implant design
back-tapered coronal design, 111 divergent, parallel and convergent cervical collars, 111, 111 types, 111, 111
implant position
apico-coronal, 113, 113
buccolingual, 112, 112–13 digital instrumentation, 113, 115 mesiodistal, 112, 112
model-based, 113, 114
tridimensional implant position and angulation, 113

Laser-Lok® collar, 109–10
left central incisor implant restoration, 107 machine submerged implants, 108, 108 marginal tissue recession, 108 natural teeth, optimal proportions, 106, 107 over-buccally inclined implant, after placement, 130–131, 133–4 parameters, esthetic risk, 110, 111 peri-implant cases, 107
peri-implant mucosa thickness see peri-implant mucosa thickness prosthetic design
Biomet Prevail® implant, 115, 116 marginal bone maintenance, 115, 117 microgap and micromovements, 115
Morse cone abutment, 115, 116
Nobel Abutment®, 115, 116
Nobel Curvy™ abutment, 115, 117
NobelReplace™ conical connection, 115, 116 seal, 115
single anterior implants, 108 time of extraction
after 2 weeks, 120, 121 Bio-Oss® allograft, 120, 121 broken left incisor, 120, 120 buccal view, gingival contour, 120, 123 ceramic, zirconium abutment, 120, 122 crest occlusal view, 120, 121
CTG insertion, 120, 121
CT scan, left central incisor, 120, 120 harmonious and thick gingival contour, 120, 123 interposition, 124
maturaton, soft tissue, 120, 122 NobelReplace™, 120, 122 one-line incision, connective tissue graft harvest, 120, 121 palatal roll flap procedure, 120, 122 restoration, 120, 123
screw-type zirconium monoblock abutment, 120, 123 soft tissue, after 4 weeks, 120, 122 thickness and length, CTG, 120, 121 zirconium monoblock screwed abutment crown, 120, 123 tooth extraction, 110 visual perception, implant, 108
switch platform concept adjacent implant restorations, 144 advantages, 147
biomechanical analysis, 145
horizontal offset, 146
implant/abutment connection, 143 maintenance, cervical bone, 144 marginal bone loss, 145 Morse cone connection, 144
peri-implant bone resorption, 144 T-bar gauge, 68
tunneling flap, implant placement BioGuide®, 124, 124
bulky appearance, soft tissue, 124, 125 cleaned alveolar socket, 124, 124 connective bone silver, 125 flap, sutured, 124, 125 healing abutment, 124, 126 immediate placement, 124, 124 partial thickness dissection, 124, 125 perforation, buccal tissue, 124, 124 with resorbable sutures, 124, 125 rolled pedicle connective graft, 124 soft tissue recession, 124 subepithelial connective tissue graft, 124, 127–8 tissue contraction, 125 tunneling pouch technique and recession coverage advantages and disadvantages, 88 full thickness mucoperiosteal flap reflection, 88 gingivoplasty, 91
healing and plaque control, 91 improved gingival thickness and color harmony, 88, 90 large and thick CTG insertion, 88, 90 mouth, rest, 88, 89
postoperative frontal view, 88, 90 postoperative right maxillary, 88, 90 root surfaces, 91
smile, 88, 91
subepithelial/acelluar collagen matrix types, 91–2 transversal sounding, 88, 89 vascularity, 91
vertical sounding, 88, 89 1 year post-operative view, 88, 90 and ridge augmentation palatal connective tissue graft, 93 stages, submerged connective tissue grafts, 92, 92–3 upper lip line
factors for variation, 17
lip gloss, 18
maxillary gingiva, 19
support, 17
thick lips, 17–18
thin lips, 18
unesthetic facial morphologies, 19 zirconium abutment, 140, 140