CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ix

INTRODUCTION: “Unraveling the Mysteries” 1

PART ONE

“IT ALL BEGAN ON A WARM SUMMER’S EVENING IN GREECE”: ARISTOTELIAN INSIGHTS

1 Aristotle on Sheldon Cooper: Ancient Greek Meets Modern Geek 7
   Greg Littmann

2 “You’re a Sucky, Sucky Friend”: Seeking Aristotelian Friendship in The Big Bang Theory 21
   Dean A. Kowalski

3 The Big Bang Theory on the Use and Abuse of Modern Technology 35
   Kenneth Wayne Sayles III

PART TWO

“IS IT WRONG TO SAY I LOVE OUR KILLER ROBOT?”: ETHICS AND VIRTUE

4 Feeling Bad about Feeling Good: Is It Morally Wrong to Laugh at Sheldon? 51
   W. Scott Clifton
CONTENTS

5 . . . But Is Wil Wheaton Evil? 65
Donna Marie Smith

6 Do We Need a Roommate Agreement?: Pleasure, Selfishness, and Virtue in The Big Bang Theory 80
Gregory L. Bock and Jeffrey L. Bock

PART THREE
“PERHAPS YOU MEAN A DIFFERENT THING THAN I DO WHEN YOU SAY ‘SCIENCE’”: SCIENCE, SCIENTISM, AND RELIGION

7 Getting Fundamental about Doing Physics in The Big Bang Theory 99
Jonathan Lawhead

8 Sheldon, Leonard, and Leslie: The Three Faces of Quantum Gravity 112
Andrew Zimmerman Jones

9 The One Paradigm to Rule Them All: Scientism and The Big Bang Theory 128
Massimo Pigliucci

10 Cooper Considerations: Science, Religion, and Family 144
Adam Barkman and Dean A. Kowalski

PART FOUR
“I NEED YOUR OPINION ON A MATTER OF SEMIOTICS”: LANGUAGE AND MEANING

11 Wittgenstein and Language Games in The Big Bang Theory 161
Janelle Pöttsch

12 “I’m Afraid You Couldn’t Be More Wrong!”: Sheldon and Being Right about Being Wrong 175
Adolfas Mackonis
CONTENTS

13 The Cooper Conundrum: Good Lord, Who’s Tolerating Whom? 189
   Ruth E. Lowe

14 The Mendacity Bifurcation 203
   Don Fallis

PART FIVE

“THE HUMAN EXPERIENCE THAT HAS ALWAYS ELUDED ME”: THE HUMAN CONDITION

15 Mothers and Sons of The Big Bang Theory 219
   Ashley Barkman

16 Penny, Sheldon, and Personal Growth through Difference 233
   Nicholas G. Evans

17 Deconstructing the Women of The Big Bang Theory: So Much More Than Girlfriends 244
   Mark D. White and Maryanne L. Fisher

THE EPISODE COMPENDIUM: “Hey, It’s a Big Menu—There’s Two Pages Just for Desserts” 257

CONTRIBUTORS: “But If We Were Part of the Team . . . We Could Drink for Free in Any Bar in Any College Town” 261

INDEX: “Cornucopia . . . Let’s Make That Our Word of the Day” 267