Contents

Foreword by Betty Kershaw  xii
Preface  xiv
Acknowledgements  xv
Dedication  xvi
List of contributors  xvii

Part I: Setting the Scene of Practice and Walk-in-Centre Nursing  1

1 The historical development of practice nursing and walk-in-centre nursing  3
Maria C. Hill, Carol L. Cox and Shuling Breckenridge

- Introduction  3
- Learning Outcomes  3
- Background  3
- Practice nursing  4
- WiC nursing  5
- Extended role in PN and WiC nursing  8
- Conclusion  8
- References  9

2 Practice nursing: the unique nature of practice nursing  11
Maria C. Hill

- Introduction  11
- Learning Outcomes  11
- Background  11
- The GMS contract  14
- Practice nursing: a roller-coaster ride  14
- Education and training: are today’s PNs equipped for their role in primary care?  16
- Carpe Diem  19
- Conclusion  20
- References  20
3 Walk-in-centre nursing: the unique nature of walk-in-centre practice

Jane Bickerton

Introduction 22
Learning Outcomes 22
Background 23
What is the clinical role of the nurse in the WiC setting? 23
Communication interactions 26
Promoting health and well-being in a WiC setting 27
Clinical decision-making support 27
Non-medical prescribers 28
Clinical supervision 29
Educating nurses in a WiC 29
A nurse-led service 32
Establishing a WiC 33
Urgent care environment 34
Patient satisfaction with WiC health care 35
Conclusion 35
References 36

4 The context of practice nursing and walk-in-centre nursing: domains of practice and competencies – setting the scene

Carol L. Cox

Introduction 39
Learning Outcomes 39
Background 40
Origins of the advanced practice role in the UK 41
Delineation of advanced practice 42
Role of the advanced practice nurse 44
Educational preparation 45
Practice and WiC nursing and future directions of advanced clinical practice nursing 49
Conclusion 50
References 51

Part 2: Domains of Practice

Domain 1: Management of Patient Health/Illness Status

5 Critical thinking and diagnostic reasoning in clinical decision-making

Nita Muir

Introduction 59
Learning Outcomes 60
Background 60
What is a decision? 61
Theories of decision-making 61
The analytical stance on decision-making 62
The middle ground 66
Knowledge within decision-making 68
Errors within clinical decision-making 70
Systems that improve decision-making 71
Clinical decision support systems 72
Reflective practice 73
Conclusion 73
References 74

6 Health education and health promotion 78
Daryl Evans

Becoming a health-promoting nurse in general practice and walk-in centres: Introduction 78
Learning Outcomes 79
Background 79
Integrate with public health and health improvement strategies 80
Ensure the nursing care structure enables all opportunities for health promotion to be taken for every patient 82
Develop one-to-one skills of conversation and motivating behaviour change 84
Settings-based health promotion – working towards a healthy organisation 86
Involve local support groups and reach out to the local community 89
Keep up to date with news and take opportunities to study 90
Conclusion 92
References 93

Domain 2: The Nurse–Patient Relationship 95

7 Working with individual patients and groups: creating and strengthening relationships 97
Karen Thompson

Introduction 97
Learning Outcomes 97
Background 98
8 Confidentiality, privacy and dignity: ethical, legal and cultural issues 119
Nicola L. Whiteing

Introduction 119
Learning Outcomes 120
Background 120
Domain of practice area with specific competencies 121
Key points in relation to the competencies for Domain 2 131
Conclusion 132
References 132

Domain 3: Education Function 137

9 Anticipatory guidance: National Service Frameworks 139
Victoria Lack

Introduction 139
Learning Outcomes 139
Background 139
Domain 3: The education function 140
How does anticipatory guidance relate to the NSFs? 145
Knowledge of preventive strategies 146
Pre-requisites for giving anticipatory guidance 148
Conclusion 152
References 152

10 The creation of an environment for effective learning 155
Marie C. Hill

Introduction 155
Learning Outcomes 155
Background 155
Adult learning theories 156
Adult learning 162
Domain 3: The Education Function 163
Creating a learning environment 166
Conclusion 169
References 169
Domain 4: The Professional Role

11 Clinical supervision: reflective practice; learning through experience
   Christopher Johns

   Introduction 173
   Learning Outcomes 173
   Background 173
   Reflective dialogue 174
   Deeper reflection 179
   Reflection 179
   Burford reflective and holistic model 181
   Conclusion 184
   References 184

12 Use of theory and research to inform practice
   Jane Bickerton

   Introduction 186
   Learning Outcomes 186
   Background 187
   Domain of practice 188
   Health care research in practice 198
   Conclusion 201
   References 202

Domain 5: Managing and Negotiating the Health Care Delivery System

13 Collaboration and working with the multidisciplinary team and agencies
   Kathryn Waddington

   Introduction 209
   Learning Outcomes 210
   Background 210
   Communication and partnership working 212
   Interprofessional discourses 214
   Factors promoting effective collaboration 214
   Organisational theories and collaboration 215
   Using metaphor to understand collaborative working 216
   Using metaphor to promote team reflexivity 219
   Putting it all together 220
   Conclusion 221
   References 222
14 Leadership and organisational decision-making: the nurse’s role in implementing policy and practice 226

Kathryn Waddington

Introduction 226
Learning Outcomes 226
Background 227
The big picture 227
A critical approach 228
Policy formation, implementation and analysis 230
Policy and organisational decision-making 230
The sources and dynamics of power 231
The current policy environment 233
Looking back at leadership in the NHS 233
New leadership agendas for PNs – linking theory and practice 234
Transformational and transactional leadership 235
Leading advanced practice in primary care 236
The ‘dark side’ of practice 237
Shifting dysfunctional cultural patterns 237
Conclusion 239
References 240

Domain 6: Monitoring and Ensuring Quality of Health Care Practice 243

15 Implications of the new GMS contract 245

Marie C. Hill

Introduction 245
Learning Outcomes 245
Background 245
Domain of practice area content with specific competencies 247
PNs and the new GMS contract 249
The QoF 250
The new GMS contract: is it working? 254
Practice nursing and the new GMS contract: implications of role development and expansion 256
Conclusion 258
References 259

16 Art and science of providing quality nursing care in general practice and WiC settings 261

Carol L. Cox

Introduction 261
Learning Outcomes 261
Domain 7: Respecting Culture and Diversity

17 Meeting the cultural and spiritual needs of patients in general practice and WiCs
Anjoti Harrington

18 Cultural diversity within the general practice and walk-in-centre settings
Maisie Allen