CONTENTS

Preface ix

PART I: Brain: Then and Now 1

Chapter 1: Brain Basics
–changes in the brain over eons 3

Chapter 2: The Learning, Changing Adult Brain
–experience, memory, and emotions 33

Chapter 3: Metaphors, Embodiment, and Hemispheres
–foundations of brain-aware approaches 59

PART II: Practices That Enhance Adult Learning
–featuring the Theatre of Knowing 81

Chapter 4: Setting the Stage for Learning
–lowering anxiety, engaging curiosity 91

Chapter 5: Enter Stage Left
–starting with verbal-theoretical-conceptual approaches in mind 115

Chapter 6: Enter Stage Right
–starting with embodied and metaphorical approaches in mind 135

Chapter 7: Center Stage
–interweaving multifaceted approaches 175
Contents

Chapter 8: Spotlight on Meaning Making
   –scaffolding reflection and feedback 215

PART III: Reflecting on Practice 245

Chapter 9: Enhancing Brain-Aware Practice with Theory
   –foundational theories of learning and development 247

Chapter 10: Toward Complexity and Commitment
   –learning that promotes courageous informed action 287

Epilogue 311

References 315

Acknowledgments 331

About the Authors and Contributors 333

Name Index 345

Subject Index 349