Contents

Preface vii

0 Read Me: It All Starts Here 1
The experiential learning cycle and personal learning styles 2
The case study and its characters 6
Case study 6
Case study characters 7
Family tree 11

1 The Life Course as an Organizing Framework 13
Roles across the life course 15
Current roles: a snapshot of the ‘now’ 20
Stages and developmental tasks across the life course 22
A quick recap 31
Ecological niche 32
Generic developmental tasks 35
The person of the therapist 36

2 The Client in Context 37
Life space mapping 38
Stability zones: anchors in the personal life space 43
The personal life space in a life course context 46
Change in the personal life space 48
Continuity in the personal life space 50

3 Life Events 54
Coping with life events: the ‘4-S’ model 56

4 Transition and Loss 71
Life events as processes: the dynamics of personal transitions 73
The experience of loss 81
Contents

Post-traumatic growth 82
Loss in a life course context 86

5 Stress and its Management 89
- Defining ‘stress’ 92
- Multimodal-transactional model of stress 97
- Managing stress 100
- Interventions 103
- Coping across the life course 105

6 Planful Decision-making 108
- Problem management and opportunity development 110
- Decision-making in a life course context 125

7 Telling Tales 127
- Narrative characteristics 128
- The function of narrative 131
- Narrative forms 135
- Narratives of distress 137
- Story styles 139
- The use of metaphor 142
- Conclusion 143

8 Becoming and Belonging as an Occupational Therapist 145
- Career Story: Harjit 146
- Becoming and belonging 148
- Career Story: Jeanette 154

9 Developing Professional Practice 160
- Career Story: Ian 160
- Reflective practice 166
- Supervision 167
- The therapeutic use of self 170
- The therapeutic self 172

Key Terms and Concepts 177

References 190
Index 200