Index

Page numbers in italics refer to tables and boxes; g indicates glossary.

4-S model of coping effectiveness 56–70, 101, 177g abstract conceptualization 2, 4, 6 accepting reality and letting go 77–9 active experimentation 2, 4, 5–6 active listening 86
activities as stability zones 44, 45 adolescence 28, 130, 177g adulthood
  early 28, 48, 88, 130, 180g emerging 28, 88, 181g
  late 29, 49, 106, 130, 182g middle 29, 48–9, 86–7, 106, 130, 184g affect multimodal-transactional model 97, 99, 104, 105
  see also emotion
age norms 131–2, 177g
agency, human 144, 182g
Allan, H. and Barber, D. 172–3, 174 assertion skills 102–3
assessment of life events 60–1 associational involvement 170–1, 172 autonomy/independence as career anchor 163 BASIC-ID model 97, 98, 103–5 becoming and belonging, occupational therapist’s career 148–59 behaviour, multimodal-transactional model 97, 99, 104, 105 belongings as stability zones 44–5 bereavement 73, 91, 178g
  see also loss
biology/drugs, multimodal-transactional model 97, 100, 104, 105
Bowlby, J. 73, 74
Bronfenbrenner, U. 32, 33
Calhoun, L. and Tedeschi, R./Tedeschi, R. and Calhoun, L. 82, 84–5, 86 career anchors 162–4, 178g career stories 145
  Harjit 146–8, 162
  Ian 160–2, 165, 168
  Jeanette 154–8, 162
case study 6
  and characters 6–12
census of options (PMOD) 118–20 challenge as career anchor 163 chaos narratives 137–8, 139 childhood
  early 27, 105–6, 130
  middle 27, 130, 184g
Index

client–health professional relationship see therapeutic self clinical supervision 167–9, 178g Cochran, L. 132
cognitions 178g
multimodal-transactional model 97, 99–100, 104, 105
comedy narratives 135–6 competences as career anchors 163 compliant decision-making 109, 110 concrete experience 2, 3, 5–6 concurrent stress and life events 60, 89 conflicting narratives 132 constructive and destructive aspects of social networks 67–8 continuing professional development 160–76, 179g continuity 50–3, 179g
controllability of life events 58–9, 63 convoy 47–8, 111, 179g coping effectiveness, 4-S model 56–70, 101, 177g coping strategies 69–70, 100–5, 179g change across life course 105–7 creative idea generation 115, 118 creativity 180g
entrepreneurial, as career anchor 163–4 techniques for promoting 114–16, 118 Creek, J. 166
cultural norms and values as ecological niche 33–4, 35 cyclical models
of intentional change 63–6, 113, 124–5 of supervision process 168–9
decision-making 108–9
clinical supervision 167–9
life course context 125–6
process vs outcome 125
styles 109–10, 180g
see also problem management and opportunity development (PMOD) dedication/service as career anchor 163 deep acting 173–4
demographic characteristics 62, 180g demonstrative involvement 171 Department of Health 167–8 destructive and constructive aspects of social networks 67–8 developmental tasks 180g
across life course 22–31, 35–6 life stage and health issues 27–9 drugs/biology, multimodal-transactional model 97, 100, 104, 105 duration of life events 60 dying, stage model of 73, 74, 188g early adulthood 28, 48, 88, 130, 180g early childhood 27, 105–6, 130 ecological niche 32–5, 180–1g
Egan, G. 112
Egan, G.E. and Cowan, M.A. 111 emerging adulthood 28, 88, 181g emotion
-focused coping strategies 103, 106
intuitive decision-making 109, 110 see also affect entrepreneurial creativity as career anchor 163–4 environmental influences in decision-making 126 environmental stimuli model of stress 93–4 Erikson, E.H. 25–6, 62
establishing goals (PMOD) 117
evaluation (PMOD) 122–3 evolving stories 141
experiential learning 181g and cyclical model of supervision process 168–9 and personal learning styles 2–6 exploration (PMOD) 113
Index

external continuity/discontinuity 50–1, 53

family trees see genograms fitness to practice 56, 181g focusing (PMOD) 113–14
force-field analysis 120–1, 122, 181g Frank, W.A. 136, 137, 139, 141 frozen stories 141
Frye, N. 135, 136

general adaptation syndrome 94–5, 182g

geotranscendence 26
Gergen, K.J. and Gergen, M.M. 135
Goodman, J. et al. 56–7, 101, 103, 154

health issues, life stages and developmental tasks 27–9 health professional–client relationship see therapeutic self Health and Safety Executive (HSE) 95

Hochschild, A.R. 173–4
Holmes, T.H. and Rahe, R.H. 93
human agency 144, 182g

ideas and values as stability zones 44 identity 129, 130–1, 182g professional 148–59, 162, 165 illness narratives 137–9 imagery, multimodal-transactional model of stress 97, 99, 104, 105 immobilization, shock and 74–5 implementation (PMOD) 121–2

incomplete stories 140–1 independence/autonomy as career anchor 163 individuality and normative life events 24–5, 31 infancy 27, 182g

information issues in decision-making 119–20, 126 institutions and systems as ecological niche 33–4 integration 80–1

intentional change 182g

cycle of 63–6, 113, 124–5 internal continuity/discontinuity 50, 51–2 Internet 45

interpersonal relationships, multimodal-transactional model 97, 100, 104, 105

intertwined stories 140

intuitive/emotional decision-making 109, 110 ironic/satirical narratives 136 isolated stories 140

Kolb, D. 2, 5–6, 168
Kubler-Ross, E. 73, 74

late adulthood 29, 49, 106, 130, 182g
Lazarus, A.A. 97
Lazarus, R.S. 95, 97, 101

and Folkman, S. 95, 96
learning styles 2–6
learning tasks

career anchors 164
coping strategies 69, 101
cycle of intentional change and PMOD framework 124–5
decision-making 108–9
developmental tasks across life course 23 evolving life structure 49–50 force-field analysis 120–1, 122

Index

- gains and losses 83–4, 87
- genogram of Case family 11–12
- learning style 3–5
- life events 54, 61, 63
- life space 39–41, 47
- life stories 133–5, 142
- life-career rainbow 20
- lifeline 128–9
- metaphors and mood 143
- occupational therapist’s career 147–8, 149, 158–9, 164, 166–7, 175
- roles 15, 21–2
- social support networks 68–9
- stability zones 46
- stress 91–2, 96
- ‘on time’ and ‘off time’ events 30–1
- transitions 72, 81
- letting go, accepting reality and 77–9
- Levinson, D. 32, 48–9, 79, 148, 165
- life course 13–14, 31, 182–3
- personal life space 46
- roles across 15–19, 31
- stages and developmental tasks across 22–31, 35–6
- life course perspective 183g
- manifesto 14
- life crises see midlife crisis/transition;
  psychosocial crises
- life events 55–6, 71
- 4-S model of coping effectiveness 56–70, 101, 177g
  see also loss; stress; transitions
- life space
  change in 48–50
  continuity in 50–3, 179g
  life course context 46–8
  mapping 38–43, 183g ‘sectors’ 37–8
  see also stability zones
- life structure 183g
  evolution of 49–50, 125, 183g
- life-career rainbow 16–20, 31, 38, 49, 182g
- lifestyle as career anchor 164
- locus of control 59, 183g
- loss
  experience of 81–2
  life course context 86–8
  and post-traumatic growth 82–6, 138, 186g of stability zones 82, 140–1
- McAdams, D. 13, 129–31, 133, 141
- managerial competence as career anchor 163
- maximax strategies (PMOD) 119
- maximin strategies (PMOD) 119
- May, C. 170–1
- metaphors 142–3, 184g
- middle adulthood 29, 48–9, 86–7, 106, 130, 184g
- middle childhood 27, 130, 184g
- midlife crisis/transition 48, 184g
- mind mapping 115–16, 118, 184g
- minimization, reaction and 75–6
- motivation
  and cycle of intentional change 63–4
  occupational therapist’s career 162–4
- mourning see grief
- multimodal-transactional model of stress 97–100, 103–5, 184g
- narratives 127–8
  characteristics of 128–31
  of distress (illness narratives) 137–9 forms of 135–6, 184g
  function of 131–5
  importance of 143–4
  story styles 139–42, 188g
  use of metaphor 142–3
- negative and positive life events 55
- non-normative life events 29–30, 185g
- normative life events 24–5, 29–30, 31, 185g
Index

norms
  age 131–2, 177g
cultural 34, 35

occupational therapists 36 becoming and belonging 148–59
  continuing professional development 160–76, 179g
  see also career stories occupations and life stories 144 ‘off time’ events 30–1, 91, 185g
  ‘on time’ events 30–1, 185g optimizing strategies (PMOD) 118v19 optimum continuity 53
organizations as stability zones 45
Palmer, S. 104
  and Dryden, W. 97, 98, 99–100
Parkes, C.M. 83
Pearlin, L.I. and Schooler, C. 102
Peavy, R.V. 37–8
personal and demographic characteristics 62 personal learning styles 2–6 personal life and professional functioning 165 personal life space see life space Phillips, D.Z. 172, 173 pie charts 20, 21–2, 38, 186g places as stability zones 44 planful decision-making 109–10 planning ends (PMOD) 114–17, 123 positive and negative life events 55 post-traumatic growth 82–6, 138, 186g previous experience and life events 60 primary involvement 171–2 problem management and opportunity development (PMOD) 110–25, 186g
  as cumulative process 123–4
  and cycle of intentional change 113, 124–5
and cyclical model of supervision process 168–9
  stage 1: situational review 112–14, 123 stage 2: planning ends 114–17, 123 stage 3: deciding means 118–21, 123 stage 4: words into deeds 121–3 problem-focused coping strategies 103, 106 process model of stress 95–6 Prochaska, J.O. et al. 63–4, 80, 113 professional identity 148–59, 162, 165 professional reflection 165 see also reflective observation; reflective practice programme choice (PMOD) 120–1 progressive narratives 135 psychological resources 62–3 psychosocial crises 25–6, 187g Purtillo, R. 172
quest narratives 138–9, 141
de Raeve, L. 171, 173, 174 reaction and minimization 75–6 reflective observation 2, 3–4, 5 reflective practice 166–7, 187g reframing (PMOD) 114–16
regressive narratives 135 response model of stress 94–5 restitution narratives 137, 138, 139 Roberts, J. 139–41
role(s) 187g
  across life course 15–19, 31
  balance 16, 17, 20–2, 31 change and life events 59
  current and changing 20–2
  life-career rainbow 16–20, 31, 38, 49, 182g
  model 132, 187g
  overload 17, 31, 95–6
romance narratives 136

204
Index

Salmon, P. 144
satirical/ironic narratives 136
satisficing strategies (PMOD) 119
Schein, E.H. 162–4
Schlossberg, N.K. 71
search for meaning 80
security/stability as career anchor 163 self 164–5, 187g
  4-S model of coping effectiveness 62–6, 70, 101
  -concept 50–1, 187g
  -doubt 76–7, 137–8
  -esteem/self-worth 22, 30, 187g
  -focused coping strategies 102–3, 105
life events of, and others 55–6 see also therapeutic self Selye, H. 94
sensations, multimodal-transactional model 97, 99, 104, 105
service/dedication as career anchor 163 setting as ecological niche 32–4 shock
  general adaptation syndrome 94 and immobilization 74–5 situation
  4-S model of coping effectiveness 57–61
  -focused coping strategies 102–3, 105
review (PMOD) 112–14, 123 see also entries beginning environmental skilled helper model 112 Skovholt, T.M. 152, 157, 165, 168
  and Ronnestad, M.H. 148, 152
SMART goals 117, 188g
social clock 131, 188g
Social Readjustment Rating Scale 93 social support 22, 44, 46, 188g
  4-S model of coping effectiveness 66–9, 70, 101
stability narratives 135 stability zones 43–6, 188g loss of 82, 140–1
stability/security as career anchor 163 stage models
  of dying 73, 74, 188g
  of grief 73, 74, 188g
stories see narratives
story style 139–42, 188g
stress
  concurrent, and life events 60, 89 definitions of 92–6, 189g indicators of 99–100
management see coping strategies models
  environmental stimuli 93–4 multimodal transactional 97–100, 103–5, 184g
  process 95–6
  response 94–5
  symptoms of 96–7
Super, D. 15–16, 17
supervision, clinical 167–9, 178g support
  and professional functioning 165
see also social support Symonds, Sir Charles 94

technical/functional competence as career anchor 163 Tedeschi, R. and Calhoun, L./Calhoun, L. and Tedeschi, R. 82, 84–5, 86 testing 79–80
therapeutic self 172–6
  use of 170–2
Thomas-MacLean, R. 138–9
time constraints in decision-making 126 time management 103
timing of life events 58, 91, 131–2 tragedy narratives 136

transitions
  dynamics of 73–81
  and turning points 71–3
  see also loss; stress triggers for life events 58
Index

unconditional positive regard 173, 189 unspoken stories 141

values
  as ecological niche 34, 35
  as stability zones 44

Wenger, E. 148, 152, 157
Wetherington, E. et al. 72
Wicks, A. and Whiteford, G. 143–4
Woolfe, R. 52–3
Wright, R. 36, 145, 164

206