Index

Note: Page numbers in italic refer to figures, those in bold refer to tables.

Accommodation, 26
Accredited Prior (Experiential) Learning (AP(E)L) schemes, 40
Active learning, 188
Act of denial, 30
Adult learning
and accepting responsibility, 36
assumptions concerning, 27 goals and purposes in, 17
influence of the facilitator in, 16 motivation of adult learner, 16
orientation to learning, 17
principles of, 11, 15–16
and prior experience, 16
and problem-based learning (PBL), 15–17
readiness to learn, 17
self-concept of the adult learner, 16
AI. See appreciative inquiry (AI)
Analytical eye, of learning, 148–51
contrasting viewpoints of, 156
Andragogy, theory of, 27
AP(E)L schemes. See Accredited Prior (Experiential) Learning (AP(E)L) schemes Appreciative eye, of learning, 151–52
contrasting viewpoints of, 156
role of the practitioner with, 154
vs PBL, 151–52
Appreciative inquiry (AI), 105, 147–48
Assessment, of PBL curriculum, 39–40 aim of, 88
benefit, 82
categories, 80
collaborative, 87–88
context, 83–85
literature resources related to, 88–89
method, 88–91, 90
as needs of future professional practice, 85
peer, 87
people available to undertake assessment, 85–88
reason for, 80–83, 81
self-assessment, 86–87
sustainable, defined, 82
in terms of marking, feedback and timing, 92
Assimilation, 26
Bourdieu’s relational notion of field, capital, and habitus, 204, 207, 210
Brainstorming stage, of PBL process, 11–12
Business management and PBL, 12
Canada, problem-based learning (PBL) in, 12
Capital forms of, 139–40
human, 144
role in globalising economies and higher education, 140–42
social, 143–44
Circular nature, of reflection, 100
Clinical reasoning, 105, 178
Clinical skills learning, in PBL, 21
Cognitive accommodation process, 26
Cognitive dissonance, 117, 211
definition, 28
experiment illustrations for, 28–31
Festinger’s theory of, 28
and PBL, 31–32
COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL
Cognitive structuring, through learning, 27
Cognitive structuring and restructuring, 27
Cohesiveness, of the group, 73–74
Collaborative assessment, of PBL curriculum, 87–88
Collaborative processes, 10, 19
development of, 10
Communication system, in PBL, 120
Compartmentalisation of learning, 42
Complementary processes, of knowledge incorporation, 26
Conflict management, 58–59
Conflict management, in group work, 74–75
Conformity, to group norms, 29–30
Connective strand, of reflection, 103
Consciousness, 104
Constraints, PBL-based curriculum, 39–40
Constructive alignment, concept of, 84–85
Constructive process, 18
Contemporary society, creativity in, 125–27
Contents, in PBL-based curriculum, 43
Contextual process, 19–20
Contractual partnership and PBL-based facilitation, 55
Co-operative learning, 27
Counter-dependency, role in PBL groups, 69
Counter-transference, 75–76
Creative eye, of PI, 155, 155
Creativity
contexts that triggers, 133–34
Csikszentmihalyi’s view, 126–27
defined, 126
in health and social care curricula, 128, 135
humanistic approach to, 127
and learning environment, 130–31
need in contemporary society, 125–27
and PBL, 128–30
phases of, 128
qualities and abilities of creative person, 126 role in PBL facilitation, 61
role of tutor facilitation, 131–33
and students’ self-understanding, 135 systems approach to, 127–28 theories, 127
and use of pictures, story boards, cartoons, video clips, 134 and use of role-play actors, 134
Critical consciousness, 104
Critical thinking, 19, 26
Csikszentmihalyi’s view, of creativity, 126–27
Cultural capital, 140
Curriculum design and lifelong learning, 176–77
Curriculum development, PBL-based, 119–20 approach to contents, 43
assessment of. See assessment, of PBL curriculum avoidance of duplication in, 43 benefits, 36–37
constraints, 39–40
curriculum documentation, 43
flexibility factors, 40–41
guidelines for students and staff, 43–44
implications for professional practice, 47–48
implications for university staff, 46–47
incorporation of PBL, 44–45
influencing factors, 38, 38–39
integrated design, 42
learning environment, 41
learning method for undergraduate and postgraduate students, 44
learning outcomes, 43
and lifelong learning, 176–77
linear design, 42
modular design, 41–42
peer learning groups, 49
planning stage, 44
for professional programmes, 39
progressive developments in, 43 reflection as a crucial element in, 108–9 resource implications, 48–49
spiral design, 42
structure, 37–38
student selection, 45
subject specific design, 42
value of ownership, 39
Daily activities and lifelong learning, 173
Deep learning, 10, 52
facilitating, 36
Delineating characteristic, of PBL, 9–10
Dental schools and PBL, 12
and experience of dissonance, 31
Developmental model, of PBL groups, 69–70
Didactic teaching methods, 52
Directive-conventionalist, 32
Dissonance theory, 28–29
Distance learning, 186
Dominance behaviours, management of, 76–77
Effective facilitation, PBL-based, 57, 59
Effective teaching, 26
Embedding knowledge, 133–34
Emotional intelligence, 85
Evidence-based practice, 174
Evolving (3D) vision of learning.
See Paradoxical inquiry (PI)
Experiential learning, 135, 175, 180
Expert knowledge and PBL-based facilitation, 59–63
Extrinsic factors, of motivation, 27
Facilitation, of groups, 18
depth learning, 36
Facilitation, PBL-based, 210–11
and allocation of staff time, 48–49 becoming a facilitator, 53
behaviours that constitute, 55–56 categories of intervention, 55–56 collaborative learning relationship, 54
conflict management, 58–59
contractual partnership and, 55 collaboration and creativity, and, 61
definition, 52
development of self-regulation, 54–55
effective, 57, 59
and expert knowledge, 59–63
feedback evaluation, 62–63 ‘good’ and ‘bad’, 55–57
of group processes, 57–58
in knowledge acquisition and application, 59–60, 142 and level of guidance from tutor, 60
major categories of intervention, 55–56
passive style of, 61
personal qualities and attributes of a facilitator, 53–54 Rogers’ view of facilitator, 54 role in developing creativity, 61 role of facilitator, 52–53, 63
as scaffolding student learning, 52 solution-focused approach, 60–61 solution focus principles, 60 support and preparations, 56–57
tutor preparation, 53, 56–57
Fact-based rote learning, 12
Factual strand, of reflection, 102–3
Feedback system, in PBL facilitation, 62–63
Festinger, Leon, 28
Festinger’s theory of cognitive dissonance, 28
Fish and Twinn’s strands of reflection, 104
Five-stage process, of PBL groups, 69
Flexibility factors, PBL-based curriculum, 40–41
Formative assessment, of PBL curriculum, 80–81
Foucault’s pendulum, 152–53
Fuzziness, of professional learning, 106
Geography and PBL, 12
Globalisation, relation with forms of capital, 140–42
Group, defined, 67
Group discussion, 26
Group dynamics, defined, 68
Group evaluation, in PBL, 192–93
Group processes defined, 68
and PBL-based facilitation, 57–58 Group work, 28, 205–6. See PBL groups
conflict management, 58–59
conformity to group norms, experiment, 29 coping with, 36
and creativity, 130–31
and social capital, 143
staff training for PBL teaching, 46 Guidelines for PBL groups, 72
for students and staff in PBL-based curriculum development, 43–44
Habitual monopolist, 71
Health and social care curricula creativity in, 128, 135 lifelong learning in, 176–81
problem-based learning (PBL) in, 10–11, 60–61, 204, 206–7
self-directed philosophy in, 189
Health visiting education and PBL, 12
Higher education
and PBL, 39
role in globalising economies,
140–42
Human capital, 140
in PBL, 144
Humanistic approach, to creativity, 127
Human mind, Piaget’s view, 27–28
Hybrid PBL, 12–13
Hypocrisy-induction strategy, 30
Hypotheses, in PBL process, 11–12
Iceberg, concept of, 103
Individual differences and learning, 17
Individual learning, 10 Individual players, in problem-based learning (PBL), 209–12
Influencing factors
lifelong learning, 176–81
PBL-based curriculum, 38, 38–39
Information, integration of, 10 Integrated design, PBL-based
curriculum, 42
Integrative approach, to learning, 154
Intellectual development, of children, 26
Interactional stance, of learner experiences, 166–70
Interactive process, 26
Internalisation of objects, 27
Inter-peer assessment, 87
Interpersonal attributes, for self-directed
learning, 193
Interpersonal skills
role of PBL, 11
for lifelong learning, 179
Inter-professional education (IPE), 41
Inter-professional learning (IPL), 41
Intra-peer assessment, 87
Intrapersonal attributes, for self-directed
learning, 191–93
Ipsative assessment, of PBL curriculum, 80
Johns’ model of reflection, 104
Juvenile delinquent, case study of, 29
Keynote lectures, 13
Knowledge contextualisation, 26, 28, 142 Knowledge economy and problem-based
learning (PBL), 142–43
Knowles, Malcolm, 27 concept of readiness, 27–28
on self-directed learning, 186
Kolb’s Experiential Learning Cycle,
103–4, 107
Lateral thinking, 11–12
Learner experiences, with PBL
defined, 162
interactional stance, 166–70
pedagogical stance, 164–66
personal stance, 162–64
Learning behaviour, in PBL approach,
20–21, 37–38
Learning contracts, 19, 193–94
Learning environment
creativity and, 130–31
effective, 56
in PBL-based curriculum, 41
Learning needs, in lifelong learning,
177–78
Learning outcomes, in PBL-based
curriculum, 43, 143
Lecture-based teaching, 12
Life expectancy, in the Western world, 174
Lifelong learning, 189
in the context of education, health and social care, 174
and curriculum design, 176–77
emphasis of motivation in, 176 factors contributing, 176–81
identifying learning needs in, 177–78 importance of, 173–74
interpersonal skills for, 179
key principles, 174
meaning of, 173
professional requirement for, 180
and reflective practice, 179–80
relation with PBL, 174–81
role in everyday life, 173
self-directed, 177
tutor support, 178
Linear design, in PBL-based
curriculum, 42
Long’s views, of self-directed learning, 186
Maastricht Seven Step Model, 13–15
McMaster University, Canada, 12
Medical students and PBL, 21
Mezirow’s model of reflectivity, 104
Mid-curriculum blues, 45
Index

Midwifery and PBL, 12
Mindfulness intervention, 30
Model of structured reflection (MSR), 104
Models, of PBL
  Maastricht Seven Step Model, 13–15
Modern learning, 17–20
elements of, 18
Modular design, in PBL-based
curriculum, 41–42
Monopolisers, 71–72
Motivated learner, 36
Motivation, 15, 17
  in children’s learning, 27
  extrinsic factors of, 27
  of the group, 73–74
  illustration of human, 28
  role in lifelong learning, 176–77 role in self-directed learning, 188, 197
Multidisciplinary teamwork, 179
  and PBL students, 48
Multidisciplinary working, 41
Narrative-type case studies, 134
Non-PBL students, 21
Nursing and PBL, 12, 32
  learning behaviour, 20–21
One-dimensional (1D) vision of learning.
  See analytical eye, of learning
Ontological resonance, 27
Optimum working stage, of PBL groups, 69–70
Orientation to learning, 15, 17
Overt reasoning, 178
Ownership, in PBL-based curriculum, 39
Paradox, defined, 153, 154
Paradoxical inquiry (PI), 148, 152–57
  contrasting viewpoints of, 156
  creative eye of, 155, 155
  in learning, 156
  problem solving in, 155
  support and application, 157
  use of, 156
Patchwork texts, 91
PBL groups
  challenges and solutions for, 70–71 commitment and motivation, 73–74
  dealing with tension and conflict, 74–75 developing team working skills, 76–77 developmental model of, 69–70
  five-stage process of, 69
  guidelines for, 72
  personality issues in, 71–73 process of transference and counter-transference, 75–76
PBL teaching, 46
PBL tutors, 46
Pedagogical stance, of learner experiences,
  164–66
Peer assessment, of PBL curriculum, 87
Peer reflection, 176
Peer review systems, 58
Personality clashes, 76
Personality types, effects on PBL group dynamics, 71–73
Personal qualities and attributes, of a facilitator, 53–54
Personal reflexivity, 116
Personal stance, of learner experiences,
  162–64
PI. See Paradoxical inquiry (PI)
Piaget, Jean, 26–28
Piaget’s concept, of readiness, 26
Positionality, 115
Positive learning, 10
Practical skills classes, 13
Practice-based disciplines, 10
  PBL approach in, 10–11
Practice-based learning, 180–81
Practice educators and PBL, 48
Pragmatic reasoning, 105
Preconceptions, effect of, 28
Principles of lifelong learning, 174
  of self-directed learning, 191
Prior experience, of the learner, 15–16
Proactive learning, 195
Problem-based learning (PBL)
  and adult learning, 15–17
  aim of programmes, 11
  approach to problem solving, 149
  benefits and limitations, 20–21, 150–51
  in Canada, 12
  chronology of development, 12–13
  clinical/placement, 10
  comparison with non-PBL students, 21
  as a construct, 25
  curriculum. See curriculum development, PBL-based cycle, 15
cycle linked to the creative analytical framework, 129
Problem-based learning (PBL) (continued)
definition, 9–10 delineating characteristic of, 9
for delivering professional programmes, 26
educational experiences in, 12, 21
group learning and sharing information, impact, 31
in health and social care, 10–11, 60–61, 204
idea of power and capital in, 205 individual players in, 209–12 integration with AI, 154
and knowledge economy, 142–43
learners’ focus in, 9, 13
as a learning tool, 205–9
and modern learning, 17–20
and practice placements, 48 principle of, 25
as a relational phenomenon, 203–5
relation with lifelong learning, 174–81
role in interpersonal skills, 11
role of placement educator, 47
Schmidt’s views, 10
and social capital, 143–44
structure of, 13
in United Kingdom, 12
use of a trigger or case scenario, 13, 18
use of small group work in, 205 vs practice-based learning, 180–81
See also learner experiences, with PBL;
PBL groups
Problem-based pedagogy, 52
Problem solving, with Pi, 155
Procedural knowledge, 175, 180
Process skills, for self-directed learning, 193–96
Professional competence, defined, 83
Professional developmental portfolio,
180, 196
Professional education, obligations of, 174
Professional identity, 36
Professional programmes, use of PBL for,
26, 39
Professional requirement, for lifelong
learning, 180
Propositional knowledge, 175, 180
Punishments, 26

Readiness, 15, 17, 117–18
and dissonance. See cognitive dissonance
Knowles’ concept, 27–28
for PBL, 28
Piaget’s concept, 26
Reading technique, in self-directed
learning, 195
‘Real-life’ problems, 9–10
Real-life scenarios, use in PBL, 10
Reasons, for learning, 27
Reflection
advantages of a reflective practitioner, 101
in an educational context, 105–7
circular nature of, 100
as a crucial element in PBL-based
curriculum, 108–9
defined, 99–101
environment for, 110
as evaluation, 100
link with clinical reasoning and CPD, 105
models of, 101–4
need for, 100
self-reflection, 100–101
stages of, 100–102
strands of, 102–3
teaching and assessment in PBL
curriculum, 107–9
timing of, 109–10
Reflective abstraction, 26–27
Reflective practice, 58, 85, 175
and lifelong learning, 179–80
Reflective practicum, 103
Reflective questions of the individual, 121
of the organisation, 122
of the pedagogy, 121–22
Reflexivity
defined, 115
model, for problem-based learning, 120–22, 121
and organisation, 119–20
personal, 116
and teaching of PBL, 118–19
Reinforcement theory, 29
human motivation and, 28–29
Relational phenomenon, 203–5
Repeated actions, 27
Repetition and learning process, 27–28

Quality Assurance Agency (QAA), 81
Resource implications, in PBL-based curriculum, 48–49
Retention rate, with PBL learning, 12, 21
Retrospective strand, of reflection, 103
Rewards, 26
Role-play actors, and creativity, 134
Scientific reasoning, 105
Self-assessment, 86–87
Self-awareness, 70
Self-concept, of the adult learner, 16
Self-directed learning, 17, 57, 61, 85, 148–49, 175, 177 analytical and synthesis skills, 195 confidence and belief in self, 192
in educational context, 186–87
expectations of, 188–91
identifying self-directed learner, 187–88
interpersonal attributes for, 193
intrapersonal attributes for, 191–93
Knowles’ description, 186
Long’s views, 186
motivational context in, 188, 197
principles of, 191
process skills for, 193–96
and professional developmental portfolio, 196
reading technique in, 195 role in coping with anxiety, 192
student expectation on becoming a self-directed learner, 189–90 from the students’ perspective, 196–97
time management in, 194
tutor expectations, 191
from the tutors’ perspective, 197–98
use of web-based learning environments, 195–96 vs distance learning, 186
Self-directed lifelong learning, 177
Self-directed study, 28
Self-esteem, 27
Self-evaluation, 118, 192–93
Self-knowledge, 180
Self-monitoring, 19
Self-reflection, 100–101
Self-reflexivity, in PBL, 116–20
Self-regulation, 21
development of, 54–55
learning, 21, 54–55
Situational differences and learning, 17
Skill development, to manage complexities, 169–70
Small group work, role in PBL, 205
Social capital, 140
in PBL, 143–44
Social interaction, 27
Social loafing, 73
Solution focus, principles of, 60
Solution-focused approach, in PBL-based facilitation, 60–61
Spiral design, in PBL-based curriculum, 20, 42
‘SQ3R’ method, of reading, 195
Strands, of reflection, 102–3
Student-centred nature, of the learning, 11–12
Student-directed learner, 186
Students centred nature, of the learning, 11–12
and collaborative processes, 10
and core principles in learning, 15–17
and deep learning, 10
definition for PBL, 9
expectation, on becoming a self-directed learner, 189–90
feedback system, in PBL facilitation, 62–63
guidelines for PBL-based curriculum, 43–44 issues regarding student selection in PBL, 45
lateral thinking, 11–12
and Maastricht Seven Step Model, 13–15
and mid-curriculum blues, 45 proactive, 26
problem-solving by, 10–12
reasons for assessment, 81
risky sexual behaviour, case study, 30 selection, PBL-based curriculum, 45
self-understanding and creativity, 135
and tutor relationship, 54, 61
Subject specific design, in PBL-based curriculum, 42
Sub-stratum strand, of reflection, 103
Summative assessment, of PBL curriculum, 80–81
Surface learning, 10
Sustainable assessments, 82
Systems approach, to creativity, 127–28
Task-orientated individuals, 19
Teams, defined, 67
Team working skills, development of, 76–77
coping behaviour, 36
Termination stage, of a group, 70
Theory of andragogy, 27
of cognitive dissonance, 28–29
of reinforcement, 29
Thinking process
autonomous, 36
and creativity, 132
in PBL, 36
of 4- to 12-year-olds, 26–27
Time management, in self-directed learning, 194
Traditional teaching methods educational experiences, 12
problems with factual knowledge acquisition, 10
vs PBL, 20–21, 25–26, 31, 52–53, 178
Transference, in PBL groups, 75–76
Transparency, 132
Trigger or case scenario, use in PBL, 13, 18
Trust, role in PBL groups, 69
Tutor
and feedbacks, 62–63
nursing tutors on a PBL programme, study, 32 perspective of self-directed learning, 197–98 preparation of, importance, 53
role in assessment, of PBL curriculum, 82–83, 86, 81 role in cultivating learning, 157 role in facilitating creativity, 131–33 role in group facilitation, 57, 59 role in PBL, 20, 52, 61
skills needed for PBL, 46–47
and student relationship, 54, 61
supporting students, 20
support in lifelong learning, 178
See also Facilitation, PBL-based
Two-dimensional (2D) vision of learning.
See appreciative eye, of learning
Undergraduate programmes and PBL, 45
United Kingdom
changing economies, impact of, 141–42 higher education courses in, 37, 39–40, 142 importance of lifelong learning, 174 massification of students in the context of knowledge economy, 142
PBL-based curriculum design, 42
problem-based learning (PBL) in, 12
University-based theoretical education, 10
Validated knowing, concept of, 119
Wandering learners, 41
Web-based learning environments, 195–96
Wheelan’s life cycle model, of group development, 69–70
Work-focused teams, 67
Working
in an expert environment, 36–37
in a culture, 36