abortion, 35, 42, 129
acceptance, 5, 6, 22, 38, 46 appreciative, 9, 11–12, 13 non-bigoted, 8, 9, 11–12
and tolerant society, 124, 125, 126–7, 128, 130 activity controversies, 5, 13–14
agonistic respect, 108
Amish, 5, 62, 64
appraisal respect, 92
appreciative acceptance, 9, 11–12, 13 associational liberty, 9, 9–10, 12 atheists see ‘new atheists’ autonomy, 2, 52, 68–75, 82, 83 and attitude of revisability, 70–2, 82 civic respect and full political, 93 and considered choosing, 69–70 criticism of and problems with, 73–5, 82 definition and central components of, 69–73
and liberalism, 2, 68–9, 72–4, 78 liberalism of conscience as an alternative to, 2, 68–9, 75–8, 81, 82 and self-reflection, 72, 82 toleration and respect for person‘s, 9, 14 unforced choice condition, 69 autonomy facilitating education, 4, 10–11
Balint, Peter A., 2, 123–33
Barry, Brian, 56, 57
basic structure of society, 90, 92, 101–2 coercive account of, 97–101, 102 profound account of, 98–100, 101, 102
Rawls’s definition, 97–8
Benn, Stanley, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 75
Berlin, Isaiah, 61
Bird, Colin, 2, 106–21
black Americans, 26
Buchanan, Patrick, 110
Bush, George, 110
Callan, Eamonn, 7, 68, 77
Canada, 56, 62, 124
capabilities approach, 68
Carens, Joseph, 56–7
censorship, 42
Cheung, Feliz, 129
children and compulsory exposure, 6 developing appreciative acceptance in, 9, 11–12 education of for future citizenship, 96–7 and families, 96
providing an autonomous facilitating education for, 10–11, 14 and provisionality, 6–7 upbringing of see upbringing of children Christians/Christianity, 5, 13–14, 46, 90, 109, 129 citizen
role of in tolerant society, 124–5 civic education, 2, 89–102 civic respect and political liberal, 91–5 and cultural diversity, 52–65
and mutual respect, 106–21 versus education, 117–21 civic respect, 2, 89, 91–5, 101 features of, 89, 92–3 limited scope, 92, 101
and political liberal civic education, 91–5 and public reason, 91, 92, 93, 94, 98 and reasonable pluralism, 89–90, 92, 93, 94, 97, 101 and recognition respect, 92, 101
Clayton, Matthew, 89, 98–9
Justice and Legitimacy in Upbringing, 98 coevolution
and autonomy, 69
and basic structure of society, 97–101, 102
Cohen, G.A., 99
compatibility thesis, 54, 60 compulsory exposure, 6, 10, 12 condescension, 42–4
conditional altruism, 79 conscience, liberalism of, 2, 68–9, 75–8, 81, 82 consensus, 43, 54, 60–4, 125 considered choosing
and autonomy, 69–70
cultural diversity
and civic education, 52–65 cultural pluralism objection, 2, 53, 54–60, 65 cultural pluralism, 60–2, 65 culture(s), 11, 23, 27, 47, 124 learning about other, 128 national, 54, 60
public, 97
and recognition, 20, 21, 30
Western, 73
as wholes, 30
curriculum
  and doctrinal controversies, 5
  and recognition, 20, 26, 28, 29

Dagger, Richard, 68, 69, 70, 79, 82
Dalai Lama, 129
Danish Mohammad cartoons, 23, 108, 116, 117
Darwall, Stephen, 92
Darwinism, 112
Davis, Gordon, 2, 89–102
Dawkins, Richard, 111, 112, 118, 119, 121 democracy, 44
  and linguistic diversity, 58–9 demographic profile of schools, 6 Dennett, Daniel, 111
dependency thesis, 54, 58
difference
costs and dangers of respect of, 131 mutual respect of, 128, 129–30 politics of, 26, 46, 47, 48 respect of and tolerant society, 123–4, 126, 127–31 diversity, 6
  accommodating of, 1–2, 4
civic education and cultural, 52–65 ‘division of labour’
  between state and parents, 89, 96–7, 102 doctrinal controversies, 5, 13
dress, 13, 31
Dworkin, Gerald, 68, 72–3, 117

education for citizenship, 124, 132 egalitarianism, 5
equality, 45, 63, 64
essentialism, 20

factual recognition, 28, 29
Falwell, Jerry, 110
family/families, 95–7
  as an institution that falls both within and without the basic structure, 96–7, 98
  and coercive account of basic structure, 97–101 and principles of justice, 95–6, 98, 99 Fish, Stanley, 106–8, 109–10, 113–14, 115, 116 forbearance tolerance, 8, 125–6, 127, 130 Forst, Rainer, 5, 8, 23
fragmentation objection, 52–65 civic education as corrective to, 64–5 cultural version of, 2, 53, 54–60, 65 value version of, 53–4, 60–4, 65 free speech, 76
freedom of exit, 76, 80

Galston, William, 73, 76
globalisation, 36
Goethe, 45
governmental tolerance/intolerance, 39, 44
Gray, John, 61
Gross, Elizabeth, 72
Gutmann, Amy, 19–20, 28, 68, 77
Harris, Sam, 111–12, 118, 119, 121 heteronomy, 2, 68–83
  and liberalism of conscience, 76–8
  meaning, 70
  objections to, 79–82
  and problems with autonomy, 73–5
Heyd, David, 132
Hitchens, Christopher, 111
homosexuality, 35–6, 42
Honneth, Axel, 46
Hutterites, 62
identity
  and recognition, 25, 29
  identity politics, 53
immigration/immigrants, 26, 55, 60, 62 inference, 36, 38, 58–9, 124, 125–6, 127, 128 individualism, 73
inequality, 43, 44
‘intelligent design’, 112, 118 intolerance, 18, 33, 35–6, 37, 38–40, 41, 44 irrelevance argument and value fragmentation objection, 61, 62–3
Islamic headscarves, 20, 24, 29
Islamophobia, 131
Jones, Peter Nigel, 1, 33–49
justice
  political conception of, 68, 90–2, 95
  and toleration, 37, 45
Kant, Immanuel, 68, 73, 92
Kukathas, Chandran, 73, 76
Kymlicka, Will, 55–6, 68, 69, 71, 73
Leggaard, Sune, 1, 17–31
Larmore, Charles, 73, 78
Levinson, M., 11
liberal nationalism, 53, 54–5, 57, 60 Liberal Principle of Legitimacy, 90, 91, 100 liberalism, 123, 133
  autonomy-based, 2, 68–9, 73–4, 78
  and mutual respect, 116, 117
see also political liberalism liberalism of conscience, 2, 68–9, 75–8, 81, 82 linguistic diversity and democracy, 58–9
Locke, John, 123

Macedo, Stephen, 68, 77
MacIntyre, Alasdair, 73
Macleod, Colin, 1, 4–14
Mill, John Stuart, 39, 58, 59, 68, 73

Considerations of Representative Government, 57 minority groups, 19, 21, 23, 26, 27–8, 29, 52, 55, 59, 60, 62, 76 modus vivendi settlements, 62–3 monarchy, 44
moral rights, 44
Mozert case, 64
‘multicultural classroom’, 6 multiculturalism, 2, 17, 25–6, 27 cultural fragmentation objection to, 2, 53, 54–60, 65
fragmentation objection, 52–65
value fragmentation objection, 53–4, 60–4, 65 multidimensional, toleration as, 7–8 Muslims, 20, 26, 46
and Danish Mohammad cartoons, 23, 108, 116, 117
and Islamic headscarves, 20, 24, 29 and Islamophobia, 131
mutual respect, 2, 8–10, 19, 24–5, 91–2, 106–21 of difference, 128, 129–30 and distinction between theoretical and practical reason, 117–18 as form of positive toleration, 25
and liberalism, 116, 117
meaning, 25
‘new atheists’ critique of and response to criticism, 111–13, 117–19 political liberal conception of see civic respect postmodern criticism and response to criticism, 2, 106–11, 112, 113–17 proposed conception of, 119–21 nationalism

and liberalism see liberal nationalism negative toleration, 18, 23–4, 25, 38, 45, 125
Neufeld, Blain, 2, 89–102
‘new atheists’
critique of religion and mutual respect, 111–13, 117–19 Nietzsche, Friedrich, 114 non-bigoted acceptance, 8, 9, 11–12 non-discrimination
and tolerant society, 123
non-equivalence argument, 61–2
North, Oliver, 110

Nussbaum, Martha, 68

Parekh, Bhikhu, 55, 57
parents, 12, 77, 96
‘division of labour’ between state and, 89, 96–7, 102
and doctrinal controversies, 13
and upbringing of children, 89, 97, 98–9, 102 particularised recognition, 46, 47, 48 patriotic education, 53, 54, 58, 59–60, 65 penal taxes, 39 permission conception of toleration, 23 personal toleration, 39–40, 49 pluralism, 1, 4, 6, 89 reasonable, 89–90, 92, 93, 94, 97, 101 reconciling political stability and, 60–4 value, 60–2, 65
political autonomy, 93
political liberalism, 102
main elements of, 89–91 and Rawls, 63, 89–90, 95, 99–100, 116 political stability, 2, 52, 54, 55, 58, 59, 65 reconciling pluralism and, 60–4 political toleration, 24, 37, 44, 49 politics of difference, 26, 46, 47, 48 politics of recognition, 29, 46 positive toleration, 22–3, 24, 25, 38, 125 postmodernism
critique of mutual respect, 2, 106–11, 112, 113–17 practical reasoning distinction between theoretical reasoning and, 117–18 profound account
and basic structure of society, 98–100, 101, 102
provisionality, 6–7, 11 public reason, 91, 92, 93, 94, 98, 109, 116 race, 42
Rawls, John, 68, 71, 101, 109
and basic structure of society, 97–8
and family, 95–6, 97, 98 and ‘full political autonomy’, 93
and mutual respect, 109
and political conception of justice, 90, 95, 100 and political liberalism, 63, 89–90, 95, 99–100, 116

Political Liberalism, 97–8, 99
A Theory of Justice, 91–2
Raz, Joseph, 68, 69, 71, 72, 82 reasonable disagreement, 42–3 reasonable persons, 63, 90–1, 93, 96, 100 reasonable pluralism, 89–90, 92, 93, 94, 97, 101 reciprocity, criterion of, 90–1, 92, 93, 100 recognition, 17–31, 45–8
acts of, 25–9
as both a political principle and a social relation, 21–2
of cultures as wholes, 30 and curriculum, 20, 26, 28, 29 and equal worth, 26–7, 29 factual, 28, 29
focusing on social norms and expectations, 27–8
and identity, 25, 29
meaning, 18
particularised, 46, 47, 48 and positive evaluation, 18, 26, 27–8, 30, 46 relationship with toleration, 1–2, 18–20, 21, 24, 26, 29–31, 45–8
and respect, 19, 45, 46, 48 and social status, 27–8, 29, 48
subjects and objects of, 21–2, 30–1 recognition respect, 92, 101
Reformation, 44
Reich, Rob, 24–5, 68
religion, 41
activity controversies over, 13–14 criticism of by ‘new atheists’, 111–12, 118 differences in, 46–7
discussing history of conflicts in civic education curriculum, 94 public reason and arguments over, 109 religious institutions and principles of political justice, 95–6 religious symbols, 31
religious toleration, 24, 38, 41, 111, 120 respect, 45, 46
agonistic, 108
appraisal, 92
meaning, 19
and recognition, 19, 45, 46, 48
see also civic respect; mutual respect restrained manifestation, 9, 12 revisability
autonomy and attitude of, 70–2, 82 rights, 2, 44–5
moral, 44
respect of basic, 133
Rushdie, Salman
Satanic Verses, 23
same-sex couples, 5
Sandel, Michael, 73
Scanlon, T.M., 6
self-deprecation, 37
self-reflection
and autonomy, 72
shared values, 53–4, 62, 65
Shorten, Andrew, 2, 52–65
social opinion, 39
social toleration, 24
Spinner-Halev, Jeff, 68
state, 8, 21
and children’s development, 96
‘division of labour’ between parent and, 89, 96–7, 102
primary function of liberal, 123 and public education, 17
and tolerant society, 123, 124
status
and recognition, 27–8, 29, 48
Swaine, Lucas, 2, 68–83 symbolic controversies, 5, 13
Taylor, Charles, 20, 26, 46, 73
teachers and activity controversies, 5, 13
and liberalism of conscience, 77
and symbolic controversies, 5, 13 tolerant society
alternatives to achieving, 130–3 basic features of, 127
education for citizenship in a, 124, 132 empathy-based approach, 131–2 knowledge-based approach, 131 limitations of respect for difference, 131 meaning of, 124–7
and non-discrimination, 123 respect and appreciation of difference, 123–4, 126, 127–31
respecting of other citizens’ rights, 132–3 role of citizen in, 124–5 and the state, 123, 124
UNESCO type approach, 125, 126, 130
tolerance
acts of, 22–5
circumstances of, 18, 23
and condescension, 42–4 conditions for, 35
controversiality of, 1
difficulty and infrequency of, 34–6 distinction as a political principle and as a relation between individuals, 21 factors contributing to normative complexity of in educational contexts, 6–8 fault lines of in context of education, 5–8 and justice, 37, 45
limits of, 40–3
meaning and nature of, 18, 33–4 negative, 18, 23–4, 25, 38, 45, 125 as ‘not preventing’, 34, 38–9, 45
as paradoxical, 34
personal, 39–40, 49
positive, 22–3, 24, 25, 38, 125 reasons for, 36–8, 48–9 relationship with recognition, 1–2, 18–20, 21, 24, 26, 29–31, 45–8
social, 24
subjects and objects of, 21–2, 30–1 virtue of, 34, 36, 42, 64, 126, 130
Tomasi, John, 73
Tully, James, 123

UNESCO

Declaration of Principles on Tolerance, 125, 126, 130 unfairness, 106–7, 110, 113–15 universalism, politics of, 46 upbringing of children, 97, 102
and coercive account of basic structure, 97–101 and ‘division of labour’ between state and parents, 89, 96–7, 102 and profound effect account of basic structure, 98–100, 101, 102

value fragmentation objection, 53–4, 60–4, 65
and irrelevance argument, 61, 62–3
non-equivalence argument, 61–2
value pluralism, 60–2, 65

Wallace, George, 110
Walzer, Michael, 22, 24, 108, 124–5
On Toleration, 107
Wars of Religion, 94, 126
Weithman, Paul, 79
White, John, 54, 57
Wolterstorff, Nicholas, 109, 110

Yoder case, 64
Young, Iris Marion
Justice and the Politics of Difference, 53