Index

A

- About.com, 134
- Abstract conceptualization, 84, 85
- Academic performance, prior, 25, 30. See also Pre-existing knowledge level
- Academic preparation, precollege, 25, 30. See also Pre-existing knowledge level
- Accessibility, 110, 112, xviii
- Accommodators, 84–85
- Accountability: demands for, 33–34; in team, 58
- Accreditation, 140
- Accuracy questions, 129
- Action research, course evaluation as, 181
- Active learning: in problem-based activities, 132; role of, 80–81
- Activities. See Instructional activities
- ADDIE (analyze, design, develop, implement, evaluate), 16. See also Instructional design process (ADDIE)
- Adobe Captivate, 104, 105
- Adobe Connect, 168
- Adobe Flash, 104, 106
- Adobe Illustrator, 104, 106
- Adobe Photoshop, 104, 105, 106
- Adobe Premiere Pro, 104, 105
- Adobe Presenter, 103, 104
- Advance organizers, 89
- Affective domain, 38, 40. See also Attitudes
- Age, learner, 25, 30
- Ali, N., xviii
- Allen, I. E., 24, 26, xvii

Alternative explanations, 89
- American Association of Law Libraries, 43
- American Psychological Association, 92
- ADA compliance, 112, xviii–xix
- Analysis: of learner characteristics, 23, 24–29; of learner needs, 23, 29–31; of learning outcomes, 33–50; overview of, 16, 21–22; phase of, 16, 21–50
- Analysis questions, 125
- Analyze phase, 16, 21–50
- Anderson, L. W., 38
- Anderson, T., 82–83, 125, 155
- Animation, 104, 106
- Animoto, 104, 106
- Anonymity, 166–167
- Antagonistic arguments, 126
- AOL Instant Messenger, 167
- Application questions, 125
- Archer, W., 82–83, 125, 155
- Argument analysis worksheet, 65
- Articles, 94–95, 110
- Assessing Student Learning (Suskie), 61
- Assessing the Online Learner (Palloff and Pratt), 61
- Assessments: action steps on, 87; activity alignment with, 116, 117–118; alignment of, with learning outcomes, 62, 64–66, 150; checklist and criteria for, 177; design of, 53–67; in English course example, 59–61, 64–66; high-stakes, 55; learner evaluation of, 183; listed, 56; purpose of, 54–55; quality standards for, 11; scoring guides for, 149–153; selection of, 61–62, 63; sequencing of, 73–75; strategies for, 63; summative versus formative, 54–55; types of, 55–61; use of, for continuous quality improvement, 174, 180. See also Formative assessments; Summative assessments

Assignments: instructions for, 147–149; of readings and presentations, 145–146; scaffolding, 149; scoring guides for, 149–153; unit, 147–153. See also Instructional activities

Assimilators, 84, 85

Assumptions, 128

Asynchronous communication: pros and cons of, 165–167; tools for, 169

Attitudes: assessment of, 57; definition and aspects of, 38, 40; types of, 37

Attrition rates, 4, 26. See also Dropping out; Persistence

Audacity, 103, 104

Audience analysis: conducting, 23, 24–29; needs analysis and, 29–30; outcome statements and, 46; sequence of instruction and, 70

Audio recording, 103, 104

Auditory channel, of brain, 98, 101

Ausubel, D. P., 89

Authentic, performance-based assessments, 55–56, 64–65

Automaticity, 119

Avatars, 123

Avons, 121

B

Backward design framework, 14–15. See also Design

Barker, A. M., xvii

Barrows, H. S., 132–133

Bean, J. R., 6–7, 24–25, 28, 81

Biesenbach-Lucas, S., 166

Billings, D. M., 5

Billings persistence model, 5

Blackboard, 124

Blair-Early, A., 162–164, 165

Blended instruction, 4

Blogger, 124

Blogs, 124

Bloom, B., 38, 116

Bloom’s taxonomy: activities design and, 116, 119, 120, 130, 135; elements of, 37–40; verbs of, 40, 41

Brain processing, multimedia principles and, 98–101

Braford, J. D., 80, 88

Breadcrumbs, 163

Breadth questions, 129

Brodgen, L., xvii–xviii

Brookfield, S. D., 57, 123, 124

Brown, A. L., 80, 88

Business proposal, 63

C

California State University, Chico, 9, 174

Camtasia, 104, 105

Capstone course, 57

Carlton, K. H., xviii

Carnegie unit, 140

Case study activities, 63, 126

Changing Course (Allen & Seaman), xvii

Chat, online, 167–168

Chunking, 100

Clarity questions, 129

CmapTools, 104, 106

Cocking, R. R., 80, 88

Cognitive domain (knowledge), 38, 39

Cognitive learning styles, 83–86. See also Learning style preferences

Cognitive map, 164

Cognitive overload, 89

Cognitive presence, 82, 129, 177

Cognitive scaffolding strategies. See Scaffolding strategies

Cohen, A. S., 61

Coherence, 101

Collaborative assessments, 56, 57–58

Collaborative learning, 81; online communication tools for, 165–170; and problem solving, 126. See also Discussion

Collaborative workspaces, 134–135

Communication, online: principles of, 165–167; synchronous versus asynchronous, 165–167; tools for, 167–170

Community of inquiry model, 82–83, 125, 128–129

Competencies: activity alignment with, 116, 117–118; brainstorming, 40–43, 44; connecting to, in unit introduction, 145; course analysis for, 40–43, 44; learner evaluation of, 182; practice activities for, 118–123; review criteria for, 175–176; sequence of instruction and, 70–71; statements of, 37, 46–47; taxonomies of learning and, 37–40. See also Learning outcomes; Skills

Comprehension activities, 120–121

Computer-based interaction skills, minimum requirements for, 26, 27

Conceição, S.C.O., 121

Concept mapping: as content design element, 165; for course development, 42–43, 44; for learners, 85, 97–98, 106

Concepts, as thought elements, 128
Stavredes bindex.tex V3 - 11/13/2013 1:23pm Page 197

Conceptual scaffolding, 87, 88–89, 97–98, 149, 179–180
Concrete experience: activities for, 119, 132; learning style preference for, 83, 84, 85
Conferencing, 168–169
Consistency, in interface logic, 163, 165
Constructivism, 81, 132, 166
Content design, to support engagement, 165
Continuity, 99–100
Continuous quality improvement, 174, 180–185
Conventions, online interface, 164
Conversers, 84, 85
Copyright Act of 1976, 107, 109, 111
Copyright clearance, 107, 109–110, 111
Copyright Clearance Center, 110
Correspondence courses, persistence in, 5
Council for Higher Education Accreditation, 34
Couros, A., xvii–xviii
Course activities. See Instructional activities
Course analysis, 40–43, 44
Course development: backward design framework for, 14–15; in context of curriculum, 35–37; face-to-face versus online, 26, 57–58, xix; instructional design process (ADDIE) for, 16–19; instructor/faculty responsibility for, xvi–xvii; overview of, 13–20, xx–xxii; process of, 13–20. See also Instructional design process (ADDIE)
Course environment. See Online course environment
Course introduction: checklist and criteria for, 175; to course outcomes in, 154–155; developing, 153–156; orientations in, 153–154, 156, 179; personal introductions in, 155; to processes and guides, 156; quality standards for, 10, 11; role of, 153–154
Course maintenance, 185–186
Course materials. See Instructional materials
Course menu, 154
Course revision, 185
Course roadmap, 154, 179
Course structure: action steps on, 159; balanced workload in, 140–144, 178; course introduction in, 153–156; development of, 138, 139–159; general guidelines for writing, 156–158; learner evaluation of, 182; units in, 140–153. See also Units
Creative Commons Search Access, 95
Credit hours, 140
Critical thinking skills: active learning for, 81; assessment of, 56; discussion for, 125–130, 131; orienting learners to, 156; Paul-Elder model of, 125–130, 131, 147; practice activities for, 119; problem-based learning for, 132–133; reflective learning for, 57, 123; scoring guide for, 130, 131, 146–147, 156
Cultural differences, interface design and, 164
Curriculum: analysis of, 35–37, 43; course alignment with, 35–37; outcomes-based, 13–14, 33–34, xix; top-down development of, 35
Cyrs, T. E., xix
D
Dabbagh, N., 86
Data analysis, in course evaluation, 181, 184–185
David, F. R., 184
De Ridder, 121
Debate, 126
Deep learning: in discussions, 129; positive path and, 6
Demographics, of online learners, 25, 30
Demonstrations, 96–97
Depth questions, 129
Design phase, 16–17, 51–136
Develop phase, 17, 137–170
Development, instructional: of course environment, 161–170; of course structure, 138, 139–159; overview of, 17, 137–138; phase of, 17, 137–170
Developmental pathways, 69–71
Diagrams, 106
Digital Millennium Copyright Act, 109
Diligence, 133
Dimdim, 168
Disability concerns, 110, 112, xviii
Discovery activities, 122
Discussion: activities, 124–130; benefits of, 124; boards, 27; graded, 63, 130, 131, 146–147; intellectual standards for, 128–129; to promote critical thinking, 125–130, 131; scoring guide for, 130, 131, 146–147, 156; social, 155; strategies, listed, 125; in unit structure, 146–147
Distance education, persistence in, 5–6, 26
Distractions, minimizing, 165
Distribution lists, 169
Diversers, 84–85
Dray, B. J., 28
Dropping out, 24, 81–82, 86, 153. See also Attrition rates: Persistence
Dual coding theory, 98
Duffy, T. M., 132
Dzuiban, 24

E
E-mail, 169
Easy wins, 185
Economic downturn, xvii
Economics Network, 122
Edublogs, 124
Effective Online Teaching: Foundations and Strategies for Student Success (Stavredes), 112, 133, 187
Elder, L., 93, 125–129, 147
Electronic forms, 113
Electronic mail, 169
Elements of thought, 125–128
Elluminate Live!, 168
Employment responsibilities, 24, 28, 31, 181
End-of-course evaluation tool, 181, 182–183
Engagement: community of inquiry model to support, 82–83; content design to support, 165; discussion activities and, 124–130, 131; importance of, 81–82; interface design to support, 165; learner evaluation of, 182. See also Collaborative learning; Discussion; Interaction
Engelhart, M., 38
English writing course example: assessment strategies for, 59–61, 64–66; competency statements for, 47; curriculum analysis for, 36; free writing for, 42; instructional materials for, 92–93; instructional strategies mapping worksheet for, 117–118; outcome statements for, 45–46; scoring guides for, 151, 152; sequencing for, 70–71, 72–73; test blueprint for, 59–61
Environment, course. See Online course environment
Environmental/external factors, in persistence, 28–29
Ethnicity, 25, 30
Eudora, 169
Evaluate phase, 18, 171–172, 173–185
Evaluation: as action research project, 181; action steps on, 186; assessment data used for, 174, 180; checklist and criteria for, 174, 175–178; continuous quality improvement, 174, 180–185; course maintenance and, 185–186; end-of-course survey, 181, 182–183; final course review, 174, 175–178; of instructional materials, 106–107, 108, 112, 176; instructional scaffolding review, 174, 179–180; overview of, 18, 171–172; with persistence variables, 181; phase of, 18, 171–172, 173–185; pilot course for, 181; revision strategies and, 185; SWOT analysis for, 181, 184–185; tools for scaffolding, 179
Evaluative questions, 125
Expectations, clarity of, 153, 154, 179
Experimentation strategies, 84, 85

F
Face-to-face instruction: defined, 3–4; online instruction versus, 26, 58–59, xix; testing in, 58–59
Faculty development: need for, xvii–xix; quality initiatives and, 8–9. See also Instructors
Faculty expectations statement, 154, 179
Fair Use Act, 107, 109, 111
Fairness questions, 129
Family responsibilities, 24, 31
Fantage, 123
Feedback: checklist and criteria for, 177; e-mail for, 169; formative assessments for, 54–55, 119; learner evaluation of, 183. See also Formative assessments
Field trips, virtual, 97
Final capstone course, 57
Final course review, 174, 175–178
Final Cut Pro, 104, 105
Final exam, 55
Finances, learner: instructional materials selection and, 94; as learner characteristic, 28, 30; web conferencing costs and, 169
Finkelstein, J., 166
Fisher, C., xvii
Flashcard Machine, 120
Flashcards, 120
Flexibility, 24
Flickr, 104, 106
Fonts, 158
Formative assessments: characteristics of, 54–55; comprehension activities for, 120; English writing course examples of, 66; practice activities for, 119; selection of, 61–65; sequencing of, 73–75; strategies and types of, 63
Free writing, 41–42
Freeman, 121
Fritz, S. M., xviii
Functional requirements of web-based information, 112, 113
Furst, E., 38

G
Garrison, D. R., 82–83, 125, 155
Gender, 25, 30
Goal commitment, 155
Go!Animate, 104, 106
Google Chat, 167
Google Cultural Institute, 97
Google Docs, 134
Google Hangout, 168
GPA, prior, 25, 30
Grading guides. See Scoring guides
Grading rubric, for critical thinking, 130, 131, 146–147
Green, K. C., xvii
Grosse, C. U., xviii
Grow, 7
Guide to Online Course Design, A: Strategies for Student Success (Stavredes and Herder), 18–19, 187
Hacker, D., 92
Handbook on Test Development (Cohen and Wollack), 61
Hands-on experience, 122
Hannifin, M., 87, 88, 149
Hawkins, B., xviii
Headings, 157, 163, 165
Herder, T., 187
Higher education institutions: pressures and demands on, 3, 33–34, xvii, xviii–xix; reform of, 33–34
Higher-order skills: activities for, 116, 119, 121–123, 121–135; assessment of, 56. See also Critical thinking skills; Problem-solving skills
Hill, W., 38
Hints, 89
Horton, W., 93, 119, 122
How People Learn (Bransford, Brown, Cocking), 80
HTML 5 technology, 104, 106
Ijsselsteinjn, 121
Illinois Online Network, 8–9
Image creation and collection, 104, 106
Immersion, in virtual environment, 121, 122, 123
IMovie, 104, 106
Implement phase, 17–18, 171–172
Implementation: final course review prior to, 174, 175–178; overview of, 17–18, 171–172; phase of, 17–18, 171–172
Implications, 128
"In the news" discussion activity, 126
Inference, 127
Information, as thought element, 127
Information literacy skills, 26, 27, 134
Information-processing system (brain), 98–101
Initiative, 133
Inquiry: community of, 82–83, 125, 128–129; WebQuest strategy for, 133–134. See also Questions
Inspiration (image creation application), 104, 106
Instant messaging, 167–168
Institutional resources: checklist and criteria for, 178; for course evaluation, 181; multimedia, 102, 103; for online course development, 170; orienting learners to, 154, 156; text-based, 94
Instruction, development of. See Development, instructional
Instructional design process (ADDIE): action steps on, 20; analyze phase of, 16, 21–50; backward design framework and, 14–15; 16; cycle of, 18–19; design phase of, 16–19, 51–136; develop phase of, 17, 137–170; evaluate phase of, 18, 173–185; implement phase of, 17–18, 173–174; iterative, 78; online guide for, 18–19, 187; overview of, 13–20; phases of, 16–19; resources on, 18–19, 187; to support persistence, 16. See also Course development Instructional materials: accessibility of, 110, 112; alignment of, 116–118; copyright clearance for, 107, 108, 176; connection with, in unit introduction, 145; copyright criteria for, 107, 109–110, 111; criteria for, 106–107, 108, 176; in English course example, 92–93; evaluation of, 106–107, 108, 112, 176; maintenance of, 185–186; multimedia, 96–106, 108; open educational, 95–96; purpose of, 91, 93; quality standards for, 10; review criteria for, 176; selection of, 91–114; text-based, 94–95, 108. See also Multimedia Instructional strategies: action steps on, 90, 114, 136; checklist and criteria for, 176; cognitive scaffolding strategies and, 86–90; design of, 77–136; engagement principles and, 81–83; instructional activities and, 115–136; instructional materials and, 91–114; learning style preferences and, 83–86; mapping worksheet, 116–118, 136; principles of learning and, 80–81; quality standards for, 10; theoretical foundations for, 79–90
Instructions: assignment, 147–149; checklist and criteria for, 176, 178; guidelines for writing, 156–158; quality standards for clear, 11
Instructors: need for professional development of, 8–9, xvii–xix; responsibility of, for online course development, xvii–xix; teaching presence of, 83, 167, 168, 177
Integrity, in team, 58
Intellectual standards, 128–129
Interaction: community of inquiry model for, 82–83; discussion activities and, 124–130, 131; learning style preferences and, 85; online communication tools for, 165–170; personal introductions for, 155; skill requirements for, 26, 27. See also Collaborative learning; Discussion; Engagement
Interface: clear reverse in, 163; consistent logic in, 163, 165; cultural differences and, 164; defined, 162; design principles for, 162–164; importance of, 161–162; landmarks in, 164; obvious start in, 162–163; proximity of elements in, 164; standard practice conventions in, 164; to support engagement, 165
Interpretation, 127
Introduction: course, 10, 11, 133–156, 175; to course outcomes, 154–155; personal, 155; to processes and guides, 156; unit, 144–145
Involvement, in virtual environment, 121
iTunes U, 102, 105
J
Jing, 104, 105
Johnson, K., 123, 124, 134, 167, 168
Josseybass.com/go/stavredes herder, 187
Just-in-time strategies, 54, 87, 166, 180, 181
K
Kelso, A. M., 132–133
Kember, D., 5–6
Kember persistence model, 5–6
Kerka, 7
Khan Academy, 102
Knowledge: comprehension activities for, 120–121; definition and aspects of, 37–38, 39; problem-based learning for, 133; types of, 37
Knowledge maps, 97–98, 180
Kolb, D. A., 83
Kolb Learning Style Inventory (LSI), 83–85
Kozlowski, D., xvii
Krathwohl, D. R., 38
Krug, S., 165
L
Land, S., 87, 88, 149
Landmarks, 164
Language: conciseness of, 165; for describing learning outcomes, 43, 45, 49; for instructions, 157
Learn Out Loud, 102
 Learner attrition model, 6
Learner characteristics: analysis of, 23, 24–29; environmental factors and, 28–29; key questions for identifying, 25; needs analysis based on, 29–31; outcome statements and, 46; persistence and, 6, 7, 24–29; skill requirements and, 25–28; in United States, 24
Learner developmental pathways, 69–71
Learner-institution fit, 6
Learner needs: analysis of, 23, 29–31; learner characteristics and, 29–31; listed, 30–31; persistence and, 7–8, 29
Learner persistence. See Persistence
Learner readiness, 26, 28
Learners goals: connecting course with, 154–155; key needs based on, 30
Learning: active, 80–81, 132; preexisting knowledge and, 80; principles of, 80–81; with understanding, 80
Learning management systems (LMSs): administrative rights to, 162, 170; blog tools in, 124; consistent logic in, 163, 165; e-mail feature in, 169; minimizing distractions in, 165; navigation bar options in, 162–163; quiz features in, 120. See also Online course environment
Learning outcomes: action steps on, 50; alignment of, to program of study, 35–37; analysis of, 33–50; assessments alignment with, 59–61, 62, 64–66, 150; assessments design for, 53–67; brainstorming, 40–43, 44; breaking down, into competencies, 46–47; competencies and, 37–43, 46–47; components of, 45; connecting to, in course introduction, 154–155; course analysis for, 40–43, 44; criteria for, 48–49, 175–176; curriculum analysis and, 35–37, 43; defined, 34; development of, 33–50; in English course example, 45–46; final course review for alignment with, 174, 175–178; importance of, 33–34; instructional activities alignment with, 116, 117–118; language for describing, 43, 45, 49; learner evaluation of, 182; number of, 46; quality standards for, 10; sequence of instruction and, 70–71; statements of, 43, 45–46, 48–49, 144; taxonomies of learning and, 37–40. See also Outcome statements; Outcomes-based curriculum

Learning style preferences: classification of, 83–85; instructional activities to support, 84, 85–86; instructional materials to support, 93, 98; multimedia and, 98, 99; strategic scaffolding and, 89

Learning taxonomies, 37–40

Lectures, 96, 98, 168
Lehman, R. M., 121
Letter writing, 126
Levine, A., xviii
Library, online, 26
Life crises, 28, 31
Link, D., xviii
Links, 163, 186
Lists, bulleted and numbered, 157
Literacy skills, 26, 27
Literary analysis paper, 63
Logic questions, 129
Long-term memory, 99, 100
Lorenzetti, J. P., xviii
Lowenthal, P. R., 28
Lynda.com, 104, 105

Maintenance, course, 185–186
Managing Online Education (Green), xviii
Manning, S., 123, 124, 134, 167, 168
Marczynsk, K., 28
Marx, D. B., xviii
MIT OpenCourseware, 95
Materials. See Instructional materials
Math practice activities, 119–120
Mayer, R. E., 98–101
McTighe, J., 14–15
Measurability, of learning outcomes, 48, 49
Meloni, C., 166
Memory, continuity principle and, 99–100
Mental images, 97–98
Merlot.org, 102, 119–120, 122
Metacognition, 37, 39–40, 81
Metacognitive scaffolding, 87, 88, 123, 179
Metzner, B., 6–7, 24–25, 28, 81

Microsoft Movie Maker, 104, 106
Microsoft Office, 42, 103
Microsoft Outlook, 169
Microsoft Viseo, 104, 106
Microsoft Word, 42
Midterm exam, 55
Miller, G. A., 100
Mills, M. E., xvii
Minicourse Guide to Critical Thinking (Paul and Elder), 93
Minute papers, 180
Misziewics, M. J., 28
Monitoring tools, 179
Monterey Institute for Technology and Education, 9
Moreno, R., 98–101
Motivation: active learning and, 81; cognitive scaffolding and, 86; in deep versus surface learning, 6; discussion and, 125; formative assessments for, 61–62; of online learners, 24; in problem-based learning, 133; synchronous communication and, 166
Muddiest point discussions, 126, 180
Multimedia: benefits of, 96; creation of, 103–106; criteria for, 108; functional requirements of, 113; maintenance of, 185–186; for personal introductions, 155; process for selecting, 101–106; resources and software for, 101–106; software for, 103–106; theories and principles of, 98–101; types of, 96–98
Multimedia Educational Resource for Learning and Online Teaching (MERLOT), 102, 119–120, 122
Multiple perspectives, discussion for, 124–130
Multiple representation, 98, 99
Museums, 97

National Gallery of Art, 97
National Online Learners Priorities Report (Noel-Levitz), 24
National Public Radio (NPR), 102
Navigation: clear reverse in, 163; consistent logic in, 163, 165; design principles for, 162–164; importance of, 161–162; landmarks in, 164; obvious start in, 162–163; proximity of elements in, 164; standard practice conventions in, 164
Navigation bar, 154, 162–163
Needs analysis, learner, 23, 29–31
Negative path, 6
News-based discussion, 126
Noel-Levitz, 24

Index
Oblinger, D., xviii
Observability, of learning outcomes, 48, 49
Observation, reflective, 84, 85
Obvious start, 162–163
OER Commons, 95
OER Handbook for Educators, 95
Oliver, K., 87, 88, 149
O’Neill, M. S., xvii
Online course design guide website, 18–19, 187
Online course environment: action steps on, 170; communication tools for, 165–170; content design for, 165; importance of, 161–162; navigation and interface design for, 162–164; organizing the, 138, 161–170; orientation to, 153–154, 163, 179; writing for, 156–158. See also Learning management systems (LMSs)
“Online Course Evaluation Project” (Monterey Institute), 9
Online course. See Course headings
Online instruction and learning: environment of,
161–170; versus face-to-face instruction, 26,
58–59, xii; motivations for, 24; quality standards for, 8–11; rapid growth in, 3–4, xvii–xix;
trends in, xvi–xix
Online learners, characteristics of U.S., 24. See also Learner characteristics
Online library, 26
Open educational resources, 95–96
Open learning model, persistence in, 5–6
OpenCourseWare Consortium, 95
Opportunities, in SWOT analysis, 184–185
Orientation, 153–156, 163, 179
Outcome statements: checklist and criteria for,
48–49, 175–178; developing, 43, 45–46; unit
objectives based on, 144. See also Learning outcomes
Outcomes-based curriculum: design process for,
13–14; trend towards, 33–34, xii. See also Learning outcomes
Outside encouragement, 28, 31

P
Palloff, R. M., 61, 153
Pankowski, M., xviii
Paul, R., 93, 125–129, 147
Paul-Elder critical thinking model, 125–130, 131,
147
PBWorks, 134
Peer assessments, 56, 57–58
Peer network, 166

Pegasus, 169
Performance data, 174, 180
Performance level, for learning outcomes, 49
Persistence: accessibility and, 110; action steps on,
12; active learning and, 81; clarity of expectations and, 153; defined, 4–5; environmental/external factors in, 28–29; institutional factors in, 6–7, 8; instructional design process to support, 16–19, 23; interface design and,
161–162; internal factors in, 7–8; learner characteristics and, 6, 7, 24–29; learner needs and, 7–8, 29; learner readiness and, 26, 28; learner skills and, 6, 7, 25–28; models of, 5–8, 24–26, 29; quality standards to support, 8–11; retention versus, 4–5; scaffolding strategies and, 86, 87, 88; variables, 181. See also Rovai’s composite persistence model
Personal introductions, 155
Personalization principle, 157
Photo albums, 104, 106
Picciano, A. G., 24, 82
Pilot course, 181
Pinterest, 104, 106
Planning tools, 179
Podcast Alley, 102
Point of view, 127
Portfolios, 56, 57, 63, 65
Positive path, 6
Posteroius, 124
PowerPoint, 103, 104
Practice activities, 118–123
Pratt, K., 61, 153
Precision questions, 129
Preexisting knowledge level: activating, in course introduction, 154; activating, in unit introduction,
144; learning and, 80; multimedia and, 98, 99, 101; strategic scaffolding and, 89
Presence: checklist and criteria for, 177; cognitive,
82, 129; communication tools and, 166–170;
community of inquiry model for, 82–83; quality standards for, 11; social, 82–83, 155, 166, 167, 168; teaching, 83, 167, 168; in virtual environment, 121
Presentations, 96, 145–146
Preskill, S. N., 124
Prezi, 104, 105
Prior knowledge and experience. See Preexisting knowledge level
Probing questions, 89
Problem-based learning activities: benefits of, 130;
collaborative, 126; design of, 130, 132–133;
learning style preference for, 85; objectives of, 132–133; practice, 119; principles for, 132; resources on, 133; strategic scaffolding and, 89. See also Real-world problems
Problem-solving skills, 39–40; assessment of, 56
Problem statement, 124–125
Procedural knowledge, 38, 39–40. See also Skills
Procedural scaffolding, 87–88, 153, 179
Professional standards of practice, consulting, for learning outcomes, 41, 48, 49
Professionalism, in web presence, 158
Project, 63
Proximal development, zone of, 86
Proximity, of interface elements, 184
Psychomotor domain (physical skills), 38, 39–40. See also Skills
Public Agenda, 24
Public Radio International (PRI), 102
Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 92
Purdue Online Writing Lab, 92
Purpose, discussion, 127
Puzzles, 120
Quality assurance demands, 33–34, xviii–xix
Quality Matters, 9, 45, 174, xix
“Quality Online Course Initiative Rubric and Checklist” (Illinois Online Network), 9
Quality standards: action steps on, 12; initiatives for, 8–9; listed, 10–11; to support persistence, 8–11
Quest Atlantic, 123
Questions: for discussion activities, 124–125, 127, 128–129; probing, 89; study, 120; to support intellectual standards in community of inquiry, 128–129. See also Inquiry
Quizzes, 63, 65, 120
Real-world problems: as discussion topics, 25; instructional activities for, 116, 119, 121–123, 130, 132–133; resources on, 133. See also Problem-based learning activities
Reasoning, 125–126. See also Critical thinking skills
Reflective assessments, 56–57, 63, 180
Reflective learning: as assessment strategy, 57; as instructional activity, 123–124; learning style preference for, 84, 85; in problem-based activities, 133
Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 110
Relevance: active learning for, 81; learner evaluation of, 183; of learning outcomes, 48, 49
Relevance questions, 129
Research paper, 63
Residence status, 25, 30
Resources. See Institutional resources; Instructional materials; Support resources
Retention, 4. See also Persistence
Reverse, clear, 163
Revision, course, 185
Roadmap, course, 154, 179
Rockwell, K., xviii
Role-play, 126
Rovai, A. P., 5, 6–8, 24–26, 28, 81–82, 96, 153
Rovai’s composite persistence model, 6–8, 24–26, 153
Rubistar, 153
Rubrix, 153
Ruiz-Primo, M. A., 28
Ryan, M., xviii
Savery, J. R., 132
Scaffolding strategies: assignments design and, 149; conceptual, 87, 88–89, 97–98, 149, 179–180; defined, 86–87; metacognitive, 87, 88, 123, 179; online orientation and, 153; persistence and, 6; procedural, 87–88, 153, 179; review checklist for, 174, 179–180; self-reflection as, 123; strategic, 87, 89, 180; types of, 87–90
Schauer, J., xviii
Scholtz, S., xviii
Schrum, L., xviii
Schunk, D. H., 87
Scoring guides: assignment, 149–153; checklist form of, 149–151; critical thinking, 130, 131, 146–147, 156; descriptive form of, 151–153; development of, 150–151; discussion, 130, 131, 146–147, 156; online tools for, 153
Screen capture, 103, 104, 105
Screenr, 104, 105
Seaman, J., 24, 26, xvii
Second Life, 123
Self-assessments, 56–57, 63, 133
Self-confidence: cognitive scaffolding for, 87; formative assessments for, 61–62; practice activities for, 119
Self-direction: active learning and, 81; cognitive scaffolding and, 86–87; problem-based learning for, 133

Self-reflection. See Reflective learning

Sensible.com, 165

Sensory memory, 99, 100

Sequence of instruction: action steps on, 75; aligning, to assessments, 73–75; chronological, 72; dependent, 72; design of, 69–75; developmental pathways and, 69–71; dual approach to, 72–73; in English course example, 70–71, 72–73; known-to-unknown, 72; simple-to-complex, 72; strategies for, 71–73; in textbooks, 70

Sequence of practice, 119

Short-term memory, 99, 100

Significance questions, 129

Simulation, 121–122

Skills: definition and aspects of, 38, 39–40; minimum requirements for, 25–28; practice activities for, 118–123; types of, 37. See also Competencies

Skype, 168

Slide shows, 103, 105

SlideShare, 104, 105

Sloan Consortium, 3–4, xvii

SmartDraw, 104, 106

Smartphones, 103, 105

Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History, 97

Snagit, 104, 105

Social media skills, 27

Sommers, N., 92

Sound Recorder, 103

Spatial ability, 101

Spelling Commission on the Future of Higher Education, 33–34, xix

Split attention, 99, 100–101

Stair, N., xvii

“Start here first” document, 154, 162–163, 179

Stavredes, T. M., 90, 133, 187

Stenard, R. A., 7–8, 82

Strategic scaffolding, 87, 89, 180

Strategies, instructional. See Instructional strategies

Strengths, in SWOT analysis, 184–185

Student integration model, 6

Study activities section, 146

Study questions, 120

Summative assessments: characteristics of, 54, 55; selection of, 62, 63, 64–65, 66; sequencing of, 73; strategies and types of, 63

Sun, J., xviii

Support networks, 8

Support resources: checklist and criteria for, 178; directing learners to, 8, 154, 156; learner evaluation of, 183; online communication tools as, 167, 169; quality standards for, 11

Surface learning, 6

Surveys: end-of-course student perception, 181, 182–183; online, 28

Suskie, L., 59, 61

Suspension of disbelief, in virtual environment, 121, 123

SWOT analysis, 181, 184–185

Synchronous communication: pros and cons of, 165–167; tools for, 167–170

Synthesis questions, 125

T

Tables, 165

Taxonomies of learning, 37–40. See also Bloom’s taxonomy

TEACH Act, 109, 111

Teaching presence, 83, 167, 168, 177

Team environment: collaborative workspaces for, 134–135; online communication tools for, 165–170; skill in building, 58

Teamwork skills: assessment of, 57–58; problem-based learning for, 133

Technical support, 154

Technology, Education, and Copyright Harmonization (TEACH) Act, 109, 111

Technology, Entertainment, Design (TED), 102

Technology skills level, 26, 27

Technology use: checklist and criteria for, 178; learner evaluation of, 183; quality standards for, 11

Templates, for scaffolding, 180

Tennant, M., 83

Tests: aspects of, 56, 58–61; blueprints for, 59–61; in face-to-face versus online environment, 58–59; formative and summative, 63; in high-stakes assessment, 55

Textbook publishers, working with, 94, 101–102

Textbooks: criteria for, 108; multimedia associated with, 101–102; quizzes in, 120; selection of, 94, 108; sequencing in, 70

Thinking, elements of, 125–128. See also Critical thinking skills

Threats, in SWOT analysis, 184–185

Time frame, course, 46

Time management skills, 8, 26, 27

Time zone differences, 169

Timed response, 113
Index

Tinto, V., 6, 7, 24, 82
Tinychat, 168
Transfer opportunity, 28, 31
Trust, 155
Typing skills, 167–168

U
Understanding by Design (Wiggins and McTighe), 14–15
Understanding by Design framework, 14–15
United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization, 95
U.S. Congress, 110
U.S. Copyright Office, 107
U.S. General Services Administration, 112
Units: assignments section of, 147–153; development of, 144–153; discussions section of, 146–147; introduction section of, 144–145; objectives section of, 144; readings and presentations section of, 145–146; structure and components of, 140; study activities section of, 146; workload balance across, 140–144

University of Chico Rubric for Online Instruction (ROI), 174
University of Delaware clearinghouse of problem-based scenarios, 124
User interface, defined, 162. See also Interface
Using Wikis for Online Collaboration (West and West), 135

V
Verbs: in Bloom’s taxonomy, 40, 41; for learning outcome statements, 43, 45, 49
Video capture and editing, 104, 105–106
Vimeo, 104, 106
Virtual field trips, 97
Virtual high schools, xx
Virtual lab, 122
Virtual office hours, 167
Virtual practice activities, 121–123
Virtual worlds, 122–123
Visual channel, of brain, 98, 100–101
Visual concept mapping, 42–43, 44
Visual images, in interface design, 165. See also Multimedia
Visual representations: demonstrations for, 96–97; types of, 97–98
Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP), 168
VoiceThread, 104, 105
VoIP, 168
Voki, 104, 106
Vyew, 168
Vygotsky, L. S., 86

W
Weaknesses, in SWOT analysis, 184–185
Weasenforth, D., 166
Web-based information: functional requirements of, 112, 113; maintenance of, 185–186
Web conferencing, 168–169
Webcams, 105
WebQuest, 133–133
Webquest.org, 134
Website copyrights, 109, 110, 111
West, J. A., 135
West, M. L., 135
Wiggins, G., 14–15
WikiMatrix, 135
Wikimedia Commons, 103
Wikipedia, 134
Wiki, 134–135
Wikispaces, 134
Wollack, J. A., 61
Wordle, 104, 106
Wordpress, 124
Worked examples, 89
Workforce preparation: demands for, 34; learning outcomes for, 41, 49
Working memory, 99–100
Workload: balancing, 140–144; checklist and criteria for, 178; learner evaluation of, 182; quality standards for, 11; too little, 140, 143–144; too much, 140, 143; worksheet for, 141, 142
Workman, J. J., 7–8, 82
World Intellectual Property Organization, 109
Writer’s Reference with Strategies for Online Learners (Hacker and Sommers), 92
Writing conventions, for web, 156–158
Writing skills, 26, 27, 167
Writing template, 149

Y
Yahoo! Messenger, 167
YouTube, 102, 105

Z
Zender, M., 162–164, 165
Zentation, 104, 105
Zimmerman, B. J., 87
Zone of proximal development, 86