Index

a
ABM. See Agent-based modeling
Access framework  35
ACCRN. See Asian Climate Change Resilience Network
Adapazari earthquake  237–40. See also Turkish earthquake case study Adaptation. See also Climate change adaptation in Central Europe flood events case study  169–70, 169f limits of. See Limits of adaptation to messy problems  64–66 proactive  66
resilience building and  66–67
social learning and  55
Adaptive capacity  15
climate change and  67
development of  43
key dimensions of  43–44
resources and capacities types  84–86
social learning and  47
Adaptive cycle  15
Adaptive management  142
Agent-based modeling (ABM)
applications of  131–32
challenges for  14
of DP model  132–33
emBRACE and  13–14, 131
simulations with  135
SNM compared with  135
in Turkish earthquake case study  132–33

Alps. See Dolomite landslide case study;
Swiss Alpine valleys
Analytical dimension of resilience  81
Asian Climate Change Resilience Network (ACCRN)  20–21 Assets
in community resilience  38–39
disasters and  35
Awareness through past natural disasters, as partial resilience indicator  118 combination of three single factors  121–22
single factor distance  120–21, 121f
single factor intensity  120, 121f
single factor time  119, 120f

b
Badia landslide  197–201, 200f. See also Dolomite landslide case study Barker, Bill  178, 191
Bavaria flooding  159–60, 160f.
See also Central Europe flooding case study Betweenness  13
Biophysical resilience  14
Bird, Derrick  178
Bolzano landslide. See Dolomite landslide case study Borrowdale, community resilience in  183
Bourdieu, Pierre  32
Braithwaite, community resilience in  183–84
Building Resilience Amongst Communities in Europe. See emBRACE resilience framework

Building structures, urban microclimates and 14

C
Capabilities, in Cumbria flooding case study 193

Capabilities
in community resilience 84–86
in Cumbria flooding case study 193
financial 86, 245t, 249 human 86, 245t, 248–49
indicator allocation to 145
natural 84–85, 245t, 250, 250f physical 86, 245t, 249–50
in resilience 36–37
resources and 82
in SLA 6
sociopolitical 85–86, 244–47, 245t, 246f, 247f
in Turkish earthquake case study 244–50, 246f, 247f, 250f

CCA. See Climate change adaptation

CDR. See Community disaster resilience

Central Europe flooding case study 3, 159–60, 160f community resilience and idea of transformation 172–73
key concepts 161–62
results of household survey attitudes towards participation 171–72 impacts of (multiple) flood experience 167–70, 168f, 168t, 169f, 170f perception of responsibility in flood risk management 170–71, 171t results of interviews 165–67 settings and methods background on flood risk management in Saxony and Bavaria 162–63 description of household survey 163, 165 description of interviews 163, 164t

Centre for Research on the Epidemiology of Disasters (CRED) 99

Circumstance, communities of 180t

City resilience framework 13, 17

City resilience index 17

Civil protection
community resilience focus on 11
in community setting 257
disaster risk management cycle 86–87
in Dolomite landslide case study 201
in emBRACE framework 38
in Northern England flooding case study 177–79, 179f
conceptualisation of community 179–81, 180t
discussion and conclusions 192–94
methods 181–82
rural resilience results 182–84
urban resilience results 185–92, 187f–88f, 190f

Class, social capital and 32

CLC database. See CORINE Land Cover database

Climate change
disaster risk reduction and 11 livelihoods perspectives and 30
social learning and 44
social networks and 47
as super-wicked problem 64

Climate change adaptation (CCA) clumsy solutions for 66–69, 68f DRR/DRM and 64, 67–68, 68f
four principles of planning for 64

Climate mitigation 64

Climate-related disaster. See London heatwave case study

Clumsy solutions
challenges for 64
for climate change adaptation 66–69, 68f
history of 62–64
introduction to 61

CN. See Curve number

Cockermouth, community resilience in 189–91, 190f

Coleman, James 32

Collaboration, gender and 33
Collective agency 51
Collective efficacy 51–52
Collective levels, of resilience 11–12
Communities of practice 180–81, 180t Communities of support 180, 201, 216
in DRM 128–29
Community
definition and conceptualisations of 78, 80, 221–22
in London heatwave case study
concept of 221–22
elderly and 223–24
fragmented 230–31
heatwave management using 226–27 resilience from 223–25
representation of 19–20
in resilience research 10
resourcefulness and 21
social learning at level of 49–52 types of 179–81, 180t, 201, 216 Community actions, in disaster
resilience 37–38
Community disaster 125
Community disaster resilience (CDR) assessment of 2
assets in 38–39
building of 2
in Central Europe flood events case study, idea of transformation and 172–73 climate change adaptation and 67
as common theme in resilience case studies 155 components of 11–12
conceptual framework for 84, 85f conceptual tensions of 81–82 connectedness and 50
description of 69
in Dolomite landslide case study 197–98
discussion and conclusions 214–16
mixed-method approach to 201–3
risk perception, risk attitude, and response behaviour in 203–9, 205f, 207f, 208f
social networks in 209–14, 210f, 211f, 213f emBRACE model of complex adaptive 69–71 as emergent property 69 extracommunity framing of disaster risk governance 89–90
non-directly hazard-related context, social-ecological change, and disturbances 90–91 governance and 71
hazardous events and 79 indicator-based approaches to 140–43 institutional resilience compared with 36–37 intracommunity domains of actions 86–87
learning 88–89
resources and capacities 84–86
in London heatwave case study 223–25
measurement of 77
conceptual framework for 80 messy problems of 62f, 63f
methodology of 12–13
in Northern England flooding case study 177–79, 179f
conceptualisation of community 179–81, 180t
discussion and conclusions 192–94
methods 181–82
rural resilience results 182–84
urban resilience results 185–92, 187f–88f, 190f
prominence of 81
social and political dimensions of 10–11 social methods for assessment of 13 social network and 43–44, 127–31 study of 125
in Turkish earthquake case study 237–38
aims and research questions 241
context of 239–41
discussion and conclusions 252–54
methodological approaches 241–42 perceptions of 242–52, 243f, 245f, 246f, 247f, 250f wicked problems of 62f, 63f
Community learning 38
Complexity 61, 258
Complex system management agent-based models 131–34 introduction to 125–27, 126f qualitative data-structuring methodologies 134
social network mapping 127–31
Complex systems theory 69
Composite indices 17, 113, 141 Connectedness
community resilience and 50
importance of 13
Connectivity 128
Conscientisation 21
Continuous planning principle 62
Control variables
in resilience 11
in SES resilience thinking 70 Cooperation, as common theme in resilience case studies 156
Coordinated planning principle 62
CORINE Land Cover (CLC) database 99
HTI values and 100–101, 101t landslides and
national scale 102–3, 102f
regional scale 103–7, 104f, 105f, 106f, 107f
CRED. See Centre for Research on the Epidemiology of Disasters Credit access, drought resilience and 114–15, 116t
Critical reflection 45, 88
Cultural aspects
of individual resilience 12
of livelihood assets 29 Cumbria
flooding in 177–79, 179f. See also Northern England flooding case study social network mapping in 126f, 129–30
Curve number (CN) 100, 101t

D
Department for International Development (DfID) 28
Development, SLAs and 29–30
DfID. See Department for International Development Difference HTI (DHTI) 101 Disaster 1
social capital and 34–35
social causes of 35–36
Disaster behavioural health 98 Disaster footprint 97–98 land feature maps and 100 susceptibility and 109–10 Disaster impact and land use data analysis conclusions for, LULC and landslide relationship 108 data for 99
line of reasoning for 98–99 methodology for 99–102, 101t
results
national scale 102–3, 102f
regional scale 103–7, 104f, 105f, 106f, 107f
subnational scale: analysis of HTI changes 107 subnational scale: analysis of LULC changes 108 terminology for 97–98
Disaster Preparedness (DP) model 132–33
Disaster pressure and release model 35
Disaster resilience. See Resilience
Disaster Resilience Scorecard for Cities 142 Disaster risk governance 89–90
in Turkey 240–41
Disaster risk management (DRM)
agent-based modeling in 132
civil protection actions 86–87
climate adaptation and 64, 67–68, 68f climate-related. See London heatwave case study communities in 128–29
community resilience and 125
flood-related. See Flood risk management integrative planning tools for 71
social-ecological systems framework in 65 Disaster risk reduction (DRR)
  climate adaptation and 64, 67–68, 68f
  climate change and 11
  collective efficacy and 51–52 integrative planning tools for resilience and 9–10, 81 responsibilisation agenda for social and environmental systems in 62f Disaster vulnerability paradigm 35–36
Dissemination 88
Disturbance
  community resilience and 90–91 resilience research and 34
Diversity, for social learning 49–50
Dolomite landslide case study 3, 197
  Alpine context of 198–201, 200f
  discussion and conclusions 214–16
  mixed-method approach to risk perception, risk attitude, and response behaviour in 203 risk behaviour profiles 204–6, 205f temporal variation in perceptions of response and recovery actions 206–9, 207f, 208f
  social networks in 209–14, 210f, 211f, 213f
Double-loop learning 47
DP model. See Disaster Preparedness model
DRM. See Disaster risk management
Drought resilience, in East India 114–15, 116t DRR. See Disaster risk reduction Efficiency, resilience and 71 Elderly, resilience of 221–22
  community role in 223–25
  family, social networks, and community in 226–27 rethinking social network and social capital as vulnerability factors in 227–30 social capital, fragmented community, and new vulnerability in 230–31 emBRACE resilience framework agent-based modeling and 13–14, 131 application and operationalisation in indicator-based assessments 91 approach of 6
  background for 2
  biophysical resilience and 14 case study research using. See Resilience case studies community actions in 37–38 for community resilience to natural hazards 84, 85f. See also Community disaster resilience community types defined by 180t complexity in 61, 258
  control variables in 11 critical reflection in 49 development of deductive: structured literature review 82–83 inductive: empirical case study research 83 participatory assessment workshops with stakeholder groups 83 synthesis: iterative process 83–84 diversity of 258–59
  history of 257
  indicators for 16–17
  interlinkages between domains and extracommunity framing in 91 justification of 9
  limits of findings of 91–92
  methodology of 91–92
emBRACE resilience framework (cont’d) perceptions of resilience according to 242–43, 243f, 245t
context 252
learning 250–51
resources and capacities 244–50, 246f, 247f, 250f
resource access and control in
resourcefulness and 21
results of 91–92
social capital in 66
social dimensions of 10–11, 13 to social learning 6, 38, 44, 47 outcomes of 52–54
specificity of 258
transformation and 21
EM-DAT 99
Emergency planning, in Dolomite landslide case study 199, 201
Empowerment 32
Endowments 31–32
EnRiCH community resilience framework 37
Entitlements 31
Entitlements analysis 31
Environmental entitlements approach 31
Environmental movement 31
Eurac Research 129
Evolving resilience 56
Experiential learning 49
Experimentation, social learning
and 52
Extracommunity framing of community
resilience
disaster risk governance 89–90
non-directly hazard-related context, social-ecological change, and disturbances 90–91

F
FAG. See Flood action group Family, in London heatwave case study 226–27
Farming community resilience, in Northern England flooding case
study 182–84
Feminist approach, to social capital 33
Financial capacities and resources 86
in Turkish earthquake case study 245t, 249
Financial capital, in sustainable livelihoods framework 28f–29f
Flood action group (FAG)
in Northern England flooding case study 181, 185–87, 187f–88f, 190, 192–93
social network map of 126, 126f, 187f–88f
Flooding
in Central Europe. See Central Europe flooding case study
in Northern England. See Northern England flooding case study Flood risk management
in Central Europe flooding case study attitudes towards participation in 171–72
background on 162–63
community resilience and 172–73
perception of responsibility for 170–71, 171t
transformation of 165–67
in Northern England flooding
case study
communities participating in 179–81, 180t
discussion and conclusions 192–94
rural 182–84
urban 185–92, 187f–88f, 190f
Food insecurity, root causes of 31
Footprint 97–98
Functionalism 32
Functional stability 20

G
Gender, social capital and 33
General resilience 70–71
Geographical communities
in Dolomite landslide case study 201, 216
in DRM 128–29
German Water Law 163, 170–71, 171t Governance
  community resilience and 71
  in resilience 10–11, 18–19, 82
  risk 89–90
  in Turkey 240–41
Green Revolution 30

h

Hazard-Territory Index (HTI) analysis of changes to 101 calculation of 100, 101t
  definition of 99
  evaluation of changes in 101
  at local scale 99
    CLC relationship with 103–7, 104f, 105f, 106f, 107f at national scale 99
    CLC relationship with 102–3, 102f
  subnational scale changes in 107

Hazard threats
  community actions and 37
  community resilience and 79, 81
  disasters and 35
  LULC data and 98
  social learning and 46

Hazard zone maps, in Dolomite landslide case study 199, 201

HDI. See Human Development Index

Heat stress
  social capital and resilience to 10 vegetation and 14

Heatwave. See London heatwave case study

Heatwave Plan for England (HWP) 221–22, 225

HTI. See Hazard-Territory Index

Human behaviour, disastrous losses and 1

Human capacities and resources 86
  in Turkish earthquake case study 245t, 248–49

Human capital
  social networks and 32
  in sustainable livelihoods framework 28f–29f

Human Development Index (HDI) 123

Hurricane Katrina 35

HWP. See Heatwave Plan for England

Hyogo Framework for Action (HFA) 68

i

Identity, communities of 180t, 182

IFFI database 99, 101

Impact 98

Indian Ocean tsunami in India 35

Indicators for resilience 15–17, 113.
  See also Mixed indicators; Partial resilience indicator; Quantitative resilience indicators
  applications of 139, 151
  community resilience assessment with 140–43 concurrent approach to 148 contextualisation of 147 derivation of 148, 149t–50t, 151 difficulties with 140
  grounding of 143–45, 144f misunderstandings with 139–40 operationalisation of 143 resources and capacities allocation of 145 sequential approach to 148 systematisation of 145–47, 146t, 259 transferability of 146

Individual levels
  of resilience 11–12
  social learning at 49

Individual resilience, in Turkish earthquake case study 237–38 aims and research questions 241
  context of 239–41
  discussion and conclusions 252–54
  methodological approaches 241–42
  perceptions of 242–52, 243f, 245t, 246f, 247f, 250f

Influence and access box 29

Innovation, social learning and 52, 88

Institutional resilience, community resilience compared with 36–37

Integrated planning principle 62

Interest, communities of 180t

International Strategy for Disaster Reduction (ISDR) 68

Interventions, in urban resilience framework 38
Intracommunity domains of community resilience actions  86–87
learning  88–89
resources and capacities  84–86
ISDR. See International Strategy for Disaster Reduction

Japan, Kobe earthquake in  35

Kander valley  117–18, 117f, 118f
Keswick, community resilience in  185–88, 187f–88f Knowledge
for adaptive capacity  43–44
local, in Dolomite landslide case study  204, 215
social change and  21
Kobe earthquake in Japan  35

Land cover/land use (LULC) analysis of  101–2
application of  110
subnational scale  108
in Europe from CORINE Land Cover database  99 hazardous event and  98 Hazard-Territory Index and  100
national scale  102–3, 102f
regional scale  103–7, 104f, 105f, 106f, 107f
landslides and  98–99, 108–9
in South Tyrol from Reakart  99 Landslides. See also Dolomite landslide case study analysis of  101–2
LULC data and  98–99
national scale  102–3, 102f
regional scale  103–7, 104f, 105f, 106f, 107f relationship between  108–9
subnational scale: changes in  108
subnational scale: HTI change analysis  107

Learning. See also Social learning for adaptive capacity  43–44
in Central Europe flood events case study
definition of concept  161
household survey results demonstrating  169–70, 169f
interview results demonstrating  165–67
as common theme in resilience case studies  155
in Cumbria flooding case study  193
in Dolomite landslide case study  215
in emBRACE framework  88–89
indicator allocation to  145
in resilient systems  15
resources and  82
social change and  21
in Turkish earthquake case study  250–51
Learning capacity  47
Limits of adaptation, in Central Europe flood events case study
definition of concept  161
household survey results demonstrating  167–72, 168f, 168t, 169f, 170f, 171t Livelihoods thinking. See also Sustainable livelihoods approach criticisms of  30
disaster vulnerability and  35–36
evolution of  30–31
origins of  27–29
resilience and  34
community actions  37–38
community learning  38
resources and capacities  36–37
Local knowledge, in Dolomite landslide case study  204, 215
Local Resilience Forum (LRF)  180–81
London heatwave case study  3, 221 community role in resilience  223–25
conclusion  231–32
methodology  222–23
rethinking normatives in heatwave management  225 family, social networks, and community in management  226–27 social capital, fragmented community, and new vulnerability 230–31 social network and social capital as vulnerability factors 227–30 social inequalities in 226
social learning in 50, 53, 55–56
Loneliness, in London heatwave case study 228–31
Lorton, community resilience in 183–84
Loss perception, in social learning 88
Lötschen valley 117–18, 117t, 118f
LRF. See Local Resilience Forum
LULC. See Land cover/land use

m
Making Space for Water 89
Material variables 70
Mean of difference HTI (MDHTI) 101
Merological anthropology 71 Messy problems
of community resilience 62f, 63f
history of 62–64
integrative planning tools for 71
introduction to 61
resilient and adaptive responses to 64–66 of socio-ecological systems 70
MFAG. See Morpeth Flood Action Group
Mitigation, in prehazard event phase 145
Mixed indicators 140, 258
Mixed-method approaches, added value generated by 202–3 Modernisation theory 30
Monitoring and review 88
Morpeth Flood Action Group (MFAG) 53

n
Natural capacities and resources 84–85
in Turkish earthquake case study 245t, 250, 250f Natural capital, in sustainable livelihoods framework 28f–29f Natural disasters 1
Natural hazards. See Hazard threats Natural resource management (NRM)
social capital in 33
social learning in 44
NetLogo software 132
Net-Map approach 129
Network centrality 13
Non-hazard-related conditions for community resilience 90
Normative dimension of resilience 81
Northern England flooding case study 3, 177–78, 179f centralisation of community 179–81, 180t
discussion and conclusions 192–94
methods 181–82
results
rural resilience 182–84
urban resilience 185–92, 187f–88f, 190f NRM. See Natural resource management

o
Open systems theory 69
Operationalisation of quantitative resilience indicators 114–15, 116t, 123
of resilience 140
of resilience indicators 143
Ordinary value (OV) 100, 101t

p
Panarchy 15
Partial resilience indicator awareness through past natural disasters as 118 combination of three single factors 121–22
single factor distance 120–21, 121f
single factor intensity 120, 121f
single factor time 119, 120f residence time as 117–18, 117t, 118f warning services as 122 Participation, in Central Europe flood events case study attitudes towards 171–72
definition of concept 162
Participative planning principle 62
Participatory mapping methods 135
Personal agency 51
Physical capacities and resources 86
  in Turkish earthquake case study 245t, 249–50
Physical capital, in sustainable livelihoods framework 28f–29f
Physical environment, social environment relationship with 36
Physical footprint of disaster 98
Place-based capacities and resources 84–85
Pluralism 32
Political capital, in sustainable livelihoods framework 28–29, 29f Political ecology studies 31
Political geography studies 31 Political resilience 10–11
  methodology of 12–13
Posthazard event phase 145 Poverty
  environmental movement and 31
  as resilient phenomenon 18 sustainable livelihoods framework and 28–29 Power
  disastrous losses and 1 heterogeneities in structures of 31
  in resilience 18–19, 82
  sustainable livelihoods framework and 28–29
  transformation and 20–21
Practice, communities of 180–81, 180t Preparedness
  in Central Europe flood events case study 169–70, 169f
  in prehazard event phase 145 Proactive adaptation 66 Protection. See also Civil protection; Social protection in Central Europe flood events case study 165–67 attitudes towards participation in 171–72
  community resilience and 172–73
  household survey results demonstrating 169–70, 169f perception of responsibility for 170–71, 171t
  as common theme in resilience case studies 156
Proxy agency 51
Psychological aspects, of resilience 11–12
Psychological footprint of disaster 98
Putnam, Robert 32
q
Q-methodology 134
Q-sort 134
Qualitative data
  in agent-based modeling 132
  in social network analysis 202–3 Qualitative resilience indicators quantitative resilience indicators and 139, 143, 259
  selection of 148, 149t–50t
Quantitative data, in social network analysis 202–3 Quantitative resilience indicators 113
  application of 114
  development of 115–17
  operationalisation of 114–15, 116t, 123 qualitative resilience indicators and 139, 143, 259
  selection of 148, 149t–50t
  social sciences and 258
r
Rational choice theory, social capital and 32
Reakart 99, 101
Recovery, in posthazard event phase 145
Reflectivity, in social learning 49
Relational variables 70
Religious aspects, of community 19
Reorganization, in resilient systems 15, 34
Requisite competencies 51
Residence time, as partial resilience indicator 117–18, 117t, 118f Resilience 1. See also Community disaster resilience; Political resilience; Social resilience; Individual resilience adaptation and building of 66–67 analytical dimension of 81 as boundary term 5
in Central Europe flood events case study
definition of concept 161
household survey results on 167–72, 168f, 168t, 169f, 170f, 171t idea of transformation and interview results on 165–67 on collective levels 11–12 concepts of 5, 9–10, 80, 161, 238 conceptual vagueness of 5–6 core compared with context of 161 disaster footprint and susceptibility for 109–10 efficiency and 71
evolution of 34, 56
gaps and challenges in community representation 19–20 resourcefulness 21
role of power in 18–19, 82
transformation 20–21
in transition from ecology to social science 17–18 general 70–71
governance in 10–11
indicators for. See Indicators for resilience on individual levels 11–12 livelihoods perspectives in 30 livelihoods thinking and 34
community actions 37–38
community learning 38
resources and capacities 36–37
in London heatwave case study 221–22
community role in 223–25
family, social networks, and community role in 226–27 rethinking social network and social capital as vulnerability factors 227–30 social capital, fragmented community, and new vulnerability 230–31
measurement of 113–14
to messy problems 64–66 methodologies of 12–14
negatives of 12
normative dimension of 81
as outcome 5, 11
as process 5, 11
scales of research on 80
social interactions and 80
social learning and 43–45, 47, 55
social science perspective for 257–58 specific 70–71
in Turkish earthquake case study 242–43, 243f, 245t conceptualisation of 238
context 252
learning 250–51
resources and capacities 244–50, 246f, 247f, 250f
urban climate 13
Resilience-based risk reduction policy 81
Resilience case studies
Central Europe flood events 3, 159–60, 160f
community resilience and idea of transformation 172–73
key concepts 161–62
results of household survey 167–72, 168f, 168t, 169f, 170f, 171t
results of interviews 165–67
settings and methods 162–65, 164t common themes in 155–56
Dolomite landslide 3, 197
Alpine context of 198–201, 200f
discussion and conclusions 214–16
mixed-method approach to 201–3
risk perception, risk attitude, and response behaviour in 203–9, 205f, 207f, 208f
social networks in 209–14, 210f, 211f, 213f London heatwave 3, 221
community role in resilience 223–25
conclusion 231–32
methodology 222–23
rethinking normatives in heatwave management 225–31
social inequalities in 226
social learning in 50, 53, 55–56
Northern England flooding 3, 177–78, 179f
conceptualisation of community 179–81, 180t
discussion and conclusions 192–94
Resilience case studies (cont’d)

- definition of concept 161–62
- household survey results on perception of 170–71, 171t
- as common theme in resilience case studies 156
- in Dolomites landslide case study 203–4, 214–15
- Risk 113, 258
- Risk attitude, in Dolomites landslide case study 202–4, 214–15
- Risk behaviour, in Dolomites landslide case study 202–3, 214–15
- profiles of 204–6, 205f
- temporal variability of 206–9, 207f, 208f
- Risk management. See Disaster risk management
- Risk perception
  - in Dolomites landslide case study 202–4, 214–15
  - in social learning 88
- Risk reduction, resilience and 9–10
- R statistical programming 132
- Rural appraisals 30
- Rural resilience, in Northern England flooding case study 182–84

S

- Sakarya earthquake 240. See also Turkish earthquake case study
- Saxony flooding 159–60, 160f. See also Central Europe flooding case study
- Saxony’s Water Law 89
- Scalar analysis 16
- SCT. See Social cognitive theory
- SDHTI. See Sum of difference HTI
- Self-assessments 141
- Self-efficacy 46, 51
- Sen, Amartya 31
- SE problems. See Socio-ecological problems
- SES framework. See Social-ecological systems framework
- Shocks, resilience and 15
- Single-loop learning 47
- Situational complexity 61
- SLA. See Sustainable Livelihoods Approach
- SLF. See Sustainable Livelihood Framework
SNA. See Social network analysis

SNM. See Social network mapping

Social capital
  background and key critiques of 31–33
  disasters and 34–35
  in emBRACE 66
  heat stress resilience and 10
  in London heatwave case study
    new vulnerability and 230–31
    as vulnerability factor 227–30 structural social resources in 85–86 in sustainable livelihoods
    framework 28f–29f

Social cognitive theory (SCT) 51

Social complexity 61

Social-ecological resilience 70

Social-ecological systems (SES) framework
  application of 70
  climate change adaptation and 66
  in disaster risk management 65 fundamental flaws of 6
  limitations of 5
  for social resilience 65–66

Social environment, physical environment relationship with 36

Social equity, resources and 82

Social isolation, disaster fatalities and 36

Social learning
  adaptive capacity and 47
  adaptive thinking and practice
    and 54–56
  capacities for 46–49
  at community level 49–52
  in community setting 257
  critical reflection for 6, 45 critiques of 45–46
  definition of 44
  development of 54–55
  emBRACE project and 6, 52–54
  at individual level 49
  in livelihoods perspectives 38
  maximisation of 48, 48f prospects of 258
  resilience building and 43–45, 47, 55
  success of 88
  transformation and 44

Social network analysis (SNA) 13, 135

Social network mapping (SNM) 13

ABM compared with 135
  correlations of 135
  costs with 128
  in Cumbria 126f, 129–30
  of flood action groups 126, 126f, 187f–88f purposes of 127–28
  resilience assessment with 128–31
  in South Tyrol 129

Social networks
  climate change and 47
  community resilience and 43–44, 127–31
  in disaster risk management 36
  diversity and 50
  in Dolomite landslide case study
    discussion and conclusions 215–16
    mixed-method approach to 202–3 results 209–14, 210f, 211f, 213f gender and 33
  human capital and 32
  in London heatwave case study 226–27
    as vulnerability factor 227–30
  in Northern England flooding case study 181–82, 187, 187f–88f, 193 power relationships in 18
  resourcefulness and 21
  social learning and 88
  structural holes in 13

Social protection
  in community setting 257
  in emBRACE framework 38, 87
  in Northern England flooding case study 177–79, 179f
  conceptualisation of
    community 179–81, 180t
  discussion and conclusions 192–94
  methods 181–82
  rural resilience results 182–84
  urban resilience results 185–92, 187f–88f, 190f

Social-psychological resilience 12
  in SES research 70
Social reform 81–82
Social relationship model 128
Social resilience 10–11
biophysical links with 14
building of 1
community and 19–20
credit access in East India and 115
description of 69
ecology transition to 17–18
methodology of 12–13
social-ecological systems framework for 65–66
Social resources and capacities, in Turkish earthquake case study 245t, 247–48
Social science perspective 257–58
Social solidarity 54
Social statistical methods 128
Social support, as common theme in resilience case studies 156
Social sustainability 142
Social transformation, social-ecological systems framework and 66
Social trust relations 86 Social vulnerability approaches to 35
resilience and 142
SLAs and 29
Social welfare 32
Socio-ecological (SE) problems 62f, 63f messiness of 70
Socioecological resilience framework 38
Sociopolitical capacities and resources 85–86 in Turkish earthquake case study 244–47, 245t, 246f, 247f South Tyrol
communities in 128–29
HTI variation over 101
changes in 107
IFFI database for 99
landslides in. See Dolomite landslide case study LULC in 99, 102
changes in 108–9
social network mapping in 129
Spatial-explicit scales 147
Spatial planning process, in Dolomite landslide case study 199, 201
Specific resilience 70–71
Stability, resilience and 81
Structural holes, in social networks 13
Structural social resources 85
Subjective variables 70
Successive limited comparisons 62–63
SUEWS. See Surface urban energy and water balance scheme model Sum of difference HTI (SDHTI) 101
Super-wicked problems 64
Support, communities of 180, 201, 216
in DRM 128–29
Surface urban energy and water balance scheme model (SUEWS) 14 Susceptibility
during crisis 1
disaster footprint and 109–10 Sustainability
resources and 82
social learning for 44
Sustainable Livelihood Framework (SLF) 82 Sustainable Livelihoods Approach (SLA) 178 access framework compared with 35
in community setting 257
criticisms of 30
in disaster context 6
evolution of 30–31
fundamental elements of 6
origins of 28
resources and capacities types 84–86
social capital in 31–33
successes of 29–30
summary for 33–34
Sustainable livelihoods framework with political capital 28–29, 29f without political capital 28, 28f Swiss Alpine valleys
awareness through past natural disasters as partial resilience indicator 118 combination of three single factors 121–22
Index

single factor distance 120–21, 121f
single factor intensity 120, 121f
single factor time 119, 120f quantitative indicator development 115–17
residence time as partial resilience indicator in 117–18, 117t, 118f warning services as partial resilience indicator in 122 Systematisation, of resilience indicators 145–47, 146t
System of problems 62
System resilience 65

t
TAPAS approach 132
TCIP. See Turkish Catastrophe Insurance Plan
TL. See Transformative learning
Transformation 20–21
in Central Europe flood events case study community resilience and 172–73
definition of concept 161
interview results demonstrating 165–67
in community resilience 69
resilience and 81
social-ecological systems framework and 66
social learning and 44
in social resilience 69
Transformative learning (TL) 45, 49, 55
Tsunami, Indian Ocean 35
Turkish Catastrophe Insurance Plan (TCIP) 133, 241 Turkish earthquake case study 3, 237–38
agent-based modeling in 132–33
aims and research questions 241
context of risk governance setting in Turkey 240–41 sociodemographic 239–40
discussion and conclusions 252–54
methodological approaches 241
focus groups 242
in-depth interviews 242 perceptions of resilience according to emBRACE framework 242–43, 243f, 245t
context 252
learning 250–51
resources and capacities 244–50, 246f, 247f, 250f
social learning in 55
social solidarity in 54

u
UNISDR self-assessment tool 11
Unsafe conditions, vulnerability to 30
Urban climate modeling 14
Urban climate resilience 13
Urban community 223–24
Urban microclimates, building structures and 14
Urban resilience, in Northern England flooding case study Cockermouth 189–91, 190f Keswick 185–88, 187f–88f
Workington 191–92
Urban resilience framework 38

v
Van earthquakes 237–40. See also Turkish earthquake case study Vegetation, urban heat stress and 14
Village studies tradition 30 Vulnerability 1, 113
approaches for disaster resilience studies 35–36 in London heatwave case study community and 224–25
concept of 221–22, 226
rethinking social network and social capital as factors of 227–30 social capital, fragmented community, and new 230–31 political economy of 226 social approaches to 35
resilience and 142
SLAs and 29
Vulnerability (cont’d)
  underlying causes for 1
to unsafe conditions 30
Vulnerability assessments 142

Well-being, community resilience focus on 11
Wicked problems
  of community resilience 62f, 63f
  history of 62–64
  introduction to 61
  resilience concept as 5, 258
  super-wicked problems 64
Workington, community resilience in 191–92
WRF. See Weather research and forecasting model