Subject Index

A
Academia. See higher education
Academic citizenship, and power, 164–166
Academic culture: and academic freedom, 102; change in, 100–101; collegiality in, 102–105; defined, 98; henhouse analogy for, 127–130; inequity promoted by, 116–118; and intellectual climate, 101–102, 107; and social knowledge of faculty, 106–107; socialization into, 98–99, 109–110. See also bully culture; corporate culture
Academic departments: and faculty selection, 71; incivility in, 10–11; socialization vs. acculturation in, 55
Academic freedom: and academic culture, 102; vs. paternalism, 44–45
Action research, 170
Administration: faculty vs., 39–40, 86–90, 135–136, 138, 141–142, 144–145; role of, in bully culture, 176; unaware of bullying, 64. See also leadership
African Americans, 36–37, 38, 124–125
Aggression: camouflaged, as means of social control, 104–105; causes of, 13; concealed, 51–52; defined, 13, 48; as foundation of modern university, 44; gender differences in, 52–54, 61–62; increased with systemic change, 111; and management styles, 62–64; as socially learned, 47–50, 54–55; supported by organizational governance structure, 79–81; workplace behaviors defined as, 13–14. See also workplace harassment
Alienation, 44
American Association of University Professors (AAUP), 44, 185

B
Bayh-Dole Act (1980), 42
Bowling Alone (Putnam), 3
Brown v. Topeka Board of Education, 38
Bullies: characteristics of, 22; and leadership, 22–23; power of, 57–62; rehabilitating, 181
Bully culture: acceptance of, 149; administration’s role in, 176; assessing, in workplace, 190; deconstructing to change, 181–183; gathering and analyzing data on, 169–175; halting behaviors of, 155; and sexual harassment policies, 152–154, 178; training and education to avoid, 155–162; warning signs of, 150–152. See also workplace harassment
Bullying: behaviors defined as, 16–17, 19; competition as inviting, 65, 66–67; conceptual framework of, 29–31; gender differences in, 118; work environments conducive to, 21; and workplace culture, 17–18. See also mobbing; victims of bullying/mobbing; workplace harassment

Bureaucracy: as context for incivility, 81; and gender, 84–86; in organizational governance structure, 69, 70, 72

Bureaupathology, 87

C

Carnegie Classification, 133, 138–139

Change: aggression increased with systemic, 111; with corporate culture in higher education, 130–134, 135–136; leadership for, 162–164; and organizational governance structure, 82–83

Civility: and context, 5–7; and culture, 4–5; defined, 4; maintained by social control, 5

Civility (Carter), 3

Classroom, incivility by students in, 11–13

Codes of conduct, 155–156

Collegiality, in academic culture, 102–105

Committees: camouflaged paternalism in, 57; concealed bullying in, 64; confidentiality of work of, 76, 86; gender differences in participation on, 86; mobbing by, 23–24; power wielded by, 73, 166–167; as safe havens for bullies, 56; sensitivity training for members of, 157–158; tenure and promotion, 73–79

Communication, electronic forms of, 159–160

Competition: in academia, 64–67; with corporate culture, 133, 135, 138, 140–141, 143, 144; and research, 65–66, 102

Corporate culture: changes with, in higher education, 130–134, 135–136; competition with, 133, 135, 138, 140–141, 143, 144; entrepreneurialism with, 140–142; henhouse analogy for introduction of, 127–130; history of, in higher education, 134–135; increased incivility with, 142–145; and mission, 133–134, 136–137, 138–139; norm and value shift with, 136–137; role of faculty with, 129–130, 131, 134, 135–137, 138, 139, 141

Culture: and civility, 4–5; defined, 93; positive and negative aspects of, 93–96; professional, 97–98. See also academic culture; bully culture; corporate culture

D

Degree attainment, gender differences in, 119–120

Disengagement, 151

Dominance, competition for, 66–67

Dominance, male: challenges to, 36, 45; and female oppression, 125; universal existence of, 52; and women in academia, 122–123

E

E-mail, 159–160

Education. See higher education; training

Excellence, quest for, with corporate culture, 130, 132

F

Faculty: academic citizenship by, 164–166; administration vs., 39–40, 86–90, 135–136, 138, 141–142, 144–145; cosmopolitan (research) vs. local, 41–44, 100–101; disengagement by, 151; educating, about uncivil behaviors, 155–162; evolution of role of, 37; incivility between, in department, 10–11; inequity among, 116, 116–118; liberal arts vs. vocational/professional, 40–41; minorities as, 116; new, 98–99, 109–110, 116; as perpetrators of incivility, 45–46; politics among, 58, 90–92; power of, in organizational governance structure, 69–73; questions for, on incivility in workplace, 190; role of, with corporate culture, 129–130, 131, 134, 135–137, 138, 139, 141; social knowledge of, 106–107; vs. students, 37–38; women as, 40, 116

The Fall of Public Man (Sennett), 3

Feminist scholarship, 45, 125–126

G

Game theory, 142, 143

Gender differences: in bullying, 118; and bureaucratic governance structure, 84–86; in dealing with power, 61–62; in degree attainment, 119–120; in identifying uncivil behaviors, 9–10; in participation in academe, 114–115; in victims of bullying/mobbing, 27–28; in workplace aggression, 52–54

Gossip: as female form of aggression, 53–54, 62; perception of, and career path, 50–51

Governance structure. See organizational governance structure

Grievance procedure: for sexual harassment, 85–86; for workplace harassment, 178–179

H

Harassment. See sexual harassment; workplace harassment

Harvard, 33–34

Hazing, 83–84

Higher education: academic freedom vs. paternalism in, 44–45; changing role of faculty and, 37; competition in, 64–67; contentious environment of, 113–114; elitism in, 34; faculty as perpetrators of incivility in, 45–46; and faculty engaged in research, 41–44, 100–101; faculty vs. administration in, 39–40, 86–90, 135–136, 138, 141–142, 144–145; gender differences in participation in, 114–115; inclusion of middle class in, 35; liberal arts vs. vocationalism in, 40–41, 135; male dominance in, 36, 45, 122–123; minority students in, 34, 36–37, 38; passive victimization of women in, 119–121; tokenism in, 121–122; women as students in, 35–37

I

Incivility: in academic departments, 10–11; and context, 5–7; defined, 7; educating faculty about, 155–158; faculty as perpetrators of, 45–46; halting, 155; increase in, 3, 142–145; as mode of social control, 72, 83; receiver’s perception of, 3, 27; by students in classroom, 11–13; types of, 6–7; in workplace, 8–10

Intellectual climate, and academic culture, 101–102, 107

Isolation: of faculty, 39, 42, 80, 150; with tokenism, 121; of victims, 87–88

K

Knowledge: with corporate culture, 131–132; faculty as producers of, 43, 129–130, 141; social, of faculty, 106–107; of workplace harassment policies, 175–176

L

Leadership: and bullies, 22–23; for change, 162–164; management styles of, 62–64
218  Subject Index

The Lecherous Professor (Dziech and Weiner), 85
Legislative Office of Educational Oversight, 102
Liberal arts, 40–41, 135

M
Majors, shift in, 40–41, 135
Management styles, and aggression, 62–64
Marginalization: of academic work, 125–126; of minorities, 124–125
Men: dominance by, 36, 45, 52, 122–123, 125; workplace aggression by, 52–53. See also gender differences; paternalism
Minorities: as faculty members, 116; included in higher education, 34, 36–37, 38; marginalization of, 124–125; and tokenism, 121–122
Mission, and corporate culture, 133–134, 136–137, 138–139
Mobbing: behaviors defined as, 20–21; by committees, 23–24. See also bullying; victims of bullying/mobbing; workplace harassment
Morrill Act: of 1862, 35–36; of 1890, 38

N
Native Americans, 34

O
Organizational governance structure, 69–92; aggression supported by, 79–81; bureaucracy vs. shared governance in, 69–72; and change, 82–83; faculty vs. administration in, 86–90; and gender, 84–86. See also committees

P
Paternalism: camouflaged, in committees, 57; inequity among faculty due to, 116, 117, 118; vs. academic freedom, 44–45
Peer review, 91, 108, 121
Politics: among faculty, 58, 90–92; of specialization, 41
Power: and academic citizenship, 164–166; of bullies, 57–62; of faculty in organizational governance structure, 69–72; and faculty politics, 58, 90–92; of victims of bullying/mobbing, 184, 186–187; wielded by committees, 73, 166–167
Professional education, 40–41, 135
Promotion: incivility in process for, 73–79; and tokenism, 121. See also tenure and promotion committees
Publishing: in competitive academic environment, 65, 67; on feminist scholarship, 125–126

R
Research: academic culture supporting, 99; on bully culture, 169–175; in competitive academic environment, 65–66, 102; with corporate culture, 131, 133, 138–139, 141–142; faculty engaged in, 41–44, 100–101; on workplace harassment policies, 169, 171
Retaliation, workplace, 14–15, 39, 179, 180
Rudeness, increase in, 3

S
Sensitivity training, 157–158
Sexual harassment: grievance process for, 85–86; policies on, 152–154, 178. See also workplace harassment
Short History of Rudeness (Caldwell), 3
Silence, as supporting incivility, 15–16, 79–80
Situational determinism, 6
Social comparison theory, 54–55
Social control: camouflaged aggression for, 104–105; civility maintained by, 5; education as means of, 34; incivility as mode of, 72, 83
Social distance, and increased incivility, 55–56
Social knowledge, 106–107
Social learning theory, on aggression, 47–50, 54–55
Students: faculty vs., 37–38; incivility by, in classroom, 11–13; recruitment of, with corporate culture, 133, 135, 137

T
Teaching: in competitive academic environment, 65; decreased emphasis on, 100–101
Tenure, incivility in process for, 73–79
Tenure and promotion committees, 73–79, 166–167
Tokenism, in academe, 121–122
Training: to avoid bully culture, 158–162; sensitivity, 157–158

U
Uncivil behavior See incivility
Victims of bullying/mobbing, 23–28; behaviors characteristic of, 24–27; and career path, 50–51; and committee work, 23–24; gender differences in, 27–28; importance of perception of, 3, 27; power of, 184, 186–187; strategies for, 183–187
Vocationalism, 40–41, 135

W
Women: as faculty members, 40, 116; gossip by, 53–54, 62; and male dominance, 36, 45, 122–123; passive victimization of, 119–121; as students in higher education, 35–37; and tokenism, 121–122. See also gender differences
Women's studies programs, 45, 125–126
Workplace harassment: faculty's knowledge of policies on, 175–176; formulation of policy on, 176–178; grievance procedure for, 178–179; redress for, 180; research on policies on, 169, 171; sanctions for, 179–180; and sexual harassment policies, 152–154, 178. See also sexual harassment