INDEX

Page references followed by fig indicate an illustrated figure; followed by t indicate a table.

A
Abuja master plan (Nigeria), 309
Access to care: as health care system pillar, 226–228; migrant health and, 55–56; universal health care providing, 476; as urban health challenges, 470–471. See also Health care systems Activism. See Urban poor activism
Aedes albopictus, 113
Aedes egyptii, 113
Aesthetics: brief history of health, urban planning, and, 346–349; current state of urban, 349–351; definition of, 340; factors shaping public health and urban, 342–346; interrelation of health, urban form and, 340–342
Aesthetics, Well-Being And Health: Essays Within Architecture And Environmental Aesthetics (Cold), 342
African Population & Health Research Center (APHRC), 150, 152
Aga Khan Health Services, 234
Age differences: Shanghai’s aging of native population, 423/fig; vulnerability to small arms violence and, 165/fig
Age-friendly cities: Global Age-Friendly Cities: A Guide (WHO) on, 96; New York City Age-friendly Cities (AFC NYC) project, 96–102; WHO Ageing and Life Course program on, 95–96
AIDS. See HIV/AIDS
Air pollutants: air toxics, 323t, 330; biological, 79, 324t; carbon dioxide (CO₂), 292, 322t, 328–329; climate change and greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, 291–292; lead, 322t, 329–330; nitrogen dioxide (NO₂), 327; nitrogen oxides (NOₓ), 323t, 327; PM (particulate matter), 323t, 324–326; sources, health effects, and regulations of major, 322t–324; sulfur dioxide (SO₂), 322t, 326–327; tropospheric ozone, 323t, 328; urban microenvironment sources of, 321t; VOCs (volatile organic compounds), 324t, 329; WHO guidelines on target levels for, 334
Air pollution: climate change impact on, 291–292; health risks associated with urban, 322t–331; history of, 318–319; increasing temperatures impact on, 78–79; motor vehicles and, 290; pollen allergies, 79; public health implications for, 330–331; urban environments and exposure to, 320–321t; weekly mortality/sulfur dioxide levels of London Fog (1952), 318/fig
Air quality: EPA’s Air Quality Index on, 332; global mega-cities and annual ambient, 319, 320t, 334; London Congestion Charging Scheme (2003) to manage, 332–333; management in urban environments, 331–334; public health litigation in Delhi over, 333
Air toxics, 323t, 330
Alma-Ata Declaration of Primary Health Care, 406
American Public Transportation Association (APTA), 286
Amsterdam: characteristics of, 60–61; ethnic diversity in, 61; health promotion in multicultural population, 64–66; health status of population, 61–62; migrant health educators in, 65–66; public health policies in, 62–66
Animal importation, 111
Anopheles vectors, 114
Anthrax terrorism (2001), 193
Antibiotic-resistant bacteria, 117–118
Antimicrobial resistance, 119–120
Argentine villa miseria, 307
Asia: inadequate water/sanitation infrastructure in,
272–276; informal settlements found in, 308

B
Bastee Basheer Odhikar Surakha Committee (BOSC), 394
Beijing Olympic Games (2008), 18, 20
Belfast Healthy Cities initiative, 351
Belo Horizonte (Brazil): Brazilian Unified Health System (BHC) of, 441–450; brief history of, 438–439; MDG (Millennium Development Goals) indicators for, 439, 440; urban determinants of health in, 439, 441; ZEIS (Zones of Special Social Interest) in, 439
Berlin International Building Exhibition (IBA), 348
Bicycling transportation, 296
Biological air pollutants, 79, 324
Bogotá public transportation, 333
Brain drain: long-term solutions, 53; migration and resulting, 51–52
Brazil: Brazilian Unified Health System (BHC) of, 441–450; bus rapid transit system in, 296–299; crime rates and near collapse of health system in, 165; CRRU (Concession of the Real Right to Use) in, 314; determinants to vulnerability to small arms violence in, 165; favelas of, 307; NHCP (National Health Card Project) of, 245, 246; São Paulo’s integrated public health system in, 245–247; urban health and governance model in Belo Horizonte in, 438–451; ZEIs (zones of "special interest") in, 314. See also Latin America
Brazilian Unified Health System (BHC):
COMFORÇA of, 447–448; democratic governance model of the, 446–450; IQVU (Quality of Urban Life Index) of the, 445–446; IVA (Environmental Vulnerability Risk) of the, 445; IVS (Health Vulnerability Index) of the, 445; metrics of the, 443–444; overview and goals of the, 441–442; Urban Health observatory (OSUBH) and, 442
“Broken windows theory,” 159
Built environment: CPTED (crime prevention through environmental design), 159, 166–169; influencing disasters and their consequences, 179–180, 183; influencing disease transmission, 273; interrelation of health, form, and aesthetics of, 340–342; London Plan (GLA) for, 261; macro, meso, and micro levels of crime and, 166–168; policy interventions to promote health, 135; urban crime and associated design of, 166; urban health framework on, 7–8. See also Environment; Urban physical environment
Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) systems, 296–299
Business sector: governance of, 361–362; how health is impacted by, 372–374; how public health professionals influence health impact of, 382–385; reducing urban health inequities through efforts of, 477–478; strategies to influence health-related practices of, 379–382. See also Employment; Multinational corporations

C
Campylobacter, 112
Can Our Cities Survive? (Sert), 347
Canada: crime prevention strategies used in, 169; Health Infoway system of, 239; welfare reforms recommended by IMF, 21
Carbon dioxide (CO₂): as air pollutant, 328–329; motor vehicles emissions of, 292
Carboxyhemoglobin (COHb), 329
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), 295
The Challenge of Slums report (2003), 18, 19, 306
Chemical exposures, 79
Child Protection Centre Zagreb survey (2003), 210
Children: Croatian programs for prevention of violence among, 215; infant and under-5 mortality rates, 461; malnutrition in rural and urban India, 39–40
Chilean callampa, 307
Chlamydia trachomatis (CT), 62
Cholera, 346
Chronic disease: "causes behind the causes" of, 131; increasing risk of, 126–127; magnitude and scope of, 129–133; multiple sclerosis (MS), 82; myths about, 127–128; providing public education on preventable, 472–473; taking action on, 134–136; what cities are doing to counter risk of, 135. See also Diseases
CIAM movement (1920s and 1930s), 347
Cities: Amsterdam, 60–66; Belo Horizonte (Brazil), 438–450; climate change trends impacting, 70–73; cultural of peace against violence in Zagreb, 208–218; Delhi (India), 72fig, 77fig–78, 290, 333; disaster preparedness of, 185–186; disaster response and recovery of, 186–187; documented/potential health threats of climate change to, 73–82; growth of mega-cities, 223; health-relevant exposures/effects of climate change on, 74fig; Healthy Cities project (WHO), 10, 135, 208, 408–418; impact of climate change on “fully workable days” in Delhi, 77fig–78; infectious diseases spread and temperature change in, 111–112; policies to counter chronic disease risk, 135; policies to reduce health impacts of climate change, 82–85; rapid growth of, 109, 126; risk of chronic disease in, 126–127; summary of temperature change in selected, 71t; UN-HABITAT’s Safer Cities Program, 168; WHO definition of healthy, 427. See also Community; Healthy Cities project (WHO); Informal settlements; Nairobi City (Kenya); New York City; Urbanization “Cities without slums” initiative (UN), 306 Citybike Wien program (Vienna), 296, 297fig Civil society: governance role of, 357–358; informal settlements and involvement of, 312–314; role in solving Luka Ritz’s homicide, 214–215. See also NGOs (nongovernmental organizations) Clean Air Act, 291, 327 Clientelism, 395 Climate change: city policies to reduce health impacts of, 82–85; documented and potential health threats of, 73–82; global and regional trends in, 70–73; greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and, 291–292; health threat of, 70, 291–292; health-relevant exposures/effects of, 74fig; summary of temperature change in selected cities, 71t; as twenty-first century health trend, 5. See also Environment Clostridium difficile, 118 Clostridium perfringens, 81 Colombia: air quality management through public transportation n, 333; Medellín Metrocable system of, 300–301 COMFORÇA (Brazilian Unified Health System), 447–448 Commission on Social Determinants of Health (WHO), 2, 22, 48 Communicable diseases. See Infectious diseases Communication systems: e-health, 239–244; New York City’s PCIP, 100, 241–242; São Paulo’s integrated public health system and, 245–247. See also Information flow Community: e-health system development and role of, 248; microgovernment and networks of, 363–364; need to belong to, 223; reducing urban health inequities through efforts of, 477; role in building social capital and urban health, 463–464; urban aesthetics and walkability enhancing the, 349–350. See also Cities Community Organizations Development Institute (CODI), 361 Competition state, 19–20 Composite International Diagnostic Interview (CIDI), 62 Contraceptive use, 41t Copernicus theory, 127 Corporate average Fuel Economy (CAFE) standards, 286–287 Costa Rican workforce, 79t Crime fear, 165–166 Crime prevention through environmental design (CPTED), 159, 166–169 Crime. See Urban crime Criminal gangs terrorism: criminal-based terrorism response to, 202–203; description and rise of, 197–198 Croatia: Croatian War of Independence (1991-1995) of, 209–210; “Golden Generation” of, 211; government anti-violence programs in, 215–217; history of violence in, 209; Program of Activities for the Prevention of Violence Among Children and Adolescents of, 215. See also Yugoslavian civil war; Zagreb (Croatia) Croatian Football Association (FA), 213 Culture: as individual health factor, 63fig; migrant health and role of, 50; as urban crime variable, 159–161 D The Death and Life of Great American Cities (Jacobs), 341 Death rates. See Mortality rates Delhi: hourly air temperatures in, 72fig; impact of climate change on “fully workable days” in, 77fig–78; motor vehicle emissions in, 290; public health litigation over air quality in, 333. See also India Demographic and Health Surveys (DHS), 37
Demographic shifts: definition of, 3–4; as twenty-first century health trend, 3–5. See also Urban demographic transformation

Dengue, 107, 113

Developed countries: e-health systems in, 239–240; integrated e-health systems in, 240–242; urban terrorism responses by, 203–204. See also Global North

Developing countries: brain drain depleting, 51–52, 53; creating good practices addressing migrant health issues in, 49; “double job schedules” of women in, 76–77; e-health systems in, 242–244; growth rates of total urban population in, 32/fg; resource constraints of, 52; total urban population by region in, 31/fg; urban terrorism responses by, 203–204; water and sanitation services in urban areas of, 268–280. See also Global South

Diarrheal diseases: inadequate water/sanitation and, 271–272; water and sanitation interventions to reduce, 278–279

Disaster management: mitigation as, 183–185; preparedness as, 185–186; response and recovery as, 186–187

Disasters: early warning systems for, 185; examining the health and economic costs of, 176; health effects of, 177–178; Hurricane Katrina, 164, 181; interaction between physical and social environments during, 183; natural versus humanmade, 176; social environment influencing effects of, 180–183; in urban areas, 178; urban physical environment influencing effects of, 179–180

Disease spread factors: international travel, 108; urbanization, 108–109

Disease transmission: epidemiology of, 272–276; fecal-oral pathogen transmission routes, 275/fg; inadequate water/sanitation and, 271–276; physical factors influencing, 273/fg; vector-borne, 81/fg, 107, 113–114

Diseases: climate change impact on, 81/fg–82; factors affecting microbial spread of, 108–109; Global Burden of Disease (GBD) study on, 130, 331; globalization and infectious, 106; inadequate water/sanitation and, 271–276; migration and, 50–51; recommendations for preventing emerging/resurgent, 118–120; vector-borne, 81/fg, 107, 113–114. See also Chronic disease; Infectious diseases

DOHMH (NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene): on population health, 92–93; public health interventions by, 93–94

E

E. Coli, 112

E. coli O157:H7, 112

E-health systems: current status in the developed world, 239–240; in the developing world, 242–244; integrated developed world, 240–242; lessons learned from efforts of, 247–249; São Paulo’s public health, 245–247

Early warning systems: as disaster preparedness, 185; Los Angeles Terrorism Early Warning (TEW) Group model of, 202

Economic inequalities: disaster vulnerability impact of, 181; shaping urban aesthetics and health, 345–346; susceptibility to disease related to, 274, 276; urban life and, 17–18. See also Family income

Education levels (Shanghai), 426

Electronic health records (EHR): used in the developed world, 239–240; in the developing world, 242–244; integrating systems in developed world, 240–242; lessons learned from experience with, 247–249; São Paulo’s public health use of, 245–247

Emerging infectious diseases: overview of, 107–108; recommendations for prevention of, 118–120

Employment: impact of inadequate water/sanitation on, 271–272; New York City, 99; as Shanghai health factor, 426. See also Business sector

Entrepreneurship governance, 361–362

Environment: air quality management in urban, 331–334; as individual health factor, 63/fg; New York City accessibility and physical, 99–100; as social determinant for healthy living, 471–472; syndemic situation created from hazards of, 270–271; urban health and social, 8/fg; 9; urban health and urban physical, 7–8/fg. See also Built environment; Climate change; Social environment

Epidemiological Intelligence (Epi-Intel) Cell, 202

European Healthy Cities Network (WHO-EHCN): content and themes of the phases of the, 411–413/fg; critical success factors of the, 414–417; organizational structure of the, 410–411; origins of the, 406–409; Social Determinants of Health published by, 411. See also Healthy Cities project (WHO)

The European School survey Project on Alcohol and Other Drugs, 210

Extreme weather incidents, 80
F

Family income: relatives murdered by minimum wage and, 162/fig; as Shanghai health factor, 426; urban crime association with inequalities of, 163/fig–164. See also Economic inequalities

Fatah (the PLO), 194

Favelas (Brazil), 307

Firearm manufacturers/sales, 377–379

Food supply: food and beverage industry impact on healthy, 375–377; infectious diseases spread through transported, 112

“Football” War (Zagreb, Croatia), 212–213

Freetown (Sierra Leone): inadequate water services in, 269/fig; latrines in urban slum in, 270/fig

Freight road transportation, 289

Fuel efficiency: CAFE standards for, 286–287; green auto technologies and, 294

Fuel quality: air pollution and, 290; green auto technologies and, 294

Fuels: alternative, 294; hazardous material spills of, 291; health effects of additives to, 291; reducing use of, 293–294; types of, 290

Fumifugium or the Aer and Smoake of London Dissipated (Evelyn), 318

G

Gender differences: Costa Rican workers exposed to sunlight during work, 79t; as determinant of vulnerability to small arms violence, 165/fig; sensitivity to heat and, 76–77

Ghana: age and sex structure of urban relative to rural, 37/fig; health and urban poor of, 36–38

Global Age-Friendly Cities: A Guide (WHO), 96

Global Burden of Disease (GBD) study, 130, 331

Global demography: changes in the, 128–129; percentage of population in low-, middle-, and high-income countries, 129t; shifts in twenty-first century, 3–5; three leading causes of death by income group, 131t

Global economy: inequalities of, 17–18, 181, 274, 276, 345–346; SDH (social determinates of health) balanced with, 21–23; the state role in the, 19–20

Global financial crisis (GFC): fragility revealed through, 133; poverty increase due to, 133

Global North: e-health in the, 243–244; health care system challenges in the, 246, 249; informal settlements in the, 307–315; lack of PTSD treatment following terrorism in, 201; links between Global North and, 197; poverty concentration in rural areas of, 373; terrorist attacks in the, 195, 197. See also Developing countries

Global Strategy for Health for All, 406

Global urban terrorism: distribution of, 194–198; impact of, 198–201; incidents of terrorism by year (1998-2007), 196; response strategies to, 201–204

Globalization: definition of, 2; “disequalizing” nature of, 14–17; HIV/AIDS spread and, 114–115; infectious diseases and, 106; migration impacted by, 47–49; state role in creating barriers to, 20–21; as twenty-first century health trend, 2–3

Globalization and World Cities study group, 16

Governance: Belo Horizonte (Brazil) model of urban health and, 438–451; civil society role in, 357–358; definition of, 356; good governance versus, 358–359; health-related business decisions driven by, 381; healthy city approach for urban health in Shanghai, 427–435; healthy urban, 356–366; improving health by improving urban, 462; informal settlements, 312–314; Nairobi City (Kenya), 141–144; for NYC public health interventions, 93–94; public affairs and, 359; shaping urban aesthetics and health, 344–345; three main elements of, 356–357; Zagreb (Croatia) anti-violence programs, 215–217. See also Public health policies; The state

Gram-negative bacilli, 118

Greater London Authority (GLA): establishment of, 254, 257; healthy urban development strategy of, 257–263; HIA (health impact assessment) tool used by, 259–262

Greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, 291–292

Greenway Project (South Bronx), 295

H

H1N1 influenza strain, 117, 119

H5N1 influenza strain, 117, 119

Hamas, 194

Hazards: climate change and chemical exposures, 79; fuel spills, 291; syndemic situation created from environmental, 270–271; UN ISDR definition of, 177; WHO on inadequate water/sanitation, 270
HEALTH 21: (WHO regional Office for Europe), 416–417

Health care services: innovations in delivery of, 230–232; KEPH (Kenya Essential Package of Health), 144–145; Nairobi City (Kenya), 141–154; New York City’s, 100; urban health framework on, 8

Health care systems: Brazilian Unified Health System (BHC), 441–450; financial support of, 229–230; Mexican health care reform of, 226–228, 232–233; opportunities to strengthen urban, 233–234; shortage of health care workers in, 249; as spread of infectious diseases factor, 110; three pillar of urban, 225–232; universal, 476. See also Access to care; Participatory budgeting

Health effects: air pollutants and, 322–324; climate change, 74; disasters and, 177–183; how business decisions impact, 372–374; of inadequate water/sanitation infrastructure, 272–276; migration and, 49–51; urban terrorism, 198–199. See also Mental health effects; Urban health

Health Effects Institute, 331

Health impact assessment (HIA): evidence-based policy changes based on, 261–262; as urban development tool, 259–261

Health inequalities: addressing London, 255, 262–263; definition of, 6; disequalizing globalization impact on, 14–17; measuring urban poor, 459–460; as twenty-first century trend, 5–7

Health inequities: definition of, 6; framework for action in reducing, 478–480; identifying priorities and interventions for, 478–479; monitoring progress toward MDGs, 479

Health inequities reduction: advocacy and implementation for, 479; framework for reducing, 478–480; identifying priorities and interventions for, 478–479; monitoring progress toward MDGs, 479

Health promotion: Amsterdam population and, 64–66; as health care system pillar, 228–229; providing public health education as, 472–473

Health-related business practices: government responses to drive, 381; market responses to drive, 380–381; moral and political responses to drive, 381–382; reducing urban health inequities through, 477–478

Healthy Cities project (WHO): creation of the, 406–409; description of, 10, 135; four elements for action, 409; on qualities of a healthy city, 407–408; in Shanghai, 422–435; six strategic goals of, 408–409; Zagreb (Croatia) membership in, 208. See also Cities; European Healthy Cities Network (WHO-EHCN)

Healthy Migrants for Healthy Thailand, 49

Healthy urban government: definition of, 356; elements and examples of, 360–364; governance versus good and, 358–359; importance to health, 359–360; limits of, 364–365; non-government contributions to, 357–358; public affairs importance of, 359; Shanghai adoption of, 427–435; three main elements of, 356–357. See also Urban health

Helsingborg Plan for Sustainable Development, 413

High-income countries: percentage of population in, 129; three leading causes of death in, 131–132

HIV/AIDS: Amsterdam population health risks for, 62, 63; globalization impact on spread of, 114–115; health promotion in Amsterdam to prevent, 64–65; injecting drug use (IDU) and, 115; morbidity and mortality in Nairobi City, 149; providing public education on, 472–473; Sonagachi Project as prevention intervention to, 364; trend toward being leading cause of death, 130; urbanization and growth of, 106, 107. See also Infectious diseases; Sexually transmitted infections (STIs)

Hodood Ordinances (Pakistan), 159

Homicides: Croatian civil society role in solving Luka Ritz, 214–215; family income, minimum wage, and relatives victim of, 162; macro, meso, and micro levels of analysis of urban design and, 166–168

Housing: healthy urban governance role in, 360–361; as Shanghai health factor, 426; United Nations Special Rapporteur on, 20

Human rights: migrant health, access to care, and, 55–56; United Nations Special Rapporteur on housing as, 20

Humanmade disasters: definition of, 176; interaction between physical and social environments during, 183; social environment influencing effects of, 180–183; urban physical environment influencing effects of, 179–180

Hurricane Katrina: economic inequalities impacting effects of, 181; violence following, 164

Hygiene promotion, 279–280
I

Immigrant criminal gangs, 197–198

India: child malnutrition in, 39/fg–40; measuring urban and rural living standards, 38–41; National Slum Dwellers Federation activism in, 396–398, 464; prenatal care in urban and rural, 38/fg; Sonagachi Project to reduce HIV rates among sex workers, 364. See also Delhi

Indiana University School of Medicine (IUSM), 241

Indianapolis Network for Patient Care and Research (INPCR), 241

Indonesia: population data gathered from, 35–36; population exposed to seaward hazards in, 35/fg

Infant and under-5 mortality rates, 461t

Infectious diseases: antibiotic-resistant bacteria and, 117–118; cholera, 346; climate change impact on, 81t; dengue, 107, 113; emerging, 107–108; globalization and, 106; malaria, 113–114, 243; migration and, 50–51; multiple-drug-resistant tuberculosis (TB), 106, 107; pandemic influenza, 117, 119–120; providing public education on, 472–473; recommendations for prevention of, 118–120; SARS (severe acute respiratory virus), 106, 107, 115–117, 357; Shanghai and morbidity or prevalence of selected, 433t; urbanization and the growth of, 106–107, 109–112. See also Diseases; HIV/AIDS; Sexually transmitted infections (STIs)

Influenza, 117, 119

Informal settlements: definitions of, 306–307; formation and persistence of, 308–310; government strategies on, 312–314; Kayamandi Zone F (Cape Town), 311t; living in an, 311–312; scale, location, and trends of, 307–308. See also Cities; Slums

Information flow: Canadian Helath Infoway system for, 239; e-health systems and, 239–244; PCIP (Primary Care Information Project) [NYC], 100, 241–242. See also Communication systems

Injecting drug use (IDU), 115

Injury risk, 224

International arms trade, 377–379

International Compendium of Crime Prevention Practices, 169

International Monetary Fund (IMF): asymmetries of decision making by the, 15; Canadian welfare reforms recommended by, 21; SAPs (structural adjustment programs) mandated by, 19

International Organization for Migration’s (IOM) Migration Health Dialogue, 49

International Physical Activity Questionnaire (IPAQ), 427

International Sanitary Conferences, 346

International travel: infectious disease spread through, 111; microbial spread through, 108

J

Japan: infant and under-5 mortality rates in, 461t; Kobe earthquake (1995) response and recovery in, 186; murder and property crime rates in, 161/fg

K

Kenya: Aga Khan Health Services working on e-health system in, 243; infant and under-5 mortality rates in, 461t; Kenya Diabetes Management and Information Centre (DMI), 151; KEPH (Kenya Essential Package of Health) in, 145–145t; service provision for noncommunicable diseases (NCD) in, 144–145. See also Nairobi City (Kenya); Sub-Saharan Africa KidsWalk-to-School program (CDC), 295

L

Language/migrant health link, 50

Latin America: Colombia, 300–301, 333; informal settlements found in, 308. See also Brazil

Lead, 322t, 329–330

Leadership. See Governance

Less developed (LDC) countries, 30/fg

Lifestyle (Shanghai), 426–427

London: addressing health inequalities in, 255, 262–263; Congestion Charging Scheme (2003) to manage air pollution in, 332–333; GLA’s healthy urban development strategy for, 257–263; using health impact assessment tool for urban development in, 259–261; LHC (London Health Commission) of, 258; London subway bombings (2005), 195, 197; overview of, 254–255; SDH (social determinants of health) in, 255–257; SmokeFree London forum, 262. See also United Kingdom

London Fog (1952), 318/fg
Los Angeles Terrorism Early Warning (TEW) Group model, 202
Low-income countries: percentage of population in, 129; three leading causes of death in, 131; water and sanitation services in urban areas of, 268–280

M
Madrid train bombings (2004), 195, 200
Mahila Milan, 464
Malaria: health effects of, 113–114; Tamil Nadu urban malaria control, 243
Maldevelopment, 222
Malnutrition, climate change and increased, 80
Mara Salvatrucha-13 (MS-13), 197–198
Mayors Against Illegal Guns, 379
Medellín Metrocable system (Colombia), 300–301
Mega-cities: air quality of, 319, 320; global locations of, 32; increase of, 223; UN forecasts on, 32–33
Men having sex with men (MSM) health risk, 62
Mental health effects: PTSD (post-traumatic stress disorder), 199–201; urban terrorism, 199–201. See also Health effects
Menu labeling laws, 135
Methicillin-resistant S. aureus (MRSA), 118
Mexican Mafia (La Eme), 197
Mexico: bus rapid transit system in, 299; health care reform in, 226–233; leading causes of death in, 224; Mexico City earthquake, 182; NAFTA between U.S. and, 376; Popular Health Insurance (Seguro Popular) of, 227–228; System of Social Protection in Health (SSPH) law in, 227
Middle-income countries: percentage of population in, 129; three leading causes of death in, 131
Migrant health: Amsterdam public health education for, 65–66; communicable diseases and, 50–51; human rights, access to care and, 55–56; living conditions and, 50; noncommunicable diseases and, 51; reproductive health, 51; role of language and culture in, 50; ways to improve, 56–57; working conditions and, 50
Migration: globalization impact on, 47–49; health impact of, 49; health impact on receiving countries, 49–51; impact on countries of origin, 51–52; increasing rate of, 225; microbial spread through, 109; perspectives and solutions to problems of, 52–55; significance to urban growth through, 46–47; urban demographic transformation due to, 33–34
Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) [UN]: Belo Horizonte City and performance of eight indicators of, 440; burden of human diseases reduction as, 118; e-health value to achieving, 247; as human rights issue for migrants, 55; on improving lives of slum dwellers, 308, 314; international community commitment to, 23, 233; monitoring progress toward, 479. See also United Nations
Mitigation of disaster, 183–185
More developed (MDCs) countries, 30
Mortality rates: HIV/AIDS trend as being leading cause of death, 130; infant and under-5 mortality in selected countries, 461; leading causes of death in Mexico, 224; London Fog (1952) and, 318; ten leading causes of death/mortality in Shanghai, 425; three leading causes of death by income group, 131
Motor vehicles: fuel efficiency of, 286–287, 290–291, 293–294; global trends in ownership of, 288; greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions of, 291–292; injuries due to accidents, 224; vehicle miles of travel (VMT), 286. See also Road transportation
MRSA (methicillin-resistant S. aureus), 118
Multinational corporations: food and beverage industry, 375–377; impact on urban health by, 375–379; international arms trade by, 377–379; reducing urban health inequities through efforts of, 477–478; strategies to influence health-related practices of, 379–382. See also Business sector
Multiple Indicator Cluster Surveys (MICS), 37
Multiple sclerosis (MS), 82
Multiple-drug-resistant tuberculosis (TB), 106, 107

N
Nairobi City (Kenya): APHRC health promotion partnership with, 152; APHRC survey on health facilities in, 143–144; CCN (City Council of Nairobi) governance and health service provision in, 141–144; comparison of child mortality rates rural areas and, 42; CVD clinics project in two slums of, 145–152; diabetes/hypertension outcomes among adult slum residents (2008–2009), 147; future plans and policy implications in, 154; HIV/AIDS morbidity and mortality in, 149; infant and under-5 mortality rates in, 461; interim outputs and improved clinical outcomes in, 152–154; Kenya Diabetes Management and Information Centre (DMI), 151; KEPH (Kenya Essential Package of Health) in, 144–145; overview of city of, 140–141; selected health and demographic indicators in slums of, 141; slum dwellers and urban poor of, 41–42. See also Cities; Kenya

National Debt Reduction Strategy Paper, 52
National Slum Dwellers Federation (India), 396–398, 464

National Transit Database (2007), 289

Natural disasters: definition of, 176; Hurricane Katrina, 164, 181; interaction between physical and social environments during, 183; social environment influencing effects of, 180–183; urban physical environment influencing effects of, 179–180

Network of European National Healthy Cities Networks, 410–411

New Urbanism movement, 348–349
New York Academy of Medicine (NYAM), 97
New York City: anthrax terrorism (2001) disruption in, 193; demographics and overview of, 92–93; governance and range of public health interventions in, 93–94; moving toward implementing findings on, 100–101; older population in, 94–95; PCIP (Primary Care Information Project) for information flow, 100, 241–242; population aging and urbanization planning in, 95–96; September 11, 2001 attacks on, 194–195; tobacco control strategy used in, 135; Toward an Age-Friendly New York City: A Findings Report on, 98–101; urban intervention policies of, 94–98. See also Cities

New York City Age-friendly Cities (AFC NYC) project: assessment of city agencies for, 96–97; assessment of community needs for, 97–98; engaging political leadership in, 96; lessons learned from, 101–102; origins and development of, 95–96; Toward an Age-Friendly New York City: A Findings Report on, 98–101

NGOs (nongovernmental organizations): African Population & Health Research Center (APHRC), 150, 152; Bastee Basheer Odhikar Surakha Committee (BOSC), 394; governance role of, 357–358; Mahila Milan, 464; National Slum Dwellers Federation (India), 396–397, 464; OrangiPilot Project Research and Training Institute (OPP-RTI), 393, 465; reducing urban health inequities through efforts of, 477; role in reducing urban poverty, 400–401; SDI (Slum/Shack Dwellers International), 398; SPARC (Society for Promotion of Area Resources), 464; urban health improvement role of, 463–465. See also Civil society; Social services; Urban poor activism

NHCP (National Health Card Project) [Brazil], 245, 246

Nigerian Abuja master plan, 309

Nitrogen dioxide (NO₂), 327

Nitrogen oxides (NOₓ), 323, 327

Noncommunicable diseases. See Diseases

North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), 376

O

Obesity: food and beverage industry contributing to, 375–377; as heat disorder risk factor, 82; HIA (health impact assessment) used to reduce, 262; menu labeling laws to fight, 135

OECD countries’ brain drain, 51–52, 53

OrangiPilot Project Research and Training Institute (OPP-RTI), 393, 465

Ottawa Charter for Health Promotion, 406

Ovations (United HealthCare Group) chronic disease initiative, 136

Oxford Health Alliance Syndey Summit, 135–136

P

Pakistan: e-health system developed in, 243; Hodood Ordinances of, 159

Pandemic influenza, 117, 119–120

Panel on Urban Population Dynamics (2003), 37–38

Participatory budgeting: Brazilian Unified Health System (BHC) model of, 447–450; PREM (Participatory Public Expenditure Management), 363; public spending through, 363, 447–450, 464. See also Health care systems

Particulate matter (PM), 323, 324–326

Pathogens: Campylobacter, 112; Chlamydia trachomatis (CT), 62; Clostridium difficile, 118; Clostridium perfringens, 81; E. Coli, 112; E. coli O157:H7, 112; factors affecting concentrations of environment, 272–273; fecal-oral pathogen transmission routes, 275/fg; methicillin-resistant S. aureus (MRSA), 118; Salmonella, 81, 112; Shigella, 112; Staphylococcus aureus, 81

PCIP (Primary Care Information Project) [NYC], 241–242
Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity
Reconciliation Act, 21

Physical activity: International Physical Activity
Questionnaire (IPAQ), 427; as Shanghai health factor, 426–427

Physical environment. See Urban physical environment

Planet of Slums (Davis), 23

Political-based terrorism responses, 201–202

Pollen allergies pollution, 79, 324f

Pollutants. See Air pollutants

Popular Health Insurance (Seguro Popular)
[Mexico], 227–228, 230

Population: demographic shifts of, 3–5;
demographics associated with urban crime,
164–165fg estimates on future African urban,
46; exposed to seaward hazards in Indonesia,
35fg; Indonesian, 35–36; as spread of infectious diseases factor, 109–110; UN estimates on urban, 300; UN forecasts on growth, 29–30fg, 32–34;
demographic transformation, 29–36

Poverty. See Urban poverty

PREM (Participatory Public Expenditure
Management), 363

Preparedness of disaster, 185–186

Prison gangs, 197–198

Program of Activities for the Prevention of Violence
Among Children and Adolescents (Croatia), 215

PTSD (post-traumatic stress disorder): description and symptoms of, 199; DSM-IV criteria for, 201;
September 11, 2001 and, 200; urban terrorism and, 199–201

Public health: Amsterdam policies on, 62–66;
balancing global politics with needs of, 21–23;
connections between crime prevention and,
169–170; connections between urban planning, aesthetics, and, 340–351; health-related business practices influenced by, 382–385; NYC governance and interventions, 93–94; NYC health and human services, 100; São Paulo’s integrated system of, 245–247; social model of, 256fg; urban air pollution implications for, 330–331; violence prevention as priority of, 158–159

Public health policies: Amsterdam, 62–66;
e-health system development and role of,
248–249; reducing climate change health impacts, 82–85. See also Governance

Public spending: Brazilian Unified Health System
(BHC) model of, 447–450fg; participatory budgeting approach to, 363, 447–450, 464;
PREM (Participatory Public Expenditure
Management), 363

PulseNet, 118

R

Rail transit: improvements and growth of,
299–300; trends in, 289–290

Rape victims, 159

Reproductive health: contraceptive use by residence/poverty status, 41fg; migration and, 51

Resource constraints, 52

Rio Declaration, 406

Road transportation: alternative fuels for,
294; global trends in vehicle ownership for, 288–289; green auto technologies for,
294; health and safety risks associated with,
290–293; increasing fuel efficiency for, 293–
294; promoting transit instead of, 296–300; promoting walking or bicycling instead of,
294–296; trends for, 286–288; trends in freight,
289. See also Motor vehicles

“Rough City” (Maric), 214

S

Safer Cities Program (UN-HABITAT), 168

Safety risks: transit security and, 293; transit system and related, 292–293; transportation and associated health and, 290–293

Salmonella, 81, 112

SALTRA (Salud y Trabajo en América Central) program, 78

Sanitation services: epidemiology of disease transmission and, 272–276; health benefits of interventions for, 278–280; impact on livelihoods of inadequate, 271–272; in low-income urban settlements, 268–271; perceptions of ill health and demands for improved, 276–278

SARS (severe acute respiratory virus), 106, 107,
115–117, 357

SARS-CoV, 115

SDI (Slum/Shack Dwellers International), 398

Security issues: governance role in policing and,
362; transit system, 293

September 11, 2001, 194–195, 200

Sexually transmitted infections (STIs): Amsterdam population health risks for, 62, 63; globalization and spread of, 114–115; health promotion in Amsterdam to prevent, 64–65; providing public education on, 472–473. See also HIV/AIDS; Infectious diseases
Shanghai (China): aging of native population, 423–424; economy and demographics of, 422–423; health service system in, 424, 426; health status of population, 424; social, economic, and lifestyle factors related to health in, 426–427; ten leading causes of death/mortality in, 425–426
Shanghai Healthy City project: “Happy Song for a Healthy City” theme song of, 429; major indicators related to children, 432; measures of environmental quality during, 431–432; morbidity or prevalence of selected infectious diseases, 433; number of outpatient medical visits in, 432; origins and development of, 428–435; political commitment to, 430; reported degree on changed health indicators by residents, 433; structure of MHPC (Municipal Health Promotion Committee), 429–430
Shigella, 112
Sierra Leone: inadequate water services in, 269; latrines in urban slum in, 270
Slow Cities movement, 351
Slums: aesthetic neglect of, 347–348; The Challenge of Slums report (2003) on, 18, 19, 306; CVD clinics project in two Nairobi, 145–152; health challenges in, 457–459; health impact of inadequate water/sanitation infrastructure in, 272–276; of Nairobi, 41–42; population by region (2005), 458; proportion of urban populations living in, 457; risk factors for chronic disease in, 132; selected health and demographic indicators in Nairobi, 141; as spread of infectious diseases factor, 110; urban poor activism by inhabitants of, 396–399. See also Informal settlements; Urban poverty
Small-arms production, 377–379
SmokeFree London forum, 262
Soccer War (Zagreb, Croatia), 212–213
Social capital: advantages of, 182; influencing relocation following disasters, 182–183
Social Determinants of Health (WHO-EHCN), 411
Social determinates of health (SDH): balancing global economy with, 21–23; as cause behind the causes of chronic disease, 131; Commission on Social Determinants of Health (WHO) on, 2, 22, 48; importance of, 14; London and, 255–257; socioeconomic, environment, and crime as, 471–472; as urban health challenge, 471–472
Social environment: influencing disasters and their consequences, 180–183; shaping urban aesthetics and health, 345–346; urban health framework on, 8; See also Environment
Social model of public health, 256–257
Social services: social model of public health and, 256–257; urban health framework on, 8; See also NGOs (nongovernmental organizations)
Socioeconomic health factors, 471–472
Sonagachi Project, 364
South Africa: Kayamandi Zone F (Cape Town) informal settlement in, 311; World Cup (2010) held in, 18. See also Sub-Saharan Africa
South Asia: inadequate water/sanitation infrastructure in, 272–276; informal settlements found in, 308
SPARC (Society for Promotion of Area Resources), 464
Squatter settlements, 306
Staphylococcus aureus, 81, 118
The state: “competition,” 19–20; global economy role of, 19–20; globalization barriers created by, 20–21. See also Governance
State of World Population 2007, 33
Structural adjustment programs (SAPs), 19
Sub-Saharan Africa: Abuja master plan (Nigeria), 309; estimates on future urban population of, 46; health impact of inadequate water/sanitation infrastructure in, 272–276; informal settlements found in, 308, 310, 311; migration issues for, 54–55; Sierra Leone, 269; UN-HABITAT’s Safer Cities Program in, 168. See also Kenya; South Africa
Substance abuse/violence link, 210–211
Sulfur dioxide (SO₂), 322; 326–327
Swedish infant/under-5 morality rates, 461
Sydney Summit of Oxford Health Alliance, 135–136
T
Tamil Nadu urban malaria control, 243
Targets for Health for all (WHO Regional Office for Europe), 415
Technological health factor, 343–344
Temperature: hourly air temperatures in Delhi, 72; impact on air pollution by rising, 78–79; infectious diseases spread and change in, 111–112; summary of change in selected cities, 71; Wet Bulb Globe Temperature (WBGT), 75–76

Tobacco use: HIA (health impact assessment) used to reduce, 262; NYC’s tobacco control strategy, 135

Toward an Age-Friendly New York City: A Findings Report, 98–101

Transit system: Bogotá air quality management through use of, 333; Bus Rapid Transit (BRT), 296–299/fg; health and safety risks associated with, 290–293; improving the, 293–300; Medellín’s Metrocable, 300–301; promoting use of public, 296–300; rail, 289, 299–300; security issues of, 293; as Shanghai health factor, 426; TOD (transit-oriented developments) and, 348–349; trends in, 289–290

Transportation. See Urban transportation

Tropospheric ozone, 323/fg, 328

Twenty Steps for Developing a Health Cities Project (WHO), 408

2007 Global Report on Human Settlements (UN-HABITAT), 158

UN Millennium Development Goals, 2

UNICEF studies: on SAPs (structural adjustment programs), 19; on violence in schools, 210–211

United Kingdom: Black report on health divide in, 255; Crime and Disorder Act (1998) of, 169; crime and violence prevention policies in, 168–169; murder and property crime rates in, 161/fg; See also London

United Nations: “cities without slums” initiative of, 306; estimates on urban populations by, 300; global population growth forecasts by, 29–30/fg, 34; mega-cities forecast by, 32–33. See also Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) [UN]

United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), 161

United Nations Special Rapporteur, 20

United States: murder and property crime rates in, 161/fg; NAFTA between Mexico and, 376; September 11, 2001 attacks on the, 194–195, 200; “stealth urban policies” in the, 22; transportation infrastructure in the, 284–286t. See also U.S. legislation

Universal health care, 476

Urban crime: age, gender, and employment status related to, 164–165; “broken windows theory” of, 159; comparison of recorded homicide per population, 160/fg; environmental design characteristics associated with, 166; family income and relatives murdered by minimum wage, 162/fg; fear of, 165–166; governance role in policing to control, 362; Hurricane Katrina and increased, 164; macro, meso, and micro levels of analysis of urban design and, 166–168; poverty association with, 161–163; as social determinant for healthy living, 472; sociocultural and economic variables of, 159–164; as sociopathology, 158. See also Violence

Urban crime prevention: connections between public health and, 169–170; CPTED (crime prevention through environmental design), 159, 166–169; interventions for, 168–169

Urban demographic transformation: examining the process of, 29; forecasting urban and city growth, 34; mapping urban data on, 34–36; migration versus natural increase, 33–34, 46–57, 225; sketch of urban growth and, 29–33. See also Demographic shifts; Urbanization

Urban design/development: CPTED (crime prevention through environmental design), 159, 166–169; disasters and role of, 179–180; GLA (Greater London Authority) strategy for healthy, 257–263; HIA (health impact assessment) as tool in, 259–262; interrelation of health, form, and aesthetics of, 340–342; macro, meso, and micro levels of analysis of crime and, 166–168; outcomes of healthy development and, 27. See also Built environment; Urban planning issues and concerns of, 48; maldevelopment concept of, 222; meeting challenges and opportunities in, 9–10; megatrends in 21st century, 2–7; migration impact on, 49, 50–57; multinational corporation impact on, 375–379; opportunities for the future of, 473–476; role of communities in building social capital and, 463–464; role of urban professionals in, 464–465; SDH (social determinates of health) and, 255–257; socioeconomic, cultural, and environmental conditions for, 63; transportation and associated risks of safety and, 290–293; urban form, aesthetics, and, 340–351; urbanization impact on, 48. See also Health effects; Healthy urban government; Urbanization

Urban health challenges: access to care as, 470–471; dimensions of the, 454; education for communicable diseases, STDs, and preventable chronic conditions, 472–473; overview of global, 222–223; SDH (social determinates of health) which are, 471–472

Urban health framework: health and social services, 8; social environment, 8; urban physical environment, 7–8

Urban health trends: climate change as, 5; demographic shifts as, 3–5; globalization as, 2–3; health inequalities and inequities as, 6–7; urbanization as, 5–6

Urban Heart initiative, 478–479

Urban physical environment: influencing disasters and their consequences, 179–180, 183; influencing disease transmission, 273; shaping urban aesthetics and health, 342–343; urban health framework on, 7–8. See also Built environment

Urban planning: factors shaping public health and aesthetics of, 342–346; Helsingborg Plan for Sustainable Development, 413; New Urbanism movement of, 348–349; for urban retrofitting, 350–351. See also Urban design/development

Urban poor: child malnutrition among Indian rural and, 39; comparison of child mortality rates in Nairobi and Kenya, 42; comparisons of rural households, urban nonpoor, and, 40–41; contraceptive use by women by residence and poverty status, 41; Demographic and Health Surveys (DHS) on, 37; examining health status of the, 36–42; measuring health inequalities of the, 459–460; Multiple Indicator Cluster Surveys (MICS) on, 37; Panel on Urban Population Dynamics (2003) on, 37–38; relative poverty of Indian, 38; slum dwellers and the, 41–42

Urban poor activism: clientelism role in, 395; to get needs addressed, 393–396; from protest to coproduction, 396–399; role of international agencies in, 400–401. See also NGOs (nongovernmental organizations)

Urban poverty: conventional approaches to reduction of, 390–391; role of international agencies in reducing, 400–401; 21st century challenges of, 457; urban crime association with, 161–163; urbanization context of, 391–393. See also Slums

Urban terrorism responses: criminal-based, 202–203; developed world and developing world differences in, 203–204; political-based, 201–202

Urban transportation: aggregate trends in U.S., 287; characteristics of U.S. infrastructure, 284–286; global trends in vehicle ownership for, 288; health and safety risks associated with, 290–293; improving the system, 293–301; as Shanghai health factor, 426; trends in road, freight, and transit, 286–290

Urbanization: as context of poverty, 391–393; definition of, 5; evolution of, 454–456; growth of infectious diseases and, 106–107; increased risk of injuries and, 224; microbial spread and, 108–109; opportunities and challenges of, 456–457; as twenty-first century trend, 5–6. See also Cities; Urban demographic transformation; Urban health

U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), 292

U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS), 202
U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), 286, 291, 292
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA):
Air Quality Index of, 332; fuel standards of, 290
U.S. legislation: Clean Air Act, 291, 327;
Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity
Reconciliation Act, 21. See also United States

V
Vector-borne diseases: climate change impact on,
81; dengue, 107, 113; emerging, 107; malaria,
113–114; by vector and pathogen types, 81
Vehicle miles of travel (VMT), 286
Violence: criminal gangs, 197–198; cultural of peace against Zagreb, 208–218; fear of crime-related, 165–166; gender/age as determinants to vulnerability to small arms, 165/fg; multinational corporations selling firearms, 377–379; public health priority of prevention of, 158–159; as sociopathology, 158; substance abuse association with, 210–211. See also Urban crime
Volatile organic compounds (VOCs), 329

W
Walkability, 349–350
Walking transportation, 294–295
Water services: disease transmission through contamination of, 271–276; epidemiology of disease transmission and, 272–276; health benefits of interventions for, 278–280; impact on livelihoods of inadequate, 271–272; in low-income urban settlements, 268–271; perceptions of ill health and demands for improved, 276–278
Web sites: Belfast Healthy Cities initiative, 351;
British crime prevention strategies, 169; Canada’s crime prevention strategies, 169; Globalization and World Cities study group, 16; International Compendium of Crime Prevention Practices, 169;
London Congestion Charging Scheme, 332;
Oxford Health Alliance Sydney Summit, 135;
United Nations Special Rapporteur, 20
West Nile virus, 107
Wet Bulb Globe Temperature (WBGT),
75–76/fg, 78
“What is Adequate Shelter?” (UN Millennium Project), 313
WHO (World Health Organization): collaborative study on SARS headed by, 116, 357; Commission on Social Determinants of Health of, 2, 22, 48; Global Age-Friendly Cities: A Guide by, 96; on global disease burden due to inadequate water/sanitation services, 270; HEALTH 21; (WHO regional Office for Europe), 416–417; healthy city definition by, 427; Healthy City projects, 10, 135, 208, 406–418; influenza classifications by, 117; OECD countries’ brain drain estimated by, 52; Ottawa Charter for Health Promotion,
406; Social Determinants of Health (WHO-EHCN),
411; on target levels for air pollutants, 334;
Targets for Health for all (WHO Regional Office for Europe), 415; Twenty Steps for Developing a Health Cities Project, 408; Urban Heart initiative of, 478–479; World Report on Violence and Health by, 213–214
Women: contraceptive use by residence and poverty status, 41; “double job schedules” of developing countries, 76–77; Pakistan’s Hodood Ordinances on rape victims, 159; reproductive health of, 41
Y
Yugoslavian civil war, 212–213. See also Croatia

Z
Zagreb (Croatia): Child Protection Centre Zagreb survey (2003), 210; civil society role in solving Luka Ritz murder, 214–215; “football” war in, 212–213; government programs against violence in, 215–217; Healthy Cities movement membership by, 208; history of violence in, 209–213; international programs against violence applied in, 213–214; overview of, 208–209; positive signs of progress in, 217–218. See also Croatia
Zagreb Declaration, 416