Contents

Preface  xi
Acknowledgments  xiii

CHAPTER 1

Introduction  1
1.1 Knowledge in Landscape Architecture  1
1.2 The Need for a Guide  2
1.3 The Gatekeeping Dilemma in Context  4
1.4 Mapping the Terrain  7
1.5 Building a Research-Based Discipline  13
References  15

CHAPTER 2

Knowing Landscape Architecture  17
2.1 Introduction  17
2.2 The Nature of Professional Disciplines  17
2.3 Domains of Knowledge in Landscape Architecture  20
2.4 Research Needs  26
References  29

CHAPTER 3

Theory/Research/Scholarship/Critique  30
3.1 Introduction  30
3.2 Competing Ideals of Theory  31
3.3 Representing Theory  34
3.4 Theoretical Conversations  35
3.5 Research and Scholarship  37
3.6 Studio Design as a Research Setting  40
3.7 Theory and Critique  42
3.8 Conclusion  43
References  44

CHAPTER 4

Integrating Design and Research  48
4.1 Introduction  48
4.2 Problems and Purpose  48
4.3 Framing a Research Question  52
4.4 Degrees of Research  53
4.5 Assessing Research Quality  56
4.6 A Developmental Heuristic  58
References  63

CHAPTER 5

Descriptive Strategies  65
5.1 Introduction  65
5.2 Observation  66
5.3 Secondary Description  71
5.4 Descriptive Social Surveys  72
5.5 Complex Description  77
5.6 Descriptive Case Studies  79
Descriptive Strategies: Summary  85
References  85

CHAPTER 6

Modeling and Correlational Strategies  87
6.1 Introduction  87
6.2 Descriptive/Synthetic Models  89
6.3 Analytical Models and Correlation 90
6.4 Simple Correlation 93
6.5 Multiple Correlations 96
6.6 Spatial Correlations 98
6.7 Predictive Modeling 101
6.8 Dynamic Simulation Modeling 103
Modeling Strategies:
Summary 110
References 112

CHAPTER 7
Experimental Strategies 114
7.1 Introduction 114
7.2 Classic Experiments 116
7.3 Field Experiments 119
7.4 Quasi Experiments 119
7.5 The Metaphor of Experimentation 122
Experimental Strategies:
Summary 124
References 124

CHAPTER 8
Classification
Schemes 126
8.1 Introduction 126
8.2 Collection/Inventory/Catalogue 128
8.3 Typology 133
8.4 Taxonomy 136
8.5 Index 140
8.6 Bibliography and Literature
Review 144
Classification Strategies:
Summary 149
References 149

CHAPTER 9
Interpretive Strategies 152
9.1 Introduction 152
9.2 Ethnography 153
9.3 Discourse Analysis 161
9.4 Iconology and Iconography 164
9.5 Historiography 165
Interpretive Strategies:
Summary 169
References 172

CHAPTER 10
Evaluation and Diagnosis 174
10.1 Introduction 174
10.2 Parameters, Norms, and
Rubrics 175
10.3 Design Evaluation 179
10.4 Diagnostics 181
10.5 Landscape Assessment 184
Evaluation and Diagnosis Strategies:
Summary 187
References 190

CHAPTER 11
Engaged Action
Research 192
11.1 Introduction 192
11.2 Action Dimensions in Pedagogical
Research 194
11.3 Participatory Design in Service
Learning 197
11.4 Participatory Action Research
(PAR) 200
11.5 Transdisciplinary Action Research
(TDAR) 202
Engaged Action Research
Strategies: Summary 203
References 204

CHAPTER 12
Projective Design 205
12.1 Design as Research 205
12.2 Design Operations 209
12.3 Design Interpretations 215
12.4 Design Reflections 217
CHAPTER 13
Logical Systems (Axioms, Rules, and Argumentation) 223
13.1 Introduction 223
13.2 Logical Relationships 224
13.3 Synthetic Logic 227
13.4 Expanded Field Analysis 228
13.5 Spatial Syntax as Logical System 229
13.6 Pattern Language 231

Logical Systems:
Summary 234
References 235

CHAPTER 14
Research and Practice 237
14.1 Introduction 237
14.2 Integrating Research Strategies into Practice—Evidence-Based Design 239
14.3 Integrating Research into Practice—Polemical Transformation 240
14.4 Integrating Knowledge into Practice—Grassroots Movements 241
14.5 Organizing Practice-Based Research 242
14.6 Reprise 246
References 247

Index 249
All science should be scholarly, but not all scholarship can be rigorously scientific . . . . The terrae incognitae of the periphery contain fertile ground awaiting cultivation with the tools and in the spirit of the humanities.

—John Kirtland Wright, cited in Yi Fu Tuan, Topophilia