INDEX

A
Academic success classes (ASC), 93–94
Accelerations, 55, 89, 95–96
Acorn Woodland Elementary School, Oakland, California, 132–136, 142–143, 238
Action plan: four key steps for, 29, 31; and goal setting, 29, 31, 40–47, 194, 196, 197; monitoring and adjusting, 29, 31, 47–48; questions to review, 260; sample, 43–45.
See also School planning
Adams, C., 212–214
Adaptive leadership, 229, 231, 245–250
Adrianzén, M., 188, 189–190
Adult and student efficacy, 100, 114–120, 121
Adult-student relationships, supportive, 101, 125–127
Advisories and referrals, 124–127
Aguilar, C., 118
Aguirre, C., 145–146
Airways Middle School, Memphis, Tennessee, 219–221
Alfred Nobel Elementary School, Chicago, 188–190, 199
Aligned assessments, 52
Aligned curriculum, 53, 54, 56–67
Alignment across the district, 258
Assessments, interim, 76, 77, 78
Attendance rates by grade, 32, 39

B
Baity, L., 85, 86, 87
Bambrick-Santoyo, P., 82, 180, 261
Barber, M., 184
Behavioral expectations, 21, 22–24, 25, 100, 109–114
Belief based and goal driven leadership, 228, 230, 232–236
Benjamin, S., 20–21, 23, 24, 26, 27–28, 29, 111
Benjamin Banneker Academic High School, Washington, DC, 125–127
Berger, A., 125–127
Bladensburg High School, Prince George's County, Maryland, 202–206
Blanchard, K., 246
Bloom's taxonomy, 60
Boston Collegiate Charter School, Boston, Massachusetts, 161, 178–179, 191
Brooklyn Latin School, Brooklyn, New York, 153–155, 156, 157, 191
Brown, D., 225
Bruce Randolph School, Denver, Colorado, 111–114, 125
Bryk, T., 240
Budget: and external partnerships, 195, 217–218; and facilities, 195, 218–221; as part of planning and operations, 195; and resources, 195, 211–217
Bullying and diversity, 133

C
Callahan, E., 161, 179
Carbone, J., 233–236
Carmona, A., 215–217
Challenge 2010 plan, 112, 114
Change, managing, 246–247
Character and competence, 240–241
Classroom observers and meeting facilitators, supporting IIT members as, 167–168
Classroom practices and instruction, 53, 54, 68–75
Coaching principals: and alignment across the district, 258; and district-level strategies, 263–266; and goal setting, 260–261; mid- and end-of-year reviews, 262–263; and personal leadership approaches, 263; planning time for, 261; and school diagnosis, 259–260; targeted visits and walk-throughs for, 261–262, 266; tools for, 266; Transformational Leadership Framework (TLF) for, 257–258
Cognitive rigor matrix, Hess's, 60
Collaborative teacher team structures, 186–190
College and career aspirations, 115, 116, 119, 121
Collins, J., 228, 251
Community and district relations, 221–225
Cooper, T., 73, 74–75
Core values, 105–108
Covey, S., 197, 240
Cultural competency and diversity, 101, 128–136
Culture, school: in case study, 35; and family and community engagement, 101, 102, 140–143; principal’s tools for, 144; and relationships, 101, 102, 124–139; shared mission and values, 99, 100, 102–109; and stages of school development, 18, 19; three key levers for, 99–102; and trust, 240–241
Curriculum, aligned, 53, 54, 56–67
Curriculum Development Institute (CDI), 65–67
Data, diverse student-level, 53, 55, 76–87
Davies, G., 32–48
Day of Peace event, 131
De Sousa, M., 117, 119
Deasy, J., 146
Depth of knowledge (DOK), Webb’s, 60
Diagnose, as first step in planning, 29, 30, 32–38
Diagnosis, pitfalls of conducting, 37–38
Diagnosis process guide, 37
Diagnostic trend reflection questions, 259–260
Discipline issues, time spent on, 210–211
Diversity and cultural competency, 101, 128–136
Docal, J., 65, 66, 67, 138, 139, 242–244
Dweck, C., 85, 114, 115
E
E. L. Haynes Public Charter School, Washington, DC, 81, 83, 150, 156
East High School, Denver, Colorado, 92–95
Efficacy, adult and student, 100, 114–120, 121
Epanchin-Troyan, T., 140, 166, 168
Equity focused leadership, 229, 230, 237–238
Evaluation, performance, 180–181, 183
Expectations, behavioral, 21, 22–24, 25, 100, 109–114
Expectations, clear, 239–240
Expectations, performance, 175–176
Expeditionary Learning School for Community Leaders, Brooklyn, New York, 51, 52, 171–174, 251
F
Facilities, 195, 218–221
Family and community engagement, 101, 102, 140–143
Fauteux, M., 119
Feedback: actionable, 176–180; on progress, 55, 83–85
Fullan, M., 184, 233
G
Gaines, L., 132–126, 142–143, 238
Garcia, J., 71, 72, 73
Gillibrand, K., 52
Girls Prep Bronx Elementary, Bronx, New York, 233–236
Goal setting and action plan, 29, 31, 40–47, 194, 196, 197
Goals: of principals, 260–261; SMART, 85–87
Good to Great, 228, 251
Great Principals at Scale, 263
Griffin, S., 219–220
Griffiths, J., 153, 154, 157
Growth mind-set, 85, 115
Guskey, T., 80
H
Harris, A., 247–250
Healy Elementary School, Chicago, 215–217
Heifetz, R., 246
High expectations for students, 52
Hiring constraints, 150
Hiring procedures, 148, 152. See also Talent management
Hoffer, J., 94
Holland, J., 223–224
Howard, J., 23
I
Induction, 148, 159–162
Instructional leadership, importance of, 52–55
Instructional leadership team, 147, 148, 162–174
Interim assessments, 76, 77, 78
Interpersonal leadership, 229, 231, 238–244
Interventions, system of, 55, 88–95
Interviewing teachers, 157–158
J
Jones Elementary School, as case study, 32–48
Jordan, G., 202–206
K
Kenwood Academy, Chicago, 158
Kirby, L., 158, 159
Klaffky, L., 117, 119
L
LaRose Elementary School, Memphis, Tennessee, 73
interpersonal, 229, 231, 238–244; resilient, 229, 231, 251–252
Leadership Public Schools, Hayward, California, 117–120, 121
Leadership Public Schools, Richmond, California, 20–26, 111
Learning and teaching: and aligned curriculum, 53, 54, 56–67; category map, 54–55; classroom practices and instruction, 53, 54, 68–75; district-level strategies for, 264; and diverse student-level data, 53, 55, 76–87; and stages of school development, 18, 19; and student-centered differentiation, 53, 55, 87–96; and TLF analysis of Jones Elementary School, 35–36

M
Marcovitz, B., 105–108
Marshall, K., 180
Marzano, R., 86
McTighe, J., 61, 65
Mears, K., 173
Mind-set, growth, 85, 115
Mission, defined, 104
Mission and values, shared, 99, 100, 102–109
Monarch Academy, Oakland, California, 140, 168
Monitoring and adjusting action plan, 29, 31, 47–48

O
Oberts, J., 189
Observation: and actionable feedback, 176–180; by peers, 189
Observers and meeting facilitators, supporting ILT members as, 167–168
O’Hara, D., 51, 52, 171–173, 251–252
Operations and planning. See Planning and operations
Opportunity Culture initiative, Public Impact’s, 248–250
Orientations, annual student, 113
Our Family Coalition, 132

P
Parents as partners, in teaching efficacy, 115, 118. See also Family and community engagement
Peer observations, 189
Performance expectations, 175–176
Performance monitoring and evaluation, 147, 149, 174–181, 182–183
Personal leadership approach: adaptive leadership, 229, 231, 245–250; belief based and goal driven leadership, 228, 230, 232–236; equity focused leadership, 229, 230, 237–238; interpersonal leadership, 229, 231, 238–244; resilient leadership, 229, 231, 251–252; self-assessment tool for, 263
Pierre-Farid, M., 220–221
Planning and operations: budget, 195, 196, 211–221; community and district relations, 195, 196–197, 221–225; and district-level planning, 265; four levers of, 194–195, 196–197; goal setting and action planning, 29, 31, 40–47, 194, 196, 197; importance of, 193, 196; principal’s tools for, 226; and stages of school development, 19, 20; time management, 194, 196, 197–211
Polaris Charter Academy, Chicago, 131
Powell Bilingual Elementary School, Washington, DC, 58, 60, 65, 67, 138–139, 242–244
Principal actions, 17. See also Stages of school development
Principal coaching: and alignment across the district, 258; and district-level strategies, 263–266; and goal setting, 260–261; mid- and end-of-year reviews, 262–263; and personal leadership approaches, 263; planning time for, 261; and school diagnosis, 259–260; targeted visits and walk-throughs for, 261–262; tools for, 266; Transformational Leadership Framework (TLF) for, 257–258
Principal time allocation example, 209
Principal’s schedule, 208–211
Prioritize, as second step in planning, 29, 30, 31, 38–40
Professional learning and collaboration, 147, 149, 181, 184–190
PS 230, Bronx, New York, 225
Pyramid of behavioral intentions, 120, 122, 123

R
Ranson IB Middle School, Charlotte, North Carolina, 247–250
Recruitment and onboarding, 146, 148, 150–162
Relationships: and advisories and referrals, 124–127; and cultural competency and diversity, 101, 128–136; and school culture, 101, 102; and student voice, 101, 136–139
Resilient leadership, 229, 231, 251–252
Response to intervention (RTI), 91, 92
Reteach Action Plan, 81
Rigor, creating a common definition of, 59–61
Rigorous instruction to meet high expectations, 52
Routines, classroom, 54, 68, 69, 70

S
Safety and evacuation, 221
Saphier, J., 180
Schedules and time management: annual calendar, 198–199, 200; importance of, 197–198; master schedule, 200–201; principal’s schedule, 208–211; schedule review, 199; scheduling challenges, 207–208; student master schedules, 201–206

School actions, 17. See also Stages of school development

School culture: in case study, 35; and family and community engagement, 101, 102, 140–143; principal’s tools for, 144; and relationships, 101, 102, 124–139; and shared mission and values, 99, 100, 102–109; and stages of school development, 18, 19; three key levers for, 99–102

School planning: case study, 32–48; four key steps for, 29–31. See also Planning and operations

Sci Academy, New Orleans, Louisiana, 105

Shared mission and values, 99, 100, 102–109

Sheffield High School, Memphis, Tennessee, 223–224

SMART goals, 46, 85–87

Social-emotional learning skills and supports, 100, 120, 122–123, 124

Socratic seminar, 51

Staff assignment, 148, 158–159

Stages of school development: importance of, 15–16; moving through, 20–25; overview of, 16–20

Stakeholder communications and engagement, 222–224

Steck Elementary School, Denver, Colorado, 85

Sternberg, R., 80

Student and adult efficacy, 100, 114–120, 121

Student efficacy, defined, 115

Student master schedules, 200, 201–206

Student voice, 101, 136–139

Student-centered differentiation, 53, 55, 87–96

Sullivan, K., 161, 162, 178, 179

Sullivan High School, Chicago, 212–214

Supportive adult-student relationships, 101, 125–127

System of interventions, 55, 88–95

T

Talent management: category map, 148–149; district-level strategies for, 265–266; four key levers of, 146–147; instructional leadership team, 147, 148, 162–174; performance monitoring and evaluation, 147, 174–181, 182–183; principal’s tools for, 191; professional learning and collaboration, 147, 181, 184–190; recruitment and onboarding, 146, 148, 150–162; and stages of school development, 18, 19, 20; and TLF analysis of Jones Elementary School, 34, 36; video, 191

Teacher leadership, 168–171

Teacher team structures, collaborative, 186–190

Teachers, interviewing, 157–158. See also Talent management

Teaching and learning: and aligned curriculum, 53, 54, 56–67; category map, 54–55; classroom practices and instruction, 53, 54, 68–75; district-level strategies for, 264; and diverse student-level data, 53, 55, 76–87; and stages of school development, 18, 19; and student-centered differentiation, 53, 55, 87–96; and TLF analysis of Jones Elementary School, 35–36

Textual annotation, 51

Time management: annual calendar, 198–199, 200; importance of, 197–198; master schedule, 200–201; principal’s schedule, 208–211; schedule review, 199; scheduling challenges, 207–208; student master schedules, 201–206

Transformational Leadership Framework (TLF): principal coaching using, 257–266; stages of, 16–26

Transitions, and time management, 207–208

Trust, creating culture of, 240–241

U

Understanding by design (UbD), 61

Unit planning, 61–67

V

Value statements, 114

Values: core, 105–108; defined, 104; shared, 99, 103

Vision, mission, and values, 100, 102–109

W

Walk-throughs and targeted visits, 261–262, 266

Waters, K., 112–114

Westendorf, E., 81, 82, 150

Wiggins, G., 61, 65

Y

Year-end reviews, 262–263, 266

Youngquist, J., 93, 94

Z

Zapata, R., 117