Index

A
Accelerated Reader, 132
Achievement: assessing students’, 91, 130–131; gap in reader, 25; improving with independent reading, 51–52, 55, 164–166, 168–169, 170–171; teacher’s reading habits and student, 109–110. See also Assessment
Activities: focusing extra, 56, 126–127; fun folders, 56; teacher’s self-reflection, 111
Allen, Janet, 15, 128
Allington, Richard, 24–25, 127, 167, 168
Alsop, J., 54
Amazon website, 76, 138
American Library Association, 167
Anderson, R. C., 61
Angelou, Maya, 103
Applegate, Anthony and Mary, 107, 109
Art of Teaching Writing, The (Calkin), 84–85
“Ask the Mentor”, 1
Assessment: book groups for students’, 130–131; conversations with students as, 91, 99–100; reader’s notebooks for, 95–97; reading logs for independent reading, 139, 141–143; traditional comprehension tests as, 131–133, 168–169. See also Reader’s notebooks
Association for Library Services to Children: Literary Awards, 116
Atwell, Nancy, 15, 16
Audible, 149
Audiotapes of books, 149
Authors: building familiarity with, 95; introducing with read-alouds, 86–88

B
Becoming a Nation of Readers (Commission on Reading), 61
Behavior during in-class reading, 56–57
Billingsley, Peter, 82
Birrell, Augustine, 119
Black and Blue (Quindlen), 49
Blake, Quentin, 75
Blasingame, J., 115, 116
Book clubs, 173
Book groups, 128–129
Book lists: favorite read-aloud books, 87; keeping own, 96; published, 115, 116; students’ ‘Ultimate Library List’, 115, 193–200; for whole-class novels, 123
Book pass log, 128–129 making your own, 112–113; shaping reader’s self-identity with, 28–29; validating, 84–86. See also Book lists; Reader’s notebooks
“Book Whisperer, The”, 2, 72
Booklinks, 167
Booklist, 75, 138
Bookplates, 187
Books: acquiring classroom library, 186–187; audiotapes, CDs, and podcasts of, 149; building knowledge of genres, 88–89; caring for, 187–189; carrying everywhere, 57–58; checking out, 186, 188–189; connecting with others via, 172–173; discussing how to choose, 71–75; identifying by genre, 91–95; immersing students in, 34, 155–156; introducing, 86–88; leaving choice to students, 21–23, 26–27, 31–32, 74, 82–83, 177; limiting concepts taught for, 127; selecting for classroom libraries, 189–191; sharing responses to, 105, 110–112, 117–118; showing how to use, 34–35; size of, 72, 80; storing, 184–186; validating student’s choice of, 84–86. See also Book reports; Book selections; Classroom libraries
Books That Don’t Bore ‘Em (Blasingame), 115, 116
Bucking the Sarge (Curtis), 86
Bush, J., 54
C
Calkins, Lucy, 84–85, 125
Cambourne, Brian, 34–36, 37
CDs of books, 149
Celebrating student milestones, 83, 144–146, 156–157
Characteristics of Genre form, 204–205
Chocolate War, The (Cormier), 86
Classroom: about strategies in, 5; approaches to literacy in, 108–109; conditions for learning in, 34–37; demotivating practices in, 121–127; expanding reading time in, 52–53, 58, 61–62, 144; independent reading during interruptions, 53–54; making place for reading, 63–67; transforming into workshop, 15–16. See also Classroom libraries
Click Here (Vega), 140
Commission on Reading, 61
Comprehension tests, 131–133, 168–169;
See also Standardized testing
Cormier, Robert, 86
Crichton, Michael, 100, 190
Crowe, Chris, 172
Crucible, The (Miller), 123
Curriculum: alternatives to whole-class novels, 127–131; fitting independent reading to, 17, 52–53, 58, 61–62; grammar lessons vs. independent reading, 54–55; reading after other work completed, 55–57; tailoring reading requirements to, 78, 79; teaching whole-class novels, 122–125
Curtis, Christopher Paul, 86
D
Day My Butt Went Psycho, The (Griffiths), 85, 86, 108
Developing readers, 24–27
Doctorow, E. L., 49
Dormant readers, 27–30
Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (Stevenson), 99–100, 190
E
Elley, 55
Elmore, Richard, 122
Encouragement: celebrating student milestones, 83, 144–146; providing for dormant readers, 27–29; responsiveness to students as, 21–23; using reader surveys to provide, 39–46. See also Enthusiasm
Index 219

End-of-year evaluations, 153–157, 206–211

English Journal, 172

Excerpts, 129–130

Expectations: carrying books everywhere, 58; expressing for students, 35; raising students’ reading, 164–166; setting for library visits, 60

Failure: celebrating successes rather than, 77–78, 83, 144–146; reader’s ability and, 25–26

“Farewell to Farewell to Arms” (Fisher and Ivey), 123

Farmer, Avi and Nancy, 116

Feedback: End-of-Year Reading Evaluation form for, 206–211; getting students’, 153–157; offering on student’s progress, 36

Finding Nemo, 74

Fisher, Douglas, 123

Florida State University, 121

Forms: Characteristics of Genre, 204–205; End-of-Year Reading Evaluation, 206–211; Reading Interest-A-Lyzer, 39–46, 202–203

Fountas, Irene, 15, 78, 95–96

From the Mixed-Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Frankweiler (Konisburg), 10–11

Fun folders, 56

Funke, Cornelia, 100, 101, 102, 141

Gardner, Kim, 59

Genres: building knowledge of, 88–89; Characteristics of Genre form, 204–205; identifying books by, 91–95; organizing discussions on, 89–91; student’s notes on, 92–93; testing reading as, 134–135; “Ultimate Library List” by, 193–200; used in author’s requirements, 78, 79, 81

Goals: announcing for library visit, 60–61; inspiring more reading, 125, 171–172; personal choice and meeting learning, 35

Goodreads website, 116, 138

Green, Donna, 175

Griffiths, Andy, 85

Guiding Readers and Writers (Fountas and Pinnell), 15, 78, 95–96

Guts (Paulsen), 87

H

Halsted, J. W., 190

Harry Potter series, 10

Hatchet (Paulsen), 83

Heidi (Spyri), 10

Helprin, Mark, 11

Hiebert, C. H., 61

Hjalmarsson, H., 5

Honest book appraisals, 105

How Angel Patterson Got His Name (Paulsen), 87

How Reading Changed My Life (Quindlen), 49

“How to Kindle Reading”, 72

I

“If They Don’t Read Much, How They Ever Gonna Get Good?” (Allington), 167, 168

In the Middle (Atwell), 15

Independent reading: after other work completed, 55–57; carrying books everywhere, 57–58; during interruptions, 53–54; expanding classroom time for, 52–53, 58, 61–62, 144; fitting to curriculum, 17, 52–53, 58, 61–62; improving achievement with, 51–52, 55, 170–171; institutional support for, 166–168; libraries and, 58–61; making cornerstone of class, 50–52; measuring with reading logs, 139, 141–143; personal responses to Miller’s use of, 175–177; raising students’ expectations of, 164–166; replacing warm-up lessons with, 54–55, 61; scholarly opinions of, 3–4, 167–168; starting classes with, 49–50; students end-of-year response to, 161–164; using with developing readers, 24–25

Inkheart (Funke), 100, 101, 102
Inkspell (Funke), 141
Inspiring more reading: activities for, 13–14; students feedback on, 156; teachers’ role in, 106–108; ultimate teaching goal, 125
International Reading Association, 167
Interruptions in classroom, 53–54
Ivey, G., 123, 127

J
Jackson, Holbrook, 63
Jacobs, B., 5
Jen Robinson’s Book Page, 116
Jurassic Park (Crichton), 100, 190

K
Keene, Ellin, 15
Kelley, Susie, 14–15
Kennedy Krieger Institute, 121
King, Stephen, 9, 84
Konisburg, E. L, 10–11, 13
Korman, Gordon, 87
Krakauer, Jon, 10
Krashen, Stephen, 3–4, 51, 55, 170–171

L
Last Book in the Universe, The (Philbrick), 105–106
Lee, Harper, 84, 125, 159
L’Engle, Madeline, 111
Libraries: announcing goals for visit, 60–61; modeling skills for, 59–60; organizing classroom books by genre, 91; preparing classroom, 183–191; scheduling time for, 58–61. See also Classroom libraries
Lifelong reading: author’s reflections on, 5, 9–11; fitting reading into daily life, 62; goal for students, 171–172; importance of to teacher, 108–110
Linnakyla, 109
Literacy: achieving with alternatives to whole-class novels, 127–131; developing lifelong reading skills, 4; differing approaches to, 108–109; impact of teaching whole-class novels on, 123–124, 130; parents and, 107–108; teaching with traditional language skills, 51, 122–127
Literary awards, 116
Literary classics, 122–124
Little House in the Big Woods (Wilder), 111
Lost World, The (Crichton), 100, 190
Love of reading: exposing student to great literature vs., 123–124; informing recommendations, 106; instilling, 77
Lundberg, 109

M
Mann, Horace, 52
Marcello, Peak, 10
Matthew effect, the, 25
Maugham, W. Somerset, 19
Mayflower (Philbrick), 73
McKenna, Richard, 69
Mercado, Nancy, 86–87
Miller, Arthur, 123
Miller, Celeste, 10
Miller, Don, 9, 10, 63
Miller, Donalyn: activities inspiring more reading, 13–14; classroom library of, 183–184; connecting with others via books, 172–173; experiments in teaching, 14–18; personal responses to teaching of, 175–177; reading requirements for students, 1; reflections on lifelong reading, 5, 9–11; selecting books for classroom libraries, 189–191; suggested student forms, 202–211; teaching practices of, 181
Modeling: inspiring others to read, 106–108; library skills, 59–60; reading habits, 36, 50, 108–110; sharing responses to reading, 105, 110–112, 117–118; use of reader’s notebook, 96–97
Index  221

Morrison, Toni, 5
Mosaic of Thought (Keene and Zimmerman), 15
Motivation: blog responses on nurturing, 175–177; book commercials for, 137–138; book groups for, 128–129, 130; celebrating milestones and, 78, 83, 144–146; expanding in-class reading time and, 144; incentive programs for, 149–150; practices deadening, 121–127; reading as own, 151; reading logs for, 143; realigning teaching practice to, 122; scholarship on creating, 167–168; students feedback on, 153, 156; traditional book reports and, 135. See also Encouragement
Multiple readings of books, 72
My Life in Dog Years (Paulsen), 87
Myers, Ron, 14, 64, 179–181
N
National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, 2, 3
National Institutes of Health, 121
National Reading Panel, 2, 3
No Child Left Behind, 27
O
Oral reading: preparing and practicing, 148; round-robin and popcorn reading, 146–147; substitutes for, 148–149. See also Read-alouds
Outsiders, The (?), 125
P
Parents. See Adults
Paulsen, Gary, 83, 87
Peer pressure and reading, 81–82
Pennac, D., 75, 193
“Peter Effect, The” (Applegate and Applegate), 107
Philbrick, Nathaniel, 73
Philbrick, Rodman, 105–106
Picture day, 57–58
Pinnell, Gay Su, 15, 78, 95–96
Podcasts of books, 149
Poetry, 129–130
Popcorn reading, 146–147
Power of Reading, The (Krashen), 3, 51
Publishers Weekly, 138
Q
Quiet time, 67–68
Quindlen, Anna, 49
R
Rag and Bone Shop, The (Cormier), 86
Ragtime (Doctorow), 49
Read-alouds: favorite, 87; introducing, 86–88; round-robin and popcorn reading, 146–147; whole-class novels as, 126
Reader’s notebooks: creating own, 117; keeping, 95–97; using information from, 99–102
Reading: achievement gap in, 25; activities inspiring more, 13–14; authentic, 4; books multiple times, 72; carrying books everywhere, 57–58, 63; children’s books, 113–114; creating classroom for learning, 34–37; demotivation of, 121–122; during classroom interruptions, 53–54; fitting independent reading to curriculum, 17; importance of, 52, 179–181; importance to teacher, 108–110; incentive programs for, 149–150; increasing time for, 24–25,
Index

35, 51; inspiring others to read, 106–108; instilling love of, 77, 106, 123–124; institutional support for independent, 166–168; as its own reward, 151; making classroom place for, 63–67; opportunities provided with, 179; peer pressure and, 81–82; reflect on what you’re, 117; responsively encouraging, 21–23; Rosenblatt’s transactional theory of, 108; starting classes with, 49–50; student resistance to new strategies for, 32–34; teacher’s role in modeling, 109–110; testing as genre, 134–135; types of, 4; unusual habits and places for, 65, 66–67. See also Independent reading; Lifelong reading; Oral reading

Reading Interest-A-Lyzer surveys, 39–46, 202–203

Reading plans: making own, 112–115, 117; reading requirements and, 75–76

Reading requirements: emphasizing importance of reading with, 80–81; genres for, 78, 79, 81; not linking to class failure, 77–78, 83, 144–146; reading plans and, 75–76. See also Expectations

Reading research: attempts to explain reading problems in, 2–3; on creating motivation, 167–168; scholarly opinions on independent reading, 3–4, 167–168

Reading Teacher, The, 183

Reading workshops: book commercials and reviews, 137–139, 140, 141; building knowledge of genres, 88–89; getting student feedback on, 156; identifying books in genres, 91–95; implementing book groups, 128–130; key components of, 16; library time, 58–61; organizing discussions on genres, 89–91; quiet time during, 67–68; topics and structure for, 17–18; transforming classroom into, 15–16

Real reading, 4; See also Independent reading

Recommendations: basing on reader’s notebooks, 100; book talks vs. personal, 136–137; books and websites for reading, 116; investigating industry, 115; love of reading informing, 106; making for students, 29–30; reading children’s books for, 113–114; taking from students, 114–115; using reader surveys to provide, 39–46

Reis, Sally, 39

Reluctant readers, 27–30

Renzulli, Joseph S., 39, 202

Response entries in reader’s notebooks, 96

Responsibility: involving students in learning goals, 35; reading as student’s, 50, 83

Rewards: for incentive programs, 149–150; reading providing own, 151

Rights of the Reader, The (Pennac), 75, 193

Robinson, Jen, 113, 114, 116

Rosenblatt, L., 108

Round-robin reading, 146–147

S

Samuels, C. A., 121

Schmidt, Gary, 161

Scholarship. See Reading research

Scholastic Reading Counts, 132

Scott, J. A., 61

Self-reflection activity, 111

Share-reading, 126

Shining, The (King), 84

Short stories, 129–130

Six Flags Reading Contest, 149–150

Sixth Grade Nickname Game, The (Korman), 87

Size of books, 72, 80

Skinner, B. F., 122

Spoilers, 136

Spyri, Johanna, 10

Stand, The (King), 9
Index

Standardized testing: independent readers’ performance with, 170–171; preparing students for, 133–134; testing reading as genre, 134–135; using traditional comprehension tests, 131–133, 168–169

Stanovich, Keith, 25

Stevenson, Robert Louis, 99–100, 190

Struggling readers, 24–27

Student-teacher relationships: building, 67, 100, 173–175, 176–177; as one reader to another, 102, 106; sharing honest reading preferences, 105–106

T

Tchudi, S., 54
teachermagazine.org, 1–2

“Teaching Children to Read”, 2

Index

71–75; effectiveness of grammar warm-ups, 54–55, 61; emphasis on reading as fundamental, 179–181; end-of-year evaluations, 153–157, 206–211; expanding reading in class, 144; framing reading as its own reward, 151; freedom within reading requirements, 144–146; impact of whole-novel teaching on readers, 124–125; incentive programs, 149–150; independent reading within curriculum, 17; limited number of concepts per book, 127; little support for independent reading, 166–168; personal responses to Miller’s, 175–177; preparing for standardized testing, 133–134; reading logs, 139, 141–143; reading workshops, 15–16; replacing warm-up lessons with reading, 54–55, 61; responsive encouraging reading, 21–23; resulting in demotivation, 121–127; rethinking whole-class novels, 126–127; round-robin and popcorn reading, 146–147; student forms, 202–211; students’ reactions to traditional, 164–166; substitutes for oral reading, 148–149; testing reading as genre, 134–135; traditional comprehension tests, 131–133, 168–169; traditional language skill techniques, 51; unexamined wallpaper, 122; whole-class novels, 122–126. See also Curriculum; Reading requirements; Reading workshops

Teenreads.com, 116

Testing. See Standardized testing
Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS), 1, 133, 176

Thomas, L., 54

Time: expanding classroom reading, 52–53, 58, 61–62, 144; reporting accuracy of reading logs, 143; required for whole-novel teaching practices, 124–125; setting aside personal reading, 112

To Kill a Mockingbird (Lee), 84, 125

Townsend, Atwood H., 47

Transactional theory of reading, 108

Trinity Meadows Intermediate School, 183

Tripping Over the Lunch Lady (Mercado), 86–87

TumbleTalkingBooks, 149

Twain, Mark, 29

U

“Ultimate Library List”, 115, 193–200

Underground readers, 30–32

University of Colorado at Boulder, 121

V

Validating reading choices, 84–86

Vega, Denise, 140

View from Saturday, The (Konisburg), 10–11, 13, 16

W

Washington Post, 106–107

Weaver, C., 54

Websites for reading recommendations, 115, 116

Wednesday Wars, The (Schmidt), 161

Weinbrenner, Susan, 39

Well-Wished (Billingsley), 82

What Really Matters for Struggling Readers (Allington), 24–25, 127

Whispers sections, 5

Whole-class novels: alternative teaching methods for, 127–131; impact on literacy, 123–124, 130; rethinking approach to, 126–127

Wilder, Laura Ingalls, 111

Wilkinson, I.A.G., 61

Winter’s Tale, A (Helprin), 11

Wordsworth, William, 7

Wrinkle in Time, A (L’Engle), 111

Writing, 54–55

Y

Yellow Brick Roads (Allen), 15

Z

Zimmerman, Susan, 15