1 An Introduction to the History of Age Estimation in the Living 1
Andreas Schmeling and Sue Black

1.1 Introduction 1
1.2 Dental Development 3
1.3 Skeletal Maturation 5
1.4 Secondary Sexual Development 8
1.5 Conclusion 10
References 12

2 Immigration, Asylum Seekers and Undocumented Identity 19
Heather Law, Lorraine Mensah, Sue Bailey and Julia Nelki

2.1 Asylum Seeker to Refugee 26
References 28

3 Clinical and Legal Requirements for Age Determination in the Living 30
Philip Beh and Jason Payne-James

3.1 Introduction 30
3.2 Contrasts between Age Assessment in the Living and the Deceased 31
3.3 Reasons for Age Estimation of Bodies and Human Remains 32
3.4 Reasons for Age Estimation of Living Individuals 32
3.5 Assessment Techniques 37
3.6 How Age May Be Specifically Documented 37
3.7 Birth Certificates 38
3.8 Identity Cards 38
3.9 Driving Licence 38
3.10 Passports 39
3.11 Age Verification Cards 40
3.12 Other Documents 40
3.13 Medical Issues 40
3.13.1 Duties to Examinee 40
3.14 Communication 41
CONTENTS

3.15 Summary and Conclusions .................................................. 41

5 The Challenges of Psychological Assessments of Maturity 55

Julia Nelki, Pete Grady, Sue Bailey and Heather Law

5.1 Introduction ................................................................. 55
  5.1.1 Current Status in the UK ............................................ 57
5.2 Need for Determination of Maturity .............................. 58
5.3 Psychological Maturity as a Concept .............................. 59
  5.3.1 Child Development .................................................... 60
  5.3.2 Middle Childhood .................................................... 61
  5.3.3 Adolescence ............................................................ 62
  5.3.4 Ethical Framework .................................................... 63
5.4 Current Practice ........................................................... 65
5.5 Suggestions for a Framework for Good Practice .......... 67
  5.5.1 Setting ................................................................. 68
5.6 Summary and Conclusion .............................................. 69
Appendix 5.A Proposed Framework, Based on Common Assessment Framework (Department of Schools Families and Children, 2007) 69
References .............................................................................. 74

6 Principles of Physical Age Estimation 77

Sue Black and George Maat

6.1 Intra-uterine Growth and Development ....................... 79
6.2 Birth and Infancy .......................................................... 82
6.3 Childhood .................................................................. 83
6.4 Juvenile ...................................................................... 85
6.5 Adolescence ............................................................... 85
6.6 Adult ......................................................................... 86
6.7 Senescence ................................................................. 87
6.8 Summary .................................................................. 88
6.9 Growth Studies ............................................................ 89
References .............................................................................. 91

7 Growth, Maturation and Age 95

Noël Cameron and Laura L. Jones

7.1 Growth, Maturation and Age .......................................... 95
  7.1.1 The Concept of Time ............................................... 95
