INDEX

Page references followed by t indicate a table.

A
A&P, 258
Abstract understanding, 181
Adam’s Task (Hearne), 275
The Adventures of Tom Sawyer (Twain), 21
After Virtue (MacIntyre), 126
Al-Qaeda, 186
Amazon, 121
American Idol (TV show), 122
Amidon, Debra, 262
“Animal trainers” category, 275
Anomalies: description of, 184; knowledge-sharing story focus on, 184–186; negative outnumbering positive, 188
Anti-story problem, 247–248
apartheid (South Africa), 96–97, 283
Apollo and Daphne myth, 286–287
“Apollo run amok,” 285–287
Apollo space program, 240
Apollonian culture, 278, 285–287
Apple Computer, 113, 149, 243
The Arabian Nights, 21
Aristotle, 8, 21, 73, 145, 188
Around the Corporate Campfire (Clark), 141, 145
AT&T, 261
Audience: building trust with a new, 91; connecting with your, 52, 55; ensuring that they hear the story you tell, 106–107; ensuring that they want to hear your story, 105–106; geographical differences between, 54–55; interactive leader inviting reactions from, 274–275; knowing your, 54–55; pick story protagonist who is similar to the, 69–70. See also Listeners; Presentation
Authenticity: being yourself, 46; interactive leadership building on, 270–271; of internal brand communication by firms, 123; of life story, 97–99; of true stories, 67–68
Authority-compliance leadership, 291

B
Back to the Future (film), 240
Bad news, 82–83
Barbalet, J. M., 228
Barnum & Bailey, 71
Baron, Robert, 214
Bateson, Mary Catherine, 17
Bazaar magazine, 115
Beauty: interactive leadership appreciation of, 288–289; neglect of, 287–288
Being lively, 52
Being yourself, 46
beinggirl.com, 110
Ben & Jerry’s, 133
Berlinger, Norma, 186–187
Bickerstaff, Melinda, 241
“Bitees” category, 275
Blair, Madelyn, 10
Blake, R., 291
Block, Peter, 126
Blue Ocean Strategy (Kim and Mauborgne), 71–72
Blue Tales (JetBlue blog), 220
The Body Shop, 100, 133
Bohmer, Richard, 178
Booz Allen, 258
Index

Branding narrative: based on organization values, 124; communicated within the firm, 123–124; customer stories on social media, 109–110; description of, 28, 33; organizational examples of social media for, 110–111; template for crafting, 125; 20th century marketing model for, 111–118; 21st century marketing model for, 118–124. See also Corporate culture; Organization brand

Brent Spar oil rig, 130
Bristol-Myers Squibb, 241
British Royal Astronomical Society, 198
British Telecom, 75–77, 130
Bubbles/infant delivery story, 186–187
Budweiser, 117
Building trust narrative: by communicating who you are, 27–28, 33; how to tell your story, 99–104; with a new audience, 90; understanding the importance of the, 89–91; where you tell your story, 104–107; why you tell your story, 91–99. See also Credibility

Built to Last (Collins and Porras), 129–130
Burns, James MacGregor, 292
Bush, George W., 98, 105, 218
Bush, George W. H., 217
Business design, 262–263
Business models, 245

C
Cahill, S., 151
Campbell Leadership Descriptor, 291
Capellas, Michael, 80
Car Talk (radio show), 183–184, 193
Carroll, Dave, 109
Case, P., 215
CDC Web site, 18, 20
Champions for change, 223
Change: IBM and making the case for, 82; impact of storytelling for implementing, 36; official and emerging stories gap during, 213–215; pitched battles over, 223–226; rational case for, 224; springboard stories used to initiate, 9, 62–88; study of computer programming community during, 215; transformational leadership as embodying values of the, 107. See also Innovation; Transformational change
Change idea: finding example of accomplished, 65–67; have springboard story fully embody the, 70–71; having clear and worthwhile, 64–65; link springboard story to the, 77–79
Chappell, Kate, 133
Chappell, Tom, 133–134, 277
Chesbrough, Henry, 260, 261
Christensen, Clayton, 254, 255, 256
Churchill, Winston, 25, 235–236
“Cinderella” (fairy story), 81
CIO (chief innovation officer), 262
Cirque du Soleil story, 71–72
Clark, Evelyn, 10, 141, 145
Cliché, 239–240
Clients: expectations of, 167–168; goal of work as delighting, 264, 268; iterations driven by, 265. See also Customer stories
Clinton, Bill, 100, 104, 217–218
Clinton, Hillary, 217
Clio (Renault ad series), 116–117
The Cluetrain Manifesto (Searls and Weinberger), 124
Coaching story telling, 106
Coca-Cola, 114–115
Cohn, Mike, 246–247
Collaboration: hierarchy concept in discourse of, 163–164; meaningful experience of high-performance, 156–157; shared values as basis of, 158–159; strategies for nurturing, 170–179; template for nurturing, 180; work patterns of, 161–163; work situations benefiting from, 160–161. See also Fostering collaboration narrative; Work groups

332
Index

Collins, Jim, 129–130, 175
Communication: building trust through, 27–28, 35r, 89–107; conversation model of, 43–44, 276–277; manager’s interactive, 265; by people with people, 120–121; 20th century marketing model one-way, 117–118. See also Listening; Social media; Storytelling
Communities: changing meaning of, 152; collaboration patterns of, 162–163; encouraging own story of, 173–175; face-to-face storytelling in, 171–173; getting extraordinary results from, 175–177; group learning through exchange of stories, 177–179; high-performance teams with characteristics of, 156; naming, 173–174; narrative catalyzing, 159–160, 165–170; narrative jump-starting, 171; networks compared to, 152; networks and work groups which are also, 155; taxonomy of collaboration in, 153r–154r; virtual, 172
Communities of practice, 161
Communities of Practice (Wenger), 155
Compaq, 79–80
Compelling future stories: avoiding cliché in, 239–240; evocation to create, 235–239; keep it simple for, 240; Lou Gerstner’s, 233; positive tone of, 241–242; rarity of, 230–232; shortcut to the future provided by, 234; work backward from image of the future to create, 240–241
Complications (Gawande), 178
Conley, Chip, 119
Connecting: importance of, 272–273; interactive leader use of storytelling for, 273–275
Context: created for knowledge-sharing story, 196–201; knowledge-sharing narrative inclusion of, 191–192; telling your story with, 102–103
Continuous self-improvement, 265
Conversation: dialogue voice of conversation model, 43–44; interactive leadership as modeled on, 276–277
Cook, James, 198
Copley Medal, 198
Corporate culture: Apollonian, 278, 285–287; description of, 207; repetition of same stories in, 211; social bond created in, 210–211; stories reflecting health of the, 213–215; stories that form the, 207–216; understood but unwritten norms of, 208–210. See also Branding narrative; Firms; Organization values
Corroborating stories, 196
Costco Wholesale Corporation, 113, 129, 141, 145
Counseling story telling, 1060
Country club management, 291
Covert and agreed stories, 213
Covert and contested stories, 213
Covey, Stephen, 230–231, 239
Credibility, 92. See also Building trust narrative
Cultivating Communities of Practice (Wenger, McDermott, and Snyder), 157–158
Customer stories: changes impacting the use of, 111–112; description and impact of, 115–117; social media used to spread, 110–111, 120–121. See also Clients

D
Damasio, Antonio, 284–285
Dasani story, 114
Date and place, 68
Davenport, Tom, 277
Decision making, 105–106
Deep Change (Quinn), 293
Delighting clients, 264, 268
Delivery: being comfortable during, 53–54; being lively component of, 52; connecting with the audience, 52, 55; emotional tone determined by, 50–51;
Index

using gesture as part of, 52; getting out from behind the podium during, 51–52; importance of storytelling, 50; knowing your audience for effective, 54–55; preparing for your, 51; visual aids used during, 53

Dennett, Daniel, 89

“Depthlessness,” 72–73

Descriptions of risk, 244

Design: as backbone of effective storytelling, 49–50; balancing structure and spontaneity, 50

The Design of Business (Martin), 262–263

Dialogue: interactive leadership based on conversation model of, 276–277; voice of conversation model of, 43–44

Dietz, Karen, 137

Dionysian leadership, 284

Disney, Walt, 238

Disneyland, 238

Disruptive innovation, 254

Dobbs, Lou, 79–80

DuPont, 261

E

E053 error message story, 23–24, 182–183, 188

East Asian audiences, 54

Ego, 280–281

Einstein, Albert, 198, 253

Emotional intelligence, 285

“The End of Innovation” (Murray), 263–264

Enron’s “Statement of Values,” 136

Espoused vs. operational values, 136–137

Ethical values: firms which display, 131–132; three basic components of, 132–134

Experience: Car Talk (radio show) sharing of, 183–184, 193; E053 error message story example of sharing, 23–24, 182–183, 188; expanding through storytelling, 193–194; using groups to accelerate interchange of, 194–195; high-performance team and meaningful, 156–157; knowledge-sharing narrative as leveling and sharpening, 184; Xerox’s Eureka program for sharing, 193. See also Knowledge-sharing narrative

External story aspects, 14

F

Facebook: communication revolution of, 110; Steven Slater’s followers on, 220

Failure stories: knowledge sharing through, 188; power of success and, 21–22

Fast Company (Zax), 220

Fence-sitters, 224

The Fifth Discipline (Senge), 9, 259

Financial Times (newspaper), 241

Finkelstein, Sydney, 258

Fiorina, Carly, 79–80

Firestone, 258

Firms: bigness and consistency tendency of, 278; branding narrative used by, 28, 33, 109–125; communicating brand narrative within the, 123–124; corporate culture of, 207–216; differing stories in different parts of the, 211–213; employee stories on, 112; hierarchical authority in, 163–164, 271; using narrative to transform your, 248, 253–268; “near-death” experiences of, 242; neutralizing rumor mill in, 29–30, 34t, 205–207, 216–227; stories on products or services of, 114–115; stories reflecting health of the, 213–215; stories on the, 113–114; template for crafting character story of the, 125. See also Corporate culture; Management; Organization values; Organizations

Fisher, Jodie, 210

“Five Killer Strategies for Trouncing the Competition” (Stalk and Lachenauer), 128

Flickr, 110–111

334
Index

Fog, Klaus, 116
Ford’s “Fiesta Movement,” 110–111, 121–122
Fostering collaboration narrative: adjusting the mandate, 168; catalyzing high-performance teams/communities, 159–160, 165–170; description of, 29, 34; group learning through, 177–179; having respected messenger tell the story, 169–170; jump-starting teams or communities, 171; setting group objectives, 166–167; shaping client’s expectations, 167–168; template for nurturing, 180; uncovering deeper reason for managerial misdirection, 168–169; World Bank use of, 170. See also Collaboration
Four Ps of marketing, 118, 119
Franklin, Benjamin, 198
Fraud, 138
Freeman, Kenneth, 92
From Good to Great (Collins), 175
Fry, Art, 142
Future stories: anti-story problem of, 247–248; comparing springboard stories to, 234, 238–239; creating compelling, 230–242; different kinds of, 244–247; inherent difficulty in telling, 232; innovation and role of, 248; negative tone of, 241–242; other aspects of, 247; rarity of compelling, 230–232; reasons for telling, 229–230
G
Gandhi, Mahatma, 243, 281
Gardner, Howard, 24, 63, 99–100
Garfield, C., 151
Garvin, David, 256
Gates, Bill, 113
Gawande, Atul, 178
“Geeks in a garage” stories, 113
General Electric (GE), 25, 211, 241, 260, 261
General Motors (GM), 256
Genuinely ethical values: firms which display, 131–132; three basic components of, 132–134
Geographically dispersed teams, 160–161
George, Bill, 123, 124, 277
Gerstner, Lou: compelling future stories by, 233, 242; IBM transformation under, 255; making the case for change, 82; stories for setting expectations, 167–168; storytelling style of, 43–46; storytelling truth as expressed by, 46–47
Gestures, 52
Getting Change Right (Kahan), 148
Gingrich, Newt, 100
Global Consulting story, 66–67
Globalization: international discourse on, 1–2; modern leadership trends accentuated by, 278
Google’s “do no evil” principle, 132
Gossi. See Taming the grapevine narrative
Greenpeace, 130
Greenwich longitude story, 198
Group learning, 177–179
“Guide to Ethical Conduct” (Tyco), 138
H
Haas, Martine, 197
Hackman, Richard, 38, 157, 175
Hall, L. Michael, 50
Hamel, Gary, 257–259
Handy, Charles, 278
Happy endings, 75–77
Hardball strategists values, 128–129
Harrison, John, 198, 199
Harvard Business Review, 109, 128, 134
HCL Technologies, 277
Hearne, Vicki, 269, 275
Heath, Chip, 63
Heath, Dan, 63
Hedges, 44–45
Helplessness stories, 201–202
Hewlett-Packard (HP), 79–80, 210, 256
Hierarchical authority: collaboration discourse on, 163–164; interactive leadership as not depending on, 271
High-performance teams: community characteristics of, 156; description of, 155–156; encouraging own story of, 173–175; face-to-face storytelling in, 171–173; getting extraordinary results from, 175–177; group learning through exchange of stories, 177–179; management of, 157–158; meaningful experience of being part of, 156–157; naming, 173–174; narrative catalyzing, 159–160, 165–170; narrative jump-starting, 171; virtual, 172. See also Teams
Holistic perceptions, 54
“Hollywood types” category, 275
Holocaust, 103
Holt, Douglas, 117
Homer, 247
Hornby, Nick, 96
Hosford, Adrian, 75–76
How Brands Become Icons (Holt), 117
How to Be Good (Hornby), 96
Hsieh, Tony, 277
Humor: avoiding mean-spirited, 219; identity stories told with, 103; pitfalls of using, 221; satire during pitched battle over change, 223; using satire to kill a rumor, 217–222; self-deprecatory, 219–220, 221
Hurd, Mark, 210
Hyperlinking transcribed stories, 196

I
“I Have a Dream” (King speech), 25, 235, 236–237
IBM: Institute of Knowledge Management of, 21, 22, 26, 208; Lou Gerstner’s compelling future stories of, 233, 242; Lou Gerstner’s story of Lotus purchase by, 43; Lou Gerstner’s story setting expectations, 167–168; making the case for change at, 82; narrative transmitting values at, 146; PC division (1980s) of, 256; R&D (research & development) of, 261; stories passing on corporate culture at, 208, 209; transformation under Gerstner’s leadership, 255
Identity stories: decide your life purpose, 95–97; don’t overstate your good qualities, 103–104; exploit fractal nature of identity stories, 93–95; focus story on turning point in your life, 100–102; how to tell, 99–104; use humor to brighten your story, 103; use positive tone, 102; reveal who you are implicitly through, 92–93; template for creating, 108; told with context, 102–103; where to tell, 104–107
Impoverished management, 291
Inauthentic storytelling, 280
Infant delivery/bubbles story, 186–187
Infant pneumopericardium story, 189–190
Informal statements of intention, 244
Innovation: creating CIO (chief innovation officer) to promote, 262; creating safe environment for, 255–256; using data-driven strategic, 259–260; disruptive, 254; funding many projects for innovation, 257–259; future storytelling role in, 248; open source, 260–262; Roger Martin on design of business and, 262–263; seven principles of continuous, 264–265; sustaining, 254; systems thinking, learning organization, and, 259. See also Change; Transformational change
Innovation paradox: examining possible solutions for, 255–262; solving the, 263–267; why current approaches don’t solve the, 253–254
Innovation Strategy for the Knowledge Economy (Amidon), 262
“The Innovation War” (von Braun), 258
Index

The Innovator’s Solution (Christensen and Raynor), 255

Institute of Knowledge Management (IBM), 21, 22, 26, 208

Interactive leaders: ability to connect, 272–275; characteristics of, 270–271; concept of conversation used by, 276–277; participation component of, 271–272; passion of, 283–285; roles of, 281–283. See also Leaders

Interactive leadership: avoiding “Apollo run amok,” 285–287; beauty appreciated by effective, 287–289; concept of conversation used by, 276–277; connection through, 272–275; fitting the modern need for, 278–279; lack of universal appeal of, 279–280; participation component of, 271–272; passion of, 283–285; relationship to other leadership theories, 290–293; relatively free of ego, 280–281; understanding possibility of, 277; understanding the role of, 281–283. See also Leadership; Transformational leadership

Internal story aspects, 14

International Storytelling Center (Tennessee), 17–18

JetBlue story, 220

Jobs, Steve, 113, 243

Johnson & Johnson’s Tylenol crisis (1982), 113–114

K

Kahan, Seth, 10, 148

Kanter, Rosabeth Moss, 207

Katz, Robert, 291

Katzenbach, J., 157

Kelleher, Herb, 113, 131, 277

Kennedy, John F., 103

Kerry, John, 97–98

Khobar Towers bombing (1996), 186

Kim, W. Chan, 71, 72

King, Martin Luther, Jr., 25, 235–237, 281, 283

Klein, Gary: drawing on narrative fragments for knowledge sharing, 192; drawing on storytelling knowledge of, 10; on infant with pneumopericardium story, 188–190; on keeping future stories simple, 240; on official versus underground know-how, 202–203; on positive impact of infant delivery/bubbles story, 186–187; on value of stories, 181

Knowledge: how to share sensitive, 197–199; including explanation of, 190–191; official versus underground know-how, 202–203; role of trust in, 197; template for saving, 204

Knowledge management: World Bank goals regarding, 17–18; World Bank’s springboard story to achieve, 62–63

Knowledge-sharing narrative: anomalies focus of, 184–186; capturing the stories shared in, 195–196; Car Talk (radio show) use of, 183–184, 193; context included in the, 191–192; creating context for, 196–201; creating interesting events in the, 188–190; description of, 30–31, 34; drawing on narrative fragments to create the, 192; using groups to accelerate, 194–195; helplessness, 201–202; including explanation as part of the, 190–191; leveling and sharpening of experience during, 184; to make sense of events, 192–193; pneumopericardium in infant, 189–190; role playing during the, 200; scapegoat, 201; stalking sensitive knowledge through, 197–199; teasing out the, 199–201; template for saving knowledge of departing staff, 204; trust role in, 197; victim, 201; Xerox E053 error message as, 23–24, 182–183, 188; Xerox’s Eureka program use of, 193. See also Experience

See also

Experience
Index

Kouzes, Jim, 63
Krebs, Valdis, 172–173
Kuhn, Thomas, 266

L
Lachenauer, Rob, 128
Laggards, 224
Laliberté, Guy, 71–72
Landor Associates, 109
Laura Ashley, 258
Le Corbusier, 247
Leaders: being forward-looking characteristic of, 229–230; using narrative to become interactive, 269–289; storytelling as facilitating new kind of, 12. See also Interactive leaders
The Leader’s Guide to Radical Management (Denning), 264–265
The Leader’s Guide to Storytelling (Denning), 9
Leadership: intersection of storytelling and, 3–6; narrative as the emerging discipline of, 9–10; as performance art, 1; storytelling as tool of, 1–3; as task of persuasion, 10. See also Interactive leadership; Management; Transformational leadership
Leadership (Burns), 292
The Leadership Challenge (Kouzes and Posner), 63
The Leadership Engine (Tichy), 24, 63, 230
Leadership in Organizations (Yukl), 239
Leadership theories: lack of clarity on transformational leadership by, 293; leadership as motivation, 292; leadership as situational, 292; leadership as skill, 291; leadership as style, 291; leadership as traits, 291; leadership as transformation, 292–293
Leading into the future. See Vision narrative
Leading Minds (Gardner), 24, 63
Leading people to future narrative. See Vision narrative
Leading Teams (Hackman), 38, 157, 175
Learning organization, 259
Lewinsky, Monica, 100
Life story. See Identity stories
Lindaman, Edward, 240
Lipman, Doug, 10
Listeners: linking future story to current mind-set of, 242–248; making sure they are listening, 83. See also Audience
Listening, 274. See also Communication
Lively delivery, 52
Loehr, Jim, 63
Longitude (Sobel), 198
Loyalty, 132–133
Luthi, Max, 72

M
McCloskey, Deidre, 6
McDermott, R., 157
MacIntyre, Alisdair, 126
McNamara, Robert, 146
Made to Stick (Heath and Heath), 63
Magliozzi, Ray, 183–184
Magliozzi, Tom, 183–184
Major, John, 116
Management: high-performance teams, 157–158; inability to control flow of stories, 215–216; lack of leadership success by current, 4; leadership styles of, 291; narrative uncovering misdirection by, 168–169; radical transparency/continuous self-improvement fostered by, 265, 268; supply chain, 161. See also Firms; Leadership
Mandela, Nelson, 96–97, 281, 283
Maoist Great Leap Forward, 247
Marketing: four Ps of, 118, 119; 20th century marketing model, 111–118; 21st century marketing model, 118–124
Martin, Roger, 134, 262–263
Mauborgne, Renén, 71, 72

338
Index

Mean-spirited humor, 219
Medtronic, 123, 124, 277
Mehrabian, Albert, 50
Merck, 261
Mergers & acquisition, 161
Metamorphoses (Ovid), 21
Microsoft, 113
Middle-of-the-road management, 291
Minimalist storytelling: motivating others to action through, 72–73;
transmitting values narrative using, 145–146
Mintzberg, Henry, 35, 129
More, Sir Thomas, 247
Motivating action narrative: avoiding main pitfalls, 79–83; description of,
27, 33r; igniting action through springboard story, 59–63; incorporating springboard story into presentation, 84–86; springboard story elements for, 63–79; springboard story template for, 87–88
“Motrin Moms” protest movement (2008), 110
Mouton, J. S., 291
Murray, Alan, 263–264
Myers-Briggs Type indicator, 291

N
Narrative: becoming an interactive leader using, 269–289; definition of, 13; as emerging leadership discipline, 9–10; examining the power of, 19–26; storytelling as marriage of analysis and, 11; transforming your organization using, 248, 253–268. See also Story/stories
Narrative patterns: branding your company, 28, 33r, 109–125; building trust by communicating who your are, 27–28, 33r, 89–107; creating integrated tapestry of, 32; fostering collaboration, 29, 34r, 159–180; leading people into the future, 31, 34r, 228–249; motivating others by sparking actions, 27, 33r, 59–88; sharing knowledge, 30–31, 34r, 181–204; taming the grapevine/neutralizing gossip, 29–30, 34r, 205–227; transmitting organizational values, 28–29, 33r, 124, 126–150
Narrative theory, 271
National Storytelling Network, 137
Nature of Managerial Work (Mintzberg), 35
Nayar, Vineet, 277
“Near-death” experiences, 242
Negative stories: future stories which are, 241–242; knowledge sharing through, 188; power of positive and, 21–22
Networks: collaboration patterns of, 162–163; community component of some, 155; comparing communities to, 152; taxonomy of collaboration in, 153r–154t
New Yorker magazine, 98
Nicole (Renault ad series), 116–117
Nietzsche, Friedrich, 284
Nike sweatshop labor scandal, 130
9/11 Commission report, 186
Nisbett, Robert, 54
Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs): labor campaigns by, 130; organization ethical values promoted by, 132

O
Odysseus, 247
Odyssey (Homer), 247
On Values and Values (Smith), 126–127
OPEC (Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries), 231
Open source innovation, 260–262
Operational vs. espoused values, 136–137
Optimistic stories, 22–23
Organization brand: firm’s internal communication about, 123; narrative as foundation of, 36–37; narrative pattern for creating, 28, 33r; 20th century marketing model to create, 111–118; 21st century marketing model to create, 118–124. See also Branding narrative; Firms Organization values: aligning structure with, 148–149; basing brand narrative on, 124; distinguishing different types of, 127–132; distinguishing operational from espoused, 136–137; distinguishing personal from corporate, 134–136; establishing through action, 138–140; Johnson & Johnson’s Tylenol crisis as example of, 113–114; narrative for transmitting, 28–29, 33, 124, 126–150; providing positive incentives for implementing, 149; taking action to reestablish, 137–138; Tyco stories on rebuilding their, 24–25. See also Corporate culture; Firms; Values Organizations: bigness and consistency tendency of, 278; nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), 130, 132. See also Firms
Orr, Julian, 23
Overt and agreed stories, 213
Overt and contested stories, 213
Ovid, 21
Oz, Amos, 103
P
Pakistan springboard story, 60–62, 63, 165
Parables: Jesus Christ’s parable of the talents, 143–144; timeless but believable, 146; transmitting values through, 144–145
Passion: of interactive leaders, 283–285; as 21st century marketing model driver, 119–120
Peak: How Great Companies Get Their Mojo from Maslow (Conley), 119
Pearson, Carol, 10
Perception: holistic, 54; tunnel-vision style of, 54–55
Personal integrity, 270–271
Personal vs. corporate values, 134–136
Persuasion: leadership as task of, 10; storytelling role in, 6–7; U.S. gross national product (GNP) constituted by, 6
Pharmaceutical R&D (research & development), 261
Pillmore, Eric, 24–25
Piñeiro, E., 215
Pinkerton, J. G. “Paw-Paw,” 18
Pitched battles: bringing the big guns for, 225; positive stories to help win, 224; providing counterstories to supporters during, 225; using satire during, 225; stating the rational case for change, 224; steps for winning, 224; structural countermeasures during, 225–226; three main groups involved in, 223–224
Place and date, 68
Planning of work, 268
Plans (future story), 245
Poetics (Aristotle), 8, 21, 73, 188
“Poorly told” story, 20–21
Porras, Jerry, 129–130
Positive stories: compelling future stories as being, 241–242; infant delivery/bubbles, 186–187; infant pneumopericardium, 189–190; pitched battle over change and use of, 224; power of negative and, 21–22
Positive tone, 102
Posner, Barry, 63
The Power of Story (Loehr), 63
PowerPoint, 53
Pragmatists values, 129–130
Premortems, 245
Preparation: being rehearsed but spontaneous, 49; choosing shape of your story, 49–50; process of storytelling, 48–49
Presentation: balancing structure and spontaneity of, 50; incorporating springboard story into entire, 84–86;
Index

keeping it spontaneous, 49. See also Audience
Procter & Gamble (P&G), 110, 122, 209, 211
Product stories, 114–115
Protagonists: pick one similar to the audience, 69–70; pick single individual as the, 68–69
Prusak, Larry, 208, 277

Q
Quest Diagnostics, 92
Quinn, Robert, 293

R
Radical transparency, 265, 268
Raynor, Michael, 254, 255, 256
Rehearsal, 49
Renault Clio, 116–117
Repair stories: Car Talk (radio show), 183–184; Xerox E053 error message, 23–24, 182–183, 188
Research & development (R&D): funding many innovation projects through, 257–259; open innovation through, 260–262
“Researchers” category, 275
Resisters to change, 224
Ridicule: killing rumors using, 217–222; pitched battle over change and use of, 225
Ringling Bros, 71
Robber barons values, 127–128
Roddick, Anita, 100–101, 102, 133
Role playing: developing realistic future story using, 244; knowledge-sharing story use of, 200
Rumor mill. See Taming the grapevine narrative

S
Satire: killing rumors using, 217–222; pitched battle over change and use of, 225
Saturn division (GM), 256
Saudi National Guard bombing (1995), 186
Scapegoat stories, 201
Scenarios, 246
Schein, Edgar, 207
Schrage, Michael, 259–260
Schultz, Howard, 110, 277
Searls, Doc, 124
The Secret Language of Leadership (Denning), 83
Self-deprecatory humor, 219–220, 221
Self-organizing teams, 265, 268
Senge, Peter, 9, 10, 156, 185, 259
Sensitive knowledge-sharing narrative, 197–199
Services stories, 114–115
Seven Habits of Highly Successful People (Covey), 230–231
Shakespeare, William, 205
Sharing-knowledge narrative. See Knowledge-sharing narrative
Shell Oil, 130, 231–232
Silver, Spence, 1424
Simmons, Annette, 10, 24, 63
Sinegal, James, 113, 129, 141, 145
Six Sigma program, 36
Sixth discipline, 9–10
Slater, Steven, 220
Smith, Douglas, 126–127, 157
“Snow White” (fairy story), 81
Snowden, Dave, 10, 21, 22, 26, 197–199
Snyder, W., 157
Sobel, Dava, 198
Social media: customer stories spread through, 109–110, 120–121; Facebook, 110, 220; Flickr, 110–111; organizational branding through, 110–111, 121–122; people with people communication using, 120–121; Twitter, 110–111; YouTube, 109, 110–111, 220. See also Communication
Social psychology studies, 37
Solidarity, 133
Sources of Power (Klein), 186–187, 188
Index

South African apartheid, 96–97, 283
Southwest Airlines, 113, 131, 132, 176–177, 213, 277
Soviet collectivization, 247
Sparking actions narrative. See Motivating action narrative
Speech communications research, 37
Spontaneity: balancing structure and, 50; rehearsal but keeping, 49
Spring, C., 151
The Springboard (Denning), 9, 39
Springboard stories: avoiding main pitfalls, 79–83; characteristics and elements of, 63–79; comparing future stories to, 234, 238–239; incorporating into presentation, 84–86; role of the, 62–63; template for crafting, 87–88; used as tool, 9; World Bank’s Pakistan, 60–62, 63
Springboard story elements: find an example, 65–67; fully embody the change idea, 70–71; give the data and place, 68; have a clear and worthwhile purpose, 64–65; have a happy ending, 75–77; link change idea to the story, 77–79; pick protagonist who is similar to the audience, 69–70; pick a single individual as story’s protagonist, 68–69; spell out the alternative, 71–72; strip out unnecessary detail, 72–75; tell a story that is authentically true, 67–68
Springboard story pitfalls: don’t use negative to spark enthusiasm, 81–82; embody the right idea, 79–81; find an uplifting ending, 81; how to deal with bad news, 82–83; make sure your listeners are listening, 83
Squirrel Inc. (Denning), 9
Stalk, George, Jr., 128
Starbucks, 110, 131–132, 277
Story capture: description and challenge of, 195; strategies for enhancing, 196
Story examples: British Telecom, 75–77; Cirque du Soleil, 71–72; Global Consulting, 66–67; Greenwich longitude, 198; infant delivery/bubbles story, 186–187; infant pneumopericardium, 189–190; JetBlue, 220; Pakistan, 60–62, 63, 165; Titanic, 82–83; Xerox E053 error message, 23–24, 182–183, 188; Y2K, 242; your life or identity, 92–108; Zambia, 18, 20–21, 63, 74, 77–78

The Story Factor (Simmons), 24, 63
Story/stories: abstract and tacit understanding through, 181; Aristotle on the ingredients of a, 21; communicating organization vision through, 25–26; corporate culture formed through, 207–216; covert and agreed, 213; covert and contested, 213; definition of, 13; emerging leadership discipline of narrative, 9–10; future, 229–249; group learning through exchange of, 177–179; internal and external aspects of, 14; leveling and sharpening of experience using, 184; overt and agreed, 213; overt and contested, 213; the performance of, 1, 11–12; “poorly told.” 20–21; presented as inherently valuable, 45; sharing knowledge through, 30–31, 34t, 181–203; springboard, 9, 60–88, 234; success/positive and failure/negative, 21–22, 186–190, 224, 241–242; user, 246–247, 268. See also Narrative

Storytelling: Branding in Practice (Fog and colleagues), 116
Storytelling: expanding experience through, 193–194; inauthentic, 280; interactive leader connecting through, 273–275; intersection of leadership and, 3–6; as leadership tool, 1–3; as marriage of narrative and analysis, 11; minimalist, 72–73, 145–146; as the missing sixth discipline, 9–10; as performance art, 1, 11–12, 80–81; persuasion through, 6–7; transformational change and role of, 268;
what is new about, 7–9. See also Communication
A Storytelling Catalogue: Aristotelian guidelines for stories, 23, 26–31; avoiding frequent mistakes using the,
32, 35; creating integrated narrative tapestry using, 32
A Storytelling Catalogue narrative patterns: branding your company, 28, 33r; communicating who your are,
27–28, 33r; fostering collaboration, 29,
34r; leading people into the future, 31;
sharing knowledge, 30–31, 34r; sparking actions, 27, 33r; taming the grapevine, 29–30, 34r; transmitting values, 28–29, 33r
Storytelling performance: delivery element of, 50–55; description of,
40–41; preparation element of, 48–50;
style element of, 41–46, 53–54; truth element of, 46–48
Storytelling ROI: emerging microstudies on impact of storytelling, 37; impact on implementing change, 36; narrative is foundation of organization brand,
36–37; storytelling is an amplifier,
37–39; talk is work, 35
Strategy: as business model, 246; for enhancing story capture, 196;
examining possible innovation paradox solution, 255–262; as future story, 246; for nurturing collaboration, 170–179; for resolving the innovation paradox, 263–267
Strunk, W., 40
Style: being comfortable with your own,
53–54; description of, 41; different types of style, 41–42; leadership, 291;
Lou Gerstner’s example of, 43–46
Style characteristics: avoiding kinds of hedges, 44–45; being yourself, 46;
keeping your storytelling focused,
simple, and clear, 45; presenting story as something valuable in itself, 45; voice of conversation model of, 43–44
Style types: raconteur, 41–42; reflexive, self-conscious academic, 42; romantic,
42; stand-up comedian, 42
Success stories: compelling future stories as being, 241–242; infant delivery/bubbles, 186–187; infant pneumopericardium, 189–190; pitched battle over change and use of, 224; power of failure and, 21–22
Sull, Donald, 258
Sun (London newspaper), 110
Sun-Tzu, 272
Supply chain management, 161
Swift, Jonathan, 59
Systems thinking, 259

T
Tacit understanding, 181
Talking About Machines (Orr), 23
Taming the grapevine narrative:
description of, 29–30, 34r; using humor to kill a rumor, 217–222;
JetBlue story as example of, 220;
organizational need for the, 216;
pitched battles beyond the usual grapevine, 223–224; removing cause of negative rumors and criticism using, 222–223; template for, 227; understanding driving force behind the grapevine, 226; World Bank experience with, 205–207
Team management, 291
Teams: collaboration patterns of, 162;
description of, 151–152; encouraging own story of, 173–175; geographically dispersed, 160–161; naming, 173–174; self-organizing, 265, 268; taxonomy of collaboration in, 153r–154r. See also High-performance teams; Work groups Technology: collaboration facilitated through, 160; communication using new, 166; customer use of, 112; firm purpose facilitated through, 78;
leadership skills related to, 291;
modern leadership trends accentuated by, 278; storytelling to embrace new, 27

Templates: branding narrative, 125; for creating story of who you are, 108; future story, 249; nurturing collaboration, 180; saving knowledge of departing staff, 204; springboard story, 87–88; for stories to tame the grapevine, 227; transmitting values narrative, 150

Thatcher, Margaret, 99–100

3M, 142–143

360-degree awareness, 275

Tichy, Noel, 24, 25, 63, 230

Timing of personal story: difficult decision and, 105–106; during first encounter, 105; when coaching and counseling, 106

Titanic story, 82–83

Tom’s of Maine, 133–134, 277

Toy manufacturers, 261

Transcribing stories, 196

Transformational change: creating safe environment for, 255–256; problems with Gary Hamel’s approach to, 257–259; seven principles of innovation and, 264–265; solving the innovation paradox for, 263–267; storytelling role in, 268; systems thinking and the learning organization for, 259. See also change; Innovation

Transformational leadership:
communicating who you are as, 107; lack of conceptual clarity of theories on, 293; Lou Gerstner as, 255; storytelling to persuade, 268. See also Interactive leadership; Leadership

Transmitting values narrative: aligning structure with values in, 148–149; avoiding moralizing in, 141–143; description of, 28–29, 33r; distinguish different types of values in, 127–132; on ethics in action, 132–140; finding values within the, 146–147; using minimalist approach to, 145–146; using parables to illustrate conflict of values, 143–145; process and benefits of, 140–149; telling story about someone you admire, 147–148; telling timeless but believable story, 146; template for generating, 150

Transparency, 265, 268

Truscott, James, 66

Trust: as ethical value component, 132; knowledge sharing and need for, 197; narrative for building, 27–28, 33r, 89–107; stories on importance of, 148

Truth: assuming possibility of telling the, 47–48; authentic stories reflecting the, 67–68; expressed as you see it, 48; as storytelling element, 46–47

Tunnel-vision perceptual style, 54–55

20th century marketing model: one-way communications of the, 117–118; shifting marketplace impacting the, 111–112; stories of the customers using the, 115–117; stories of the firm using, 113–114; stories of the products or services using, 114–115

21st century marketing model: base brand narrative on your values, 124; characteristics of, 118–119; communicating the brand internally, 123; communicating brand narrative within firm, 123–124; defensive interventions by people with people communication, 120–121; passion as driver of, 119–120; proactive interventions by curating the conversation, 121–122

Tyco: efforts to repair battered value system by, 24–25, 137–138; “Guide to Ethical Conduct,” 138

Tylenol crisis story (1982), 113–114
Index

U
Unilever, 133
United Airlines, 109
Uplifting ending, 81
U.S. embassies bombings (1998), 186
U.S. National Public Radio, 183
User stories: description of, 246–247; planning work of change through, 268
User Stories Applied (Cohn), 246
U.S.S. Cole bombing (2000), 186
Utopia, 247

V
Values: collaboration based on shared, 158–159; collaboration facilitated through shared, 149; distinguishing operational from espoused, 136–137; distinguishing personal from corporate, 134–136; establishing through action, 138–140; genuine ethical, 131–132; hardball strategists, 128–129; of the pragmatists, 129–130; robber barons, 127–128; three basic components of, 132–134. See also Organization values
Van der Heijden, Kees, 240
Verifying stories, 196
Victim stories, 201
Virtual communities, 172
Virtual teams, 172
Vision: defining, 246; future stories as expression of, 238–248
Vision narrative: description of, 31, 34t; how to tell a compelling future story, 233–242; linking future story to listeners’ current mind-set, 242–248; natural tendencies to create, 228–229; stories that communicate, 25–26; template for crafting future story for, 249; why we tell future stories and, 229–232
Visual aids, 53
Voice of conversation model, 43–44
Volkswagen, 117
Von Braun, Christoph-Friedrich, 258

W
Wack, Pierre, 231
Wal-Mart, 129
Walgreens, 115–116
Wall Street Journal, 263
Ward, Victoria, 10
Watson, Tom, 146
“We Shall Fight on the Beaches” (Churchill speech), 25, 235–236
Web sites, employee stories, 112
Weinberger, David, 124
Welch, Jack, 25–26, 241
Wenger, Etienne, 155, 157
Western audiences, 54–55
What’s the Big Idea? (Davenport and Prusak), 277
White, E. B., 40
Whitewater investigation, 218
The Wisdom of Teams (Katzenbach and Smith), 157
Wiseman, Richard, 285
Wolfensohn, Jim, 170, 205
Work groups: collaboration patterns of, 161–162; community component of some, 155; description of, 151; taxonomy of collaboration in, 153t–154t. See also Collaboration; Teams
Workplace beauty: interactive leadership appreciation of, 288–289; neglect of, 287–288
World Bank: alleviating global poverty goal of, 283; “the Denning problem” at the, 214; establishing values through action at the, 139–140; getting extraordinary results from team at the, 176; knowledge management goals at the, 17–18, 62–63; narrative to build collaboration at the, 170; narrative transmitted values at the, 146; narrative uncovering reasons for managerial misdirection, 169; neutralizing gossip and rumor at the, 205–207; Pakistan springboard story told at the, 60–62, 63, 165; public enterprise reform and knowledge-sharing by, 194–195; respected outsider used to tell the story at the, 169–170; stories passing on corporate culture at the, 209; Zambia story of, 18, 20–21, 26
Index

World Trade Center attacks (2001), 186

World Trade Center bombing (1993), 186

Wright brothers, 187

WYSIWYG world, 175

X

Xerox Corporation: E053 error message story of, 23–24, 182–183, 188; Eureka program of, 193

Y

Y2K stories, 242

Your life story. See Identity stories

Yousef, Ramzi, 186

YouTube: on Dave Carroll’s broken guitar, 109; Ford’s “Fiesta Movement” on, 110–111; JetBlue use of, 220

Yukl, Gary, 239–240

Z

Zambia story: linking the change idea to the, 77–78; narrative common to Pakistan and, 63; “Paw-Paw” Pinkerton’s criticism of, 18, 20–21; retold using minimalist approach, 74

Zappos, 277

Zax, David, 220