Contents

OSCE stations, vi
Preface, vii
Acknowledgements, viii
Further reading, ix
How to use your textbook, x
About the companion website, xvi

Part 1 Essentials of paediatrics

1 Children and their health, 2
2 Parents and children: listening and talking, 16
3 Examination of children, 25
4 Emergency paediatrics, 40

Part 2 Normal and abnormal in childhood: growth, development, behaviour and prevention

5 Genetics, 51
6 Fetal medicine, 58
7 Birth and the newborn infant, 62
8 Disorders of the newborn, 71
9 Child development and how to assess it, 81
10 Learning problems, 89
11 Emotional and behavioural problems, 99
12 Nutrition, 109
13 Abnormal growth and sex development, 118
14 Immunization and infections, 124
15 Accidents and non-accidents, 139
16 Adolescent health, 149

Part 3 Systems and specialties

17 Neurology, 156
18 Ear, nose and throat, 172
19 Respiratory medicine, 177
20 Cardiology, 191
21 Gastroenterology, 204
22 Urinary Tract and Genitalia, 220
23 Bones and joints, 234
24 Skin, 242
25 Haematology, 250
26 Neoplasia, 256
27 Endocrine and metabolic disorders, 261

Part 4 After paediatrics

28 Preparing for clinical examinations in paediatrics and child health, 270
29 Safe prescribing, 279
30 Careers in paediatrics, 283

Self-test

Extended matching questions, 285
Answers to extended matching questions, 301
Paediatric symptom sorter, 308

Index, 311
OSCE stations

OSCE station 2.1: Counselling, p. 24
OSCE station 4.1: Shock, p. 48
OSCE station 9.1: Developmental assessment, p. 88
OSCE station 10.1: Examination for squint, p. 98
OSCE station 11.1: History-taking — pain, p. 108
OSCE station 13.1: Failure to thrive, p. 123
OSCE station 14.1: Fever and a fit in an infant, p. 136
OSCE station 14.2: Allergic reaction, p. 138
OSCE station 15.1: Accidental poisoning, p. 148
OSCE station 16.1: Discussion of asthma treatment, p. 154
OSCE station 17.1: Neurological examination of the legs, p. 171
OSCE station 19.1: Examination of the respiratory system, p. 189
OSCE station 19.2: Prescribing and explaining asthma treatment, p. 189

OSCE station 20.1: Examination of the cardiovascular system, p. 203
OSCE station 21.1: Persistent diarrhoea, p. 218
OSCE station 21.2: Constipation, p. 219
OSCE station 22.1: Urine testing, p. 232
OSCE station 22.2: Enuresis, p. 232
OSCE station 22.3: Urinary tract infection management and prevention, p. 233
OSCE station 23.1: Testing for dislocation of the hips, p. 241
OSCE station 25.1: Assessment of bruising, p. 255
OSCE station 27.1: Examination of the neck, p. 267
OSCE station 28.1: Equipment, p. 278
OSCE station 29.1: Safe prescribing— otitis media and fever, p. 281