Subject Index

e represents exercise or exhibit; f represents figure.

A
AAACE. See American Association of Adult and Continuing Education
Acoustical adjustments, 154
Action learning process, 263e
Action plans, of learners, 202
Action, program support and, 113
Action-based brainstorming, 265e
Active Learning Credo, 188
Active learning methods, 226–227
Ad hoc committees, 115
Ads, online, 328
Adult learning: context for, 190–191; foundational knowledge in, 52–56; need for learning transfer in, 211; principles of, as assumption of Interactive Model of Program Planning, 33; trends in, 379
Adult life, 137
Advisory committees: conducting meetings of, 120–121; in constructing program objectives, 169; description of, 115; purpose of, 116; refocusing of, 116–117; roles and responsibilities of, 117–118; selecting members of, 118–120; support from, 115–121
African Americans, 66
African culture, 17
African model of program planning, 12–13
Agendas, meeting, 120–121, 354e
American Association of Adult and Continuing Education (AAACE), 116–117
American Society for Training & Development (ASTD), 215
Annual conferences. See Conferences
Anxiety, of learners, 197
Application: complex nature of, 211–212, 218e; requirements of, 227
Apprenticeship, 262e
Arguments, 93
Artifacts, 141e
Artistic nature, of program planning, 12
Attendance, in programs, 108–109
Audio Visual (AV) equipment, 343–344, 354e
Audioconferencing, 264e
Augmented reality, 380
Auxiliary enterprises/sales, 297e

B
Bargaining, as power tactic, 92f
Basic Principles of Curriculum and Instruction (Tyler), xxiv
Bias, 189
Bidding process, 274–275
Blocking programs, 110–111
Blogs, 331e
Board meetings: budget responsibilities of, 284; conducting, 120–121
Board members: roles and responsibilities of, 117–118; selecting, 118–120
BoardSource, 117, 119
Brainstorming: as learning format, 265e; in values-based disagreements, 98–99
Branding, 320–322
Budget cuts, 114, 309e
Budgets: definition of, 286; guidelines for, 291–292; institutional regulations regarding, 290; management of, 291–296; models of, 287e, 288; overview of, 286; preparation of, 284–291, 306–308e; responsibilities related to, 283–284, 304; terminology related to, 286–288

C
Cancellation clauses, 346
Case for support, 299
CBPP. See Contingency-Based Program Planning
Cell phones, 75, 380
Change: factors overlooked when planning for, 8; in laws of power, 93; learning transfer and, 225–226; as outcome of education/training programs, 5–8, 21, 33; time allotted for, 8; types of, 6. See also specific types of change
Chief executive officers (CEOs), 118, 120
Civil rights movement, 66
Classroom format, 262e
Clinic format, 262e
Clubs, 263e
Coaching, 262e
Coalition building, 85–86
Code of ethics, 41–42
Cohort groups, 263e
Collaboration, to benefit novice planners, 31
Collaborative partnerships, 122
College enrollment, 61
Feminist organizations, 13
Field visits, 262e, 268–269e
Fifty Miles from Tomorrow: A Memoir of Alaska and the Real People (Hensley), 57
Financial Services of University of Toronto, 290
Financing programs, 296–298
Flexibility, in program planning, 31
Flickr, 331e
Focus groups, 247e
Format selection, 259–265, 277–278, 279–280e
Formative evaluation, 194
Formula model, 287e
Foundational knowledge: in adult learning, 52–56; becoming familiar with, 78e
Fundraising campaigns, 299–304, 310e
Furniture, 342–343

Game-based learning, 380
Gaps, description of, 135
Gesture-based computing, 380
Gesture-based learning, 380
Globalization, 381–382
Goals. See Program goals
Goals-based approach, for program evaluation, 244
Google Analytics, 327
Google Sites, 327
Government funding, 298e
Government organizations, 274–275, 284
Grandmothers Counsel the World (Schaefer), 57
Grants: as income sources, 298e; for technology, 70–71
Graphics, 324–325
Grassroots education, 167e, 183e
Group sessions, 140e

Hearing impairments, 154
Hinduism, 61
History, of organizations, 86–87
Holidays, 267
Horizon Report, 379–380
Hosting services, 327
Hotels, 353e, 357e
Human Performance Technology (HPT) process, 225
Hydrofracking, 96–99

Ideas, educational: defining, 149; generating, 138–143, 159e; prioritization of, 147–152, 160e; sources of, 136–138, 158e
Illinois Adult and Continuing Education Association (IACEA), 150–151
Impact-concerns stage, 226
Implementing Change: Patterns, Principles and Potholes (Hall & Hord), 226
Income: estimating, 306–308e; management of, 293–294; methods for increasing, 299–304; overview of, 296; sample sources of, 297–298e; sources of, 296, 297–298e
Incremental budgeting, 287e
Indigenous ways of learning/knowing, 52–56
Individual change, 6–7
Individual formats, 262e, 268e
Informal evaluations, 241–243, 257e
Informal networks: to generate ideas for programs, 142e; as knowledge sources, 88

Infrastructure, technology, 74
Innovative programs, 239–241
Institutes, 263e
Instructional assessments: to assist learning, 197–198; at entry, 193; of instructional processes and resources, 194–195; learners’ anxiety about, 197; of learning outcomes, 195–197; managing the process of, 197, 207e; to provide data for program evaluation, 198–199; purpose of, 193
Instructional plans: description of, 199; preparation of, 199–202, 208e
Instructional resources: assessment of, 194–195; selection of, 191–193
Instructional staff: role of, 270; selection of, 271–277, 282e
Instructional techniques: assessment of, 194–195; selection of, 186–191, 206e
Instructors: bias of, 189; capabilities of, 187–188; helpful tips for, 201e
Interactive Model of Program Planning: assumptions of, 19–20, 32–36, 47; components of, 29f, 46–47, 49–50e; description of, xxiv, 29–32, 368–370; evolution of, xx; function of, xxiv–xxv; importance of, 9; learning transfer’s link to, 212–214; linking program evaluation to, 234–237; versus other models, 46; past renditions of, 367f, 368–369; sources for, 9, 11, 14, 21; tasks within, 31–32, 370–374; usefulness of, 31, 36–40, 47–48; value of, xx
Interactive platforms, 73
Interactive tutorials, 262e
Internet communication: gaining support through, 123–126; as learning format, 263e, 264e; for marketing, 326–332; for meetings, 121; for relationship building, 125
Internet search, 262e
Interviews: for collecting data, 245e; to generate ideas for programs, 140e
Isolation, 93

Job aids, 154
Job-embedded training, 262e
Job/task analysis, 141e
Journals, for self-assessment, 194
Judgment process, 250–253, 258e

Keynote speakers, 353e, 356, 357e

Language differences, 19
Language, of program planners, 91
Large-group formats, 263e, 268e
Latin American organizations, 13
Learners: anxiety of, 197; characteristics of, 188–190; feedback from, 188; motivation of, 200–201; readiness of, to accept feedback, 198; in target audience analysis, 316
Learning: assessments prior to, 193; non-Western and Indigenous ways of, 52–56; planners’ foundational knowledge in, 52–56; technology’s value in, 74; to use power, 90
Learning analytics, 380
Learning communities: building, 265–267; as learning format, 265e
Learning objectives: assessment of, 195–197; categories of, 182–184; content selection and, 185–186; definition of, 161, 182, 205e; development of, 184–185; essential elements of, 184; matching instructional techniques to, 187;
Subject Index

from program goals and objectives, 183e; versus program objectives, 182; proper statement of, 184; purpose of, 182, 184

Learning transfer: assessment of, 195, 198; barriers and enhancers to, 218e, 219, 229e; challenges of organizational setting to, 221, 225–227; context and, 212; critical factors in, 217, 218e; definition of, 211–212; description of, 195; estimates of, 215; framework for, 219–221, 222–224e; Interactive Model’s link to, 212–214; key people in, 220–221; key strategies for, 201–202; planning for, 214–219; selecting strategies for, 220; techniques for, 220, 221, 230–231e; when to use strategies for, 220

Learning Transfer Systems Inventory (LTSI), 225

Lectures, 261, 263e

Legally constituted boards, 118–121

Life-changing events, 55–56

Lighting, 342

Linear planning, 376–377

LinkedIn, 331e

Live chats, 261

Location, of programs, 313–314, 339–347

Logos, 321

LTSI. See Learning Transfer Systems Inventory

Managers: lack of learning transfer and, 216; role of, 271; support from, 111

Mandatory programs, 108–109

Market niche, 315

Market specialists, 315

Marketing: branding in, 320–322; criteria for success of, 314, 322–325; critical messages in, 314; definition of, 312; framework for, 312; product packaging in, 312; program pricing and, 312–313; purpose of, 312

Marketing campaigns: analysis of competition in, 318–320; contextual analysis in, 317–318; creation of, 314–315; funding for, 332–333; importance of, 311; target audience analysis in, 315–317

Meeting rooms, 341–344, 354e, 363e

Mental models, 73

Mentoring, 262e

Meta-negotiations, 96

Middle managers, 111

Minimum enrollment, 293–294

Misinformation, 91

Mission, education related, 114

Mission statement, 161–162

Mobile devices, 380

Model building, 73

Models: functions of, xx–xxi; types of, xxiv

Modern Practice of Adult Education (Knowles), xxiv

Motivation, of learners, 200–201, 218e

Multiple methods approach, to analyzing data, 248

Namesake (Lahiri), 57

Narratives, 17

National Forum on Education Statistics, 284

Navigation links, 327

Needs assessment: as baseline data, 235; definition of, 143; example of, 145–147; overview of, 153–156; process of, 144–145; in program evaluation, 235, 236; purpose of, 133–134; rationale for, 143, 144; usefulness of, 133–134

Needs, educational: defining, 149; description of, 134–135; generating, 138–143, 159e; lack of agreement about, 136; negative connotation of, 135–136; prioritization of, 147–152, 160e; sources of, 136–138, 158e

Negative power, 67

Negotiation: to build program support, 112; components of, 94; definition of, 94; for external staff, 275–276; process of, 95–96, 100; for rental facility contracts, 344–347; self-reflection exercise related to, 104e; tasks and items in, 95e; types of, 95–96; values and beliefs in, 96–99, 105e

Networking: for donations, 301; to locate external staff, 274; as power tactic, 92f; for support, 107–108, 123–126

Niche market, 315

Nontraditional learners, 61

Non-Western ways of learning/knowing, 57–58

Notification phase, of contingency plan, 295e

Novice planners: versus experienced planners, 31–32, 47–48; rental facilities and, 344–347; usefulness of Interactive Model to, 38

O

Objectives. See Program objectives

Objectives-based approach, for program evaluation, 244

Observations: for collecting data, 245e; to generate ideas for programs, 140e, 142

Online ads, 328

Online communications, 329, 332

Online courses, 73

Online formats, 263e, 264e, 313

Online promotional materials, 326–332

On-the-job training, 262e

Open source programs, 72

Operational program objectives: description of, 165, 167–168; samples of, 168e

Organization branding, 320–322

Organizational change: definition of, 6; examples of, 7

Organizational culture: description of, 86–87; lack of learning transfer and, 216; program support and, 112–113

Organizational decision making, 85

Organizational documents, 246e

Organizational planning, 273

Organizational subsidies, 297e

Organizational support, 112–115

Organizational values: description of, 42; that support cultural competence, 65–66

Organizations: contextual factors of, 85–87; as source of educational ideas and needs, 137

Paid staff, 271

Participant fees, 294, 297e

Participant level, of evaluation, 243–244

Participant support, 108–110

Participatory planning, 166–167e, 183e

Partnerships for planning: building, 122–123, 132e; challenges of, 122; conflicts in, 123; description of, 121–122; disbanding of, 123

Passion, 126

Peace Corps, 137
Subject Index

S
Schedules, setting, 267–270, 281e
Scholars, program planning experiences of, 16–17
Search Engine Optimization, 328
Self-assessments: for collecting data, 247e; purpose of, 194
Self-concerns stage, 226
Selling programs, 314
Senior-level managers, 111
Small-group formats, 262–263e, 268e
SOC. See Stages of Concern model
Social indicators, 142e
Social media: benefits of, 125; description of, 73; gaining support through, 123–126; as learning format, 264e; popularity of, 328; for promotions, 328–329, 330–331e; for relationship building, 125
Social network model, 18–19
Societal change: definition of, 6; examples of, 7–8; as goal of radical planning, 14
Software, 72–73
South Sudan, 14–15
Speculative items, 290
Spirituality/religion: culture’s connection to, 60; importance of, 60; relevant pedagogy to, 60–61
Sponsors, program: description of, 5; as income source, 297e; program evaluations and, 235
Staff development, 273
Stages of Concern (SOC) model, 225–226
Stakeholders: in constructing program objectives, 168–169; as facet of planning context, 81–84; gaining support from, 107–126; importance of, as assumption of Interactive Model of Program Planning, 34; in learning transfer, 220–221, 222–224e; in need/idea prioritization process, 149–150
Standard operating procedures, 85
Storytelling: for collecting data, 247e; for marketing, 323–324
Structural factors, 85
Structural support, establishing, 113–115, 130e
Substantive negotiations, 95–96
Successful Transfer of Learning Model, 216–217
Summative evaluation, 194
Supervisors, support from, 110–111
Support, base of: exercises related to building, 129–132; importance of, 126–127; in laws of power, 93; major tasks in building, 127; organizations as, 112–115; partnerships as, 121–126; people as, 107–112; wider community as, 115–121
Support groups, 263e, 269e
Surveys, 245e
SWOT analysis, 318
Systemic program evaluation, 237–239, 255–256e
Talkative people, 68–69
Target audience analysis, 315–317
Task analysis, 141e
Task-concerns stage, 226
Team-teaching, 194
Technical support staff, 271
Technology: available tools of, 72–73, 76; barriers to use of, 70–71, 74–75, 76–77; changing nature of, 70, 76; effective use of, 71, 73–74; familiarity with, as assumption of Interactive Model of Program Planning, 35; for fundraising campaigns, 302; influence of, 377–380; information-sharing process and, 91; program formats and, 261; value of, in learning, 74. See also specific technology
TEPE. See Transfer effort-performance expectations
Testimonials, 323
Tests, to generate ideas for programs, 141e
Theater, 263e, 265e
Themes, from data, 252
3-D avatar-based digital format, 264e
Tours, 263e
Traditional approach. See Conventional approach to program planning
Traditions, of organizations, 86–87
Trainers: negative perception of, 135–136; role of, 94
Training programs: alternatives to, 152–155; building structural support for, 130e; change as outcome of, 5–8; cost of, 215; ensuring support for, 129e; incorporation of, in organizations, 113–114; overview of, 8–9; purpose of, 5, 21, 24–25e, 33; sources of ideas for, 136–138, 158e; types of, 2–3
Transfer effort-performance expectations (TEPE), 225
Transfer of learning. See Learning transfer
Transformational learning, 75; foundational knowledge in, 54–56
Travel expenses, 290
Tutorials, 262e
Twitter, 330e
URL address, 327
U.S. Department of Education, 290
Vacations, 267
Values: ethical decisions and, 41–42; in negotiations, 96–99, 105e
Variable revenue, 293–294
Videoconferencing: for board meetings, 121; to build support, 124; effective use of, 74; function of, 261; as learning format, 264e
Virtual communities, 264e
Volunteers, 164, 272, 352
Web conferencing, 121, 124
Web sites, creating, 326–328, 337e
Webinars, 331e
Western Region Research Conference on the Education of Adults (WRRCEA), 124–125
Women: building relationships with, 64–65; core competencies of, 13; power networks of, 89
Workplace environment, 216e
Workshops: assessment data from, 198; description of, 263e; logistical problems related to, 354–355e; power in, 69–70; purpose of, 260–261
Written format, 262e
YouTube, 330e
Zero-based budgeting, 287e