Index

Page references to Figures are followed by the letter ‘f’ in italics, while references to Tables are followed by the letter ‘t’. ‘EI’ stands for ‘emotional intelligence’ ability emotional intelligence (AEI), 18, 19, 21–23 see also emotional intelligence (EI); trait emotional intelligence (TEI)

in adolescence/early adulthood, 106 age differences, 185–187 changes over time, 185
cognitive skills, 119
compared to trait EI, in health context, 165–166 conceptualization of EI, 12
current research issues, 27–28 emotional regulation, 97
high levels, 112, 118, 144
and higher education, 125, 127–129, 134 knowledge-based, 27
models, 44
new measurement approaches, 57–58 performance-based tests assessing, 47–51 rating scales assessing, 51–54
RULER program, 94
and self-efficacy, 39
strategic, 110
and stress, 162, 164, 165–166
validity, 19, 23–26
working in tandem with trait emotional intelligence, 28 workplace and emotional intelligence, 138, 139, 143, 144 ability models, 9–10 ability tests, 13, 22–23 abuse, 111, 189
academic achievement
   in adolescence/early adulthood, 112–114
   and attainment, 112
distal and proximal markers of functioning, 113 and mental health, 114 stressful circumstances, EI as buffer of, 114–116 and work performance, 25 academic readiness, 68
adaptation/adjustment, 108
Adolescent SUEIT (Swinburne University Emotional Intelligence Test), 56 adolescence/early adulthood, emotional intelligence in, 105–122 academic success, 112–116
adaptation/adjustment, 108
cognitive skills, 105, 119 comprehensive model of EI and adjustment, building, 116–120 coping skills, 117
defining adolescence, 105
EI as a protective marker, 107–108 externalizing disorders, 107, 109 future research, outstanding areas, 121 identity formation, 105 internalizing disorders, 107
longitudinal studies, 37 measures for, 56, 127
mental health, 107, 108–111, 112
mood regulation, 119–120
risk and protective markers, 108 adolescence/early adulthood, emotional intelligence in (cont’d) social competence and support, 117–119 stressful circumstances, EI as a buffer of academic achievement, 114–116 mental health, 112
support, 118
why EI useful for young people, 106–107 AEI see ability emotional intelligence (AEI) affective education, 84 affective forecasting, 13, 14 affective habits, 85 affective social competence, 65
ageing and emotional intelligence, 184–192 age differences in self-report EI, 187–188 age-related declines in facial recognition of emotions, 186 changes in emotional intelligence over time, 185 dementia, effect on EI, 190–191
EI interventions for the elderly, 191–192 loneliness in old age, 190 mental health in the elderly, EI as predictor of, 188–189 physical health in the elderly, EI as predictor of, 189–190 social isolation, 190
alcohol abuse, 175, 176
Alexandri, G., 39
alexithymia, 164
Allen, M. S., 175
alternative medicine, 4
Alzheimer’s disease (AD), 190, 191
American Association of School Administrators, 85 analysis of covariance (ANCOVA), 87 Anderson, S., 111
anger, 38
Anna Brown scores, 58
Antonakis, J., 14, 138 anxiety disorders, 162 applied research, 10–11
appraisals, 171, 173
Arvey, R. D., 138
Ashkanasy, N. M., 138 assessment and research, 12–15 ability tests for EI, 13 outcomes of EI, 13–14
attachment relationship, 78–79 attention, deployment of, 74
Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), 109, 131
Audiovisual Test of Emotional Intelligence (AVEI), 125
Austen, J., 2
Austin, E. J., 115
autistic spectrum (AS), 130 avoidance coping, 171, 172
Bandura, A., 32, 36, 37, 39, 41
Bar-On, R., 46, 54, 55, 127
Bar-On Emotional Quotient Inventory (BOEQI), 131, 140
Bassett, H. H., 72
Beers, C. W., 85
Beilke, B., 95
Bell Curve, The (Herrnstein and Murray), 5
Bellack, J., 158
Belschak, F. D., 7
Big Five personality traits, 20, 54 Binet, A., 3
blood pressure, 103 body mass index (BMI), 104
Bommer, W. H., 138
Brady, D. I., 131
brain
and emotional education, 103, 104 frontal lobes, 14
grey matter, 104
neural activity, 103
origins of EI in, 8
white matter, 103, 104
Brewer, J., 154
Brief Affect Recognition Test, 50
Brief Evaluation of Emotional Education Programs (BE‐EEP), 99, 100–102t Bronfenbrenner, U., 76
burnout, 152, 163
Cabello, R., 186
Cadman, C., 154
Calia, R., 37
Caprara, G. V., 33, 37, 38
CareerEDGE model of graduate employability, 132, 133f
Carr, S. E., 125
Carroll, S. A., 111
Carrothers, R. M., 125
Carstensen, L. L., 187
Caruso, D. R., 9, 34, 97
see also Mayer-Salovey-Caruso (MSC) model; Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT) CASEL (Collaborative for Academic, Social and Emotional Learning), 84, 89, 90 catastrophizing, 172
catecholamines, 161
Caucasian Brief Affect Recognition Test (JACBART), 22
CBT (cognitive behavior therapy), 85–86
CFA (confirmatory factor analysis), 53 Cha, C. B., 111
challenge appraisals, 173
Chang, J. W., 143
character education movement, 85
Cherry, M. G., 126
Chien Farh, C. I. C., 143 childhood, emotional intelligence in see early childhood, emotional intelligence in Choi, J. N., 143
Choi, S., 36, 142
Christian, J., 144
Ciarrochi, J., 111, 115, 116, 118, 120, 139, 169 Clarke, N., 139, 143, 144, 145 cognition and affect, emotional intelligence at intersection of, 64 cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT), 85–86 cognitive biases, 75 cognitive development, 69–75 “cognitive elite,” 5 cognitive reappraisal, 75, 146 cognitive restructuring, 85 cognitive skills, 105, 119
Cohen, S., 85
Cole, M. S., 140
Coming Apart (Murray), 5 common method bias, 166 compassion, 151, 152, 155–156 compassion fatigue, 157 compassion, professional see professional compathy competencies, emotional see emotional competencies conditional reasoning paradigm, 13, 14 confirmatory factor analysis (CFA), 53 conflict management, 144
confounding factors, 126
Conger-Kanugo leadership scale, 138 consensus scoring, 47
construct validity, 19t construct validity evidence, 49
constructs, 18, 20, 106
content validity evidence, 46
control groups, 177
conventional intelligence, 8, 9, 17 see also IQ (intelligence quotient) convergent validity, 19t, 49 convergent validity evidence, 49
coping skills, 117
adaptive, 171–172
emotion-focused coping (EFC), 141 evaluation of evidence, 173–174 variables and EI, 172–173 coronal heart disease (CHD), 164 correlation coefficient, 109
correlational studies, 163
correlations, 18, 47, 82
cortisol, 103, 119, 170
Côté, S., 139, 142
Counseling and Psychotherapy (Rogers), 85 counseling model (Rogers), 85
C-reactive protein, 103
Credé, M., 139
criterion validity, 19t, 83t criterion validity evidence, 46
Cronbach’s alpha, 47, 49, 53 crying, 69, 71, 72
crystallized ability, 27 cultural and contextual factors, 15
Dacre Pool, L., 33, 35, 36, 39, 54, 133
DANVA (Diagnostic Analysis of Nonverbal Accuracy), 50, 51, 139
DAPhNE acronym, 97
Dasborough, M. T., 138
Davis, S. K., 55, 111, 117
Day, A. L., 111
Dean, F. P., 111 decision-making and emotions, 14 responsible, 46
de-contextualization of emotional intelligence, 15 DeGroot, T., 142
delay of gratification methodology, 68, 73 delusions, 191
dementia, effect on emotional intelligence, 190–191 Den Hartog, D. N., 7
Denham, S. A., 95
dependent variables, 177 depression, 162, 164 development of emotional intelligence, 15 in early childhood, 65, 66 and language, 70–71 learning about emotion, 75–80 Dewey, J., 3, 75
diabetes, 175
Diagnostic Analysis of Nonverbal Accuracy (DANVA), 50, 51, 139
Dietz, J., 14
differential psychology, 8, 10 differential susceptibility hypothesis, 70 DiGlacomo, M., 128
discriminant validity, 19

discriminant validity evidence, 49
distal and proximal markers of functioning, 113 diurnal cortisol secretion, 103
DNA, 8, 104
Dosseville, F., 175
Downey, L. A., 109
Dunfield, K. A., 67
Durlak, J. A., 16, 88, 97 early childhood, emotional intelligence in attachment relationship, 78–79 early academic readiness, 68 executive function and EI, 73–75 importance of EI in early childhood, 66–69 individual differences in physiology and behavior, 69–70 language and development of EI, 70–71 perspective-taking, 71–73 physiology, emotional and cognitive development, 69–75 school years see school years, emotional intelligence in social competence, 67–68

toddler years, 66, 67, 74
ECI (Emotional Competence Inventory), 46, 52, 54
EE see emotional education (EE)
EEG (electroencephalogram), 103 EFC see emotion-focused coping (EFC) effect size, 165
egotocentrism, 73
EI see emotional intelligence (EI)
EIA (Emotional Intelligence Appraisal), 140 EIS (Emotional Intelligence Scale), 52, 143–144 elderly people
dementia, effect on EI, 190–191
EI as predictor of mental health in, 188–189
EI as predictor of physical health in, 189–190 EI interventions for, 191–192
loneliness in old age, 190
Ellis, A., 85, 86
emic constructs, 15
emotion
see also emotions
and cognition, 162
contingent responding to, 78–79 learning about, 75–80 positive use of, 109 recognition of, 138, 139 self-management of, 109 talk and discussions, 79–80 emotion management, process model, 74 emotion modeling, 76, 77–78 emotion recognition measures, 50–51, 186 Emotion Recognition Task (ERT), 51 emotion suppression, 171, 172
Emotional Competence Inventory (ECI), 46, 52, 54 emotional competencies, 1, 4, 5
defining, 65
Emotional Competence Inventory (ECI), 46, 52, 54
and self-efficacy, 33, 35, 39
emotional disclosure, 171 emotional education (EE) see also school years, emotional intelligence in complementary assessment tools, 94–95, 96 evaluation of biological impact of programs, 103 differential and multilevel analysis, 99 economic impact of programs, 99–100 for promoting EI, 91, 92–93, 94 for promotion of social and emotional learning, 88–90 protocol for evaluating programs, 99, 100–102 evidence-based, 86–88, 92–93
t first wave, 86
as a global term, 84
guidelines for interventions, 96–103
future steps, 99
recommendations for design, implementation and evaluation of, 97–98 recommendations for school-wide emotional education, 98–99
why, what and how, 96–97 high quality, next steps for establishing, 99–100 history, 84–94
school-wide, recommendations for, 98–99 second wave, 86
study of, 86
Emotional Intelligence Appraisal (EIA), 140 emotional intelligence (EI) ability emotional intelligence see ability emotional intelligence (AEI) in adolescence/early adulthood see adolescence/early adulthood, emotional intelligence in applications and interventions, 9, 15–16 changes in over time, 185 children compared to adults, 64 concepts/definitions, 2, 3, 6–7, 9, 46, 106, 152
constructs, 18, 20, 106
cultural and contextual factors, 15 and current “emotional zeitgeist,” 4–5 “dark side,” whether, 29–30 developing a science of, 7–9 development see development of EI in early childhood see early childhood, emotional intelligence in fitting into broader domain of social/ emotional effectiveness, 28–29 four-branch model see four-branch model of emotional intelligence genetic and neurobiological factors, 14 as a high-profile construct, 1–4 measuring see measuring emotional intelligence meta-analyses see meta-analyses of emotional intelligence modern conceptions and models, 9–10 origins of term, 2–4 outcomes, 13–14
reasons for widespread popularity of, 5–6 research see research in emotional intelligence skepticism among researchers, 6–7 as a selection tool, 124–126 trait emotional intelligence see trait emotional intelligence (TEI) Emotional Intelligence (Goleman), 6, 44, 86
Emotional Intelligence Scale (EIS), 52, 143–144
emotional labor, 150 emotional literacy/illiteracy, 6, 8, 84 emotional mind, 153
Emotional Quotient (EQ), 2
Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-i), 20
Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-i), 20
Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-i), 20
Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-i), 20
Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-i), 20
see also Bar-On Emotional Quotient Inventory (BOEQI) youth version (EQ-i-YV), 55, 95 emotional repair, 110 emotional responses, 168–170 emotional self-efficacy (ESE), 32–43 see also self-efficacy case studies, 42–43
cultural contexts, 35–36
defining, 33
for emotion regulation, 36, 37–39 importance of self-efficacy for regulation of specific emotions, 38–39 specific emotions, 37–38
Emotional Self-Efficacy Scale (ESES), 53–54 general components, 34–35
high, 35
importance, 35–36
in a hierarchical framework, 33, 34 high see high emotional intelligence (EI) overlap with other aspects of adaptive emotional functioning, 39 pragmatic considerations for assessment situation, 61
social cognitive perspective developing from, 40–41 outcomes related to, 41
subfactors, 35–36
Emotional Self-Efficacy Scale (ESES), 53–54, 133
dependent Stroop test, 13 “emotional zeitgeist,” 4–5 dependent appropriateness, 69 dependent focused coping (EFC), 141, 171, 172 dependent focused responses, 67 dependent related personality, 21 dependent

see also emotion accurate perception of, 10 and decision-making, 14 facial recognition of, age-related declines in, 186 functional importance and adaptive utility of, 5 labeling, 70
managing emotions of others, 111 negative, 36, 37, 38
perception of, 34, 45–46
negative, 38
and reason, 5
specific, emotional self-efficacy for, 37–38
importance, 38–39
thought, using to facilitate, 46 unconscious processing of, 28 understanding, 46

empathy
versus compassion, 151
defining, 73, 153
empathic concern, 72
in health care professions, 153–155 and leadership, 139
in practice, 154
employability, 132
employment see workplace Ensari, N., 144
EQ-i (Emotional Quotient Inventory), 20, 26, 54–55, 131 equivalent control group, 87
ERT (Emotion Recognition Task), 51
ESE see emotional self-efficacy (ESE) ESES (Emotional Self-Efficacy Scale), 53–54, 133 etic constructs, 15
evidence-based emotional education, 86–88 executive functions, 65, 73–75 experience-sampling studies, 187 experimental research design, 177 expert scoring, 47

explanatory factor analysis (EFA), 53 expressive writing paradigm (EWP), 53 external validity, 171
externalizing disorders, 107, 109

facial expressions, 4, 28, 35, 79, 139, 151
ageing and emotional intelligence, 186, 191
Japanese and Caucasian Facial Expression of Emotions (JACFEE), 51 measuring emotional intelligence, 46, 50, 53 recognition, 186, 191 factor analysis, 20, 22 confirmatory factor analysis (CEA), 53
explanatory factor analysis (EFA), 53 false positives or negatives, 87, 88 Fambrough, M. J., 138
feedback, individual-focused and internal, 187–188 Figley, C. R., 157
financial abuse, 189
Fiori, M., 12
fluid ability, 27, 28
forced-choice assessments (typical performance EI), 58–59 four-branch model of emotional intelligence, 9, 10, 34, 133, 154 and EI in the workplace, 144, 145, 146 and measurement of EI, 45, 47, 49, 50, 52, 53 Francis Report (2013), 124–125, 152, 155 frustration, 71
Furnham, A., 39, 55

gain score analysis (GSA), 87 Galla, B. M., 37
Gallagher, T. J., 125
Gardner, H., 5
gender factors, 167
General Mental Ability, 125 genetic factors, 14
Geneva Emotion Recognition Test (GERT), 13, 22, 51
Genos Emotional Intelligence (Genos EI) Inventory, 56–57, 180
George, J. M., 137, 138
GERT see Geneva Emotion Recognition Test (GERT) gestures, 4, 191
glucocorticoids, 161
glycated hemoglobin, 103 goal-directed behavior, 113 Goldman, S. L., 167
Goleman, D., 7, 9, 17, 46, 153
Emotional Intelligence, 6, 44, 86
Goroshit, M., 113, 131
GPA (Grade Point Average), 125, 131
Graczyk, P. A., 99
Grade Point Average (GPA), 125, 131 graduate employability, 132
Grandjean, D., 29
Greenberg, M. T., 95, 103
Gregory, S. W., 123
grey matter, 104
Gross, J. J., 74
group equivalence, 87
GSA (gain score analysis), 87

habituation, 169
hallucinations, 191
hallucinogens, 3
Hamre, B., 95
Hanafi, Z., 128
Harms, P. D., 139
Harris, C., 159
Hart, R. K., 138

health and wellbeing, 161–183
see also stress clinical context, 164–165
coping skills, 117, 171–174 educational context, 163 evidence, evaluating, 165 health behaviors, 174–177
evaluation of evidence, 177
protective, 175
risk-taking, 175–177
organizational context, 163–164 pathways connecting EI to health outcomes, 168–177 physical and mental health, 163–167 potential moderators, 167 promotion of EI and improvement of health and wellbeing, 177–181 expressive writing paradigm, 178–179 skills-based EI programs, 179–181 psychological wellbeing, 110
stressful circumstances, EI as a buffer of academic achievement, 114–116
in adolescence/early adulthood, 108–112
trait and ability conceptualizations of EI, 24
health care professions, 149–160
art and science of health care provision, 158 burnout, 152
compassion, 151, 155–156
contemporary context of health care practices, 150–151 doctors, portrayal as heroes, 150, 157 EI in, 151–153
emotional labor, 150
empathy, 153–155
nurses, portrayal as angels, 150, 156 patient-centered care, 158
professional compathy, 156–159
Heaven, P. C. L., 115
Heffernan, M., 156
Hen, M., 113, 131
Herrnstein, R. J., 5 hierarchical constructs, 20
high emotional intelligence (EI), 9, 14
see also emotional intelligence (EI); low emotional intelligence (EI)
in adolescence/early adulthood, 108, 109
and ageing, 184, 188
health, wellbeing and stress, 168, 169, 170, 173–177, 182
in health care professions, 153
in higher education, 126
measuring emotional intelligence, 57
mental health, 108
in school years, 104
trait and ability conceptualizations of EI, 29, 30 in the workplace, 138, 141, 143 higher education, emotional intelligence in, 123–135 academic achievement, 127–129
confounding factors, 126 defining higher education, 123
employability, 132
Francis Report (2013), 124–125
interventions, 133–134
medical/nursing students, 125 retention, 123, 126 selection tool, EI as, 124–126
social desirability bias, 126 teaching perspectives, 129–130
tertiary education, 128 transition and retention, 126–127 vulnerable students, 130–132 highly active child, 69–70 high-profile construct, EI as, 1, 2 emergence of a high-profile construct, 2–4 Hine, D. W., 33, 36
historiometric analysis, 7 Hodzic, S., 91
Holden, R. R., 15, 187
homologous structure, 104
HPA (hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenocortical) axis, 161, 162, 170 Humphrey, N., 111, 117
Humphrey, R. H., 95, 140
Hunter, A. A., 37
hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenocortical (HPA) axis, 161, 170
identity formation, 105
implicit association test, 13 incremental validity, 19, 25–26, 55, 166
independent variables, 177 individual difference construct, 106 individual differences, 8, 69–70 Industrial and Organizational Psychology, 11 inspection time, 13 intelligence model, 22 intelligence tests see IQ (intelligence quotient) tests INTEMO programs, 94
Interleukin-6, 103
interpersonal emotional intelligence, 19
interventions
  and applications, 15–16 for elderly people, 191–192
  and higher education, 133–134 school years, guidelines for, 96–103
  future steps, 99
  recommendations for design, implementation and evaluation, 97–98
  recommendations for school-wide emotional education, 98–99
  why, what and how, 96–97
intrapsychic emotional intelligence, 19
ipsative scores, 58
IQ (intelligence quotient) tests, 3, 5, 7, 9, 23
IRT (item response theory), 12, 58
Isaksson, K., 35
Japanese and Caucasian Brief Affective Recognition Test (JACBART), 22, 50, 51
Japanese and Caucasian Facial Expression of Emotions (JACFEE), 51
Ji, P., 95
job satisfaction/work engagement, 144–145
Joinson, C., 157
Joint Committee on Standards for Educational Evaluation, 99
Joseph, D. L., 141–142
Kalshoven, K., 7
Karahan, T. F., 103
Katz, D. A., 103
Keefer, K. V., 15, 175, 187
Kirk, B. A., 33, 35, 36, 39, 40–41
Klein, L. C., 103
Kloda, I., 14
Kluemper, D. H., 36, 142 knowledge
  co-construction of, 75 knowledge-based ability EI, 27 knowledge-level emotional intelligence, 45 Kokkinaki, F., 39
Kolb, D. A., 75
Kotsou, I., 103, 191–192
Kraemer, D. T., 167
Kristensen, H. A., 131
Kuhlmeier, V. A., 67
Kusche, C. A., 95
Kusche Affective Interview – Revised (KAI-R), 95, 96t label-feedback hypothesis, 71 laboratory studies, 187
Laborde, S., 175
Landy, F. J., 3
Lane, C., 2
language, 67–68, 70–71, 158
Larson, E. B., 154
leadership and emotional intelligence, 137–140 Conger-Kanugo leadership scale, 139
transformational leadership, 138, 139
Leadership Quarterly, The, 138
Leddy, J. J., 125
Leuner, B., 3
Limonero, J. T., 109
Liu, Y., 14
Loeb, C., 35
longitudinal studies, 37, 125, 126, 163, 164
low emotional intelligence (EI), 3 see also emotional intelligence (EI); high emotional intelligence (EI)
in adolescence/early adulthood, 110, 117
and ageing, 188, 189
health, wellbeing and stress, 168, 169, 173–177, 182–184
measuring emotional intelligence, 61
low-pass filtered speech, 51
Luebbers, S., 56
Luminet, O., 115

MacCann, C., 12
Machiavellianism, 7, 104
Malouff, J. M., 14, 33, 176
"Managing Occupational Stress Through the Development of Emotional Intelligence," 180 Managing the Emotions of Others Scale (MEOS), 29
Marshmallow Test, 73–74, 75
Martins, A., 24, 165
Mastoras, S. M., 115
material abuse, 189
Matthews, G., 7, 8, 14, 54–55, 136 maximum-performance emotional intelligence, Situational Judgment Tests measuring, 59–60 Mayer, J. D., 3, 9, 17, 34, 49, 52, 64–65, 94, 97, 133, 138, 144, 151
Mayer-Salovey-Caruso (MSC) model, 21
Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT), 9–10, 13, 47, 49, 50, 57, 133
Emotion Perception branch, 125
MSCEIT-Youth Version (MSCEIT-YV), 49, 54
MSCEIT-Youth Version Research Edition (MSCEIT-YV-R), 49
trait and ability conceptualizations of EI, 22, 23, 30
workplace and emotional intelligence, 141, 143–146 measuring emotional intelligence, 8–9, 44–63
correlations, 18
examples of theoretical models (ability and mixed), 45–46 forced-choice assessments (typical performance EI), 58–59 guidelines for evaluating emotional intelligence tests/test scores, 60–62 intended constructs to assess, 61 intended population, 60 intended purpose of testing, 61
ipsative scores, 58
item response theory (IRT), 12, 58
maximum-vs. typical-performance instructions, 59–60 Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT) see
Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT)
Multifactor Emotional Intelligence Scale (MEIS) see Multifactor Emotional Intelligence Scale (MEIS)
multimedia assessments, 57–58 new measurement approaches/assessments, 57–60 performance-based model, 45 pragmatic considerations for assessment situation, 61–62 rating-scale model, 45
Situational Judgment Tests (SJT), 59–60
Stream 1 measures, 45, 47–51, 48t
Stream 2 measures, 45, 51–54
Stream 3 measures, 45, 54–57
theoretical and measurement models of EI, 44–45
MEIS see Multifactor Emotional Intelligence Scale (MEIS)
MEMA (Multimedia Emotion Management Assessment), 22, 57
Menesini, E., 38
Menil, C., 115
mental health and emotional intelligence and academic achievement, 114
in adolescence/early adulthood, 107, 108–112
EI as a buffer of stressful circumstances for mental health, 111–112 in elderly population, 188–189 mental hygiene movement, 85 meta-analyses of emotional intelligence, 11, 82
and emotional education, 91
emotional self-efficacy (ESE), 41
higher education, 128
and outcomes of EI, 13–14
school years, emotional intelligence in, 97
and stress, 165
trait and ability conceptualizations of EI, 22, 23, 24, 25 trait emotional intelligence (TEI), 31vi
workplace and emotional intelligence, 147
Mikolajczak, M., 45, 83, 115
Milioni, M., 37
Miners, C. T., 142
Mischel, W., 73–74
mixed emotional intelligence, 31nii, 44–47, 49, 52 rating scales assessing, 54–57
moderators, 167
modification of situation, 74 Montgomery, J. M., 131
mood regulation, 119–120
Morin, E., 24
Morris, P. A., 76
Mortiboys, A., 130
MSCEIT see Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT)
Multifactor Emotional Intelligence Scale (MEIS), 9, 47, 49, 50 Multi-Health Systems, 20t
multimedia assessments, 57–58
Multimedia Emotion Management Assessment (MEMA), 22, 57 Multimodal Emotion Recognition Test (MERT), 51 multiple regression modeling, 25
Munz, D. C., 138
Murray, P., 37
Murray, C., 5
Mutual Benefit Society, Belgium, 83

Nagler, U. K. J., 7
National Health Service, UK, 155
NHS Trusts, 152
Nelis, D., 132, 133
neoliberalism, 155
neologism, 151
neural activity, 103
neurobiological factors, 8, 14
Newman, D. A., 141–142
NHS Trusts, UK, 152
Nocentini, A., 38
Nock, M. K., 111
nonproctored assessments, 62 nonprototypical patterns, 70
Noor, F., 128
nurses, 150, 154, 156
Oberle, E., 98
occupational burnout, 152, 163 organizational citizenship behaviors (OCBs), 142 Osher, D., 84
Palesh, O. G., 38–39
panic disorder, 164
Parke, M. R., 142
Parker, J. D. A., 15, 110, 127, 187
Parker, J. M., 55
Parry, K., 140
passive coping, 172
Pastorelli, C., 38
patient-centered care, 158
Payne, W., 3
pedagogy, 84
Peng, K., 14
Pennebaker, J. W., 178
Perera, H. N., 128
Pérez-González, J.-C., 99 performance-based tests, 47–51, 139 personality traits, 10, 13, 17, 29, 69 Big Five, 20, 54
manipulative, 29
measuring emotional intelligence, 44, 46, 47–48, 52, 54
and stress, 166, 170
workplace and emotional intelligence, 142, 145 perspective-taking, and emotional intelligence, 71–73 Peterson, K., 176
Petrides, K. V., 12, 39, 55, 103
physical health in the elderly, EI as predictor of, 189–190 physiological markers, 170 physiology, 69–70
Piaget, J., 75
Pita, R., 39
popular culture, 7
give psychology, 5
give reappraisal, 171
posthoc comparisons, 87
predictive validity evidence, 46 give-focused coping (PFC), 141 give-focused responses, 67 process-based theory, 8, 12 give professional compathy and caring, 157–158
in practice, 158–159
relevance in health care, 159 terminology, 157
twenty-first century context, 156–157 Profile of Nonverbal Sensitivity (PONS), 51 protective behaviors, 175 psychological abuse, 189 psychological education movement, 85 psychological wellbeing, 110 psychometric models, 11, 18, 53

quadratic relationship, 186 Qualter, P., 33, 35, 36, 39, 54, 133 quasi-experimental research design, 87 Quinn Griffin, M. T., 159

Rajah, R., 138
Ramalho, N., 24
randomized-spliced speech, 51 rational mind, 153
rational-emotive therapy (RET), 85, 86 rational-emotive-behavior therapy (REBT), 86 reason, and emotions, 5 Reason and Emotion in Psychotherapy (Ellis), 85 REBT (rational-emotive-behavior therapy), 86 regression models, 27
regulation of emotions, 37–39
see also emotions
age-related increases in, 186–187
health care professions, 151 negative emotions, 36, 37, 38 positive emotions, 38 and school years, 97
self-efficacy for, 36–39 general emotional self-efficacy, 34–35 importance for regulation of specific emotions, 38–39 specific emotions, 37–38
self-regulation, 46
and stress, 169
Regulatory Self-Efficacy Scale, 36
Reiter, H. I., 126 reliability, 47, 52, 86 repeated-measures analysis of variance (RM ANOVA), 87 replication criteria, 86 research in emotional intelligence applied, 10–11
and assessment, 12–15
conceptualization, lack of consensus, 12 concurrent, 163
control groups, 177
correlational studies, 163
current, 11
dependent variables, 177
experience-sampling studies, 187
experimental research design, 177 future research directions, 11, 27–30 independent variables, 177
laboratory studies, 187
longitudinal studies, 37, 125, 126, 163, 164 publications, 2, 3f, 12 unresolved issues, 27–30 resilience, 107–108
RET (rational-emotive therapy), 85, 86
Reyes, M. R., 94
risk and protective markers, 108 risk-taking behaviors, 175–177
RM ANOVA (repeated-measures analysis of variance), 87
Roberts, R. D., 23, 136
Rode, J. C., 113
Rogers, C., 85, 86, 154–155
Roosevelt, F. D., 7
Rosete, D., 139
Rubin, R. S., 138–139
RULER program, 94
rumination, 172
sadness, 38, 71
SAFE (Sequenced-Active-Focused-Explicit), 97, 99
Sahin, R., 35–36
Saklofske, D. H., 115
Salovey, P., 3, 9, 34, 52, 64–65, 94, 97, 133, 138, 144, 151, 167
see also Mayer-Salovey-Caruso (MSC) model; Mayer-Salovey-Caruso Emotional Intelligence Test (MSCEIT)
SAM (sympathetic-adrenal-medullary) pathway, 161, 162, 170
Sauley, K. S., 36
Scherer, K. R., 4, 10, 29
Schlaerth, A., 144
Schlegel, K., 29
Schneider, T. R., 170
school years, emotional intelligence in, 81–104 classroom EI and teacher rating scales, 94–95, 96t complementary assessment tools, 94–95, 96t conceptualization and evaluation of EI, 84 economic argument for EI, 82–83
emotional education (EE) evaluation of, for promoting EI, 91, 92–93t, 94
evidence-based, 86–88
as a global term, 84
guidelines for interventions, 96–103 history of, 84–94
necessity for EI education, 82–83 social and emotional learning (SEL) evaluation of emotional education for promoting, 88–90 programs, 90–91
Schutte, N. S., 14, 33, 36
Schutte Self-Report Emotional Intelligence Test, 51, 109, 131 SEL see social and emotional learning (SEL) selection tool, emotional intelligence as, 124–126 self-awareness, 46
self-compassion, 156
self-efficacy
defining, 32–33
emotional see emotional self-efficacy (ESE)
overlap with other aspects of adaptive emotional functioning, 39
Regulatory Self-Efficacy Scale, 36
self-regulation, 46
self-report emotional intelligence age differences in, 187–188
Self-Report Emotional Intelligence Scale (SREIS), 53
Senior, C., 114 sense of self, 72
Seo, M., 142, 143
serotonin, 103, 104
sexual abuse, 111, 189
Sherf, E. N., 142
Siegling, A. B., 82
Situational Judgment Tests (SJT’s), 59–60
Situational Test of Emotion Management (STEM), 13, 22, 50, 57
Situational Test of Emotion Understanding (STEU), 13, 22, 50, 57
Siu, A. F., 109
Siu, E., 126
SJT’s (Situational Judgment Tests), 59–60 skills-based emotional intelligence programs, 179–181 smoking, 175, 176–177
Smollan, R., 140
social and emotional learning (SEL), 10, 46, 84 assessment instruments, review, 95 critical but not dismissive approach to programs, 90–91
defining, 66
evaluation of emotional education for promoting, 88–90 outstanding evidence-based programs, 89t social awareness, 46
social cognitive perspective self-efficacy developing from, 40–41 self-efficacy outcomes related to, 41 Social Cognitive Theory, 32, 40
social competence
in adolescence/early adulthood, 117–119
in early childhood, 67–68
social desirability bias, 126 social intelligence, 3, 4, 28
social isolation, 190
social relationships, 24 social skills, 46
socioeconomic climate, 150 socioemotional selectivity theory, 187 Song, Z., 138
split-half reliability, 47
SREIS (Self-Report Emotional Intelligence Scale), 53 statistical control, 139
STEM see Situational Test of Emotion Management (STEM)
STEM areas, 124
Stempel, C., 35
Sternberg, R. J., 5
STEU see Situational Test of Emotion Understanding (STEU)
Stream 1 measures of emotional intelligence, 45, 47–51 descriptive statistics, 51–54 emotion recognition measures, 50–51 evaluations of evidence, 170 sample items and assessments, 48
Situational Test of Emotion Management (STEM), 13, 22, 50, 57
Situational Test of Emotion Understanding (STEU), 13, 22, 50, 57
Stream 2 measures of emotional intelligence, 45, 51–54
Emotional Intelligence Scale (EIS), 52
Emotional Self-Efficacy Scale (ESES), 53–54
Self-Report Emotional Intelligence Scale (SREIS), 53
Trait Meta-Mood Scale (TTMS), 51–52
Wong and Law’s Emotional Intelligence Scale (WLEIS), 52–53
Stream 3 measures of emotional intelligence, 45, 54–57
Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-i), 20, 26, 54–55
Genos Emotional Intelligence (Genos EI) Inventory, 56–57
mixed EI, rating scales assessing, 54–57 Trait Emotional Intelligence Questionnaire (TEIQue) see Trait Emotional Intelligence Questionnaire (TEIQue) stress see also health and wellbeing chronic, 115
hormones, 161
management of, 109, 113, 114, 115 and personality traits, 166, 170 response emotional, 168–170
evaluation of evidence, 170–171
physiological, 119, 170 stressed circumstances, EI as a buffer of academic achievement, 114–116 mental health, 112
stressors, 107, 117
trait vs. ability EI, 165–166 transactional stress model, 171
Stufflebeam, L., 99 subjective wellbeing, 24
SUEIT see Swinburne University Emotional Intelligence Test (SUEIT) suicidal behavior, 111
Supavadeeprasit, S., 115
Swinburne University Emotional Intelligence Test (SUEIT), 56, 109, 140
Swinburne University Emotional Intelligence Test – Early Years (SUEIT-EY), 57 Sy, T., 143
sympathetic-adrenal-medullary (SAM) pathway, 161, 162, 170 task-focused coping, 171, 172 teaching perspectives, in higher education, 129–130 TEI see trait emotional intelligence (TEI) TEIQue see Trait Emotional Intelligence Questionnaire (TEIQue) telomeres, 104
temperament, 69
tertiary education, 128
Tesluk, P. E., 143 test-retest reliability, 52
The Living School, New York, 86 theory empirically validated, 8
item response theory (IRT), 12
process-based, 8, 12
Social Cognitive Theory, 32, 40 theory of mind (ToM), 28, 72 therapeutic relationship, 155
Thorndike, E. L., 4
Thorsteinsson, E. B., 176 threat appraisals, 173
toddler years, 66, 67, 74
ToM see theory of mind (ToM)
Totan, T., 35–36
Trait Emotional Intelligence Questionnaire (TEIQue), 55–56, 82 for adolescents (Trait Emotional Intelligence Questionnaire-Adolescent Short Form) (TEIQue-ASF), 56, 127 for children (Trait Emotional Intelligence Questionnaire-Child Form) (TEIQue-CF), 56 higher education, 131
trait and ability conceptualizations of EI, 20, 26, 27
trait emotional intelligence (TEI), 10, 18, 19, 20–21 see also ability emotional intelligence (AEI); emotional intelligence (EI) in adolescence/early adulthood, 106
cognitive skills, 119
compared to ability EI, in health context, 165–166 conceptualization of EI, 12
current research issues, 27
emotional regulation, 97 facets, 20, 109
factors, 20
high levels, 112, 115, 145
higher education, 125, 128, 129, 134
incremental validity, 166
low levels, 115
mental health, 108–109
models, 44
and self-efficacy, 39
and stress, 162, 164, 165–166
theoretical models, 46
validity, 19, 23–26
working in tandem with ability emotional intelligence, 28
workplace and emotional intelligence, 140, 142, 143 trait emotional intensity, 169
Trait Meta-Mood Scale (TTMS), 51–52
trait positivity, 82
transactional stress model, 171
transformational leadership, 138, 139
Trigwell, K., 130
Tronick, E., 76
TTMS (Trait Meta-Mood Scale), 51–52 typical performance emotional intelligence, 58–59 maximum-vs. typical-performance instructions, 59–60 unconscious processing of emotions, 28 United Kingdom, 129, 143, 164
health care professions, 152, 155
National Health Service, 155
NHS Trusts, 152
United States, 37, 94
workplace and emotional intelligence, 138, 139, 141
validity
ability emotional intelligence (AEI), 19, 23–26 construct, 19t
construct validity evidence, 49
content validity evidence, 46
convergent, 19t, 49
convergent validity evidence, 49
criterion, 19t, 83t
criterion validity evidence, 46
defining, 46
discriminant, 19t
discriminant validity evidence, 49
external, 171
incremental, 19t, 25–26, 55, 166
predictive validity evidence, 46
trait emotional intelligence (TEI), 19, 23–26 types, 19t Valois, R. F., 37
variance, 129
Vocal Expression Recognition Index, 22 vulnerable students, 130–132
Vygotsky, L. S., 75
Walter, F., 140
Wechsler, D., 3
Weinberger, L. A., 138
white matter structural integrity, 103
WHO (World Health Organization), 88, 189
Wigelsworth, M., 55
WLEIS see Wong and Law’s Emotional Intelligence Scale (WLEIS)
Wong, C.-S., 14
Wong and Law’s Emotional Intelligence Scale (WLEIS), 20t, 52–53, 140
Wood, J. J., 37
work engagement, 144–145
workplace and emotional intelligence, 11, 136–148
conflict management, 144
EI training, 145–147
and emotional self-efficacy, 35
employability, 132
high emotional intelligence (EI), 138, 141, 143 job performance, 25–26, 141–143
job satisfaction/work engagement, 144–145 leadership, 137–140
professional competency, 129
trait and ability conceptualizations of EI, 25
World Economic Forum, 82
World Health Organization (WHO), 88, 189
Yalçın, B. M., 103
Yao, X., 154
Zeidner, M., 14, 94, 118, 136
“zeitgeist,” emotional, 4–5
Zullig, K. J., 37
Zisberg, A., 125
Zysberg, L., 125