Index

Note: Page numbers followed by italicised f’s and b’s indicate figures and boxes, respectively.

| Action research, 70–71                                                      | in an occupational therapy setting action research, 97 |
| Active participation, of clients, 25                                       | benefits and challenges while implementing CMOP, 100–103 |
| Activity analysis, 29                                                      | change management, 96 |
| Adaptation through occupation, 28, 30, 77–9                               | CMOP-orientated documentation, 102–3 |
| Adaptive skills, 29                                                        | CMOP steering group, 95–6 |
| Affective skill, 34                                                        | conferences with keynote presentations, 99–100 |
| Altruism, 22                                                               | creating a learning organisation, 94–7 |
| Aristotle, 43                                                              | dissemination of information, 96–7 |
| Attitude, 111–12                                                            | local context, 92–4 |
| Audit, 87, 108                                                              | manual maintenance, 98 |
| Balance of occupations, 78                                                 | occupational therapy newsletter, 99 |
| Behaving professionally, 12–13, 16                                          | one-day refresher workshop, 97–8 |
| Behaviourism, 26                                                            | re-energising staff, 99 |
| Being professional, 12–13                                                   | supervision DVD, 98–9 |
| Belief system of the profession, 25–6                                      | training during staff induction processes, 97 |
| Biomedical model, 169                                                      | training opportunities and tools, 97–100 |
| Biopsychosocial Model, 28                                                  | facilitation, 117–18 |
| Bobath, 26                                                                  | individual as a spiritual being, 33 |
| Burke, J., 31–2                                                            | with individuals, 110–12 |
| Canadian Model of Occupational Performance, 28                             | attitude, 111–12 |
| guidelines, 33                                                             | |
| Canadian Model of Occupational Performance (CMOP), 3, 28, 33–4, 124, 133, 159–60 | |

Canadian Model of Occupational Performance (CMOP) (Continued)
in inter-professional team multi-disciplinary team working, 113–14 team structure, 112–13
main assumptions, 33 with organisation ethos of model, promotion of, 108
organisational climate, 107
outline of, 106–7
in professional practice, 114–17
delegation, 115–17
Canadian Model of Occupational Performance and Engagement (CMOP-E), 181
Canadian Occupational Performance Measure (COPM), 181
Care Programme Approach (CPA), 183
Client-centred practice, 52, 93, 101, 112, 161
Client–occupational therapist relationship, 50
Clients, 162
Clinical governance, 12
Clinical reasoning, of occupational therapist, 3
Clinical reflective writing, 45–6 heuristics, 46 rainbow draft, 46
website on, 46
Clinical setting, training in, 43–4
CMOP. See Canadian Model of Occupational Performance (CMOP)
Cognitive Behavioural Approach, 27
Cognitive skills, 33–4, 79
Collaborative inquiry, 70
Collaborative working, 117
College of Occupational Therapists (COT), 14
Community-based rehabilitation (CBR), 133
Community mental health setting and use of self, 52, 54, 56
Competencies of practitioners, 14, 22, 175
Complex case, 117
Conceptual models, 180–81
Conceptual professional models, 160
Confidentiality, 14
Connective strand, 40
Conscious use of self, 51
Continuing professional development (CPD), 11, 21, 57, 92
Core skill, of occupational therapy, 10
Council of Occupational Therapists for the European Countries (COTEC), 138 Counselling, 52
Counter-transference, 53–4
Critical clinical incidents, 40
Critical thinking, 41
Croatia, occupational therapy theory in application of, 139
Croatian Association of Occupational Therapists, 135–6, 136f education in, 131–2 external influences on, 132–5, 135f history of creation and development of, 129–30 influences of, 138, 138f
outline of, 128–129
professional behaviours, types of, 137
terminology in, 130–131
Croatian Association of Occupational Therapists, 135–6, 136f
Croatian–Canadian project of community-based rehabilitation, 133
Croatian Council of Health Professionals, 137
Croatian health care system, 128
Cultural environment, 34
Culture, 32
Curriculum, for postgraduate doctors, 43
Cycle of projection, 54–5
Index 191

Decision-making, 161
De Cossart, L., 39
Dega, W., 121
Delegation, 115–17
Deprivation and justice, occupational, 175–6
Developing Professional Judgement in the Health Care Professions, 45
Dewey, John 172
Disability, 30, 32
Discrete body of knowledge, 22
Discrete skills, 29
Discretionary nature, of professional work, 13–14
Documentation, professional, 109–10
Duncan, E.A.S., 51

Eclecticism, 27
Economics, 33
Education, 33
Education, role of, 131–2
Educational praxis, 15
Embedding, 108
Enlightenment of practice, using theory, 17
Episteme, 15
Epistemological aspects, of professionalism, 10, 12
Epistemology, 10, 12, 39
Ergotherapy, 130
Espoused theories, 17
in occupational therapy, 17
Etiquette, 14
European Network of Occupational Therapy in Higher Education (ENOTHE), 124, 133–4
Evidence, definition of, 156
Evidence-based practice, 2, 93, 114 barriers to, 157–8 development of, 156–7
evidence, definition of, 156
occupational therapy conceptual model in, 159–60 occupational therapy for searching evidence base, 160–62

Facilitation, 117–18
Factual knowledge, 10–11
Factual strand, 40
Fidler, G.S., 29
Fidler, J.W., 29
Finlay, L., 50–51
Fish, D., 42
Formal theory, 17
Formal training, 111
Functional living, 33
Functional rehabilitation, 122

Generic working, 148
Gibbs, G., 41
model of reflection, 41
Good practice, 42
Governmental centralism, 11
Governmental policies, 34

Habituation sub-system, 32
Health, and performance of occupations, 30
Health care practitioners, 14
Health Professions Council (HPC), 14, 55, 58, 92, 108, 142
Holistic, meaning of, 132
Holistic entity, 18
Holistic occupation-focussed assessment, 94
Humanistic school of psychology, 51–2
Humanity of practitioners, 11

Identity, occupational, 174
Individual occupational therapists’ behaviour, 22
Individual professional judgement, 22
Individual skills, development of, 30
Information, importance of, 108
Informed supervisors, 40
Injustices, occupational, 176
192 Index

Inorganic environment, 31
Institutional environment, 34
Intellectual ability, 33–4
Intentional self, 51
Intercollegiate Information Paper, 115
Inter-disciplinary teamwork, 28
Interest checklist, 142
International Society for Occupational Science (ISOS), 166
Interpersonal capacity, 51
Inter-personal skills, 31, 34, 79
Inter-professional team, CMOP with, 112–14
Intra-personal skills, 31, 34, 79
The Invisibles, 39–40, 43
application, 45
devlopment of, 43–4
guidelines, 45
invisible elements, 45
overview, 44–5

Johns, C., 41
Journal of Occupational Science, 166, 168
Justice, occupational, 176
Kazimiera Milanowska, 121
Kielhofner, G., 31–2, 51
Kinesiology, 10

Large-scale belief system, 25
Lay person, 10
Legal services, 34
Legitimate professional, 10–12
Leisure, 32, 34, 78–9
Life-long development, of professional, 13

Maintaining function, 50
Medical model, 114
Medical profession, 156–7
Medical professionalism, 12
Medicine, 10, 33
Member of a profession, 12–16

Mind-brain-body performance sub-system, 32
Model of Human Occupation Screening Tool (MOHOST), 142, 181 Model(s)
of adaptation through occupation, 28, 30. See also Morriston Occupational Therapy Outcome Measure (MOTOM) basic assumptions and concepts, 77–9 development within an occupational therapy service, 79–80 implementation of, 80 marketing of, 80–83
of adaptive skills, 29–30 of human occupation, 31–2, 51, 124, 181. See also Occupational therapy mental health service, in Swansea MOHO-based assessment tool, 72 practice and resources, management of, 148–9 problem-solving process, 146–8 relevance of theory, 141–3 theoretical knowledge, influence of, 143–4 therapeutic relationship with service user, 144–6 of occupational therapy, 4, 17–18, 28–32, 34 activity analysis, 29 models for versus models of, 18–19, 77 role and significance, 18–19 problem with, 40 of purposeful activity, 28–9 as rigid structures for action, 40 theoretical definition, 26–7
Modes, of professionals practice, 42–3
Moral expectations, 13
Moral mode of practice, 42–3
Moral nature, of professional practice, 14, 22
Moral responses, of practitioner, 43
Moral sensibilities, 16
Morriston Occupational Therapy Outcome Measure (MOTOM) amendments, 88
application, 85
audit, 87
development, 85–6 need for, 83–5
rating, 87
survey of users of, 87
Mosey, A.C., 28–30, 51
Motor/sensory skills, 79
Multi-disciplinary teamwork, 28, 106, 113–16
Myths in using occupational therapy models adaptation to practice, 184–5 checking off headings from model, 184 compatibility with care pathways, 183–4 conceptual structure of models, 180–81 guidance on intervention, 185–6
outline of, 180
related assessment, 185 specific assessments, 182–3
National Institute of Health and Clinical Excellence 67
National Service Framework for Older People, 107
Neuropsychiatry, 144
Neuro-rehabilitation, 132
Occupation, definition of, 169, 171
Occupational analysis framework, 171–4
Occupational balance/choice/control, 174–5
Occupational being, 32
Occupational Circumstances
Assessment – Interview Rating Scale (OCAIRS), 143, 185
Occupational deprivation and justice, 175–6
Occupational engagement and performance, 33
Occupational identity, 174
Occupational intervention, 55
Occupational performance, 33
Occupational performance issues (OPI), 117 Occupational science aims and objectives of, 165–7
deprivation and justice, occupational, 175–6 individualistic perspective, 167–8
occupational analysis framework, 171–4
occupational balance/choice/control, 174–5
occupational identity, 174
and occupational therapy models, 169–71 from theory to practice, 168
Occupational self-assessment, 142 Occupational therapists, 15, 21, 23–4, 31, 33–4, 107, 109. See also Self, use in occupational therapy practice; Therapeutic relationship eccentricism of, 27 and evidence-based practice, 155–63 philosophy of, 25–6 professional, 12, 15, 18, 23
required activities/skills form, 22
self-care of, 57
Occupational therapy core skill of, 10
espoused theories of, 17 knowledge base, 23
philosophy of occupational therapist, 25–6, 50 Reilly’s statement, 29
as a profession, 10, 21–2
required activities/skills form, 22 and research evidence, 162 for searching evidence base, 160–62 theory development and, 22–6 use of models in, 34
Index

Occupational therapy (Continued) use of theory in, 10–11 workshops, 123
Occupational therapy conceptual model, 159–60. See also Model(s)
Occupational therapy professional models, 2. See also Model(s)
Occupational therapy theory, 4, 51
Occupation-centred discipline, 10
Occupation (in Croatia) definition of, 131 interpretation of, 130
Occupations, 31–2
Ontological aspects of professionalism, 11–12
Open system, 31
Organic environment, 31
Organisational climate, 107
Organisational policies, 34

Paradigm, 24–5
Hagedorn definition, 24
Performance, 32, 173
Person as an occupational being, 31 as open system, 31
Person-centred occupational therapy practice, 18, 25
Personhood of the professional, 11
Philosophy of a profession, 25–6
Phronesis, 15
Physical environment, 31–2, 34, 79
Physical rehabilitation, 122
Poland, occupational therapy in aims and objectives of, 122–5 definition of, 121 and development of rehabilitation, 120–22 use of theory, 125–6
Practical professional rationality, 15
Practice, 28
Practice model, 113
Practitioner, as legitimate professional, 10–12
Problem-solving process, 184

Productivity, 34, 78–9
Professional autonomy, 22
Professional behaviour, maintenance of, 55
Professional behaviours, types of, 137
Professional boundaries, setting of, 55
Professional documentation, 109–10
Professional identity, 12
Professionalism, 10 distinction between behaving professionally and being a member of a profession, 13 distorting of, 11 elitist suggestion of, 13 epistemological aspects of, 10 and humanity, 11 meaning of, 12–13 nature of, 10 ontological aspects of, 11
Professional judgement, 15, 26, 45
Professional occupational therapist, 15
Professional occupational therapy models, 167
Professional practice, CMOP in, 114–17
Professional practice, umbrella of, 27f
Professional reasoning, 26
Professionals and continuing professional development (CPD), 11, 21, 57, 92
discrete body of knowledge, 23
need for personal philosophy, 16 practice mode of, 42–3 practitioner as legitimate, 10–12 acknowledgement of moral and ethical considerations, 13 and use of models in practice, 16
Professional thinking, 23, 26
Professional values, 14
Profession-specific thinking, 14
Propositional knowledge, 10, 43
Psycho-biological environment, 79
Psychobiological (organic) environment, 31
Index 195

Psychodynamic theory defence mechanisms, 54–5 setting of professional boundaries, 55
  transference, 53–4
Psychological therapy, 52
Psychology, 10, 58
Psychopharmaceuticals, 130
Psychotherapy, 51
Purr, B., 40

Qualification, in Western world, 10
Qualitative research methods, 156, 161
Quality assurance activities, 14

Rainbow draft, 46
Rapport development, 50–51
Rationalisation, 54
Re-conceptualisation process, 9
Reed, K.L., 28, 30, 34, 78–9
Reflection, in teaching and health care, 4, 39, 41 approach to, 41
  and learning issues, 41
  learning through practice via, 42
  and mindset, 43
Reflexivity, 51
Registration and standard setting, 22
Reilly, M., 31
Relationship skills, 51
Remotivation process, 143, 147
Research methods, 161
Rest, 32
Retrospective strand, 40
Rogers, Carl, 51
Role Checklist, 142

Sanderson, S.N., 28, 30, 34, 78–9
Schön, D.A., 42
Scientific practice, evidence-based practice and, 158–59
Self, use in occupational therapy practice challenges, 56–7 definition, 50–51
  developing and supporting the, 57–8 personal account, 51–2
Self-awareness, 51, 58
Self-care, 32, 34, 117, 171 of occupational therapists, 57
Self-maintenance, 30, 78–9
Self-responsibility, 52
Semi-proessions, 11
Simple case, 116
Skills
  adaptive, 29
  cognitive, 33–4, 79
  discrete, 29
  individual, development of, 30 inter-personal, 31
  intra-personal, 31
  motor/sensory, 79 relationship, 51
  sequential sub-skills, 29 splinter, 29
  technical, 115
Societal-cultural environment, 31
Sociocultural environment, 79
Spirituality, 33
Spisic, B., 129
Strands of Reflection, 39 aim of, 39
  development of
    application, 41
    learning through practice via, 42
  need for, 41
  questions, 41
  overview, 39–40
  threads
    connective strand, 40
    factual strand, 40
    retrospective strand, 40
    sub-stratum strand, 40
Study of Occupation (SSO), 167
Sumson, T., 9
Support staff, 16

Taylor, R.R., 51
Technical mode of practice, 42–3
Technical rationalism, 14, 39, 44
  Aristotle’s view, 14–15
  in Western philosophy, 14–15
Index

Theoretical knowledge, 111 Theory, 10
definitions of terms, 24–6 espoused, 17 formal, 17
lack of clarity of terms, 23–4 nature of, 16–17 personal, 17
as a proven fact, 17 relationship to practice, 17 used as dogma, 11
use in practice, 70–72
Theory development and occupational therapy
definitions of terms, 24–6
lack of clarity of terms, 23–4 model, 26–8. See also Model(s) traits of a profession, 22
Therapeutic alliance, 51
Therapeutic relationship, 50 attempting to change the nature, 55 ‘be there’ with client, 56 and emotional responses of client, 56 empathic breaks in, 56 positive, 57
projection of emotions, 55
setting of professional boundaries, 55
Therapeutic use of self, 51
Thinking like a professional, 16
Threads of practice, in Strands of Reflection
connective strand, 40
factual strand, 40
retrospective strand, 40
sub-stratum strand, 40
Time, 182
Traits of a profession, 22
Transference, 53–4
Twin, S., 39
Values, 12
Vocational rehabilitation, 122
Volitional Questionnaire, 143, 148
Volition sub-system, 32
Western philosophy, 14–15
Wilcock, A., 166, 168
Working alliance, 52
World Federation of Occupational Therapists (WFOT), 123, 138