CONTENTS

Preface vii
Acknowledgments xi
International Institute for Learning, Inc. (IIL) xii

Chapter 1:
PROJECT MANAGEMENT PRINCIPLES 1
Project Management Humor 2
Project Management 4
Project Necessities 6
Results of Good Planning 8
Project Characteristics 10
The Triple Constraint 12
Resources 14
Types of Project Resources 16
Project Organization 18
Multiple Boss Reporting 20
Project-Driven versus Non-Project-Driven Firms 22
Complexities in Non-Project-Driven Firms 24
Levels of Reporting 26
Low-Level Reporting 28
Why Use Project Management? 30
When to Use Project Management 32
Relationship 34
The Need for Restructuring 36
Improvement Opportunities 38
Resistance to Change 40
Briefing the Project Sponsor 114
Reviewing Status with the Team 116
Briefing the Customer 118
Closing Out the Project 120
Project Management Skills 122

Chapter 5:
ROLE OF THE MAJOR PLAYERS IN PROJECT MANAGEMENT: THE PROJECT SPONSOR 127
The Need for a Sponsor 128
The Project Sponsor Interface 130

Chapter 6:
ROLE OF THE MAJOR PLAYERS IN PROJECT MANAGEMENT: THE FUNCTIONAL MANAGER 133
Classical Management 134
The Functional Manager's Role 136
Staffing Questions 138
Worker Understanding and Skills 140
Special Requirements 142
Recruitment Policy 144
Degree of Permissiveness 146
The Project Manager's Recruitment Concerns 148
Management Plan Data 150
Staffing Pattern versus Time 152
Special Issues with Assignments 154
Conflicting Policies and Procedures 156
Asking for a Reference 158
A Summary of Other Special Issues 160
The Functional Manager's Problems 162
The Functional Manager as a Forecaster 182