INDEX

A
The abstract writer story, 10–12
Accountability: radical transparency and, 174–176; two-sided, 181
Advanced Developed Methods, 51
Agile Estimating and Planning (Cohn), 156
Agile Manifesto (2001), 51, 87–88
Agile and Scrum methodologies, 45, 51, 125, 246, 251
Agile software movement, 87
Alexander, Christopher, 225
Altman, Igor, 247
American Express, 76
Andersen, Hans Christian, 167
Angela’s Ashes (McCourt), 115–116, 129
Apple, 76, 123
Ariely, Dan, 207
Aristotle, 219, 267
Arnold, Kristin, 89
Assembly line, 31
AT&T, 81, 83
The auditor story, 12–14
Authenticity, 211
Authority hierarchy: getting radical management support from, 261; lack of humor by, 264; types of social relationship, 208

B
b2b2dot0, 117, 122, 125, 238
Bacon, Francis, 171
"Bad profits" phenomenon, 77–79
Bain & Company, 45, 74
Bank of America, 81, 83
The banker story, 15–17
Barnard, Chester, 102
Bayer, Sam, 116–118, 129, 238
Beachhead, 260
Beck, Kent, 128–129
Bell Labs, 124
Berkshire Hathaway, 82, 83
Berlin, Isaiah, 22
Berlin Wall, 268
Bethlehem Steel, 31
bin Laden, Osama, 89
Blaxall, John, 165
BMW, 86
Brice, Lee, 104
British Empire, 29
Brooks, Garth, 103
Business process reengineering, 34–35
Campbell, Jeremy, 173–174
Capability Maturity Model Integration, 242
Capitalism eras, 73–74
Cardinal Health, 82, 83
Champy, James, 34
Change management. See Radical change management
Cheney, Dick, 89
Chevron, 81, 83
Chinese quilt maker, 69–70
Cho Fujio, 120–121
Citibank, 81
Client-driven iterations: at b2b2dot0, 117, 122, 125; busting the iron triangle using, 126; deliver value through, 42–43, 140–163; do work in, 42; doing work through, 42; implications for work by, 126–131; importance and examples of, 115–118; use of iterative work patterns, 123–126; management mind-set problem impacting, 149–153; meaning in and at work, 122–123; phantom work jams that may impact, 142–149; practices for, 131–139; at Quadrant Homes, 121–122, 125; situations not applicable for, 127; at Toyota, 118–121, 122, 125

Page references followed by fig indicate a figure; by t, a table.
Index

Clients/customers: avoid mechanistic approaches to, 87; delivering value through each iteration, 42–43, 155–163; finding out about their world, 137–138; getting feedback from, 162; identifying your primary, 85; as iron triangle component, 37–38fg; measuring delight of, 45; meeting unrecognized desires of, 85–886; organization goals related to, 64–66; promoters, passively satisfied, and detractors groups of, 79–80; providing clear line of sight from workers to, 88, 181, 203; root cause of dissatisfaction of, 26–28; when radical management is rejected by, 235. See also Delighting clients; Stakeholder value; User stories

Coaching teams, 138–139

Cohn, Mike, 135, 156, 251

Collins, Jim, 62–63

Comcast, 77–78

Communication: challenges for managers related to, 210–212; continuous self-improvement requiring crucial, 201–202; interactive storytelling, 45; within marriage, 209–210; teams and open, 160, 177; Toyota’s unintended acceleration problem and clumsy, 199–200. See also Interactive communication; Storytelling; User stories

Complex problem, 95

Conley, Chip, 86, 123

ConocoPhilips, 81

Conservation. See Interactive communication

The consultant story, 17–20

Continuous self-improvement: concept and components of, 184–185; creating approach to, 43; experience of, 183–184; four lessons on, 200–203; meaning of lean manufacturing and, 192–193; practices for, 203–205; the Saylor case of unintended acceleration and, 195–196; Toyota’s integral use of, 69, 182–183, 185–195, 200–203; Toyota’s unintended acceleration problem and need for, 196–203. See also Productivity

Continuous self-improvement lessons: communications are crucial, 201–202; continuous self-improvement is fragile, 201; particular mind-set is required, 200–201; as top management responsibility, 202–203

Continuous self-improvement practices: 1: give team clear line of sight to client, 203; 2: give team opportunity to excel,
Index

203; 3: align team interests with organizations, 204; 4: calculate team’s velocity, 204; 5: get to root causes of problems, 204; 6: systematically remove impediments from team’s work, 204–205; 7: share rather than enforce improved practices, 205; 8: foster formation of horizontal communities of practice, 205; 9: remain systematically open to outside ideas, 205; 10: embrace need for continuous improvement, 205

The Craftsman (Sennett), 61
Crawford, Matthew, 61, 62, 69–70
Csikszentmihalyi, Mihaly, 98
Customer capitalism era, 73
Customer loyalty: Enterprise Rent-A-Car’s experience with, 75–76; Fred Reichheld’s analysis of, 74–75; net promoter score measure of, 76; Reichheld’s Ultimate Question measuring, 79fig–80; short-term earnings at expense of, 77–79. See also Delighting clients: authentic storytelling for, 218; Chinese quilt maker as, 69–70; development versus production context of, 67–70; implications of failure to engage in, 84–85; measuring, 74–76, 79fig–80; Mille Epis example of, 57–59, 60; new focus on, 24–26, 41; organization decision making role in, 72–74; as organization goal, 64–66; practices for, 83–88; public sector organization’s limitations for, 66–67; reasons why organizations are not, 80–83; Safeway supermarket checkout clerk as, 69; self-organizing teams aimed at, 84–85; as stated goals of organizations, 83. See also

Clients/customers; Customer loyalty

Delighting clients practices: 1: identify your primary clients, 85; 2: by meeting their unrecognized desires, 85–86; 3: aim for the simplest possible thing that will delight, 86; 4: explore possibility of delighting more by offering less, 87; 5: explore more alternatives, 878; 6: defer decisions until the last responsible moment, 87; 7: avoid mechanistic approaches, 87; 8: focus on people and not things, 87–88; 9: giving workers a clear line of sight to clients, 88

Deloitte Center for the Edge, 35
Deming, W. Edwards, 124
Detractor customers, 79–80
Development: basis of client delight in context of, 67–70; high-performance product development team for, 48; self-organizing team role in product, 45

The Difference (Page), 94, 97
Drucker, Peter, 23, 28, 64, 206

Easel Corporation: decision making problems at, 72–73; high-performance product development team formed at, 48; Jeff Sutherland’s early career at, 46–47; radical change at, 48–51; raising level of performance at, 47–48

East India Company, 29

“The Emperor’s New Clothes” (Andersen), 167
Enterprise Rent-A-Car, 75–76
Index

Envelope game, 152
Ernst & Young, 106–107
Establish a beachhead, 260
Evolutionary Project Management
(Gilb), 129
ExxonMobil, 81, 83

Financial meltdown (2008), 35
Fiske, Alan, 208
Follett, Mary Parker, 101
Ford Motor Company, 47, 81, 83, 164, 187–188, 193
Frankfurt, Harry, 168
Freichheld, Fred, 74–76
Fry, Chris, 253
The Future of Management (Hamel), 103

Geneen, Harold, 168
General Electric (GE), 76, 81, 83
General Motors (GM), 32, 63, 81, 83, 185–188, 193
Gift economy of social norms, 207
Gilb, Tom, 129–130
Gill, Jora, 238, 239–242
Gladwell, Malcolm, 89–90
Goals: assessing appropriateness of, 70–72; client delight, 83; development versus production, 67–70; making money or producing goods and services, 83; maximizing shareholder value as, 73–74; public relations, 83; of public sector organizations, 66–67; spelling out iteration, 133–134; things versus people, 62–66; user stories defining iteration, 134–135f, 219; Web site evidence of principle organization, 81–82. See also Priorities
Golfe-Juan (France), 57–59, 60, 61, 62
Graban, Mark, 144
Granvik, Björn, 142–144, 147, 249–250
Greene, Steve, 253
Gresham’s law, 105
Group story sequence, 220ff–221

Hamel, Gary, 9, 40, 63, 103
Hammer, Michael, 34
Handy, Charles, 217
The Hanse, 29
Harbo, Mikkel, 242–245
Harley-Davidson, 86
Harvard Business Review
Harvard Business School, 101, 188
Hawthorne Project experiments,
102, 105
Henry FitzEmpress (King of England), 90–93, 96, 106–107
Hewlett-Packard (HP), 81
Hierarchy: getting radical management support from, 261; lack of humor by the, 264; types of social relationship, 208f
High-performance team failures: conflict with default mental model of management and, 106–108; confusion of language with reality and, 105; failure to transfer power, 105–106; managers didn’t know how to sustain, 108–109; managers’ short memories and, 104; teams that didn’t work, 108
High-performance teams: description of, 48, 98; examples of, 99–100; John Ozier’s trio of song writers as, 103–104; stimulating muscle memory of, 221; tell springboard stories of other, 221–222. See also Self-organizing teams
Hlavin, Matt, 254, 255–256
Holm, Michael, 242–245
Honda, 52, 100
Hong, Lu, 94
Hoseus, Mike, 183
Hudson Bay Company, 29
Human capacity: attitude toward surprise and the, 266–267; laughter as part of the, 263–264; meaning in/
Index

work and, 59–60, 122–123, 124fig, 267–268; radical management as magnifying, 268
Humor, 263–264

I
"I Am Saving You from Me" (song), 104
IBM, 82, 125
IBM’s system journals, 47
IDEO, 124
In Defense of Food (Pollan), 61
In Search of Excellence (Peters and Waterman), 102
Institutionalized bullshit, 168
Interactive communication: concept of conversation in, 216; description of, 43–44, 45; examples of social category mistakes, 206–207; implementing radical management through, 260; power of narrative in, 212–215; practices for, 218–222; putting boundaries in the right place, 217–218; social norms and characteristics of, 211–212; storytelling form of, 45, 214; traditional versus radical manager's, 213–215; user stories for, 219–221. See Communication
Interactive communication practices: 1: use authentic storytelling to inspire and delight clients, 218; 2: focus goals of team on user stories, 219; 3: deploy user stories as catalysts for conversation, 219; 4: use stories to focus team on high performance, 219–220; 5: use stories to help team members understand who they are, 220; 6: use stories to inspire group Philia, 220–221; 7: stimulate muscle memory of high-performance teams, 221; 8: tell springboard stories of other high-performance teams, 221–222; 9: practice deep listening to each other’s story, 222; 10: give recognition for identifying impediments, 222
International Herald Tribune, 77
Intuit, 76
Iron triangle, 37–38fig, 126
Iterative work patterns, 123–126

J
Jacobs, Kyle, 103–104
Johnson & Johnson, 201
Joie de Vivre Hospitality, 86, 123
Jones, Daniel, 187
JP Morgan Chase, 82, 83
Jury trial system, 92–93, 105–106
"Just in time" production, 118

K
Kaiser Permanente laboratory, 145–146
Kaizan, 6
Kanban, 6
Katzenbach, Jon, 101, 108
Kennedy, John, 164
Knowledge work, 23
Kotter, John, 63
Krivanec, Ken, 122

L
Lao Tzu, 115
Larman, Craig, 125
Lastrella, Chris, 195
Laughter, 263–264
The Leader's Guide to Storytelling (Denning), 212, 214, 218, 235
Leadership. See Radical management
Lean Hospitals (Graban), 144–145
Lean manufacturing, 52, 120, 187, 192–193
Leathers, Joe, 103, 104
The Liar’s Tale (Campbell), 174
Liker, Jeff, 188
Listening to stories, 222
Localism of work, 61–62
Low-cost mediocrity standard, 235
Loyola University, 94

M
McCourt, Frank, 115
McGregor, Douglas, 102
Index

_The Machine That Changed The World_ (Womack, Jones, and Roos), 120, 187, 192
McKesson, 82
McKibben, Bill, 61
McNamara, Robert, 33, 164–166, 168, 176, 211
Making money goals, 83
Management: differences between radical and traditional, 7–8; faulty system of traditional, 3; history and evolution of, 28–33; iron triangle of, 37–38fg, 126; mind-set problem of traditional, 149–153; paradox of managerial success of traditional, 20–21; Taylorism’s scientific, 30–31, 32; team failure due to default mental model of, 106–108. See also Radical management
Management changes: customer satisfaction focus, 24–26; organization need for workforce commitment, 24; semiskilled work shift to knowledge work, 23; the traditional system has stopped delivering, 26–28. See also Radical change management
Management malfunction accounts: Alan, the auditor, 12–14; Ben, the banker, 15–17; Connie, the consultant, 17–20; Nathalie, the software developer, 14–15; Paul, the abstract writer and, 10–12
Management mind-set problem: cultural barriers to high-end professional work, 152–153; description of, 149–150; false trade-off between time and quality, 150–151; psychological constraint of, 151
Manager-led teams, 96
Managerial capitalism era, 73
Managers: communicating as a radical, 214–215; communicating as a traditional, 213; communication challenge for, 210–212; high-performance team failures role of, 104, 108–109
Mann, David, 178
Marketing: applying Taylorism to, 32; planning, programming, and budgeting for, 32–33
Marketplace: the changed, 1–2; customer satisfaction as controlling the, 24–26; oligopolies controlling the, 24–25; transparency by understanding the, 180
Marriage communications, 209–210
Martin, Roger, 73–74
Maslow, Abraham, 102
Maslow hierarchy of needs, 102
Mass manufacturing, 187
_The Matrix_ (film), 169
Maxwell, Max, 246–247
Mayo, Elton, 102
Meaning in/of/at work, 59–60, 122–123, 124fg, 267–268
Microsoft, 51
Mille Epis (boulangerie), 57–59
Mills, C. Wright, 263
MIT, 105
Mulally, Alan, 188, 202

N
_Nanny McPhee_ (film), 249–250
National Football League (NFL), 34, 35
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), 194, 195, 197–198
Net promoter score, 76
_The New Product Development Game_ (Takeuchi and Nonaka), 97
_New Yorker_, 89
Nike, 123
Nonaka Ikujiro, 97, 98, 100–101
Noncoercive power sharing, 101
Nontransparency, 167–169
NUMMI (New United Motor Manufacturing), 186–187, 193
Index

O
Obama, Barack, 220
Ohno Taïchi, 118–119, 129, 180, 182, 184, 188–189
Oligopolies, 24–25
On Bullshit (Frankfurt), 168
OpenView Labs, 247
OpenView Venture Partners, 126, 246–249
O’Reilly, Charles A., 192
Organizations: aligning team’s interests with those of, 204; interacting with other organizations, 154; low-cost mediocrity standard adopted by, 235; public sector, 53, 66–67; reasons why they aren’t delighting clients, 80–83; things versus people goal of, 62–66; workforce commitment needed by, 24. See also Radical management
Orsburn, Jack, 101, 108
Osterman, Paul, 105
Out of the Crisis (Deming), 124
Outside sources: Björn Granvik as outside change agent, 249–250; radical management momentum from, 257–258; remaining open to ideas from, 205, 261
Oxford University, 101
Ozier, John, 103–104
P
Page, Scott, 94–95, 153
Passively satisfied customers, 79–80
Patton, Jeff, 137–138
PDSA cycles for quality improvement, 124
Peak (Conley), 86, 123
Penny game, 151
Performance improvement: being open about impediments to, 43; creating continuous self-improvement approach to, 43, 69. See also Workplace
Personality conflicts, 234
Peters, Tom, 102
Pfeffer, Jeffrey, 192
Phantom work jams: health sector examples of, 144–146; a house renovation example of a, 142–143; identifying and removing, 147–149
Philia concept, 219–220
Philips, 76
Pirsig, Robert, 1
Pixar, 124
Planning poker technique, 156–159
Polaris program, 130–131
Pollan, Michael, 61, 62
Poppendieck, Mary, 120, 212
Poppendieck, Tom, 120
Powell, Colin, 89
Power: failure to transfer, 105–106; noncoercive sharing of, 101; struggle between truth and, 167–169; transfer conditional on team’s responsibility to deliver purpose, 112–113; transferring to team for accomplishing purpose, 111–112
Predictably Irrational (Ariely), 207
The Principles of Economics (Taussig), 62
The Principles of Scientific Management (Taylor), 30, 31, 59
Priorities: client participation in iteration, 133; failure to set, 73; planning poker technique for deciding on, 156–159; transparency by setting, 179–180. See also Goals
Procter & Gamble, 82, 101
Producing goods and services goals, 83
Production: basis of client delight in context of, 67–70; high-performance product development team for, 48
Productivity: lean manufacturing to increase, 52, 120, 187, 192–193; mass manufacturing and, 187; phantom work jams impacting, 142–149, 192–193; radical management tactics to increase, 154–155. See also Continuous self-improvement; Work
Promoter customers, 79–80
Public relations goals, 83
Public sector organizations, 53, 66–67

Q
Quadrant Homes, 121–122, 125

R
Radical change management: adapted for virtual teams, 238–239; Björn Granvik as outside change agent for, 249–250; initiation into, 227–232; lessons learned from stories of, 256–258; OpenView Venture Partners’ journey toward, 246–249; practices of, 232–234; practices supporting implementation of, 259–262; Salesforce.com’s journey toward, 250–254; simple to understand and difficult to implement, 264–265; situations where implementation will be problematic, 234–235; Standard & Poor’s journey toward, 238, 239–242; Systematic Software’s journey toward, 242–245; Thogus Products Company’s journey toward, 254–256; Total Attorneys’ journey toward, 235–238.

See also Management changes
Radical management: agreeing on common terminology for, 260; authenticity as central to, 211; creating meaning at and in work, 59–60, 122–123, 124/fg, 267–268; description of, 40–41; differences between traditional and, 7–8; dissolving distinction between leadership and, 257; introducing the seven principles of, 3–5; letting the idea evolve, 260–261; as organic change, 256; outsiders can help momentum of, 257–258; as part of a larger story, 268; practices for implementing, 259–262; principles and practices of, 5–6, 41–52; problematic implementation of, 234–235; shifting organizational change to, 53–54; situational applications of, 52–53; spirit of, 266; surprise attitude facilitating, 266–267; tactics for introducing, 153–155; transparency of team in relation to, 178, 179; of virtual teams, 238–239.

See also Management; Organizations
Radical management tactics: 1: the future is already here, 154; 2: interacting with other organizations, 154
Radical managers: communicating as a, 214–215; communication challenge for, 210–212; everyone can be a, 256–257
Radical transparency: the blue pill vs. the red pill, 169–171; genuine responsibility and accountability of, 174–176; having the courage for, 176; parallel to science of corporate, 171–173; practices for establishing, 176–181; practices which encourage, 173; as radical management principle, 43, 45; Robert McNamara’s management style inhibiting, 164–167; the scope of, 173–176; struggle between power and truth and, 167–169

Radical transparency practices: 1: radical transparency within the team, 176; 2: have team estimate how much time work will take, 176–177; 3: let team decide how much work to undertake, 177; 4: have team members stay in daily contact, 177; 5: conduct retrospective reviews, 177; 6: use informal visual displays of progress, 177–178; 7: deliver value to clients, 178; 8: systematically identify impediments to daily stand-up meetings, 179; 9: set priorities for work, 179–180; 10: go and see which is happening in workplace and marketplace, 180; 11: establish clear line of sight from team to client, 181; 12: systematically help remove impediments, 181; 13: accept two-sided accountability, 181

Reichheld, Fred, 45, 57, 74–76, 77–79
Reichheld’s ultimate question, 79–80

Remuneration fairness, 113–114

Responsibility: continuous self-improvement is management, 202–203; radical transparency and, 174–176

Roman Catholic church, 29, 91

Roos, Daniel, 187

Royal Navy, 130

S

60 Minutes (TV show), 193–194
Safe spaces, 260
Safeway supermarket checkout clerk, 69
Salesforce.com, 250–254
Santayana, George, 104
Saylor, Mark, 195–196
Scanlan, Ed, 235–238
“Schmidt” stories, 31, 59–60
Schwaber, Ken, 51, 212
Scientific management, 30–31

Scrum and Agile methodologies, 45, 51, 125, 246, 251

“SCRUM Development Process” (Sutherland and Schwaber), 51

The Secret Language of Leadership (Denning), 212, 214, 218

Self-Directed Work Teams (Orsburn and colleagues), 101

Self-governing teams: continuous self-improvement practices for, 203–205; description of, 96; self-responsibility for amount of work to do, 159–160

Self-organizing teams: adapting practices to virtual, 238–239; aimed at delighting clients, 84–85; benefits of, 101–104; calculating velocity of, 162–163; cognitive diversity of, 95; complex problems worked on by, 95; creating continuous self-improvement context for, 43; description of, 96; don’t interrupt the process of, 161; ensuring sustainable work hours for, 161–162; failure to set priorities in, 73; having them estimate how much time work will take, 156–159; Henry FitzEmpress creation of jury trial form of, 90–93, 105–106; latent personality conflicts within, 234; new product development by, 45; new ways to use, 52; open communication within, 160,
Index

177; philia of, 219–220; practices for creating, 109–114; problematic implementation situations for, 234–235; providing clear line of sight to clients by, 88, 181, 203; psychology of, 97–98, 100–101; “rediscovery” of, 104–109; transparency in relation to management, 178, 179; user stories for understanding and philia of, 219–220; why they work, 93–97; working through, 41–42; World Bank use of, 99–100. See also High-performance teams; Teams

Self-transcendence, 98

Senge, Peter, 184

Sennett, Richard, 61, 62

Seven principles. See Radical management principles

Shareholder capitalism era, 73

Shareholder value maximization, 73–74

Shenandoah Life, 101

Shewhart, Walter, 45, 124

Shop Class as Soulcraft (Crawford), 61

Shop Management (Taylor), 31

Sloan, Alfred, 32

Smith, Douglas, 101, 108

Smith, Levering, 130–131

Social category mistakes, 206–207

Social norms: communications within marriages, 209–210; dealing simultaneously with different world, 208–209; of gift economy, 207; of interactive conversations, 211–212; social category mistakes of, 206–207; types of social relationships and related, 208t

Social relationships: communications within marriage, 209–210; dealing simultaneously with three worlds of, 208–209; philia concept of, 219–220; three different worlds of, 207–208t

The software developer, 14–15

Soviet Union, 168, 268

Springboard stories: description of, 230; interactive communication using, 221–222

Sputnik I, 130

Stakeholder value: client-driven iterations focusing on, 131; delivering sooner and cheaper, 132; management mind-set problem barrier to, 149–153; phantom work jams that may impact, 142–149; practices for delivering, 155–163; provided in each iteration, 42–43, 140–163, 178; tactics for introducing radical management to increase, 153–155. See also clients/customers

Stakeholder value practices: 1: focus on finishing most important work first, 155–156; 2: ensuring user stories are ready to be worked on, 156; 3: have team estimate how much time work will take, 156–159; 4: team self-responsibility for how much work to do, 159–160; 5: let team decide how to do iteration work, 160; 6: encourage open communication within team, 160; 7: systematically identify/remove impediments to getting work done, 160–161; 8: don’t interrupt team in course of iteration, 161; 9: have team work sustainable hours, 161–162; 10: fix problems as soon as they are identified, 162; 11: measure progress in terms of client value, 162; 12: get feedback from client, 162; 13: calculating velocity of the team, 162–163; 14: retrospective review of the iteration to improve the next one, 163

Stakeholders: identifying principle performance objective for, 131–132; public sector organization, 67

Stalk, George, Jr., 140

Standard & Poor’s (S&P), 238, 239–242

Steinem, Gloria, 164

Stewart, Paul, 30–31

Storytelling: communicating radical management idea through, 261; delighting clients with authentic, 218; interactive communication using, 261, 45,
Index

214, 218–222; lessons from radical change management, 256–258; sequence of group story and, 220fg–221; springboard, 221–222, 230. See also Communication; User stories

Surprise attitude, 266–267

Sutherland, Jeff, 46–52, 169, 188, 212

SWAT team mentality, 231, 262

Systematic Software, 126, 242–245

Systems: assembly line approach to the, 31; as being the problem, 36; crisis point (1990s) reached by the, 33–36; early history and development of the work, 28–30; Frederick Taylor on the, 30–31; learning to understand, 151–152; making a new start for the, 36–39; phantom work jamming the, 142–149

T

Takeuchi Hirotaka, 97, 98, 100

Tasks: broken into components for collaboration, 155; finishing most important first, 155–156; planning poker technique for planning, 156–159fg

Taussig, F. W., 62

Taylor, Frederick Winslow, 30–31, 32, 59–60, 63

Teamicide phenomenon, 107–108

Teams: manager-led, 96; self-governing, 96, 159–160, 203–205. See also Self-organizing teams

Tektronix, 101

Theory X, 102

Theory Y, 102

Thogus Products, 254–256

Thucydides, 220

Total Attorneys, 125–126, 235–238

Toyota Akio, 197, 198, 202–203

The Toyota Production System (Ohno), 188, 189, 190

The Toyota Way (Liker), 188, 190

Transfer of power: conditional on team’s delivery of purpose, 112–113; failure of, 105–106; to team for accomplishing purpose, 111–112

Transparency. See Radical transparency

Trifork, 126

Truth: the blue pill vs. the red pill, 169–171; power struggle with, 167–169

Two-sided accountability, 181

U

Unintended acceleration problem: Saylor case on, 195–196; 60 Minutes program on Audi’s, 193–195; three facts about the Toyota, 198–200; Toyota’s approach to the, 196–203

United Airlines, 77–78

United Autoworkers (UAW) union, 185, 186

U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 102

U.S. Navy, 130

User stories: as the beginning of the conversation, 135–136; communicating radical management idea through, 261; defining iteration in form of, 134–135, 219; determining when it has been executed, 138; discussing with client, 137; displayed in the workplace, 137; ensuring that they are ready to be worked on, 156; examples of, 135; group story sequence of, 220; interactive communication using, 219–221; keeping simple and informal, 136–137; learned from radical change management journeys, 256–258; what will be your story?, 258–259. See also Clients/customers; Communication; Storytelling

V
Valero, 81
Verizon, 82, 83
Virtual team radical management, 238–239
Visual displays, 177–178
Vodde, Bas, 125

W
Walmart, 81
Waterman, Robert, 102
Web sites: principle organization goals as stated on, 81–82; summary of goals revealed on, 82
Welch, Jack, 63, 168
Western Electric Company, 105
Whistler, George W., 28, 29, 174
The Wisdom of Teams (Katzenbach and Smith), 101
Womack, James, 187
Work: client-driven iterations implications for, 126–131; envelope game on, 152; identify and remove impediments to finishing up, 160–161; iterative patterns of, 123–126; maintaining sustainable hours of, 262; meaning in and at, 59–60, 122–123, 124fig, 267–268; the new localism of, 61–62; penny game on, 151; phantom work jams, 142–149; planning poker technique for planning, 156–159fig; social relationship norms of, 208t; team responsibility for decision making related to, 156–160, 176–177. See also Productivity
Work in America report (1971), 102
Work system. See System
Work-life balance, 154–155
Workers: ensuring remuneration is perceived as fair, 113–114; improving work-life balance of, 154–155; as iron triangle component, 37–38fig; organizational need for commitment of, 24; recognizing contributions of team, 113; root cause of dissatisfaction of, 26–28
Workplace: the changed, 2; crisis point reached in the, 33–36; displaying user stories in the, 137; evolution of the, 28–33; faulty traditional management of the, 3; as iron triangle component, 37–38fig; a new start in the, 36–39; recent changes in the, 23–28; reinventing using first principles, 38–39; situations where client-driven iterations are not appropriate, 127; social relationship norms of the, 208t; transparency by understanding the, 180. See also Performance improvement
Workplace Management (Ohno), 180
World Bank: information technology system management goal at, 71; Robert McNamara’s transformation of the, 33, 164–166, 176; streamlining procedures at the, 99–100

X
Xebia, 239
Xerox, 101

Y
Yahoo!, 139
YouTube, 77

Z
Zappos, 76