Index

Page numbers in italic refer to figures. Page numbers in bold refer to tables. Page numbers suffixed with 'b' refer to boxes.

abortion care, two-arm trial, 123, 316b absolute standards, quality indicators, 128 academic detailing, 193–194, 199, 204b acceptance, by target group, 52–53, 178–179, 293 ACEPP tool, 230b
action (Prochaska model), 52b action research, 330
active feedback, 219
active participation, by patients, 229–230, 232 active sick leave, multiple arm trial, 316b actors, normalization process theory, 56b acute myocardial infarction
doctor-to-needle time, 161b
mortality, 5
ADAPTE Manual, 101
adjusted performance fraction, 219b
adoption
definition of, 11b
thresholds, 25
adult learning theories, 22 adverse events, 6, 255, see also incidents cause analysis, 258–260
definition, 255b
statistical monitoring, 327b advertising, direct-to-consumer, 227
AGREE instrument, 92b, 107–108
AGREE II, 108
American guidelines, French guidelines vs, breast cancer, 104b
Angoff procedure, 128
ankle trauma, Ottawa Ankle Rules, 40–41b, 194, 203b antibiotic prescribing, 142 barriers to change, 152b
combined interventions, 281
factorial study design, 317b
modeling study, 159b
sore throat and, 23, 172b
theory of planned behavior, 172b
appropriateness method (RAND/UCLA), 124–125 assessment, see also needs assessment of performance, see plans under evaluations; assessment under performance self-assessment by professionals, 142 assisted reproductive technologies, 117b, see also in vitro fertilization asthma
combined interventions, 280
self-management, economic evaluation, 350b atrial fibrillation prophylaxis, survey about, 154b attitude(s), 19b, 23, 24
professionals, 143
audit, 173b
as cross-sectional studies, 328
feedback and, 211, 213, 216
guidelines and, 94
authorization, guideline development, 105 correlations, in time series designs, 320 autopsy, 259
balance sheet approach (cost-consequence analysis), 354 barriers to implementation, 19b, 53, 59, 147–148, 178 cardiovascular risk management, 139b of guidelines, 152b
identification, 151b
infection prevention, 55b questionnaires about, 154–155b baseline measurements, randomized controlled trials, 310 before-and-after incomplete blocks, randomized controlled trials, 314b before-and-after studies, 319, 326 uncontrolled, 321
behavior
care seeking behavior, 225–228
determinants of change, 284
planned behavior theory, 22–23, 156, 172b
reinforcement, 9, 10
behavior therapies, chronic fatigue syndrome, cost study, 357b benchmarks
for feedback, 219
quality indicators, 128
benefit, 84–85
‘best practices’, 14, 83
bias, 307
hindsight, 257
observation, 157
randomized controlled trials, 311–312
blame-free reporting, 258 block designs, trials, 317–318 blood pressure measurement, 126 blood transfusion services, 60 boundary encroachment, 174b, 241–243 BPR (Business Process Redesign), 30 brainstorming, 100, 153, 169 breakthrough collaboratives, 64b, 65, 245–247, 281, 328b breast cancer
day surgery, discrete-choice experiment, 158b decision aids, 234
guidelines, 104b
outcome hierarchies, 131b screening, patient-focused strategies, 228 survival rates, 5
waiting times, 7
Bristol Royal Infirmary Inquiry, 31, 327b brochures, 190
budget impact analysis, 362

365
cancer, see also breast cancer; screening colon, patient-focused strategies for screening.
  228

decision aids, 234
head and neck, 58b, 248b
information shared at consultations, 233
survival rates, 5
variation in care, 7–8

waiting times, 7

cardiac failure, integrated care, 249

cardiac surgery
  enhanced transparency, 274b
  pediatric, participatory observation, 157b

“Radboud Story”, 3–4b
valve replacement, 197b

Cardiovascular risk management barriers to change, 139b guideline development, 103b recording consultations, 153b card, plastic, 190

case studies, 329–330

case management, 174b
information shared, 233

head and neck, 58b, 248b

consent, participation in trials, 312
conservationism, 21

consideration problems, economic evaluation, 352
construct validity, quality indicators, 127

consultations (doctor–patient), 232
consensus methods, 173b

decision aids on, 234
effect of Internet, 231
information shared, 233

preparation of patients for, 229–230, 288

competition, 274–275
complaints data, 259
complexity adaptive systems, 31
complexity of cases, guidelines and, 128b
complexity of innovations, 86, 87b, 308
complexity theory, 31, 35
complications, definition, 255b

compulsion
  approaches based on, 9, 10
  voluntary participation vs, 23

computerized decision support, 214–215, 216, 217, 220–221b, 245–246,
333–334b
cervical screening, 337b
drug dosage, 245, 263
randomized controlled trial on, 304–305b, 333–334b

computerized reminders, prescribing and,
211–212b

conferences, 190–191
morbidity and mortality conferences, 258, 259

conflicts of interests, 95, 140–142

confounding factors, quality measurement, 121

congresses, see conferences
consensus, 145

consensus methods, 173b

development of quality indicators, 123–125
guideline development, 103
RAND/UCLA appropriateness method, 125b

consensus panels, RAND/UCLA appropriateness method, 124, 125b

consent, participation in trials, 312

conservationism, 21

consideration problems, economic evaluation, 352
construct validity, quality indicators, 127

consultations (doctor–patient), 232
decision aids on, 234
effect of Internet, 231
information shared, 233

preparation of patients for, 229–230, 231

consultations (surveys)
on determinants of change, 154–156, 157

guideline development, 99, 104–105

contamination, randomized controlled trials, 310
contemplation (Prochaska model), 50b
content validity, quality indicators, 127

costs, 358

counselors, guideline development groups, 97

champions, 71
change (as phase), 53, 178, 179, 293
‘Check a Box, Save a Life’ campaign, 189b checklists, 83, 84b, 339–340b planning, 301–302b

process evaluations, 338–343
child abuse, detection, 336b children, urinary tract infections, maximum care model, 362b

choice of providers by patients, 225, 228–229 chronic fatigue syndrome cognitive behavior therapy, cost study, 357b lack of consensus, 97
Citizens Council, NICE, 100
clothing culture, 32, 68b clarity of presentation, 88
clinical pathways, 30, 82–83, 92, 248, 249–250 clinicians, see physicians cluster randomized trials, 310–318 clusters
in networks, 145
observational studies, 326–327
CME courses, 190–191

Cochrane Collaboration, 13

Cochrane Library, 101, 181, see also Effective Practice and Organization of Care Group

Cochran, Ernest (1869–1940), 254b cognitive–psychological approach, 8–9, 10

theories, 21–22, 34

behavior therapy, chronic fatigue syndrome, cost study, 357b

cognitive participation
  normalization process theory, 24

cognitive–psychological approach, 21
cohort studies, 327–328
collaboration, see cooperation collective action, normalization process theory, 24

colon
cancer screening, patient-focused strategies, 228

trauma care, cost-minimization analysis, 358b

combined interventions, see multifaceted interventions communication among professionals, 145

handovers, 262–263
remote, 174b

in teams, 70

theories, 24, 34, 48, 212

communities, online, 227

community intervention trials, 326–327

community pharmacies, see public pharmacies

co-morbidities, guidelines and, 94–95, 128b

comparative case studies, 329–330

comparative evaluations, 326

economic, 351–352
compatibility of innovations, 85–86

comparing values framework, 32, 68b

competing, 274–275

complaints data, 259

complexity adaptive systems, 31

complexity of cases, guidelines and, 128b

complexity of innovations, 86, 87b, 308

complexity theory, 31, 35

complications, definition, 255b

compulsion
  approaches based on, 9, 10
  voluntary participation vs, 23

computerized decision support, 214–215, 216, 217, 220–221b, 245–246,
333–334b
cervical screening, 337b
drug dosage, 245, 263
randomized controlled trial on, 304–305b, 333–334b

computerized reminders, prescribing and,
211–212b

conferences, 190–191

morbidity and mortality conferences, 258, 259

conflicts of interests, 95, 140–142

confounding factors, quality measurement, 121

congresses, see conferences
consensus, 145

consensus meetings, costs, 358

consensus methods, 173b

development of quality indicators, 123–125

guideline development, 103

RAND/UCLA appropriateness method, 125b

consensus panels, RAND/UCLA appropriateness method, 124, 125b

consent, participation in trials, 312

conservationism, 21

consideration problems, economic evaluation, 352

construct validity, quality indicators, 127

consultations (doctor–patient), 232
decision aids on, 234
effect of Internet, 231
information shared, 233

preparation of patients for, 229–230, 231

consultations (surveys)
on determinants of change, 154–156, 157

guideline development, 99, 104–105

contamination, randomized controlled trials, 310
contemplation (Prochaska model), 50b
content validity, quality indicators, 127

contexts
  normalization process theory, 56b

planning and, 65

contextual information, 21
harm, definition, 255–256b Hawthorne effect, 317–318
head and neck cancer, 58b, 248b head trauma, guidelines, 200b healthcare vs financial perspectives, economic evaluation, 356 health economic models, 361
health failure mode and effect analysis (HFMEA), 259–260 health technology cycle, 12 heart failure, integrated care, 249 heart surgery, see cardiac surgery heart valve replacement, 197b herne repair, patient questionnaires, 130b herpes neonatorum, 97
herringbone diagrams, 160, 161, 258 hierarchical culture, 32, 68b hierarchical principle, precede–proceed hierarchical workability, normalization hindsight bias, 257
hospitals
acquiring infections, see nosocomial infections hospital departments, planning for, 295 hospitals referrals, 262–263, 280 selection by patients, 229b
Hospital Standardized Mortality Ratio, 127, 257 Hospital Survey on Patient Safety, 264 hospital-acquired infections, see nosocomial infections hours of work, medical residents, 324b illness scripts, 21
image of change, 23
imaging tests, see also X-rays academic detailing on, 204b
low back pain, 145, 156
Ottawa Ankle Rules, 40–41b, 194, 203b immunization, see vaccination impact of strategies investigating lack, 335 research literature on, 304–323 impact theories, 20
implementation, 10–13
implementation cost-effectiveness, 355
Implementation of Change Model, 45–47, 66 implementation studies, of guidelines, 106 implicit reminders, 214 importance, selection of quality indicators, 123 incentives, 9, 129, 146–147, see also motivational approach financial, 146–147
taxonomies, 271–272
incidents
cause analysis, 258–260
definition, 255b
measurement, 256–260
reporting systems, 258
incremental change, 45, 65, see also step-wise approach incremental cost-effectiveness, 351 indicators, see also quality indicators incident measurement, 256
indirectly attributable costs, 357–358 infections nosocomial, 6, 18b, 55b, see also hand hygiene central catheters, 55b, 329b, 330b multifaceted interventions, 264–265 urinary tract, 57–58b
maximum care model, 362b
influence, see social influence theories influenza vaccination
adjusted performance fraction, 219b
fee for service, 33
information, 173b, see also data collection administrative records, 344 affecting care seeking behavior, 225–226, 227 cognitive approach, 8–9, 21
data analysis, 158–160, 331
for feedback, 213–214, 218
initiating change, 45
overload, 81
for patients, 232–233
presentation, 177–178
information-seeking skills, 142–143
information technology, see also computerized decision support Internet, knowledge management
cervical screening, 285b
process evaluation, 337b
computerized knowledge systems, 214, 216 patient safety, 263–264
informed consent, participation in trials, 312 innovation, 11–12
awareness of, 177
characteristics for success, 84–87
cycle of, 12
dissemination, 50, 190–191
factors affecting, 28
features for success, 48
institutionalization, 44
presentation of, 79–90
problem-driven, 14, 83
trialability, 86, 87b, 298
innovation culture, 68b innovation fatigue, 74
innovative organizations, theories of, 27–28, 35 ‘innovators’, 49, 180
insight, see also understanding of target group, 52 Institute of Medicine, on patient-centered care, 230 institutionalization, see also sustainable change innovations, 44
insurers, 147
integrated care pathways, 83, 248, 249–250, see also care protocols integration into existing activities, 44, 53, 57b, 85, 179, 297, 300 integration of services, 174b integrity of strategies, see fidelity of strategies intensive care units, neonatal, nurses, 243b ‘intention to treat’ research on care improvement, 308 interactional workability, normalization process theory, 57b
interactions, see also social interaction approaches among strategies, 284–285
professionals, 144–146
interactive educational methods, 191, 198, 203, 205, 206 internal–external axis, competing values framework, 32 international collaboration, on guidelines, 109 international studies, Tailored Implementation for Chronic Diseases project, 182–183b international validity, 307 Internet, 189, 190, see also websites feedback via, 218
ParkinsonNet, 291b
patients and, 227, 231–232 Internet banking, 86
intervention mapping, 169, 171b intervention studies, 159 interviews
for diagnostic analysis, 152–153, 155, 157
incident measurement, 257
inter-visit reminders, 215–216 intraclass correlation coefficients, 312–314 intrinsic motivation, 176
in vitro fertilization (IVF) decision aids and, 234, 285b, 347b patients in decisions, 82b ISPOR guidelines, 326
journals, 187, see also literature under research
Weekly Browsing Journal Club, 189b
key figures, 192–193, see also opinion leaders killer items, checklists, 84b knee surgery, PROMs, 130b knowledge, see information; research knowledge brokering, 13, 276b knowledge management, 243–246 organizational learning vs, 31 knowledge systems, computerized, 214, 216 knowledge translation/exchange, 11 numerators, quality indicators, 120, 128 nurses
educational activities, 205
on improvement teams, 67
neonatal intensive care units, 243b
revision of role, 241, 242
nursing homes, pharmacists, 241 nutrition, 6

objects, normalization process theory, 56b observability, 86–87
observation
for diagnostic analysis, 156–157
for feedback, 214
incident analysis, 259
on-site, 344
observational evaluation, 102, 324–332 obsolescence, clinical knowledge, 4–5 obstetrics, guidelines, combined interventions on use, 280 occupational therapists
low back pain management, 319b OECD, quality indicators, 121
one-way sensitivity analysis, 361 online communities, 227
online learning (e-learning), 189, 199, 202, 204 online Personal Health Records, 231 on-site observation, 344
‘On the CUSP’ (project), 55b opinion leaders, 25, 145, 173b, 192–193, 199, 205–206, see also key figures OPTION tool, 230b
organizational context, 145–146, 240–253 theories on, 27–32, 35
organizational culture, 32, 67–71, 146
theories, 32
organizational learning, theory of, 31–32, 35 organizational plans, 20
with education, 283
in multifaceted interventions, 279 organizations
incorporation of change, 179–180 innovative, theories of, 27–28, 35 safety interventions, 261b orientation, of target group, 52, 177, 178, 293 otitis media, myringotomy and, 19
Ottawa Ankle Rules, 40–41b, 194, 203b outcome indicators, 120–121, 130–131
outcome measures
observational studies, 327
patient-reported (PROMs), 99, 130–131, 231–232, 235 outreach visits, 298
CARPE study, 360b
cervical screening, 285b
process evaluation, 337b
defined, 279
dissemination of guidelines, 185–186b, 193–194
educational, 173b, 199, 200, 201–202, 203–204
preventive care, 348b
overhead costs, 357–358
package of guidelines, 185–186b PAL guideline, WHO, 346b
paracetamol, regulations, 275
pateograms, 159–160
ParkinsonNet, 291–292b
participation
clinical, normalization process theory, 24 educational activities, 205, see also interactive educational methods by patients, 229–230, 232
precede–proceed model, 43b
participation model, 12
participative safety, 26
participatory observation, 157
passive feedback, 218–219 Pathman model, 50
pathways (care pathways), 30, 82–83, 92, 248, 249–250 patient-centered care, 7, 225 Institute of Medicine on, 230
quality indicators, 122
patient-level analyses, cluster randomized trials, 314–315 patient-reported outcome measures (PROMs), 99, 130–131, 231–232, 235 patients
active participation in care, 229–230
determinants of change, 144
financial interventions via, 174b
financial risk for, 273–274
in guideline development, 98–100 guideline versions for, 106 preferences, 82
safety, see also measurement under safety of care, 68, 264 strategies focused on, 224–239 PatientsLikeMe, 227
pay-for-performance (P4P), 129, 269–270b, 272–273
PDAs (smartphones), 190
PDSA cycle (Plan-Do-Study-Act cycle), 29, 299b, 330b pediatric cardiac surgery, participatory observation, 157b peer review
on diagnostic test ordering, 210–211b
guidelines and, 94
penalties, financial, 174b perceived coherence, normalization process theory, 24 perceived social norms, 23 percentages, quality indicators, 120 perceptions, target groups, 158 performance, see also pay-for-performance analysis, 42b assessment, 48, 152, 198
guidelines and, 93, 95
indicators, 118
scores
adjusted performance fraction, 219b
on selection by patients, 229
personal approaches
dissemination, 190–194
for feedback, 218
to patients, 227–228
Personal Health Records, online, 231 personal learning styles, 22 persuasion communication model, 24, 295 pharmacies, see public pharmacies pharmacists
medication reviews by, 214b, 263
nursing homes, 241
revision of role, 242
phones
smartphones, 190
telephone calls to patients, 227–228
physicians, 73, see also leadership ‘educationally influential’, 50
guidelines and, 95
choice of sources, 192b
on improvement teams, 67, 68–70
medical residents, working hours, 324b primary care
dissemination of guidelines, 185–186b
lack of networks, 191
patient feedback, 235
physiotherapy, guidelines, combined interventions on use, 281 pilot studies, 336
pilot testing, guideline development, 105
Plan-Do-Study-Act cycle (PDSA cycle), 29, 299b, 330b planned-action theories, 42b
planned behavior, theory, 22–23, 156, 172b
planned-change theories, 42b planned process, 11, 45
planning, 58–59, 64–76, 291–303, see also organizational plans checklist, 301–302b
data collection, 345–346
timelines, 73–74
plastic cards, 190
‘point of care’ reminders, 215 policies, national, 275, 276b, 296 policy cost-effectiveness, 354–355
polypharmacy, 214b
portfolio learning, 22
posters, as reminders, 214
post-recruitment bias, 312 practice-based learning, 199 pragmatism, research on care improvement, 307–308, 309, 310, 311 pragmatists, 22
precede–proceed model, 43b, 283–284
PRECIS tool, domains, 309
Index

precontemplation (Prochaska model), 50b predispersing factors, in precede–proceed model, 284 preparation (Prochaska model), 50b preparation by patients, 229–230, 231 prescribing, see also antibiotic prescribing: drugs, medication budget restrictions, 271
computerized decision support, 245, 246
computerized reminders and, 211–212b direct-to-consumer advertising on, 227 pay-for-performance, 273
polypharmacy, 214b
psychosocial drugs, 242
quality circles, 219b
safety, 263–264
presentation
guidelines, 7, 79b, 190
innovations, 79–90
preventable incidents, definition, 256b
preventive care, 348b
price, 273–274
costs vs, 270
primary care
cervical screening, 285b
computerized decision support, 246
financial incentives, 272
incidents, 256
mental health workers, 242
nurses, 241b, 242
physicians
dissemination of guidelines, 185–186b
lack of networks, 191
patient feedback, 235
referral to and from secondary care, 262–263, 280 PRISMA method, 258
proactive reminders, 214–215 problem-based learning, 22, 198 problem-driven innovations, 14, 83 problems, see also barriers to implementation consideration problems, economic evaluation, 352
guidelines for, 97
systems problems, 9
process evaluations, 285, 333–349
choice of parameters, 338–343 process indicators, 120–121, 131 process measures, cost-effectiveness analysis, 352–353 process monitoring, 327–328 process re-engineering theory, 30–31, 35 process theories, 20, 41
normalization process theory, 24, 56–57
Prochaska, J.O., transtheoretical model, 50–52 professionalization, theories, 26, 34
professionals, 142–148
guidelines and, 95
interactions, 144–146
networks, 145, 191–192
revision of roles, 174b, 241–243 strategies for change, 173b prompt sheets, 230
proposals for change, 47–48
prospective analysis, incidents, 259–260 prospective reimbursement systems, 33, 270 prostate cancer, decision aids and, 234 protocols, see care protocols providers
financial interventions via, 173–174b
perspectives, economic evaluation from, 357 selection by patients, 225, 228–229 proxy outcome measures, observational studies, 327 Ps (seven ‘Ps’), social marketing theory, 47b psychiatry, see mental care psychosocial drugs, prescribing, 242 psychological outcomes, decision aids on, 233–234 psychology
cognitive–psychological approach, 21
observational studies, 325b teams, 144–145
public, in guideline development, 98–100
public pharmacies
guidelines uptake, 203b
revision of role, 241, 242
public reporting, 269–270b, 274b ‘pull’ activities, research policy, 276b ‘push’ activities, research policy, 276b quality of evidence, 102
on mass media campaigns, 226–227
guidelines, 92b, 107–108, 110
of innovations, 84
quality adjusted life years, 353
Quality and Outcome Framework (UK), 121, 128, 129b
quality circles, 199, 203b, 219
quality culture, 32
quality improvement collaboratives, 64b, 65, 245–247, 281, 328b quality improvement model (Ovretveit), 49b
quality indicators, 117–135
domains, 121–122
goals, 122
quality of, 126–127
selection, 123
testing, 125–128
unintended effects, 130
quality management, 245–247 test, 28–30, 35
quasi-experimental designs, non-randomized studies, 319–321 questionnaires, see also patient-reported outcome measures on guidelines, 154–156
on IVF, 347b
modeling study, 159b
outcome measures, 130
questions, guideline development, 100, 101 “Radboud Story”, cardiac surgery, 3–4b radiotherapy, waiting times, 7 randomized controlled economic evaluation, 350b
randomized controlled trials, 307–308, 310–318, 325
on computerized decision support, 304–305b, 333–334b
GRADE quality, 102
RAND/UCLA appropriateness method, 124–125
rational culture, 32, 68b rational decision making theories, 21 rational model, 12
reactive reminders, 215
reading time, research literature, 5 receipt plans, 345b
recognizability of innovators, 88 reconciliation, medication, 264 recordings, doctor–patient consultations, 233 cardiovascular risk management, 153 records, see also medical records administrative, 344
recruitment bias, 311–312
re-engineering (process re-engineering theory), 30–31, 35 reference drug pricing, 275
reference groups
cohort studies, 327
data analysis, 331
referrals, to and from secondary care, 262–263, 280 regression monitoring, normalization process theory, 24 regression analysis, 158, 331
in time series designs, 320–321b regulatory interventions, 175b, 176, 264, 275, 276b, see also government policies; legislation reimbursement, 173–174b, 270–272 reimbursement systems, influence of, 33 reinforcement behavior, 9, 10
in precede–proceed model, 284 relational integration, normalization process theory, 57b relative standards, quality indicators, 128 reliability
quality indicators, 127
RAND/UCLA appropriateness method, 124–125
Index

target groups (cont’d)
identification, 59
identification of members, 71–72 involvement in change, 86, 88 of guidelines, 104–105
orientation, 52, 177, 178, 293
perceptions, 158
planning and, 71–72
subgroups, 42, 43, 49–50, 147–148, 180

target-setting, 26, 81
tariffs, 356, 360
taxonomies, 173–175
financial incentives, 271–272
patient safety, 255–256b

teaching, see education team climate, 144–145
team climate inventory (TCI), 70, 71b teams, see also leadership enhanced patient care teams, 243, 244 interactions and, 144–145
for planning, 58–59, 65–67
planning for, 295, 296
theories, 25–26, 34
training for safety, 262
TeamSTEPPS, 70b
telemedicine, 143
telephone calls, to patients, 227–228
temporary learning networks, 282b termination (Prochaska model), 52b tests, see also diagnostic tests; imaging tests; laboratory tests of quality indicators, 125–128 small-scale, 298, 305, 336 strategies, 298, 299b
textbooks, guidelines vs, 94 theories, see also specific theories implementation of change, 18–39, 172 questionnaires developing, 156 relative to feedback and reminders, 212
theory of planned behavior, 22–23, 156, 172b
thresholds of adoption, 25
thrombolysis
doctor-to-needle time, 161b
mass media approach, 188–189, 224b
TICD (Tailored Implementation for Chronic Diseases) project, 182–183b time horizons, 356
urinary tract infection study, 362b
timelines, 73–74
time provision, 59
time series designs, trials, 320–321 timing
feedback and reminders, 219
planning for, 296–297
tonsillectomy, 143
Total Quality Management (TQM), 28–30, 247b
training, see also education of physicians, 69
for safety, 262
transactional leadership, 27 transformational leadership, 27 transition probabilities, 362b transparency
guidelines, 93–94
healthcare quality, 274
transetheoretical model (Prochaska), 50–52 trauma care
ankle, 40–41b, 194, 203b
colon, 358b
head, guidelines, 200b
treatment cost-effectiveness, 355
trendsetters, 71
trialability of innovations, 86, 87b, 298
trial periods, 179
trials, see controlled studies; randomized controlled trials; two-arm trials triggers
for change, hand hygiene, 182b medical record review, 256
two-arm trials, 315–316
observational studies, 326
type III error, 335
uncontrolled before-and-after studies, 321 understanding
of innovations, 177–178
of own routines, 178, 293 unnecessary procedures, 6, see also diagnostic tests; imaging tests;
laboratory tests
updating guidelines, 106–107
urinary tract infections, 57–58b
maximum care model, 362b
USA guidelines, French guidelines vs, breast cancer, 104b utility measures
cost-utility analysis, 353 utilization plans, 20
vaccination, 284, see also influenza vaccination
combined interventions, 281
patient-focused interventions, 228 validity
international, 307
quality indicators, 127
variable costs, 358, 359 variation in provision, 7–8 varicose veins, PROMs, 130b viability (sustainable change), 56–57, 300 visibility of innovations, 86–87 volumes, cost analysis, 359–360 voluntary incident reporting, 259 voluntary methods, vs involuntary methods, 176 voluntary participation, compulsion vs, 23
waiting times, 7
doctor-to-needle time, acute myocardial infarction, 161b symptom-to-hospital time, stroke, 224b ward rounds, see also grand rounds multidisciplinary rounds, 240b websites, see also Internet
on guidelines, 101
for quality indicators, 123
weight control, process evaluation, 337b
Weekly Browsing Journal Club, 189b
weight control, website, process evaluation, 337b Wikis
patients and guidelines, 99–100b
within-group analyses, before-and-after studies, 319 working groups, development of guidelines, 97–98 working hours, medical residents, 324b workplace satisfaction, 174b World Health Organization, PAL guideline, 346b written materials, dissemination of guidelines, 187–188

X-rays
knee and lumbar spine, 320–321b
Ottawa Ankle Rules, 40–41b, 194, 203b
shoulder pain, 204b