Index

Note: page numbers in bold refer to tables.

accountability 128–30, 210–13
  in decision-making 115
demonstrated in portfolios 160–1
  in Jasper’s model of reflective writing 100
legal and social context 113
in record keeping 227
  through reflective writing 99–102
advanced practitioners  see expert nurses analytical decision-making 119–20 analytical strategies for reflective writing 91, 92 anti-discriminatory practice  116–18, 213–14

Benner, Patricia, expertise in nursing 23, 46
Bolton, Gillie
  reflective practice  44, 59, 71, 80
  reflective writing  87, 96
Borton, T., framework for reflection 75–7
Building the Best: Choice, Responsiveness and Equity  113

Cake mix model 155, 159
career development 7–8, 11–12
  Benner’s model 23–5
  skills escalator approach 15–17, 17
Caulfield, H., professional accountability 128, 132, 133 CCT (cognitive continuum theory) 120, 127 clinical governance 140–1 clinical supervision 168–82
  benefits 172
  defining 169–70
  misuse of 177–9
models for 184–6, 185
  redefining 180–3
  terminological confusion 172–5
  see also person-centred development (PCD)
Code of Professional Conduct
  (GSCC) 125
Code of Professional Conduct (NMC) 97, 124, 125, 186, 209–36 cognitive continuum theory (CCT) 120, 127 cognitive dissonance 177, 191 cognitive economy 177
Commission on the Future of Nursing and Midwifery in England (2010) 7 communication
  accountability 129–30
  cognitive continuum 192–3, 194 effective 223
  inter-professional 222
  knowledge and skills framework 16
  with patients 215
competencies
  in portfolios 154–5
  standards of practice and care 224–5 consultant nurses 31–2
computer-held records 234
confidentiality 219–21
  computer-held records 234
  Data Protection Act (1998) 230–3
  in portfolios 166
  and risk management 125–7 sensitive data 232–3
  threats 219–20
  consent 130–2, 215–19
consumer patients 113–14
continuing professional development (CPD) formal and informal activities 21–3 framework for lifelong learning 9–10 individual strategies 33–8
portfolios 146–7, 149, 157–9, 160–5
PREP standard 18, 226
Continuous Professional Development: Quality in the NHS 11
contract of employment 213
core knowledge and skills 10, 13–14, 16
counselling 186
CPD see continuing professional development (CPD) creative strategies for reflective writing 91, 92–3 critical thinking 77–8
demonstrated in portfolios 163–4
through reflective writing 104–6
Data Protection Act (1998) 230–3
Dearing Report 11
decision-making 109–35
the 5WH cues 121–3
ethical context 115–18
intuitive and analytical processes 110–11, 115, 119–20
legal and social context 112–15
models for 119–23
personal and professional in practice 123–8 principles under the Mental Capacity Act 2005 117–18 values in 115–18
see also evidence-based practice degree-level training 8 debut 222, 229
Department of Health
Building the Best: Choice, Responsiveness and Equity 113
Continuous Professional Development: Quality in the NHS 11
knowledge and skills framework 9–10, 13–15
National Service Framework for Older People 120
quality framework of clinical governance 140–1
Reference Guide to Consent for Examination or Treatment 216 dignified care 214
Dreyfus, Herbert and Stuart, decision making model 119 educational qualifications 8 employers
benefits of clinical supervision 172
benefits of reflective practice 52–3
contract of employment 213 expectations of professional development 19–20 Engle, G.L., biopsychosocial model 188 equality and diversity 16
see also anti-discriminatory practice ERA (evidence-reflection-action) cycle 44–5
ethical context 115–18
ethical issues 124
accountability 211–12
in clinical supervision 175–7, 180 equality of treatment 120–1 patient confidentiality 126
in portfolios 166
product endorsement 235–6
professional practice 208
evidence
accountable practice 101–2 forms of 141
in portfolios 144, 152–3
evidence-based practice 30 and continuing professional development 224 and reflective practice 50, 52 and work-based learning 128, 140–2 evidence-reflection-action (ERA) cycle 44–5 experiential learning cycle 58 expert nurses 31–3, 225
Expert Patient Scheme 21
expert patients 114
expertise 30, 32, 46
see also knowledge and skills frameworks for reflective practice 57–62 Francis Inquiry (2013) 7
funding of professional development 36
General Social Care Council (GSCC), Code of Professional Conduct 125 government policy
modernisation agenda 113, 115, 133
professional development 8–10
group activity
in person-centred development 183 reflective 78–80, 96
guidance for students 237–8
Guidance on Professional Conduct for Nursing and Midwifery Students 237

Hammond, Kenneth R., Cognitive Continuum Theory (CCT) 120, 127 health and safety 16
Health Care Commission, inspection criteria 52 healthcare providers
benefits of reflective practice 52-3 expectations and responsibilities 20 healthcare records see record-keeping healthcare resources 113-14 human rights, in relation to clinical supervision 175-6 indemnity insurance 236 independent healthcare providers, expectations and responsibilities 20 informed consent 215-19 informed patients 113-14 inter-professional teamworking 127, 221-3 intuitive practice 46-7 intuitive thinking 110-11, 119-20

Jasper, M.
ERA (evidence-reflection-action) cycle 44-5 reflective writing model 101, 161, 163-4 knowledge and skills 207

see also expertise
knowledge and skills framework 13-15
core knowledge and skills 9-10, 13-14, 16
specific themes 14
Kolb, D., experiential learning cycle 58

learning contracts 142-5 learning outcomes 151-2 legal context 112-14, 212-13, 217 legal issues, record keeping 228-33 lens diagram 199-200
lifelong learning 8-9
see also continuing professional development (CPD) locus of control 190-1, 200-1

Manley, Kim, consultant nurse concept 31-2 Maslow, Abraham, hierarchy of needs 199 mental capacity 130-2

Mental Capacity Act (2005) 117-18, 129, 131, 218, 219
Mental Health Act (1983) 123
mentoring role 197
models
biopsychosocial 188, 190
career development 23-5
clinical supervision 184-6, 185
decision-making 119-23
person-centred development (PCD) 184-95
portfolios 154-60
professional development 23-33, 24
reflective practice 57-69, 60-2
reflective writing 101, 161, 163-4
modernisation agenda 113, 115, 133
multi-professional teams see inter-professional teamworking

National Committee of Inquiry into Higher Education (NCIHE) 11
National Health Service (NHS) background 7-8 as a ‘learning organisation’ 9
modernisation agenda 113, 115, 133
National Service Framework for Older People 120
needs assessment 34-5
novice practitioners 25-9 guidance on professional conduct 237-8 Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) 18-19
benefits of reflective practice 53-4
Code of Professional Conduct 97, 124, 125, 186, 209-36
Guidance on Professional Conduct for Nursing and Midwifery Students 237
Post-registration Education and Practice (PREP) 18, 84, 143, 147, 225-6
Record Keeping: Guidance for Nurses and Midwives 226, 229

Ogden, J.
biopsychosocial model 188, 190
locus of control 200-1
older patients 116, 120, 129, 130-1 outcomes for (clinical) practice 12-13 as benefit of reflective writing 106-7 demonstrated in portfolios 164

paradigm cases 46
patient autonomy 126, 130 patient benefits, reflective practice 50-2 patient care  12–13, 214–15 patient confidentiality  see confidentiality patient consent  130–2, 215–19 patient expectations  20–1 patient outcomes  see outcomes for (clinical) practice patient responsibility and choice  113–14 patient trust  21, 113, 125–6 patient–practitioner relationship  20–1, 113–14 Patients Association (2012)  7
PCD  see person-centred development (PCD) PDPs (personal development plans)  11–13, 143
'peer-aided' decision-making  127 personal development demonstrated in portfolios  162–3
knowledge and skills framework  16
professional practice  235–6
through reflective writing  103–4 personal development plans (PDPs)  11–13, 143
person-centred development (PCD) biopsychosocial approach  186–95, 188
models for  184–95
redefining clinical supervision  180–2 roles within  195–7
as a strategy for personal and professional development  197–8
portfolios  146–66
content  148–50
ethical issues  166
learning contracts  142–3
models for  154–60
outcomes and objectives  151–2 and PREP  146–7
selecting and presenting evidence  152–4
structuring  150–1, 160–5
Post-registration Education and Practice (PREP)  18, 84, 143, 147, 225–6 practice development  31–2, 139, 164 practice standards  224–6 practice theory  54
practitioner-patient relationship  20–1, 113–14
preceptorship role  197
PREP  see Post-registration Education and Practice (PREP) professional accountability  210–11 professional boundaries  8, 208, 224 professional decision-making  111–12
professional development  6–40 context  7–8
demonstrated in portfolios  161–2 development model  23–33, 24
formal and informal activities  21–3 funding  36
individual strategies for CPD  33–8
needs assessment  34–5
in reflective practice  49–50
through reflective writing  102–3
timing  35, 37–8
in work-based learning  138–9 professional education, and work-based learning  139–40 professional expertise  30, 32, 46 professional judgement  116–17, 124, 126–7 professional organisations, benefits of reflective practice  53–4
professional practice  204–40
code of professional conduct  209–36 expectations and characteristics  205–6 personal development  235–6 requirements of  207–8
professional standards  see Code of Professional Conduct (NMC);
Post-registration Education and Practice (PREP)
proficient nurses  30 qualified practitioners  see continuing professional development (CPD)
quality framework of clinical governance  140–1 quality of care  52–3, 140–1 quality of practice  16 REACT  34–8
Record Keeping: Guidance for Nurses and Midwives  226, 229 record-keeping  226–35
computer-held records  234
Data Protection Act (1998)  230–3
Reference Guide to Consent for Examination or Treatment  216
reflective practice  41–82
benefits  48–54
choosing a focus for reflection  55–7, 71–2 definitions  43–4
developing critical thinking  77–8 experience-reflection-action (ERA) cycle  44, 45, 55–7, 69–70 frameworks and models  57–69, 60–2 micro-methods  70–81
Index

In professional practice and development 46–8 tools for 54–70

turning learning into action 69–70

using others to help 78–80 reflective processes 45, 57–9, 69

reflective writing 83–108

choosing an event or experience 86–7 demonstrating accountability 99–102

examples 100–7

finding time and space 89

nature of writing 84–6

for portfolios 99–102

strategies 91–4, 92–3

structuring 89–91

techniques 94–9

when to write 86–9

registered practitioners see continuing professional development (CPD) registration 207–8, 225

resource allocation 113–14

respect for patients and clients 211, 213–14 risk management 125–7, 222–3

Royal College of Nursing, consultant nurse concept 31 safety and security 16

Schön, Donald, reflection in/on action 47–8, 119, 133 sensitive data, confidentiality 232–3 service improvement 16

service redesign 8

service users

benefits of reflective practice 50–2

expectations 20–1

shopping trolley model 154

skills escalator approach 15–17, 17

social context 112–14

SODA 55–6

spinal column model 154–5, 157–9

Spouse, Jenny, professional development process 26–7

standards of practice and care 224–6

see also Post-registration Education and Practice (PREP) student nurses see novice practitioners teamworking see inter-professional teamworking time management 35–6, 37 timely professional development 35, 37–8

toastrack model 154, 156–7 touching ‘rules’ 20–1

transferable skills 23, 42

values in decision-making 116–17, 124, 212

Victorian Quality Council 222 principles of effective communication 223

Wales, Post Registration Career Framework for Nurses 12

Willis Commission (2012) 7 work-based learning 137–46 educational strategies 139–40 and evidence-based practice 140–2

learning contracts 142–5

and professional development 138–9
