CONTENTS

Preface to the Third Edition xvii

What The Skilled Facilitator Is About xvii
Who This Book Is For xix
How the Book Is Organized xix
Features of the Book xxii
What’s Different in the Third Edition xxiii

PART ONE The Foundation 1

1 The Skilled Facilitator Approach 3

The Need for Group Facilitation 3
Most People Who Need to Facilitate Aren’t Facilitators 3
Is This Book for You? 4
The Skilled Facilitator Approach 8
Experiencing the Skilled Facilitator Approach 10
Making the Skilled Facilitator Approach Your Own 11
Summary 12

2 The Facilitator and Other Facilitative Roles 13

Choosing a Facilitative Role 13
Basic and Developmental Types of Roles 23
Behavior 7: Jointly Design Next Steps  114
Behavior 8: Discuss Undiscussable Issues  117
Learning to Use the Behaviors  119
Summary  120

6  Designing and Developing Effective Groups  121
   How a Team Effectiveness Model Helps You and the Teams and Groups You Work With  122
   The Difference between Teams and Groups—and Why It
   Matters  122
   How Interdependence Affects Your Work with Teams and Groups  127
   The Team Effectiveness Model  128
   What’s Your Mindset as You Design?  132
   Team Structure, Process, and Context  133
   Team Structure  134
   Team Process  139
   Team Context  143
   Interorganizational Teams and Groups  150
   Helping Design or Redesign a Team or Group  150
   Summary  153

PART TWO  Diagnosing and Intervening with Groups  155

7  Diagnosing and Intervening with Groups  157
   What You Need to Diagnose  158
   What You Need to Intervene  160
   The Mutual Learning Cycle  160
   Summary  163

8  How to Diagnose Groups  165
   Step 1: Observe Behavior  165
   Step 2: Make Meaning  171
   Step 3: Choose Whether, Why, and How to Intervene  178
   Challenges in Diagnosing Behavior and How to Manage Them  186
   Summary  192

9  How to Intervene with Groups  193
   Key Elements of the Intervention Steps  193
   Using the Mutual Learning Cycle to Intervene: An Example  196
   Step 4: Test Observations  198
   Step 5: Test Meaning  200
Step 6: Jointly Design Next Steps  203
How to Move through the Intervention Steps  205
Choosing Your Words Carefully  209
Summary  212

10 Diagnosing and Intervening on the Mutual Learning Behaviors  213

How Mutual Learning Behaviors Differ from Many Ground Rules  213
Contracting to Intervene on Mutual Learning Behaviors  214
Intervening on the Mutual Learning Behaviors  218
Behavior 1: State Views and Ask Genuine Questions  220
Behavior 2: Share All Relevant Information  220
Behavior 3: Use Specific Examples and Agree on What Important Words Mean  221
Behavior 4: Explain Reasoning and Intent  222
Behavior 5: Focus on Interests, Not Positions  223
Behavior 6: Test Assumptions and Inferences  225
Behavior 7: Jointly Design Next Steps  227
Behavior 8: Discuss Undiscussable Issues  230
Summary  231

11 Using Mutual Learning to Improve Other Processes and Techniques  233

Using Mutual Learning to Diagnose and Intervene on Other Processes  233
Diagnosing and Intervening When Groups Are Using a Process Ineffectively  235
Diagnosing and Intervening on Processes That Are Incongruent with Mutual Learning  237
Diagnosing and Intervening on Processes That Espouse Mutual Learning: Lean and Other Continuous Improvement Approaches  244
Summary  246

12 Diagnosing and Intervening on Emotions—The Group’s and Yours  249

The Challenge  249
How People Generate Emotions  250
How Groups Express Emotions  252
Managing Your Own Emotions  254
Deciding How to Intervene  256
Intervening on Emotions  259
Helping People Express Emotions Effectively  259
Helping People Reduce Defensive Thinking  259
Helping the Group Express Positive Emotions  265
PART THREE   Agreeing to Work Together   269

13 Contracting: Deciding Whether and How to Work with a Group 271
   Why Contract? 272
   Five Stages of Contracting 272
   Stage 1: Making Initial Contact with a Primary Client Group Member 274
   Stage 2: Planning the Facilitation 283
   Stage 3: Reaching Agreement with the Entire Group 293
   Stage 4: Conducting the Facilitation 295
   Stage 5: Completing and Evaluating the Facilitation 295
   Summary 297

14 Working with a Partner 299
   Deciding Whether to Partner 299
   Dividing and Coordinating the Labor 306
   Allocating Roles within Your Division of Labor 308
   Developing Healthy Boundaries between You and Your Partner 310
   Debriefing with Your Partner 314
   Summary 314

15 Serving in a Facilitative Role in Your Own Organization 317
   Advantages and Disadvantages of the Internal Facilitative Role 317
   How Your Internal Facilitative Role Is Shaped 320
   Shaping Your Facilitative Role 321
   Changing Your Facilitative Role from the Outside In 329
   Summary 330

PART FOUR   Working with Technology   333

16 Using Virtual Meetings 335
   Choosing Which Type of Virtual Meeting Technology to Use—If Any 336
   The Challenges That Virtual Meetings Create 339
   Designing and Facilitating Virtual Meetings to Meet These Challenges 341
   Summary 345
Notes  347
Acknowledgments  361
About the Author  363
About Roger Schwarz & Associates’ Work with Clients  365
The Skilled Facilitator Intensive Workshop  367
Index  369