Index

• Numerics •
0-10 pressure gauge, 298
3As model
   for stress management, 304
   for work-life balance, 216–217 360-degree feedback assessment, 53

• A • ABC model building rapport and, 87 decision review and, 200 for managing emotions, 298 ABCD model
   enjoying routine tasks and, 217 for exploring emotional factors of problem, 282
   integrating transactional analysis with, 184–185
   receiving feedback and, 272–273 ABCDE model
   applying, 38
   example of, 25–28
   overview of, 16
   for team, 328–329
ABCDE working log
   example of, 39–40, 357
   for home practice, 27–28 ABCDEF model, 194–195
absenteeism, and stress, 302 acceptance in workplace, 308–309 access in future, agreeing on, 141–142 accountability, in team, 325–327 achievements
   articulating, 236–237
   focusing on, 337–338
   identifying, 235–236
   journaling to acknowledge and record, 151–153
acting confident, 158–159
   happy, 249
   healthy and energised, 230–231 action
   change and, 120
   planning, 31
   to practise at home, 85, 98–99 “Yes, but...” as block to, 108–109 activating situation (A in ABCDE model), 25–28
adapting coaching style, 259–261 adjustment
   continuous journey of, 138–139 to retirement, 248, 249 administrative backup, 62 affirmative thought
   developing, 236
   example of, 157–158
aggression, assertiveness compared to, 188–189
aims of coaching programme, 51 Albert Ellis Institute, 358
all or nothing thinking
   dealing with, 338–339
   description of, 34
   example of, 104, 105, 168 “always”, thinking
   challenging, 109–110
   replacing, 336
amygdala, 293
anger management, 311–312
anxiety, worry that creates, 335–336 appearance. See also body language of client, 115
   of coach, 61
appraisal meeting, 256
approach, evaluating and changing, 125–127
approval and fallibility, 345–346
arbitrary inference, 34
Aristotle (philosopher), 308 art gallery, benefits of visit to, 126
articulating
   needs, 188–189
   strengths, 236–237
Asperger’s syndrome, 58
assertive communication
   aggressiveness compared to, 188–189
   I’m okay, you’re okay model, 112
   in relationships, 180–182
   three-step model for, 187
   transactional analysis and, 182–185
Association for Coaching, 358 assumptions, 338 attention to client, improving, 71 author, website of, 357 automatic thought, 22. See also constructive automatic thought; negative automatic thought aversion imagery, 350–351

• B • backup, arranging, 62
backwards viewpoint, 207
balance, setting goals and, 170–171.
   See also work-life balance
BASIC ID model, 245
Beales, David (doctor), 305, 358
Beck, Aaron (CBT founder), 9, 11 behaviour acting confident, 158–159 acting happy, 249
   acting healthy and energised, 230–231 influence of cognitions on, 13–14 rehearsing new, 196 thoughts, feelings, and, 23–25, 39, 336–337 behavioural style, 321–323 behavioural symptoms of stress, 306–307 behaviourism, 48
being visible and seen, imagery exercise for, 349–350
Belbin method, 322
belief
   in ABCDE model, 25–28
   in client, 72–73
   downward-arrow model to address, 105–108
   limiting, 144–146, 168, 265 reviewing, 28–33
   underlying, 190–191
beliefs-feelings log, 145–146
belonging, need for, 346 benefits of coaching programme, 52, 59 Berne, Eric (author), 182
Big I little i model, 153–155 black-and-white thinking, 34. See also all or nothing thinking Blackberry age, managing in, 223–226 blaming
   challenging, 114
   description of, 35
body
   mind-body connection, 16–17
   refreshing with break, 226–227, 228 relaxing mind to relax, 353–354 body language
   communication and, 310
   promoting message and, 237
   self-confidence and, 158–159
   thoughts and, 67
   transforming approach to situations with, 115
   in workplace, 234
books, recommended, 359–360 boundaries of CBC management, 253–254 as coach, knowing, 57–60 setting at work, 222–223 brain processes amygdala in, 293
   emotion and, 294
   habit trap and, 91–93
   stress and, 305
   thoughts and, 21–23
brainstorming ideal life, 165–167
Branch, Rhena (psychologist), 11
Branson, Richard (businessman), 170 break, taking to refresh mind and body, 226–227, 228 breathing for stress management, 308 bringing best self into relationship, 193–196 British Association for Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapies, 358 British Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy, 358
building rapport, 86–87
bully, giving feedback to, 271 Burns, David (author)
   Feeling Good, 12
   The Feeling Good Handbook, 43, 276–277 website of, 358

• C • career choice, evaluating, 241–242 career transition
   adjusting to new role, 237–240
   continuous interview, 234–237
   mergers and structural changes, 243–246 options for, 233
   redundancy, 246–247
   retirement, 247–249
   working through, 234, 242 CAT (constructive automatic thought)
   developing, 108
   about health behaviours, 231
   to maintain emotional balance, 300
   about public speaking, 286–287
   turning NAT into, 193
catastrophising
   ABCDE model and, 38
   dealing with, 337
   description of, 35
   example of, 168
CBC (cognitive behavioural coaching).
   See also coaching culture
   benefits of, 1–2
   description of, 1, 10, 47
   evolution of, 10–12
   philosophy of, 65–66
   presenting to client, 46–48, 81–83
   self-coaching, 136–139
   style of, 75–77, 259–261
   three-stage process of, 13
   CBT (cognitive behavioural therapy)
   focus of, 10
   founders of, 9
   internal dialogue and, 11
   training in, 11
   The Centre for Stress Management, 216, 358 challenge
   in life, dealing with, 343 team pulling together through, 328–331 challenging pessimism to develop optimism model, 332
change action and, 120
   age and, 138
   allowing time for, 173
   applying models for, 171–173 difficulty of, 57
   facilitating, 47
   fear of, 90–91, 138
   as inevitable, 167 preparing client for, 46 process of, 91–93
   responses to, 243–244
   as survival mechanism, 90
   in work role, 238–239
changing roles model, 238 changing team behaviours model, 330 Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, 358 checking clarity of purpose, 319–320 for evidence, 146–148, 338 choices
   generating when making decisions, 206–209
   identifying, 40–44
   for responding to change, 244
   chunking steps, 212
   circadian rhythm, 226–227 client. See also collaboration with client; demotivated client; initial meeting with client; potential of client appearance of, 115
client (continued)
    empowering, 129
    fit between coach and, 49 follow through by, 119–120 impression of coach, 68–69 letting go of, 119
    putting first, 71–74
    shyness of, 87
    support system and resources for, 61–62, 139 coaching. See cognitive behavioural coaching coaching culture
description of, 251
developing, 264–265
introducing to workplace, 251–258
The Coaching Psychologist (journal), 208, 239 co-coaching in workplace, 264 cocoaching network, 69 code of conduct, 65
cognitions. See thoughts cognitive behavioural coaching (CBC).
    See also coaching culture
    benefits of, 1–2
    description of, 1, 10, 47
    evolution of, 10–12
    philosophy of, 65–66
    presenting to client, 46–48, 81–83
    self-coaching, 136–139
    style of, 75–77, 259–261
    three-stage process of, 13
    cognitive behavioural psychology, 1 cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT)
        focus of, 10
        founders of, 9
        internal dialogue and, 11
        training in, 11
collaboration with client
        expectations and, 119
        questioning methods and, 15
        referral and, 58 communication. See also communication, assertive across differences in workplace, 308–310 conflict management, 310–311
        as dance, 195–196
        early patterns of, 190
        emotion and, 308–312
        inside-outside, 179
        style of, 65, 87
        withholding information, 285
        in workplace, 291
communication, assertive
        aggressiveness compared to, 188–189
        I’m okay, you’re okay model, 185–187
        principles of, 112
        in relationships, 180–182
        three-step model for, 187
        transactional analysis and, 182–185
        comparing self to other, 341–342 compassion, showing, 147 competencies
        articulating, 236–237
        coaching style, developing, 75–77
        identifying, 235–236
        impression of coach on client, 68–69
        overview of, 63–64, 70
        personal, 296
        prejudice, working through, 66–67 putting client first, 71–74 self-knowledge, 64–65
        social, 297
competition versus teamwork, 327–328 concentration, increasing, 71 conditions of coaching programme, agreeing on, 53–57
confidence, developing
        about future, 130–131, 244, 246
        beginning to trust, 348–349
        being visible and seen, 349–350
        checking for evidence, 146–148
        constructive thinking, using, 155–159
        example of, 93
        limiting belief, exploring, 144–146
        losing bad habits, 350–351
        measuring scales of confidence, 150–155
        morning mindfulness imagery, 354–355
        opinion of others and, 144
        overview of, 143–144
        picture library exercise, 352–353
putting life in perspective, 353
relaxing mind to relax body, 353–354
self-motivation, 352
sickness, managing, 351
updating self-perception, 148–150
with visualisation or imagery exercises, 347–348
visualising success, 350
confidentiality boundaries of, 50
recordkeeping and, 142
in workplace setting, 257–258
conflict management, 310–311
conscious decision, moving from unconscious need to, 41–42 consequential emotion (C in ABCDE model), 25–28 constructive automatic thought (CAT) developing, 108
about health behaviours, 231
to maintain emotional balance, 300
about public speaking, 286–287
turning NAT into, 193
constructive thinking
affirmative thoughts, 157–158 negative thinking compared to, 207
overview of, 155
unhelpful versus helpful thoughts, 155–157 consultancy, 48
contact, post-programme, 141–142
continuous interview, 234–237
control, feeling of life, time, and, 218–219
at work, 243, 300
controller of mind, becoming, 145 convergence, 171 cortisol levels, 126, 228 cost-benefit analysis
decision-making and, 204–206
uses and example of, 43 counselling, 48 “crackberry”, 223
criticism. See feedback Csikszentmihalyi, Mihaly (psychologist), 75 cycle of self-criticism, breaking, 155–156

• D •
daily routine, changing, 227, 228–229 danger, reaction to, 293 Darwin, Charles (author), 90 decision review applying, 201–202 differentiating between need and want, 201
example of, 199–200
decision-making
cost-benefit analysis model for, 204–206 enjoying journey after, 211–212 factors influencing, 197–198 lateral perspectives, looking at, 206–207
PRACTICE model, 208–209
procrastination, overcoming, 210–211 role of values in, 202–204
setting goals and, 171
STEP model, 211
styles of, 198–199
demotivated client evaluating approach to, 125–127 relevance of goals of, 123–124 STEAM AHEAD model for, 175 working with, 122–123 desk, taking break away from, 228 DESTINY objectives-setting model, 95–96 development plan, personal, 275–277 diagram, visual
Big I little i model, 154
five-step coaching process, 82–83 dialogue internal, 11, 22
Socratic, 9–10, 15
difference
valuing, 322
in ways of thinking, 118–119, 259–262 difficulty, as opportunity for discovery, 128 DiSC method, 322
disputing belief (D in ABCDE model), 25–28 distorted thinking. See thinking errors divergence, 171 diversity. See difference doubt, overcoming, 149 downward-arrow model, 105–108 driver, evaluating, 41–42 Dryden, Windy (psychologist), 12 duration of programme, 129–130

• E •

Edgerton, Nick (psychologist), 12, 239, 359 ego needs, managing, 74 ego states, 182
Ellis, Albert
  ABCDE model of, 16, 25–28
  CBT and, 9, 11
emotion. See also emotional intelligence; emotional reasoning; feelings
  anger management, 311–312
  of coach, 64
  communication and, 308–312
  fact compared to, 339 healthy versus unhealthy, 300–301 language and, 330
  logging, 295–296
  performance and, 267
  physical changes accompanying, 294
  planning, 312, 352–353
  positive, 76
  recognising, 292
  reviewing, 31
  secondary, 296
  thoughts as driving, 294–295
  in workplace, 291
  emotional hijacking, 292–293 emotional intelligence amygdala and, 293
  in business world, 297–300 development of, 37–40, 296–297
  leadership and, 297
  process of, 301
emotional reasoning
  decision making and, 169
  description of, 35
  example of, 104
  in workplace setting, 256 emotional viewpoint, 207 emotions gauge, 292, 293 employment. See work; work-life balance; workplace
empowering
  client, 129
  other, 281–283
  staff, 265
encouragement, giving, 99 end, as transition point, 139–140 energy, maintaining through day, 226–228 enjoying journey to goal, 212
  routine task, 217
environment for team coaching, 316 Epicetus (philosopher), 9, 341 ethics, 64
“everyone”, thinking
  challenging, 109–110
  replacing, 354–355
evidence, checking for, 146–148, 338 evolution of CBC, 10–12 excellence, pursuit of, 19–20, 137 exchanging thought (E in ABCDE model), 25–28
executive coaching, 45
exercise, and stress, 307 exercises. See home practice; imagery exercises
expectations
  clarifying when working with team, 319–320
of clients and sessions, 117 of duration of programme, 129–130 irrational, 225
of manager or coach, 72
in relationships, 189–193
reviewing, 28–33
as spoiling moment, 101–103 in team, 325–327
exploration, as key theme, 163 exposure theory, 93

failure, fear of, and procrastination, 210
fallibility, accepting approval and, 345–346
  asking for help and, 343
  challenge and, 343
  client and, 143
  as coach, 128
  comparison with others and, 341–342
  honesty and, 345
  in management role, 286
  need for belonging and, 346
  overview of, 17–18
  perfectionism and, 19–20, 344–345
  personalisation and, 344
  questions for, 189
  self-acceptance, 18–19
  uniqueness and, 342
family, brainstorming ideal, 165 faulty thinking. See thinking errors fear
    of change, 90–91, 138
    of failure, 210
    fortune-telling and, 335–336
    of public speaking, 147–148 fee for coaching programme, 54 feedback
  to bully, giving, 271 delivering, 147, 255, 269–271 effectiveness of, 269 growth and, 256, 270
  overview of, 267–268
  receiving, 271–273
  responses to, 268
  in team setting, 326
Feeling Good (Burns), 12
The Feeling Good Handbook (Burns), 43, 276–277 feeling of control
  of life and time, 218–219
  at work, 243, 300
feelings. See also emotion link from thought to, 156 thoughts, behaviours, and, 23–25, 39, 336–337 fight or flight response, 304–305 filtering thoughts, inside-outside method for, 159 final session
  confidence about future, encouraging in client, 130–131
  end, as transition point, 139–140
  identifying steps and strategies, 134–136
  OVER TO YOU model, 131–133
  self-coaching and, 136–139 finance, brainstorming ideal, 165 first putting client, 71–74
  putting self, 229
fit between coach and client, 49 five-level reviewing beliefs model, 28–29 five-step performance review model, 275–277 flexible thinking, 339–340
flexible working, 223 flow, 75–76
focusing on positive assumptions and, 338
  catastrophising and, 337
  emotion, dealing with, 339
  flexible thinking, 339–340
  fortune-telling and, 335–336
  journal for, 337
  keeping things in perspective, 338–339
  overgeneralisation and, 336
  overview of, 335
  in routine tasks, 217
  strengths and achievements, 337–338 follow through by client, 119–120 forms
  ABCDE working log, 357
  beliefs-feelings log, 146 emotions log, 295–296
  My Well-being, 230
  Sample Coaching Agreement, 55
forms (continued)
   Strengths Chart, 235
   values grid, 203
   What Balance Means to Me, 220
fortune telling
   challenging, 335–336
   description of, 35
frequency of sessions, 53–54 friendship, brainstorming ideal, 166 fruit bowl metaphor, 247 frustration tolerance high, 113
   low, 36
future access, agreeing on, 141–142
• G •

Games People Play (Berne), 182
Gantt chart, using to plan events, 134
Gates, Bill (businessman), 170 generating options when making decision, 206–209 goals. See also objectives achievable, setting, 170–171 of client, identifying, 94–96
   of coach, 65, 67
   of demotivated client, reviewing, 123–124 journey to, enjoying, 212 potential of client and, 164
   step-by-step strategy to achieving, 173–174
   of team, 328–332
   transforming thoughts to achieve, 113–114 Goleman, Daniel (author), 293 growth, and feedback, 256, 270 guided discovery, 81 guilt, dealing with, 218–219
• H • habit, changing
   with imagery, 350–351
   for improved health, 228–229 for optimum energy, 227 habit trap, 91–93
habitation theory, 202
happiness
   acting out, 249
   as subjective, 342
health. See also health habits brainstorming ideal, 166
   managing with imagery, 351 Health Circles Ltd., 358 health habits
   acting healthy and energised, 230–231
   changing, 228–229
   getting off sofa, 229–230
   hurdle, overcoming, 231
   putting self first, 229 healthy emotion, 301
help, asking for, 127–128, 343 helps and hinders model, 135–136
Herrmann Brain Dominance Instrument, 259–261, 276, 322
Herrmann International, 251, 358 high frustration tolerance, 113 holistic approach, 17, 135 home, brainstorming ideal, 166 home practice
   ABCDE working log, 27–28
   agreeing on, 55–56
   as empowering client, 129 identifying tasks for, 85, 98–99 importance of, 119–120
   purpose of, 13
   replacing NAT with CAT, 108 thinking log, 25
   visualisation, 178
homeostasis, 17
honesty and fallibility, 345 honeymoon phase, 117–118 human fallibility, accepting approval and, 345–346
   asking for help and, 343
   challenge and, 343
   client and, 143
   as coach, 128
   comparison with others and, 341–342
   honesty and, 345
   in management role, 286
   need for belonging and, 346
   overview of, 17–18
perfectionism and, 19–20, 344–345
personalisation and, 344
questions for, 189
self-acceptance, 18–19
uniqueness and, 342
Human Function Curve, 302, 303 humour, sense of, 147
hurdle, overcoming, 174–176, 231
hyperventilation, 305

● I ●

“I can’t”, thinking, 109 ideal life, brainstorming, 165–167
identifying achievements, competencies, and skills, 235–236, 321–323 benefits of CBC, 52
choices, 40–44
emotions, 292, 293
goals of client, 94–96
peak performance, 274, 303 purpose of client work, 274 steps and strategies in final session, 134–136 symptoms of stress, 304–307 tasks for home practice, 85, 98–99 values, 30, 64
illogical thinking, 110 I’m okay, you’re okay model, 185–187
image, 61
imagery exercises
beginning to trust, 348–349
being visible and seen, 349–350
losing bad habits, 350–351 morning mindfulness, 354–355 picture library, 352–353
power of, 347
putting life in perspective, 353
relaxing mind to relax body, 353–354
self-motivation, 352
seven parallel lives, 265
sickness, managing, 351
starting, 348
visualising success, 176–178, 277, 350
immune system, and stress, 305
impression of coach on client, 68–69
inference-chaining, 191–192 inferences about power, 111–113 initial meeting with client aims and scope, analysing, 51–52 benefits, identifying, 52 confidentiality and, 50 measuring outcome, 53
purpose of, 49–50
terms and conditions, agreeing on, 53–57 inner coach, developing, 136–137 inside-outside communication, 179 inside-outside method for thought-filtering, 159 internal dialogue, 11, 22 International Stress Management Association, 359 introvert, in team situation, 323–324 irrational expectations, 225

● J ● journaling

to acknowledge and record achievements, 151–153 to record what is valued and appreciated, 337 journey
of continuous development, 264–265 to goal, enjoying, 212

● L ●

labelling
dealing with, 340
description of, 35–36
language. See also body language description and, 330
transforming approach to situations with, 115 lateral perspectives, looking at, 206–207
Lazarus, Arnold A. (psychologist)
BASIC ID model, 245
Big I little i model, 154
multimodal model, 77
Lazarus Institute, 359
leadership of team, 323–325 LEAP model, 172
learned belief, 28
learned expectation, 29 learning and change process, 91–93 “left-brain” approach
   Herrmann Brain Dominance Instrument
   and, 259–261
   to identify steps and strategies, 134, 135
   team leader and, 323
length of sessions, 53–54, 125 letting go
   change and, 171–172
   of client, 119
   of limiting beliefs, 265 leveraging diverse strengths, 323 LIFE Act model, 215–216
life coaching, 45
life grid model, 248–249 lifestyle
   adhering to, 164
   stress and, 307
lightness, sense of, 147 limiting belief
   challenging, 168
   letting go of, 265
   self-confidence and, 144–146
limits as coach, knowing, 57–60 location for team coaching, 316 locus of control, 111–113 logging emotion, 295–296
low frustration tolerance
   description of, 36
   transforming, 113
luck, as attitude, 112

• M • magnification, 36
management role. See also team, working with as asking, not telling, 258–263
   as coach, 251
   delegation and, 281–283
   developing coaching culture, 264–265 fallibility and, 286 flexible working and, 223
introducing coaching culture, 251–258 in team activities, 316, 323–325 traditional versus CBC, 252 transactional analysis within, 183 material goods, brainstorming ideal, 166 McMahon, Gladeana (psychologist), 12, 358 measuring to assess progress, 150
   human performance, 268 outcome, 53, 140
meditation, 307
meetings model, 324 mentoring, 48, 69 merger, dealing with, 243–246 metaphor, working in
   building rapport, 86
   fruit bowl, redundancy and, 247 radio, controlling thoughts and, 156–157 mind
   energising, 226 relaxing, to relax body, 353–354 mind map exercise, 88–89 mind reading
   dealing with, 338
   description of, 34
   example of, 168
   in workplace setting, 256–257
mind-body connection, 16–17
mindfulness, 354–355
minimisation, 36
Molecules of Emotion (Pert), 294
morning mindfulness imagery, 354–355 motivation. See also demotivated client imagery exercise for, 352
   performance and, 275–276, 277
   of staff, 262–264
multimodal model, 77
“must”, thinking
   all-or-nothing message and, 104
   description of, 37
   expectations in relationships and, 190–191
flexibility of perspective and, 339–340
judgement and, 110
in workplace setting, 257
Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, 322

• N •

name-dropping, 74
NAT. See negative automatic thought need
articulating, 188–189
for belonging, 346
ego, managing, 74
unconscious, moving to conscious decision from, 41–42
want compared to, 201
Neenan, Michael (psychologist), 12 negative automatic thought (NAT)
challenging, 101
chucking into dustbin, 156 constructive thinking compared to, 207
development of, 22
downward-arrow model and, 105–108 examples of, 101–103
about public speaking, 286–287
turning into CAT, 193 negotiating priorities, 280 network cocoaching, 69
of support, 139
virtual, 62
neural pathway, 22
neuro-linguistic programming, 48 neuron, 21
neurotransmitter, 21 neutral, going in communication, 313
in difficult situation, 137–138 “Never”, “nothing”, or “no-one”, thinking challenging, 109
replacing, 336
The Nicomachean Ethics (Aristotle), 308 Nixon, Peter, Human Function Curve of, 302, 303

“no”, saying, 280
non-judgemental attitude, working toward,
66–67
notes retention, 141–142

• O •

objectives. See also goals DESTINY model for setting, 95–96
personal, 84
for programme, 83
for session, 84
O’Brien, Dominic (World Memory Champion), 170
obsessive compulsive disorder, 58 Ogilvy, David (businessman), 170 opinion of others, and self-confidence, 144 optimism, power of, 331–332 optimum energy, maintaining through day, 226–228
options generating when making decisions, 206–209
identifying, 40–44
for responding to change, 244
organisation and time management, 279–280
others
comparing self to 341–342 delegating to and empowering, 281–283 expectations of, 32
opinions of, 144
“ought to”, thinking
assertive communication and, 181–182
description of, 37
expectations in relationships and,
190–191
flexibility of perspective and, 339–340
judgement and, 110
in workplace setting, 257
outcome, measuring, 53, 140
OVER TO YOU model, 131–133
over-breathing, 305
overgeneralisation
dealing with, 336
description of, 36
overwork, 222. See also work-life balance

• p •

Palmer, Stephen (psychologist), 12, 208, 239, 359 parallel lives exercise, 168 past dealing with influences from, 192–193 as foundation stone, 172 peak performance, identifying, 274, 303 peer pressure, 221
peer-group supervision, 69 PEP (problem-emotion-plan) model, 281–283 perfectionism anxiety and, 288
delegation and, 281
excellence compared to, 19–20 fallibility, accepting, 344–345
procrastination and, 210
self-coaching and, 137
setting goals and, 171
thoughts for dealing with, 189 performance. See also time management accepting personal accountability for, 273–274 CBC management and, 254–257
on everyday basis, 284–286 giving feedback on, 269–271
measuring, 268–269
motivation and, 275–276, 277 personal development plan, 275–277
public speaking, 286–288
stress and, 277, 302
performance coaching, 45 personal development plan, 275–277
personal responsibility accepting for performance, 273–274 work-life balance and, 229
in workplace, 265
personalisation, 36–37, 344
perspective expanding, 167–169
flexibility of, 339–340 gaining, 37–40
gaining other, 127–128, 257 keeping things in, 338–339 losing, 40–41, 105 putting life in, 353 of time, 278–279
word usage and, 108–110 Pert, Candace (author), 294 pessimism, 332
philosophy
of coaching, 65–66
Stoic, 9
physical change accompanying emotion, 294, 305 picture, drawing, 86 “picture library” exercise, 352–353
planning
emotion, 312, 352–353
event with Gantt chart, 134 personal development, 275–277 for working with team, 316–320 planning ahead model, 176 plasticity of brain, 23 positive, focusing on assumptions and, 338
catastrophising and, 337
dealing with emotion, 339
flexible thinking, 339–340
fortune-telling and, 335–336
journal for, 337
keeping things in perspective, 338–339
overgeneralisation and, 336
overview of, 335
in routine tasks, 217
strengths and achievements, 337–338
positive psychology, 12 positive thinking, 48, 207 Positiveworks Ltd., 357 post-programme contact, 141–142 posture, 158–159
potential of client
brainstorming ideal life, 165–167
following examples of success, 169–170 goals and, 164
limiting perspective, going beyond, 167–169 seeing and developing, 72–73, 163 power, inferences about, 111–113
PRACTICE model, 208–209
praise, and feedback, 269–270 precognitive emotion, 293 prejudice, working through, 66–67
preparing
client for change, 46
for events in life and work, 131–133 for problems when working with team, 317–318 for public speaking, 286–288 for redundancy, 246–247
for session, 60–61, 76–77
priorities, negotiating, 280 privileged information, managing, 257–258 proactive way, responding in, 244
problem
lack of follow through, 119–120 things don’t turn out as expected, 117–119 unpredictable event, 120–122 problem-emotion-plan (PEP) model, 281–283 problem-solving methodology, 96–98 procrastination causes of, 262
overcoming, 210–211, 263 profiling methods, 321–322 PROVOKE model, 147–148 psychiatry, 48
psychoanalysis, 48
psycho-education
description of, 13
ego needs and, 74
follow through by client and, 119–120
psychology positive, development of, 12 practice of, 11
psychotherapy, 48
public speaking
fear of, 147–148
preparing for, 286–288
purpose, clarity of, checking, 319–320 putting client first, 71–74
self first, 229

• Q •
questioning methods, 15–16

• R • radio metaphor, 156–157 rapport, building, 86–87 rational thoughts, 155–156 reactive way, responding in, 244 receiving feedback, 271–273 records retention, 141–142 redundancy, preparing for, 246–247 referral, making, 58–59, 119 reflection, spending time on to adjust strategies, 212 to adjust to change, 173
when things go wrong, 128 refreshing mind and body with break, 226–227, 228 rehearsing new behaviour, 196 relationships
assertive communication in, 180–182 being best self in, 193–196
brainstorming ideal, 166
communication within, 179–180
expectations and, 189–193
Herrmann Brain Dominance Instrument and, 259–261
overview of, 179
redressing, 114–115
technology and, 224, 225
turning NATs into CATs, 193
in workplace, 284–286
relaxing mind to relax body, imagery exercise for, 353–354 repeating affirmative thoughts, 158 replacement thought, constructive, 155–156.
See also constructive automatic thought resilience, developing, 176 resources books, 359–360
for clients, 61–62, 139 websites, 357–359 respect in workplace, 308–309
restructure, dealing with, 243–246 retention rates, and work-life balance, 221–222 retirement, planning for, 247–249
reviewing coaching programme, 140–141 decision-making process, 199–202
at end of session, 85
goals of demotivated client, 123–124 performance, 275–277
thoughts and expectations, 28–33
reward system, agreeing on, 55–56, 116 “right-brain” approach
Herrmann Brain Dominance Instrument
and, 259–261
to identify steps and strategies, 134, 135
team leader and, 323
role of coach
explaining to client, 82
role model, 76
self-knowledge and, 63
in team coaching, 319
role-playing
assertive communication, 182
communication in workplace, 310
in final session, 131
to integrate skills, 87
to rehearse new behaviour, 196 saying “no”, 280
transactional analysis, 185
routine, changing daily, 227, 228–229 routine task, enjoying, 217 Rowling, J.K. (author), 170

• S •
Sample Coaching Agreement, 55
scaling mechanism to measure confidence, 150 scope of coaching programme, 51 secondary emotion, 296
selective abstraction, 37
self, expectations of, 32 self-acceptance, developing, 18–19, 153–155
self-coaching
continuous journey of adjustment, 138–139 internal coach of client, 136–138 self-confidence, developing
beginning to trust, 348–349
being visible and seen, 349–350
checking for evidence, 146–148
constructive thinking, using, 155–159
example of, 93
about future, 130–131, 244, 246
limiting belief, exploring, 144–146
losing bad habits, 350–351
measuring scales of confidence, 150–155
morning mindfulness imagery, 354–355
opinion of others and, 144
overview of, 143–144
picture library exercise, 352–353
putting life in perspective, 353
relaxing mind to relax body, 353–354
self-motivation, 352
sickness, managing, 351
updating self-perception, 148–150
with visualisation or imagery exercises, 347–348
visualising success, 350
self-development, 129
self-directed process, 119–120
self-discipline, 76
self-fulfilling prophecy, 72
self-knowledge, 63, 64–65
self-motivation, imagery exercise for, 352 self-perception, updating, 148–150 self-trust, 75
Seligman, Martin (psychologist), 12, 331 sensitivity, practising, 147 session. See also final session; initial meeting with client
building rapport, 86–87
entering process of change, 90–93 exploration as key theme of, 163 focus of, determining, 89–90
preparing for, 60–61, 76–77
six-step process of, 83–86 staff-coaching, making time for, 257 starting point for, 88–89 for supervision, 59 support system and resources for client between, 61–62
venue, preparing for, 61 “should”, thinking
assertive communication and, 181–182
description of, 37
expectations in relationships and, 190–191
flexibility of perspective and, 339–340
judgement and, 110
in workplace setting, 257
shyness of client, 87 sickness, managing with imagery, 351 signpost to future goal, 134 situation approach to, 115–116
expectations of, 33
managing with ABCDEF model, 194–195 routine, enjoying, 217 skills. See also competencies
articulating, 236–237
identifying, 235–236
transferrable, 153, 172 sleep pattern, 227
social mobility, 164
Socratic dialogue, 9–10, 15 solution focus on, 12–13
moving from problem to, 96–98 win-win, and assertive communication, 180 SPACE model, 239–240
starting point, 88–89
STEAM AHEAD model, 175
STEP model of decision-making, 211
Stoic philosophy, 9
strengths
articulating, 236–237
focusing on, 337–338
identifying, 235–236, 321–323
leveraging diverse, 323 reflecting on, 153 stress. See also work-life balance cortisol levels and, 126, 228 habits around technology and, 224 identifying symptoms of, 304–307 managing with 3As model, 304 mind-body connection in, 16–17
performance and, 277
strategies to manage, 307–308
in workplace, 301–304
style
of coaching, 75–77, 259–261
of communication, 65, 87 of decision-making, 198–199
identifying, 321–323
of management, 255
of thinking, 207
success
following examples of, 169–170
self-confidence and, 144, 149
step-by-step strategy to achieving, 173–174
as subjective, 342
visualising, 176–178, 277, 350 success viewpoint, 207
supervision
arranging for, 62, 69–70
benefits of, 69–70, 127
supervision session, 59 support system for client, 61–62, 139
for coach, 69–70, 127–128 supportive thought, 155–156 synapse, 21

T

TCP model, 237
team charter, 331
team, working with
aligning action for common goals, 328–332 clarity of purpose, checking, 319–320 doing role, 319
expectations and accountability, appreciating, 325–327 manager or leader role, 323–325
overview of, 315–316
planning for, 316–320
power of optimism, 331–332 team, working with (continued) problems, preparing for, 317–318 styles and strengths, identifying, 321–323 teamwork, encouraging, 327–328 technology, taking control of, 224–226 terms of coaching programme, agreeing on, 53–57 therapy, CBC compared to, 48 thinking errors. See also “must”, thinking; “ought to”, thinking; “should”, thinking

all or nothing thinking, 34, 104, 105, 168, 338–339
arbitrary inference, 34
blaming, 35, 114
catastrophising, 35, 38, 168, 337
emotional reasoning, 35, 104, 169, 256
fortune telling, 35, 335–336
labelling, 35–36, 340
low frustration tolerance, 36, 113
magnification, 36
mind reading, 34, 168, 256–257, 338
minimisation, 36
overgeneralisation, 36, 336
overview of, 33–34
personalisation, 36–37, 344
selective abstraction, 37
unhealthy emotion and, 300–301
thinking log, 25
thinking style, 207 thoughts. See also thinking errors brain processes and, 21–23
of coach, 67
as driving emotion, 294–295 feelings, behaviours, and, 23–25, 39, 336–337
flexible, 339–340
as habits, 93
“I can’t”, 109
illogical, 110
limiting, breaking through, 94–95 link from feelings to, 156
mind-body connection, 16–17
overview of, 13–14
performance and, 276–277
positive, 48, 207
questioning methods, 15–16
rational, 155–156
repeating affirmative, 158
reviewing, 28–33
stopping and reflecting on, 14 transforming to achieve goals, 113–114 3As model
for stress management, 304
for work-life balance, 216–217
three basic demands framework, 190–191 360-degree feedback assessment, 53
time
feeling in control of, 218–219 for skills training and development, creating, 264–265 for staff-coaching sessions, making, 257 time management
delating to and empowering others, 281–283 organisation and, 279–280
overview of, 277
personal perspectives of time, 278–279 time out, taking before bedtime, 228 timed approach to outlining tasks and actions, 134, 135 time-limited approach, 129 timing of session, 125 tolerance, level of, 113–114 training, benefits of, 59
transactional analysis, 182–185
transforming thoughts to achieve goals, 113–114 transition. See career transition travel, brainstorming ideal, 166 trust
CBC management and, 253–254, 265
imagery exercise for, 348–349
in self, 75

U
ultradian rhythm, 228 unconscious need, moving to conscious decision from, 41–42
unhealthy emotion, 300–301 uniqueness of human being, 342 updating self-perception, 148–150
values
- decision-making and, 202–204
- goals and, 175
- identifying, 30, 64
venue for coaching programme
- agreeing on, 54
- preparing, 61
venue for session, 125
viewpoint
- taking other to generate options, 207
- updating, 42–43
virtual network, 62
visibility, imagery exercise for, 349–350 visual diagram
= Big I little i model, 154
= five-step coaching process, 82–83
visual image, 86
visual record
= journal as, 153
= working with team and, 320
visualisation
= beginning to trust, 348–349
= being visible and seen, 349–350
= in final session, 131
= losing bad habits, 350–351
= morning mindfulness imagery, 354–355
= in OVER TO YOU model, 132
= picture library, 352–353
= power of, 347
= putting life in perspective, 353
= relaxing mind to relax body, 353–354
= self-motivation, 352
= sickness, managing, 351
= starting, 348
= success and, 176–178, 277, 350

Whole Brain model, 259–261 win-win solution, and assertive communication, 180
word choice, 330
words denoting negativity, 108–110
work. See also career transition; management role; performance; work-life balance; workplace brainstorming ideal, 166
choice of, evaluating, 241–242 feeling of control at, 243 purpose about, identifying, 274 stress at, 301–304
transactional analysis at, 183 work-life balance achieving, 223
in Blackberry age, 223–226
description of, 213, 221
enjoying routine task, 217 feeling in control and, 218–219
LIFE Act model, 215–216
motivation, retention, and, 221–222 organisations and, 219, 221–223 problems related to, 214–215 setting boundaries, 222–223
3As model, 216–217
What Balance Means to Me, 220
workplace. See also team, working with body language in, 234
communication and emotion in, 291, 308–312 introducing coaching culture into, 251–258
relationships in, 284–286
stress in, 301–304

“yes but” habit, 96, 108–109

0-10 pressure gauge, 298