Index

• Symbols •
* (asterisk), 2
(pound sign), 3
// (angle slashes), 2, 58
[ ] (square brackets), 2, 59

• A • accents, misconception only other people have, 324 acoustic phonetics, 36 acoustic stream, 248 acoustics. See sound waves acquisition of language, method used for, 333–334
adaptability of speech production, 274 adaptive model of language, 332
adjacency pairs, 140
adjective phrase, 115
adverb phrase, 115
adversarial conversations, 135 advertisers, 94
affect displays, 255
affixal allomorphy, 88
affixation, grammatical category tested with, 99 affricates, 40, 46
Africa, major language families in, 187–188
Afro-Asiatic language family, 187–188 age-based language variation, 164
agglutination, 79
Ainu language, 185
airflow and speech production, 40–42, 263–267
Akan, phonemes in, 66
Albanian language, 184
alexia, 315
Alice in Wonderland (Carroll), 137 all languages, language traits for, 10–15 allomorphs, 87–88
allophones, 60
alphabet
adapting, 303
origins of, 296–302
overview, 296–297
spread of, 303
Al-Sayyid Bedouin Sign Language, 213 alveolars, 41
American Sign Language (ASL), 31, 212
amodal production of speech, 272–273
analytic languages, 196–197
Anatolian language group, 184
// (angle slashes), 2, 58
Anglo-Saxon lexicon, 86, 159 angular gyrus, 315
animal and human communication, relationship between, 332
antidisestablishmentarianism, 84
apocope, 174
approximant sound, 45
approximants, 40
areal feature, 177
Armenian language, 184
articulatory phonetics, 36 arytenoids, 39
Asperger’s Syndrome, 139 aspiration, 65–67, 251 assertive speech acts, 142 assimilation, 62, 174, 267 * (asterisk), 2
attending to speech, 251–253
attention and management of sensory data, 292 audience, adapting speaking style to your, 168–169 audio waveform, 53, 54
audio-visual analyst, 10
audiovisual perception
gesture, creating meaning with, 255–256
gestures and speech rhythm, matching, 254–255
overview, 253–254
auditory stream, 32, 248
Austin, J. L. (philosopher), 134
Australia, major language families in, 188 Austro-nesian language family, 187 autism, 139
auto-completion for writing, 313 autopsies as source of knowledge about language and brain, 287

• B •

babbling as groundwork for speech, 227
back vowels, 48
Baddeley, Alan (psychologist), 282
Balto-Slavic languages, 184 Basque language, 185
beat gestures, 255–256
bee dance, 27
Bell, Alexander Melville (inventor), 257
Bell’s Visible Speech, 257
Bellugi, Ursula (cognitive neuroscience researcher), 232 Bernstein, Basil (sociolinguist), 157 Biblical Hebrew, 89–94
bihemispheric integration, 314–315 bilabials, 40
bilingual children have harder time at school, misconception that, 324 biolinguist, 10
Blake, William (The Tyger), 74
Bloomfield, Leonard (linguist), 157 bound morpheme, 78, 196 brain. See also neurolinguistics comparing brains, 279
damage, effects of, 285–286 structure, 278
wiring for learning languages, 236–237
writing changing, 314–316
Brain’s letterbox, 315 breaks in syllables, marking, 70 breaths, taking larger, 260
Breuer, M. (“The Gostak and the Doshes”), 81
broad utterance context, 145
broadcasting signal, 32
Broca, Paul (neurologist), 287
Broca’s aphasia, 285–286
Brown, Roger (psychologist), 230–231

• C •

Canadian English, 69, 163 careers in linguistics
computational linguist, 341
dialectologist, 338
experimental linguist, 337–338
forensic linguist, 340
language documentation specialist, 339
lexicographer, 341
product-namer & advertiser, 341–342
sociolinguist, 338
speech scientist, 339–340
theoretical linguist, 337
voice coach, 340
Carroll, Lewis (Alice in Wonderland), 137 Carter, Betty (singer), 71 change as cause of language death, 214 Chinese, invention of writing by, 304 chunking problem, 250
Cinderella (film), 71
circumfixing extensions, 79 clear in conversations, 137 class-based language variation, 164–165 Clerc, Laurent (French educator), 212 clicks, 38, 52
clinical researchers using phonetics, 36 clitics, 82
closed-class categories, 105
coarticulation, 266–267 cochlear implants, 258
Cockney English, 68
Index

coda, 70, 72, 193
code (linguistic)
  - arbitrariness, 28, 30–31
  - discreteness, 28, 29
  - hierarchical organization, 28, 29–30
  - overview, 22, 28
cognitive grammar, 120 combinatorial power of language, 58–59
combining
  - consonants, 46
  - phrases, 115–116
  - units of language, 12
commissive speech acts, 142 common ground in conversations, 148–149 common nouns, 102
communication. See also design features of human language; writing
  - ear-to-ear, 319
  - evolution of, 318
  - face-to-face, 316
  - finger-to-keyboard, 319–320
  - one-to-many, 32
  - one-way, 24
  - overview, 21–22, 317
  - pen-to-keyboard (Morse Code), 318–319
  - pen-to-paper, 316
  - systems, comparing, 23
  - texting, 320
  - two-way, 24
comparative approach to evolutionary linguistics, 210 complementary distribution, 60
complex language, finding signs of, 209–210
complex meanings, 127–131
complex syllable structure, 194
composition, 123
compositional rule, 126–127
compounding extensions, 79
compounds
  - endocentric, 85
  - exocentric, 85
  - forming compounds in English, 85
  - overview, 84–85
comprehension, writing changing, 310–311
computational linguist, 341
computational linguistics, 142 computational models of speech planning, 276 computer analysis of phonetics, 37 computers and artificial dialogue systems, 142 concatenation used to add extensions, 79 concepts and ideas, meaning in, 119–120
conjoining with “and” and “or,” 128
conjunctions, 115–116 connotation, 121
consonant-only writing systems, 302
consonants
  - airflow, stopping, 42
  - approximant sound, 45
  - combining sounds, 46
  - nasal, 44
  - noise, making, 43
  - overview, 42
  - sound patterns, 191–192
context-sensitive expressions, 146–148 contrasting form and meaning, 89
contributing to conversations, 135–137 convention, 11
conventional sign, 11
convergent linguistic behavior, 169 conversational content, electronic writing minimizing, 312–314 conversational implicature, 138 conversations
  - adversarial, 135
  - analysis of, 134, 138
  - clarity in, 137
  - common ground in, 148–149
  - contributing to, 135–137
  - cooperative principle, 135–136
  - goals of, 135
  - information conveyed in, 136
  - listener, 134
  - maxims for, 136–137
  - meaning more than you say in, 137–138
  - overview, 134–135
  - relevance in, 137
  - repairing, 140
sequential manner of, 139–140
conversations (continued) speaker, 134, 141
  starting, 144–149
  strategy for, 135
  timely contributions to, making, 138–141
  topics, selecting, 135
  truth in, 136
cooing as groundwork for speech, 227
Cooper, Franklin (scientist), 247
cooperative principle, 135–136
corpora, 15
corpus, 15
count nouns, 204
Creole languages, 212–213
cricoid cartilage, 38, 39 crying as groundwork for speech, 226
culture, linking language to, 209–210
Cumming, Michael J. (Cumming Study Guides website), 74
cuneiform, 300
Cyrillic writing, 302

data set, 15
daughter languages
  American Sign Language (ASL), 212
    overview, 186, 211–212
  Romance languages, 211–212
deafness, 257–258, 285
declarative speech acts, 142 defining who you are with language, 19 definitions, dictionary, 118–119 Dehaene, Stanislas (professor), 315 deictic center, 144
deictics, 144
deixis, 144
demonstratives, 146, 147–148 denotation, 121
derivational affix, 82–83
derivational prefixes, 82 derivational suffixes, 82–83 design features of human language code
  arbitrariness, 28, 30–31
  discreteness, 28, 29
  hierarchical organization, 28, 29–30
  overview, 22, 28
learnability, 23
message
  displacement, 27
  overview, 22
  productivity of, 26
  semanticity of, 26
  overview, 21–22
prevarication, 23
reflexiveness, 23
signal
  broadcasting, 32
directional reception, 32
modalities, using specific, 31–32
  overview, 22
rapid fading of, 32
users
  feedback for, 25
  interaction with, 25
  interchangeability of, 24–25
  overview, 22
role of, 24–25
specialization for speech production and perception, 25 dialect, 68–69, 169, 172 dialect continuum, 172
dialect variation, 163
dialectologist, 162, 338
dialect-performance, 169 dictionary definitions, 118–119
diphthongs, 49, 69
direction of fit, 147
directional reception, 32
directive speech acts, 142 discontinuous morphology. See non-concatenative morphology discourse context for utterances, 145 discreteness of linguistic code, 28, 29
displacement, 27, 131
dissimilation, 174
distributional criteria
  for nouns, 101
  for verbs, 102–103
distributional test, 99
ditransitive verbs, 103 divergent linguistic behavior, 169 diversity, loss of language, 215–217
dominant language, 154–156
duality of patterning, 22, 30 dual-process models of speech planning, 275–276 Durkheim, Emile (sociologist), 157 dysgraphia, 315
dyslexia, 315, 316
dyspraxia, 36, 286

• E • ear-to-ear communication, 319 easier to learn, misconception some languages are, 329 economics and language dominance, 216
EEG (electroencephalography), 37, 288–290
gressive sounds, 38
Egyptians, invention of writing by, 303 electronic writing streamlines language, 312–314
elicitation, 15
elision, 174
emergence of new languages, methods for, 211–213 endangered languages, 215 endocentric compounds, 85 engineers using phonetics, 36 English, phonological rules in, 67–68 environmental factors and learning languages, 237 epenthesis, 174
errors in speech, making, 260
essential condition, 143–144
ethnography of communication, 169
evaluative affixes, 87
Everett, Dan (anthropological linguist), 326 evolution of communication, 318 evolutionary linguistics comparative approach to, 210
complex language, finding signs of, 209–210
computational approach to, 210
Creole languages, 212–213
culture, linking language to, 209–210
daughter languages, 211–212
emergence of new languages, methods of, 211–213 human anatomy, changes in, 206–208
language death, 213–220
losing languages, 213–220
overview, 205–206
residential schools, demoting language in, 217
revitalizing languages, 219–220
scratch, languages starting from, 213
speech, changes that enabled, 206–207 windows approach to, 210
exaptive model of language, 332–333
exocentric compounds, 85 experimental linguist, 337–338
experimental studies in neurolinguistics, 287–292 expletive infixes, 87 expressive speech acts, 142
extensions
by circumfixing, 79
by compounding, 79
concatenation used to add, 79
by infixing, 79
non-concatenation used to add, 80
overview, 121
by prefixing, 79
by suffixing, 79
extinct languages, 215

• F • F0 (fundamental frequency), 51 face-to-face communication, 316 Fant, Gunnar (linguist), 62 felicitous utterances, 142 felicity conditions, 142–143
ethnography of communication, 169
evaluative affixes, 87
Everett, Dan (anthropological linguist), 326
first language acquisition (L1 acquisition) constraints on, 233–235 nature constraints on, 234–235 nurture constraints on, 235
overview, 175, 223, 329
first year of life, learning language in, 223–228 fixed word order, 200–201, 202
fluency in second language, achieving, 243–244
fluent aphasia, 286
fMRI (functional magnetic resonance imaging), 37, 289
forensic linguist, 340
formal pragmatics, 134, 146–148 formal semantics
complex meanings, 127–131
composition, 123
formal semantics (continued)
compositional rule, 126–127
conjoining with “and” and “or,” 128
function application, 127
language fragment, 125
logical connectives, 122
models (simplified imagined worlds) used to study meaning, 123–127 negation, 128
nouns
compositional rule for, 126–127
finding meaning for, 125–126
overview, 117, 121–122
principles of semantic composition, 121
quantifiers, 122, 128–129
real-world knowledge and, 126
search for meaning, 122–123
tense, 123, 130–131
truth-conditional semantics, 124
verbs
compositional rule for, 126–127
finding meaning for, 125–126
formalist, 10
formants, 53
fossilization, 240
foundation of words, 79
free morpheme, 78, 196 free variation, 60
free word order, 201–202
French Sign Language (LSF), 212
fricatives, 40, 52, 55
front vowels, 47–48
function application, 127
functional categories, 105
functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI), 37, 289 functionalist, 10
fundamental frequency (F0), 51
future tense sentences, 131

• G •

Gallaudet, Thomas (American School for the Deaf co-founder), 212 genderlect, 169
general learning hypothesis, 235, 236 generalizations, 96
generative grammar, 114
generative rules
overview, 106
recursive, 108–111
genetic affiliation, 177 genetics and learning languages, 238 German, phonological rules in, 68–69
German final-devoicing, 68–69
Germanic languages, 184
Geschwind, Norman (behavioral neurologist), 283 Geschwind’s territory, 283 gestural analyst, 10
gestures
creating meaning with, 255–256 speech production with, 273–274 speech rhythm, matching, 254–255 globalization of literacy, 320 glottal states, 39
glottal stop, 39
glottis, 39, 269
goals of conversations, 135
“The Gostak” (Muckenhoupt), 81
“The Gostak and the Doshes” (Breuer), 81
“The Gostak and the Doshes” (Hiawatha), 81 government influencing language dominance, 215–216 grammar
achieving basic, 233
electronic writing streamlining, 312
writing changing, 308–309
grammar checkers, 313
grammatical categories
closed-class categories, 105
functional categories, 105
in Halkomelem, 104
lexical categories, 105
nouns
common, 102
distributional criteria for, 101
identifying, 100–102
meaning-based criteria for, 101–102
morphological criteria for, 100
pronouns, 102
proper, 102
sub-categories, 102
open-class categories, 105
overview, 96, 97–98
prepositions, 106
in Squamish, 104
testing for, 99
verbs
  distributional criteria for, 102–103
ditransitive, 103
intransitive, 104
meaning-based criteria for, 103
morphological criteria for, 102
recognizing, 102–104
subcategories, 103–104
transitive, 103
in Yorùbá, 104
grammatical morphemes, order in which children acquire, 230–231
grammatical sentences, 97
Greek language, 184
Grice, Paul (philosopher), 134, 135–136, 329
Grimm, Jacob (historical linguist), 181
Grimm, Wilhelm (historical linguist), 181 Grimm’s Law, 181–182
groups of sentences, 12

• H •

Halkomelem, grammatical categories in, 104
Halle, Morris (linguist), 62 hand-sign systems, 257
harmonics, 51
Harris, Zellig (linguist), 157 Haskins Laboratories, 272
head-final ordering, 202
head-initial ordering, 202
health of language, determining, 214–215 Hebrew language, 220
hemispherical lateralization, 280
heterogeneity, 241
hierarchical organization
  of language, 29–30
  of linguistic code, 11–13, 28 Higgins, John (Minimal Pairs for RP website), 61
Hindi, phonemes in, 65–67
hip-hop -IZ- infixation, 85–86 historical linguistics
  identifying related languages, 172–174 Indo-European language, 178–185
language families, 186–188
overview, 157, 171–172
proto-English, 185
proto-Germanic, 186
reasons languages change, 175–176 sharing language traits, 177–178
Hockett, Charles (linguist), 23
Homeric -ma- infixation, 85–86 homo erectus, 208
homo floresiensis, 208
homo habilus, 208
homo heidelbergensis, 208 homo neanderthalensis, 208 homo rudolfensis, 208
homo sapiens, 208
homogeneity, 241
homophones, 30
honorifics, 121
human anatomy, changes in, 206–208
humanness of language, 14
Humboldt, Wilhelm von (linguist), 196

• I •
iamb, 74
iconic gestures, 255
identifying
  nouns, 100–102
  related languages, 172–174
idiolcet, 169
immersion schools, 219 inconsistent signal, recovering speech from, 252
indexicals, 146–147
Indo-European languages comparative method used on, 179–183 family of, 187
  morphological correspondences, 183
  origins of, 181
overview, 178
proto-Indo-European, 181
Indo-European languages (continued) reconstructing, 184–185 sound correspondences, 180–183
word comparison, 179–180 Indo-Iranian languages, 184 infelicitous utterances, 142
infixes, 85–87
infixing extensions, 79 inflection, 27
inflexional affixes, 80–82 inflexional morphemes, 81, 196 information conveyed in conversations, 136 Ingraham, Andrew (The gostak distims the doses), 81 ingressive sounds, 38 initiative style-shifting, 169 injury changing brain structure, 284–285 innateness hypothesis, 234 innateness of language, 247 interaction with users, 25 interactional context for utterances, 145 interchangeability of users, 24–25 interdentals, 41
interlanguage, 240
International Phonetic Alphabet, 17, 35 International Phonetic Association (IPA), 16, 191
intonation, 75–76
intonational languages, 194–195
intransitive prepositions, 106 intransitive verbs, 104 introflexion. See non-concatenative morphology invention of writing
by Chinese, 304
by Egyptians, 303
by Koreans, 304–305
by Mesopotamians, 303
by Romans, 303
invisible meanings, finding, 91–92
IPA (International Phonetic Association), 16, 191
Italo-Celtic languages, 184

• J •
Jackman, Hugh (actor), 19
Jakobson, Roman (linguist), 62, 157
Jasper, Herbert (psychologist), 287

• K •
Klima, Edward (linguist), 232
Korean, phonemes in, 65
Koreans, invention of writing by, 304–305
Kuratate, Takaaki (scientist), 274

• L • L1 acquisition. See first language acquisition L2 acquisition, 238–244, 329 labiodentals, 40
Labov, William (sociolinguist), 157, 164–165
language death
arguments against, 218 arguments for, 217–218
change as cause of, 214
diversity, loss of language, 215–217
health of language, determining, 214–215
overview, 213–214
language documentation specialist, 339
language families, 186–188
language fragment, 125
language isolates, 185
language nests, 219
language phylogenesis. See evolutionary linguistics language phylogeny. See evolutionary linguistics language traits
for all languages, 10–15 communicate, language used to, 10–11 genetics of language, 14–15 hierarchical organization of language, 11–13
humanness of language, 14
producing and perceiving language, 13–14
language transfer, 240
language variation
age-based, 164
change in progress, viewing, 164 class-based, 164–165
dialect variation, 163
lexical variation, 158–159
morphological variation, 159
overview, 157–158
phonetic variation, 158
phonological variation, 158
pragmatic variation, 161 reasons for, 162–169
searching for, 162
semantic variation, 160–161
sex-based, 165–166 social variables, 163–167
speaking styles, 167–169
syntactic variation, 160
languages defining who you are with, 19 dialect compared, 172
endangered, 215
extinct, 215
identifying related, 172–174 moribund, 215
safe, 214
universals, 177
  writing changes, 307–314 language-specific phonemes, 64–67 larynx, 38–39, 261–263 later in life, learning languages, 238–244 Latinate lexicon, 86, 159 lax vowels, 46
learnability, 23
learning language
  babbling as groundwork for speech, 227
  brain wiring for, 236–237
  cooing as groundwork for speech, 227
  crying as groundwork for speech, 226 developmental stages after first year of life, 228–233
environmental factors, 237 first language acquisition, constraints on, 233–235
in first year of life, 223–228
fluency in second language, achieving, 243–244
genetics and, 238
grammar, achieving basic, 233
grammatical morphemes, order in which
  children acquire, 230–231
later in life, 238–244
omission of sounds, 228
one word at a time, 229 passive sentences, using, 231–232
perceive speech, how infants, 225–226
performance errors, 239–240
phrases, producing simple, 243 poverty-of-the-stimulus problem, 242 produce speech, how infants, 226–227
questions, asking, 232
relative clauses, forming, 232 sentences, creating, 243 signed languages, 233
sounds, figuring out, 243 source language affecting, 239–240
speech perception, 253
stages of, 242–244
substitution of sounds, 228 time for, 235–236
transfer errors, 239, 240–241
two words at a time, 229 universal grammar, accessing, 240–241 word order, determining, 231 words, recognizing, 243 lect, 169
left-hemisphere specialization, 280 Lenneberg, Eric (linguist), 247
lexical categories, 105, 336
lexical doublets, 158–159 lexical semanticists, 119 lexical variation, 158–159
linguistics, 2, 10, 15
lips, 269
listener in conversations, 134 literacy
brain function impacted by, 314–315 globalization of, 320 power, as form of, 319
living brains, mapping, 289 locating language in the brain, 279–280
locative displacement, 131 logical, misconception human language isn’t, 328–329 logical connectives, 122
logogram, 298
logosyllabic writing, 304 long-term memory, 281–282 losing languages. See language death LSF (French Sign Language), 212
lungs
larynx, and vocal tract, coordinating, 261–263
use of, 38

- M -

MacWhorter, John (linguist), 326 Makeba, Miriam (singer), 38 manner-path pattern, 203 manners of articulation, 40 mapping the brain, 287
Marx, Karl (philosopher/economist), 157
Mary Poppins (film), 71 mass nouns, 204
master-apprentice learning, 219 Mattingly, Ignatius (scientist), 247 maxim, 136
maxim clash, 136
maxims for conversations, 136–137 McNeill, David (psychologist), 256 meaning composing, 203–204
in concepts and ideas, 119–120
context used to shape, 146–148
in dictionary definitions, 118–119 grammatical category tested with, 99 more than you say in conversations, 137–138
overview, 118
referential approach, 118, 120–121
in social structures, 121 syllable, extracted from, 249 meaning-based criteria
for nouns, 101–102
for verbs, 103
The Meaning of Meaning (Ogden and Richards), 81 media and language dominance, 216 MEG (magnetic electroencephalography), 288–289 melodic patterns, 75–76
mental dictionary, 119 mental representations, 119–120 Mesopotamians, invention of writing by, 303
message
displacement, 27
overview, 22
productivity of, 26
semanticity of, 26
metaphoric gestures, 255 metathesis, 174
metrical phonology, 73
Mill, John Stuart (philosopher), 137
minimal pair test
phonemes, 60–61
syllables, 249
Minimal Pairs for RP (website), 61 mirror neurons, 284
misconceptions about language accents, only other people have, 324 bilingual children have harder time at school, 324 easier to learn, some languages are, 329 logical, human language isn’t, 328–329 primitive, some languages are, 325–326 signed languages aren’t real languages, 326–327 slang is bad, 323
time, language decays over, 325 women talk to much, 327 writing systems, more developed languages have, 327–328 MMN (mismatch negativity), 288–290
modal displacement, 131
modalities, using specific, 31–32
models (simplified imagined worlds) used to study meaning, 123–127 model-theoretic semantics, 124 moderately complex syllable structure, 194
modulating your voice, 263–264
Montague, Richard (mathematician/philosopher), 117 Montreal French, 160
mora-timed languages, 195 moribund languages, 215 morpheme boundaries, 78 morphemes. See also morphology
agglutination, 79
bound, 78, 196
free, 78, 196
inflectonal, 81, 196
null, 91–92
overview, 61–62, 77–78
morphological criteria
for nouns, 100
for verbs, 102
morphological stripping, 94
morphological variation, 159
morphology. See also morphemes compounds, 84–85
contrasting form and meaning, 89
defined, 15
derivational affix
overview, 82
as prefixes, 82
as suffixes, 82–83
described, 16
extensions
by circumfixing, 79
by compounding, 79
concatenation used to add, 79
by infixing, 79
non-concatenation used to add, 80
by prefixing, 79
by suffixing, 79
foundation of words, 79
infixes, 85–87
inflectional affixes, 80–82
invisible meanings, finding, 91–92
multiple affixes added to root, 83–84
overview, 77–78
root
described, 79
determining, 92–93
and pattern, 80
stem, finding, 89–91
morpho-phonology
allomorphs, 87–88
overview, 78, 87
vowel ablaut, 88
morpho-pragmatics, 78
morpho-semantics, 78
morpho-syntax, 78
Morse, Samuel (Morse Code), 318
Morse Code, 318–319
mother language, 186 motion verbs, 203
motor tasks, executing complex, 261–274
movement transformations, 114 moving vowels, 49
Muckenhoupt, C. ("The Gostak"), 81
multimodal signals, producing speech with, 273–274
Munhall, Kevin (X-ray movies of people talking), 272

• N • narrow utterance context, 145
nasal consonants, 44
nasalization, 174
nasals, 40
native fluency, 238
native speaker, 238 nature constraints on first language acquisition, 234–235 near-native fluency, 238
negation, 128
negative evidence, 100
neural plasticity, 284–285
neurolinguistics
attention and management of sensory data, 292 brain damage, effects of, 285–286 brain structure, 278
Broca’s aphasia, 285–286
comparing brains, 279
EEG (electroencephalography), 288–290 experimental studies, 287–292
fMRI (functional Magnetic Resonance Imaging), 289
hemispherical lateralization, 280
living brains, mapping, 289
locating language in the brain, 279–280
mapping the brain, 287
MEG (magnetic electroencephalography), 288–289
MMN (mismatch negativity), 288–290
neural plasticity, 284–285
non-speech motor areas, activating, 283

oddball paradigms, brain response to, 288–291
overview, 277–278
priming the brain, 291–292
semantic anomalies, 290–291
speech motor areas, activating, 283
storing language in the brain, 281–282
syntactic anomalies, 290–291
Wernicke’s aphasia, 286
writing/reading and brain function, 314–316

neuroscientists using phonetics, 36 neurosurgery, 287
Newfoundland English, 163
Nicaraguan Sign Language, 213
Niger-Congo language family, 187 noise, 55
noisy environment, recovering speech from, 251–252 non-concatenative morphology, 93
non-contrastive sounds, 59–60
non-lexical vocables, 71 non-periodic sounds, creating, 51–52
non-speech motor areas, activating, 283
non-standard variety of language, 154, 155–156
norms, 153
North America, major language families in, 188 nothing vowels, 48–49 noun phrase, 112–113
nouns
common, 102
compositional rule for, 126–127
distributional criteria for, 101
finding meaning for, 125–126
formal semantics, 125–127
identifying, 100–102
mass, 204
meaning-based criteria for, 101–102
morphological criteria for, 100
pronouns, 102
proper, 102
sub-categories, 102
nucleus, 70, 72, 193
null morphemes, 91–92 nurture constraints on first language acquisition, 235

• O •
oddball paradigms, brain response to, 288–291
Ogden, C. K. (The Meaning of Meaning), 81
omission of sounds, 228
one word at a time, learning language, 229 one-to-many communication, 32 one-way communication, 24 onset, 70, 72, 193
open-class categories, 105
oral cavity, 207 origin of language, 331
origo, 144
Osterhout, Lee (linguist), 291 over-generalization, 234
Oxford English Dictionary, 96

• P • palatals, 41
paradigmatic relations, 13
parallelism, 241
Partee, Barbara (linguist), 117 parts of speech. See grammatical categories passive sentences, using, 231–232
past tense sentences, 130 patterns revealed with templates, 107–108 Penfield, Wilder (neurosurgeon), 287 pen-to-ear communication (Morse Code), 318–319 pen-to-paper communication, 316
perceive speech, how infants, 225–226
perceptual phonetics, 36 performance errors, 239–240
periodic vibration creating, 50–51
described, 50
fundamental frequency (F0), 51 pressure, creating, 50 vocal folds and, 50–51 person-centered talk, 135 phaaeresis, 174
pharynx, 207, 268–269
phonemes
in Akan, 66
distinctive features, 62–64 in Hindi, 65–67
in Korean, 65
language-specific, 64–67 minimal pair test for, 60–61
overview, 58, 59
phonological transcription, 59 restoration, 250
phonemic transcription, 2 phonetic transcription, 2, 35, 37, 59
phonetic variation, 158
phoneticians, 35–37
phonetics
acoustic, 36
articulatory, 36 clinical researchers using, 36
consonants
airflow, stopping, 42
approximant sound, 45
combining sounds, 46
nasal, 44
noise, making, 43
overview, 42
defined, 35
engineers using, 36 importance of, 36
neuroscientists using, 36
overview, 16, 35–37
perceptual, 36
psychologists using, 36
sound waves
fricatives, perceiving, 55
non-periodic sounds, creating, 51–52
overview, 36, 49–50
periodic vibration, creating, 50–51
source frequencies, filtering, 52–54
phonetics, sound waves (continued)
   stops, perceiving, 56
   vowels, perceiving, 54–55
speech perception, 36
speech production, 36
speech production system airflow, 40–42
   lungs, use of, 38
   overview, 37–38
   voice box, use of, 38–39
vowels
   back, 48
   diphthongs, 49
   front, 47–48
   lax, 46
   moving, 49
   nothing, 48–49
   overview, 46–47
   sound waves, 54–55
tense, 46
phonological categories, 250 phonological relatedness, 89
phonological rules
   in Canadian English, 69 in Cockney English, 68
   in dialects, 68–69
   in English, 67–68
   in German, 68–69
   overview, 67
   syllables, 71–73
phonological transcription, 59
phonological variation, 158
phonologists, 57
phonology. See also phonemes; syllables defined, 15
melodic patterns, 75–76
morphemes, 61–62
non-contrastive sounds, 59–60
overview, 16, 251
segmenting the speech stream, 57–59
phonotactics, 71
phrases
   adjective phrase, 115
   adverb phrase, 115
   combining, 115–116
   noun phrase, 112–113
   overview, 12, 111
   prepositional phrase, 115 producing simple, 243
   relative ordering of, 13
   substituting, 13
   verb phrase, 113–114
pitch pattern, 76 place of articulation, 40–42 Plato (philosopher), 117 poetry, syllables in, 74
 polysynthetic languages, 198–199
   positive evidence, 100 possible worlds, 123
(pound sign), 3
poverty-of-the-stimulus problem, 242
power, literacy as form of, 319 pragmatic competence, 139, 237 pragmatic deficit, 139
pragmatic variation, 161
pragmatics
   conversations
      adversarial, 135
      clarity in, 137
      common ground in, 148–149
      contributing to, 135–137
      cooperative principle, 135–136
      goals of, 135
      information conveyed in, 136
      listener, 134
      maxims for, 136–137
      meaning more than you say in, 137–138
      overview, 134–135
      relevance in, 137
      repairing, 140
      sequential manner of, 139–140
      speaker, 134, 141
      starting, 144–149
      strategy for, 135
      timely contributions to, making, 138–141
      topics, selecting, 135
      truth in, 136
formal, 134, 146–148
meaning, context used to shape, 146–148
overview, 16, 133–134
semantics, connecting, 145, 146 speech acts, 141–144
utterances
  broad utterance context, 145
  contexts, 144–146
  described, 133–134
  discourse context, 145
  interactional context, 145
  narrow utterance context, 145
  pronouns, context-sensitivity of, 148
  world, matching utterances to the, 147 predictability of speech production, 274–276 prefixes
  derivational affix as, 82
  extensions as, 79
  suffix differences, 199 preparatory conditions, 143
prepositional phrase, 115
prepositions, 106
present tense sentences, 131
prevarication, 23
primary stress, 74–75
priming the brain, 291–292
primitive, misconception some languages are, 325–326 principle of arbitrariness, 11
principles of semantic composition, 121 printed dictionary, 119 probability-based language, 334–335
produce speech, how infants, 226–227
producing and perceiving language, 13–14
productivity of message, 26 product-namer & advertiser, 341–342
pronoun-drop, 199
pronouns
  context-sensitivity of, 148
  described, 102
proper nouns, 102
propositional content condition, 143 prothesis, 174
proto-English, 185
proto-Germanic, 186
proto-Indo-European, 181
proto-language, 172
psycholinguist, 10 psychologists using phonetics, 36 pulmonic sounds, 38
• Q •
quantifiers, 122, 128–129
Québécois French, 160–161
questions, asking, 232
Quine, Willard (philosopher), 235
• R • rap and hip-hop music, 85–86 rapid fading of signal, 32 real-world knowledge and formal semantics, 126 recognizing verbs, 102–104 reconstructed form, 2 recursive generative rules, 108–111 referee group, 169
referent, 121
referential approach to meaning, 118, 120–121
reflexiveness, 23
regulator gestures, 255
relative clauses, forming, 232 relative ordering of phrases, 13 of sentences, 13
of sounds, 12
of syllables, 12
of units of language, 12–13 of words, 12 relevance in conversations, 137 repairing conversations, 140
residential schools, demoting language in, 217
revising writings, 311
revitalizing languages, 219–220
rhythm sound patterns and rhythmic structure, 195
syllables
  as basic unit, 249
  grouping syllables with rhythm, 73–74
Richards, I. A. (The Meaning of Meaning), 81 Right Hemisphere Dysfunction (RHD), 139 right-hemisphere specialization, 280 Roman alphabet. See alphabet
Romance languages, 211–212
Romans, invention of writing by, 303
root
determining, 92–93
multiple affixes added to, 83–84
overview, 79, 196
and pattern morphology, 80 root compounds. See compounds Rosch, Eleanor (linguist), 120
Rubin, Philip (cognitive scientist), 270 rule-based language, 334–335
runic writing, 302

S

Sacks, Harvey (sociologist), 134 safe languages, 214
Saint Cyril (Cyrillic alphabet), 302
Sapir, Edward (linguist), 204
Saussure, Ferdinand de (linguist), 11, 157, 182 Saussurean arbitrariness, 11 scat singing, 71
schizophrenia, 139
Schlegel, August von (linguist), 196 Schlegel, Friedrich von (linguist), 196 schwa, 48–49
scratch, languages starting from, 213
scripts for speech, 275–276 search engine designers, 94 Searle, John (philosopher), 134 secondary stress, 74–75
segmenting the speech stream, 57–59
semantic anomalies, 290–291
semantic composition, 123 semantic drift, 176
semantic variation, 160–161
semanticity, 22, 26 semantics
defined, 15
described, 16, 117
formal
complex meanings, 127–131
composition, 123
compositional rule, 126–127
conjoining with “and” and “or,” 128
function application, 127
language fragment, 125
logical connectives, 122
models (simplified imagined worlds) used to study meaning, 123–127
negation, 128
nouns, 125–127
overview, 117, 121–122
principles of semantic composition, 121
quantifiers, 122, 128–129
real-world knowledge and, 126
search for meaning, 122–123
tense, 123, 130–131
truth-conditional semantics, 124
verbs, 125–127
meaning
in concepts and ideas, 119–120
in dictionary definitions, 118–119
overview, 118
referential approach, 118, 120–121
in social structures, 121
pragmatics, connecting, 145, 146 semiotics, 11
Semitic languages, 80
sentence structure
fixed word order, 200–201, 202
free word order, 201–202
head-final ordering, 202
head-initial ordering, 202
sentences
creating, 243
described, 12
relative ordering of, 13 “sentence” definition, universal, 335–336
substituting, 13
sequential manner of conversations, 139–140
set, 129
sex-based language variation, 165–166
sharing language traits, 177–178
shifting speaking styles, 167–168 short-term memory, 281–282 sign, 11
signal
broadcasting, 32
directional reception, 32
modalities, using specific, 31–32
overview, 22
rapid fading of, 32
signed language
   described, 258
   learning, 233
misconception signed languages aren’t real languages, 326–327 silent speech, 284
simple syllable structure, 194
Simpson, Homer (animated character), 85 sincerity condition, 143 Sino-Tibetan language family, 187, 188 sister languages, 186 slang is bad, misconception that, 323 slips of the tongue, 260 Slobin, Dan (linguist), 232 social alignment, 155–156 social differentiation, 175 social exclusion, 155–156 social mobility and language dominance, 216 social structures, meaning in, 121 social variables and language variation, 163–167 sociolect, 169
sociolinguist, 338
sociolinguistics correlating social and linguistic variables, 167 dominant language, 154–156
history of, 157
language variation, 157–162
linguistic marketplace, 155
non-standard variety of language, 154, 155–156
norms, 153
overview, 138, 153, 155
speech community, 156
standard variety of language, 154, 155–156 sociology, 157
sociology of language, 138, 153 software tools for writing, 313 Song of the South (film), 71 sonority hierarchy, 73 sound correspondence, 173–174, 180–183 sound laws, 180–183
sound patterns
   consonants, 191–192
   constructing, 247, 248–249
   intonational languages, 194–195
   linguistic typology, 191–195 organization of, 191–195 rhythmic structure, 195 syllable
   as basic unit of rhythm, 249
   as basic unit of speech perception, 248–249
   as basic unit of speech production, 248
described, 71
   forming, 193–194
   meaning extracted from, 249
   minimal pair test, 249
   tapping test, 249
   universal perception of, 249
tonal languages, 194–195
   vowels, 192–193
sound symbolism, 31
sound waves
   fricatives, perceiving, 55
   non-periodic sounds, creating, 51–52
   overview, 36, 49–50
   periodic vibration, creating, 50–51
   source frequencies, filtering, 52–54
   stops, perceiving, 56
   vowels, perceiving, 54–55
sounds
   change, 174, 176
   described, 12
   descriptive features, 63 figuring out, 243
   relative ordering of, 12
   sequencing, 266–267
   substituting, 13
Sounds Familiar (website), 158
source frequencies, filtering, 52–54
source language affecting learning languages, 239–240 South America, major language families in, 188
South Asia, major language families in, 188 Southern India, major language families in, 188
speaker
   described, 134
   selecting a, 141
   your roles as, 169
speaker normalization, 252 speaker-design shifting, 169
speaking styles
   audience, adapting to your, 168–169
   overview, 167
   shifting, 167–168
spectrogram, 53, 54
speech, changes that enabled, 206–207
speech acts, 141–144
speech community, 156
speech language pathologists and audiologists, 94 speech motor areas, activating, 283
speech perception
  attending to speech, 251–253
  audiovisual perception
    gesture, creating meaning with, 255–256
    gestures and speech rhythm, matching, 254–255
    overview, 253–254
  deafness, 257–258
  inconsistent signal, recovering speech from, 252 learning languages, 253 linguistic knowledge, using your, 248, 250
  noisy environment, recovering speech from, 251–252
  overview, 245, 247–248
  phonetics, 36
  sound patterns, constructing, 247, 248–249 steps for, 245–246
  syllable as basic unit of, 248–249
speech production
  adaptability of, 274
  airflow, 40–42, 263–267
  amodally, producing speech, 272–273
  breaths, taking larger, 260
  errors in speech, making, 260 with gestures, 273–274
  lungs
    larynx, and vocal tract, coordinating, 261–263
    use of, 38
  modulating your voice, 263–264
  motor tasks, executing complex, 261–274
  multimodal signals, producing speech with, 273–274
  overview, 37–38, 259–260
  phonetics, 36
  predictability of, 274–276 scripts for speech, 275–276 sounds, sequencing, 266–267
  syllables
    as basic unit of, 248
    producing continuous sequences of, 264–266
  syntactic boundaries, breaking your speech at, 260–261 touchable speech, creating, 272 visible speech, creating, 272 vocal tract, shaping speech with, 268–272 voice box, use of, 38–39
speech scientist, 10, 339–340
speech signal, 248
speech stream, 248
speechreading, 257
spellcheckers, 313
spoken language, writing changing, 309–310
Squamish, grammatical categories in, 104
[ ] (square brackets), 2, 59
standard variety of language, 154, 155–156
starred form, 2
starting conversations, 144–149 statistical learning, 236 stem
  described, 196
  finding, 89–91
stem allomorphy, 88
stops, 40, 56
storing language in the brain, 281–282
stressed syllables, 66, 74–75 stress-timed languages, 195 structural ambiguity, 84 structural linguistics, 157 structure sensitivity, 234–235 subcategories
  nouns, 102
  verbs, 103–104
substituting
  phrases, 13
  sentences, 13
  sounds, 13, 228
  syllables, 13
  units of language, 13
  words, 13
suffixes
  derivational affix as, 82–83
  extensions as, 79
  prefix differences, 199
Index

suppletive paradigm, 183 surface patterns, 190
syllabic phonology, 71
syllabic writing, 305–306
syllables
as basic unit of rhythm, 249
as basic unit of speech perception, 248–249
as basic unit of speech production, 248, 265 breaks, marking, 70
coda, 70, 72, 193
complex syllable structure, 194
defined, 70
in different languages, 73 forming, 193–194
iamb, 74
meaning extracted from, 249
minimal pair test, 249
moderately complex syllable structure, 194
nucleus, 70, 72, 193
onset, 70, 72, 193
overview, 12, 70–71
phonological rules, 71–73
in poetry, 74
producing continuous sequences of, 264–266
relative ordering of, 12 rhythm, grouping syllables with, 73–74
simple syllable structure, 194
sound patterns, 71, 193–194
stressed, 66, 74–75 structure of, 70–71
substituting, 13
tapping test, 249
trochee, 74
universal perception of, 249
unstressed, 66 syllable-timed languages, 195 syncope, 174
syntactic anomalies, 290–291
syntactic boundaries, breaking your speech at, 260–261 syntactic context for utterances, 99
syntactic variation, 160
syntacticians, 95, 97

syntax
defined, 15
generalizations, 96
generative rules
overview, 106
recursive, 108–111
grammatical categories
closed-class categories, 105
functional categories, 105
in Halkomelem, 104
lexical categories, 105
nouns, identifying, 100–102
open-class categories, 105
overview, 96, 97–98
prepositions, 106
in Squamish, 104
testing for, 99
verbs, recognizing, 102–104
in Yorùbá, 104
grammatical sentences, 97
movement transformations, 114
negative evidence, 100
overview, 16, 95–96
patterns revealed with templates, 107–108
phrases
adjective phrase, 115
adverb phrase, 115
combining, 115–116
noun phrase, 112–113
overview, 111
prepositional phrase, 115
verb phrase, 113–114
positive evidence, 100
tree structures (syntactic trees), 111
ungrammatical sentences, 97
synthetic languages, 197–198 synthetic-agglutinative languages, 197 synthetic-fusional languages, 197–198 systematic relations, 13

• T •

Tagalog language, 85
Talking Heads (website), 274
tapping test, 249
television and literacy, 316 temporal displacement, 131
tense, 27, 123, 130–131
tense vowels, 46
tertiary stress, 75
texting, 320
theoretical linguist, 337
Thompson, Evan (professor), 292 thought, relation of language to, 334 thyroid cartilage, 38, 39 time, misconception language decays over, 325 timely contributions to conversations, making, 138–141 Tocharian language group, 184
tonal languages, 76, 194–195
tonogenesis, 174
topics, selecting conversation, 135
touchable speech, creating, 272 trachea, 38
transfer errors, 239, 240–241 transformational generative grammar, 114 transitive prepositions, 106 transitive verbs, 103
Trans-New Guinea language family, 187 tree structures (syntactic trees), 111
trochee, 74
Trubetzkoy, Nicolai (linguist), 157 truth in conversations, 136
truth-conditional semantics, 124
two words at a time, learning language, 229 two-way communication, 24
The Tyger (Blake), 74

• U • ultrasound of phonetics, 37 underlying patterns, 190 ungrammatical sentences, 97
units of language
combining, 12
described, 11
groups of sentences, 12
phrases, 12
relative ordering of, 12–13
sentences, 12
sounds, 12
substituting, 13
syllables, 12
words, 12
universal grammar, 240–241, 333
universal grammar hypothesis, 116, 240 universal perception of syllable, 249 unsolved problems in linguistics
acquisition of language, method used for, 333–334
adaptive model of language, 332
animal and human communication, relationship between, 332
exaptive model of language, 332–333
lexical categories, universal set of, 336
origin of language, 331
probability-based language, 334–335
rule-based language, 334–335
“sentence” definition, universal, 335–336
thought, relation of language to, 334
universal grammar, 333
“word” definition, universal, 335
unstressed syllables, 66 upspeak, 76
utterances
broad utterance context, 145
described, 144–146
discourse context, 145
interactional context, 145
narrow utterance context, 145
pronouns, context-sensitivity of, 148
world, matching utterances to the, 147

• V • variationist, 169
Vaughan, Sarah (singer), 71
velars, 41
velum, 268–269
verb phrase, 113–114
verbs
compositional rule for, 126–127
distributional criteria for, 102–103
ditransitive, 103
finding meaning for, 125–126
formal semantics, 125–127
intransitive, 104
meaning-based criteria for, 103
morphological criteria for, 102
motion, 203
recognizing, 102–104
subcategories, 103–104
transitive, 103
visible speech, 257, 272 vocal cord vibration, 251 vocal cords, 38–39, 50–51 vocal folds, 38–39, 50–51 vocal tract, 38, 207, 261–263, 268–272 voice box, 38–39, 261–263
voice coach, 340
voiced fricative, 43
voiceless fricative, 43 voiceless palato-alveolar fricative, 43 voiceless stops, 42
voicing, 251
vowel ablaut, 88
vowel length, 251
vowels
back, 48
diphthongs, 49
front, 47–48
lax, 46
moving, 49
nothing, 48–49
overview, 40, 46–47
perceiving, 54–55
sound patterns, 192–193
sound waves, 54–55
tense, 46
VWFA (visual word form area), 315

Women talk too much, misconception that, 327
word classes. See grammatical categories word comparison, 179–180
word formation
analytic languages, 196–197
linguistic typology, 196–199
overview, 196
polysynthetic languages, 198–199 prefix/suffix differences, 199
pronoun-drop, 199
synthetic languages, 197–198
words
correspondences between, 174
described, 12, 77
finding related, 172–173
order, determining, 231
recognizing, 243
relative ordering of, 12
size restrictions, 196
substituting, 13
“word” definition, universal, 335 writing, word memory improved by, 315 working memory, 281–282
world, matching utterances to the, 147
World Atlas of Linguistic Structures
(website), 191
world-centered talk, 135 writing alphabet, origins of, 296–302 auto-completion, 313 brain, writing changes your, 314–316
comprehension, writing changing, 310–311
cuneiform, 300
Cyrillic, 302
electronic writing streamlines language, 312–314
grammar
electronic writing streamlining, 312
writing changing, 308–309
grammar checkers, 313

Wernicke, Carl (neurologist), 279, 287
Wernicke’s aphasia, 286
Wernicke’s area, 279, 282, 286, 314 Whorf, Benjamin Lee (chemical engineer), 204
windows approach to evolutionary linguistics, 210

W
writing (continued)

invention of
  by Chinese, 304
  by Egyptians, 303
  by Koreans, 304–305
  by Mesopotamians, 303
  by Romans, 303

language, writing changing, 307–314
logosyllabic, 304
overview, 295–296
revising, 311
runic, 302
software tools for, 313
spellcheckers, 313
spoken language, writing changing, 309–310
by syllables, 305–306
word memory improved by, 315 writing systems, misconception more developed languages have, 327–328

writing/reading and brain function, 314–316

• Y •

Yehia, Hani (scientist), 274
Yorùbá, grammatical categories in, 104

• Z •

Zeigler, Karl (teacher), 309